CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS TO BUILD

First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Winchester, announced today the purchase of the property known as the Witherell Estate at the corner of Church street and Glen road in Winchester.

The site comprises approximately 2 acres and is one of the two remaining parcels of what was once one of Winchester's show places. The Witherell home, which has been unoccupied for several years, is to be razed.

Plans are underway for the erection of a new Christian Science church on the location. The attractive new site is located on one of Winchester's main streets and in one of the nicest residential sections. Adequate land is available for off-street parking. The new edifice will contain, in addition to the auditorium, a large Sunday School room. No definite date has been set for completion, but it is expected that construction will start this summer. The design of the structure, together with other details, will be announced later.

The present location of the Christian Science church is 58 Mt. Vernon street across from the Town Hall. This property will be sold, but regular church services will continue there until the new building is ready for occupancy.

Remember The Date . . .

SUNDAY, APRIL 8

Your neighbor will call to ask you to support Winchester's
SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

Every penny gives a boy or girl who knows the chance for an education, a good start in life.

If you aren't called upon and wish to give, please take your contribution to Winchester Scholarship Foundation, c/o Mrs. George Connor, 403 Main Street, at the Winchester National Bank on Sunday, between the hours of 2:30 and 7:30.

SCHOLARSHIP DRIVE SUNDAY

About 500 volunteers will put on Sunday-best coats and hats, tuck a kit under the arm, and ring the doorbells to ask for funds for their much-respected Winchester Scholarship Foundation. On this afternoon, volunteers who wouldn't ask for a thing for themselves are willing to go out and ask for dollars on behalf of the young people of their town. If they succeed, the tenth anniversary of the Scholarship Foundation will be one marked by many more scholarships for graduating seniors when June comes.

Last year, $15,000 was raised in this town—in June, 17 scholarships were awarded, making 114 to date. These scholarships which are given to any good student who needs the assistance, with no strings attached, average $350 each. Sometimes they are given for a second year, when the need is there. Every applicant is screened by the Scholarship Committee, who are most anxious that every boy and girl who wants and needs to go on to college or special training be given that opportunity.

Business concerns of Winchester have already been enthusiastic and generous in their support of the Foundation, through the efforts of Mr. George L. Connor, Mr. Jack Chitel and a large committee of business men. Professional men have been equally responsive to their Foundation chairman, Dr. Eugene M. Pollard and Dr. Warren Haley. In the six school districts, these chairmen are working with large corps of captains and solicitors to make each district come through with a new Scholarship Foundation record in 1956: Washington, Mrs. Herbert Thompson; Mystic, Mrs. Clinton Keane; Lincoln, Mrs. Hiram Smith; Wyman, Mrs. Claude Callahan; Parkhurst, Mrs. Quentin Roberts; John McLean; Noonan, Mrs. John Guiliani and Mrs. Richard Emerson.

On Sunday, April 8, the Winchester National Bank will be open from 2:30 to 7:30 o'clock for solicitors to bring their kits, and Mr. J. Leslie Scott, Foundation Treasurer, hopes that on that day anyone wishing to give and not solicited will stop in at the Bank. Coffee will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gowdy are chairmen of the 1956 Scholarship Foundation Drive, in charge of special gifts are Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee, Mrs. Everett Stone, Mrs. Paul Leverett.

MRS. HENRY J. DEMPSEY

The former Allens J. Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omer N. Goodwin of 17 Chesterford road, who was married recently in Reading to Henry J. Dempsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Dempsey of 907 Main street, the bride graduated from Winchester High School and La Salle Junior College. Mr. Dempsey graduated from Winchester High School and Boston University College of Business Administration. He and his bride went to Los Angeles, Calif., on their wedding journey and will make their home there.

ROTARY AUCTION COMING UP

Among the red letter days of the early spring in Winchester is the annual Rotary Auction, this year to be held all day Saturday, April 28, at the town hall.

Doors open at 10:00 a. m. and of course, the pick of the bargains are available at that time and usually go quickly.

Every one is sure to find something they want at the Rotary Auction, for which Rotarians are busy collecting throughout the year. They can still use more items, and any one having anything at all to donate to this worthwhile sale is asked to call "Chub" Murphy at the West Side Texaco Station for prompt pick-up service, and we mean prompt!

"Al" Elliott, the "Homespun Boy," Mr. Auction himself, has relinquished the chairmanship of the event this year to his brother, Sid, but is keeping a weather eye on details, and personally promises to have in the sale several items that are sure to interest Tom Quigley, whose purchases in the past have been features of these events.

Plans are in the making to have this year's auction close with a supper, and there will be the usual delicious lunches and snacks prepared by the Rotary Anns available at noon and throughout the day. Any who have eaten this delicious food will look forward to more this year, and are sure to attend the auction for this reason, if for no other.

Proceeds from the Auction are used by the Rotary for good works in which the club is interested. Already they have paid for cabins at Winning Farm, a radio station at high school and other desirable assets to the town and its youth.

This year's proceeds will go to the Home for the Aged, the Police Athletic League and the Little League.

WINCHESTER LEGION AUXILIARY

Winchester Legion Auxiliary Unit 97 wish to extend their thanks and appreciation to the Prince Macaroni Co., for a delightful evening's entertainment by their Prince of Song.

ADJOURNED TOWN MEETING

SELECTMEN WIN A CCEPTANCE OF GRANT ROAD

Monday evening's adjourned session of the limited town meeting covered little ground on the way to completing the warrant as a debate of more than an hour and one-half over the acceptance of Grant road featured a meeting that continued over the acceptance of the road. The procedure that dragged things out away beyond the importance of the articles involved.

Attendance at the meetings continued excellent, with 195 of 225 members present Monday. The Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, made the invocation and Rep. Harrison Chadwick presided.

The great difference of opinion came when Mr. Redding moved that if and when the session adjourned it should be until the following Thursday night at the High School auditorium.

Mr. Freeman moved to amend, substituting the Town Hall for the High School, stating he felt that the Town Hall is the proper place to conduct town business and that the seats of the new school auditorium are as he put it "too soft."

The meeting failed rather convincingly to support Mr. Freeman's motion, at the request of the Finance Committee, to reconsider Article nine, the long departmental article, as it related to the appropriation on the town debt and temporary loans in anticipation of taxes.

Mr. Dolan explained that his committee had differed with Town Treasurer Bradlee on the amount necessary to cover the town debt. Mr. Bradlee had been nearer right by some $875 than the Finance Committee. He asked the meeting to increase the appropriation under interest on $47,010 to $48,010, adding $1,000 to the original appropriation. The money was appropriated over the objection of Mr. Hewis, who felt that the extra sum was not enough and that $2,500 extra should be made available to the treasurer.

HOOD AND ETONS RINKS WIN IN COULSON BONSPIEL

The ice is gone, but not the memories of an exceptionally fine curling season at the Winchester Country Club. The many competitions, scheduled over 20 items, 30 curlers, were concluded with a minimum of fuss and bother and a maximum of enjoyment by all. Such a record, over two and a half years with our own rink, has occasioned many remarks. "I'm going to get in that fun next winter." So when the time comes next fall, sign up promptly.

The applause and the groans of the capacity audience "behind the glass," including the many "warm-room skips," was a true indication of the exciting semi-finals of the consolation and final of the John Coulson Memorial Bonspiel, as well as the finals of the Consolation.

The Bob Hoods and Everett Stones, with Bob curling as he never did before, took Doctor Saunders, the Ted Downes and Mrs. Doherty for a 10-8 score in the final end. The eleventh end was all even at 8-8, so it was no one-sided match and every end was decided by the last stone. Young Stephy Hood, who incidentally substituted a couple of times for your reporter and is a top-grade number one curler even at his young age, was a sight to watch during the last end. If his father and mother found any finger nails on his hands when he got home, it was only because Stephy failed to use enough body English to keep his hands clean.

The curling by all eight contestants in this match was superb. Saturday morning, in the semi-finals of the Consolation, the Sheers and Watson took a 12-10 win over the Neils and Dellickers. And this in spite of a 5-end at the eighth end by Stan Neill bringing him to a 10-9 score. Howard Etonson, with Beasley and Neilson, had a little more comfortable match to win 15-9 over the Holdsworths and Colons, but it was a fine match throughout.

The Etonson rink came through 12-9 over the Sheers rink in the final of the Consolation, with fine curling through the whole match. Doctor Sheers built up an early lead but could not hold it, due in large measure to the curling of Martha Speers and Betty Weiant. Incidentally, the curling of all the girls was a joy to watch.

Charlie Siders, with his rink of Peabody and Neilson, had won the playoffs of the third round Robin, over the Neiley rink in the finals. A capacity crowd of mixed curlers and a fine buffet supper Saturday evening after the finals, enjoying a delicious fried chicken dinner with it, seemed like, fifty odd side dishes. The handsome Coulson pins were awarded to the Hood and Etonson rinks during the supper.

The finale of the curling season will be the men's curling dinner on Friday, April 13th. The pins for the many winners will be awarded, the hardworking committee members will be thanked and, as Major Logan remarked, we will all be given a "wide" broom. Come early.

NOTED PREACHER AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

This coming Sunday, Dr. Joseph M. M. Gray, former president of American University and internationally known, preacher will preach at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

Dr. Gray has written a number of books in the field of Religion and has been honored as a recipient of the thirty-third degree in Masonry. He was also pastor of several of the largest Methodist churches in this country.

Friends in the community are cordially invited to attend.

HON. KATHERINE HOWARD TO BE GUEST SPEAKER

The Honorable Katherine G. Howard, is to be the guest speaker at the Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester. The luncheon will be held at the Country Club on April 11, at 12:30 p. m. A reception for the guests will precede the luncheon. Mrs. Howard, who is now special advisor to the Federal Civil Defense Administrator, was a delegate to the Civil Defense Conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris in 1953 (the first woman delegate to any NATO meeting) and also served as the U. S. Representative to the meetings held in May 1954 and October 1954. Now permanent alternate U. S. Delegate, she acts as Chief U. S. Delegate in the absence of the Administrator. She is still the only woman delegate to a NATO Committee from any member nation.

CAPPED AS NURSE

Miss Phyllis J. Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Chapman of 20 Hillcrest Parkway and a graduate of Winchester High School Class of 1953, was capped this week as a student nurse at the ceremony conducted by the New England Baptist School of Nursing.

Formal public exercises were twice cancelled because of the severe spring snow storms just past. A first year student of the School, Miss Chapman has been elected by her classmates to serve as their President for the next three years.

"SO LONG FOR NOW"

Dr. J. Churchill Hinds of Stetson Hall, Grand Old Man of the Square, waves goodbye from a TWA plane at Logan Airport last Sunday afternoon as he left for Frankfurt, Germany, to visit his son, Captain J. G. Hinds, USAF, and his family at Rhein-Main Air Force Base. This was the 80 year-old retired dentist's second try to fly abroad, a previously planned trip last fall having been cancelled when the doctor was hospitalized for major surgery.

MISS McTEAGUE ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. John T. McTeague of 33 Cambridge street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Glenna Eleanor, to Mr. Howard J. Hayes, son of Mrs. Howard J. Hayes of Duxbury, and the late Mr. Hayes.

Mr. Hayes attended the American Institute of Banking, and Boston University, College of Business Administration. He is the New England representative for the H. N. Bloomfield Wool Company, Boston. During the Korean War Mr. Hayes served two years with the U. S. Air Force.

August 25th, is the date chosen for the wedding.

Beggs & Cobb President Says Plant Will Close Unless Production Rises

Unless a conscientious approach toward meeting productivity standards is shown by tanners at Beggs & Cobb within the next three weeks, the company can be expected to discontinue production in Winchester.

This position was stated March 30 in a letter from G. Burton Davy, president of the company, to employees of the 75-year-old tannery.

G. BURTON DAVY

TEXT OF DAVY LETTER TO EMPLOYEES

Three months ago your Union signed a new two-year contract with our Company, the essence of which was based upon cooperation to secure and maintain maximum productivity by which the Winchester tannery could resume operations and continue to provide employment for the many looking to the Company for job security.

I have watched the Winchester operations closely. Instead of the cooperation that was promised, and which the wage incentive plan provided, I have seen little other than bickering, delaying, and destructive politicking. The one goal of work and productivity has given way to petty and political issues, principally concerning whether the Union policies shall be determined by the Union designated recently as a certified representative of the workers by the National Labor Relations Board, or by a minority Union displaced by the certified Union. Confusion exists, and we are all suffering because of the seeds of dissension sown among you by those who apparently do not place your welfare before such political issues.

The market for the Winchester product is being lost to us. Costs of operations instead of diminishing are increasing — our operation at Winchester continues to be unprofitable. Standards are being evaded rather than adopted. Can't you understand the meaning of these disastrous conditions to you and the members of your family? I want you to know exactly what I told your Union stewards and business agents, Queen and Muraco, yesterday. Three weeks from now — upon my return from a business trip — I shall have no alternative other than to order a drastic cut in the daily wage, unless the attitude of our employees has shown a decided conscientious approach toward productivity, and unless there is evidence of Union, employee, and management cooperation toward building the Winchester productivity to the necessary competitive position.

Regrettably, if these conditions continue, there can be no other decision. The Winchester tannery must have production in order that the cost per foot of the leather shall be reduced. This reduction in cost is necessary to obtain business in a competitive market, and it would be only after this business was obtained that the wage could be increased with the rest of your fellow workers. The future, of the fate, of Winchester is solely in your hands. The management, the capital, and the plant have been provided for your jobs. The will to work, the will to produce, your contribution and your decision. If you do work and you do produce, and you have an understanding attitude toward the needs of the Winchester tannery, you will have a job. If not, there will be no production.

Sincerely,
G. B. DAVY
President

WINCHESTER KIWANIS CLUB

The regular meeting of the club was held this past Wednesday at Masonic Hall with visiting Kiwanians from Belmont, Cambridge and Beverly, Pennsylvania.

Mr. William Argy, New England representative for the National Federation of small business gave a very interesting and informative talk on how small business can protect their interests against the ever present danger of trusts and monopolies. The Federation informs small business all over the country of pending legislation which will affect them and explain the pro and con of all articles coming before Congress.

Al Dipietro, chairman of the annual Kiwanis Fish Derby gave a progress report and this popular event should be larger than ever. The club voted to have a 14' boat complete with outboard motor given away to some lucky winner on Fish Derby day. Tickets for this outstanding prize are in the hands of all Kiwanis members. All proceeds will go to the Hospital Bed Fund. More news on this later.

Plans are complete for the April 18th, Ladies Night at Masonic Hall. There are a few tickets left. See Jim Loftus.

24TH ANNUAL VAUDEVILLE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Winchester's new Memorial Auditorium will be a beautiful setting for the 24th Annual Vaudeville Show to be presented by the pupils of the Winchester High School on Friday and Saturday, April 13 and 14. A matinee on Friday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. will be followed by two full evening shows on Friday and Saturday, beginning promptly at 8:00 p. m.

Long a favorite of Winchester audiences, the Vaudeville annually enlists the efforts and talents of nearly one third of the student body at the high school. Those youngsters, working under the direction of Ray Hayward and a loyal group of assistants, never fail to present a great entertainment—lively, tuneful, colorful, and always in good taste.

Missing from this year's cast will be such headliners as Noreen Johnson, Stephanie Yale, Seth Weston, Connie Snelling, and Brad Johnson. Nevertheless, if the experience of the past is any criterion, there will be new stars to fill their places. A sneak preview of the program reveals an excellent distribution of dance numbers, instrumental and vocal music, acrobatics and novelty.

MRS. EMMA A. ROGERS

Mrs. Emma A. Rogers, who died Saturday, March 31, in Medway was known to many in Winchester as the mother of Mrs. Charles A. Murphy of Pond street. A native of Uxbridge, she had lived for many years in Medway, but had made frequent visits to Winchester and had many friends here.

Besides Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Rogers leaves her husband, Joseph M. Rogers, of 74 Holliston street, Medway; a son, Leo Hudlin of Ayer; and two daughters, Mrs. Chester Bailey of Belmont and Mrs. Joseph Piscioti of Saugus; also eight grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home, 100 South Main street, high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. The pastor, Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, was celebrant. Rev. Stephen Burke was deacon and Rev. Joseph McInerney, subdeacon. In the sanctuary were Mr. Rev. James J. Mooney, Rev. Samuel J. O'Keefe, Rev. Cornelius J. Hogan and Rev. Joseph Collins. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery with the usual committal prayers were read by Monsignor Mooney, assisted by Father Driscoll.

MAY RETURN TO TOWN HALL

The Star learned yesterday that in the event Town Meeting was not finished last night it could be impossible to hold an adjourned session at the high school auditorium next Monday night, the night on which the adjournment would normally be held. Use of the hall for a rehearsal of the school Vaudeville Show prevents its use by the town.

Considering the amount of business still to be transacted it seemed doubtful in advance of last night's meeting that the warrant would be considered by the town hall, which is available on that night. Postponing the meeting until the following Thursday or Monday would be an unwarranted delay that it is believed few would relish.

Mr. Redding believed it would be logical to hold the meeting Monday, April 9, at the town hall, which is available on that night. Postponing the meeting until the following Thursday or Monday would be an unwarranted delay that it is believed few would relish.

NOTICE

Annual Meeting of the Home for Aged People has been postponed until Monday, April 16, because of the likelihood of the Town Meeting not being over.

Asked whether he thought the company will follow through with its threat to discontinue production if a fair approach to the standards is not made, this same source said, "I believe the company will do it, and I think they (the company) are right. Davy means business. He'll close in ten days."

A company spokesman said that Beggs & Cobb is rapidly losing its market because of conflicts at the Winchester tannery. He said that these sales markets are hard to rebuild, and that the company cannot stand their loss.

Still another union official said that the jobs of all the men at the plant are in the balance, both of the men employed and the hundreds who have not yet been re-employed following the 87-day work stoppage which preceded contract agreement. In addition, there are many older workers nearing retirement who will be unable to claim pensions if the plant is closed.

In his letter, Mr. Davy said that he will make his decision in three weeks.

"Three weeks from now—upon my return from a business trip—I shall have no alternative other than to order a drastic cut in the daily wage, unless the attitude of our employees has shown a decided conscientious approach toward productivity, and unless there is evidence of Union, employee, and management cooperation toward building the Winchester productivity to the necessary competitive position," he said.

The standards around which the conflict at the tannery centers were accepted by secret ballot on January 5, 1956. The vote in that NLRB-sponsored election was 229 for and 108 against.

The standards are linked to a standard hour wage incentive system. They are designed to give the worker fair pay for an honest day of work. They carry compensation for extra effort.

Under the contract, the standards were in force with no attachment to the wage-scale for the first 30 days of this year. When that period expired, the standards, wages began to depend upon production.

The contract contains an arbitration clause which permits a worker who cannot meet the standards to take his case to an impartial board.

The standards are the result of a production and time-study. They are not the same standards as those recommended in the original Anderson-Nichols report, but they are standards which the company and the union agreed to accept when they signed the present contract.

The Board of Park Commissioners has secured the services of Frank Provanzano as the director for the second year. He did an excellent job last summer.

The Town Softball League is open and free to all residents of Winchester above high school age. Any organizations or individuals wishing to enter a team in this year's league, which promises to be bigger and more interesting, are cordially invited to do so and are earnestly requested to have a representative at the April 10th meeting. Mrs. Grant reminded those present of the Vacation Treat in store for the Mystic School children. Mr. Dick Kieber, of the Museum of Science will present a program entitled, "Unseen Forces," at the Mystic School Auditorium on April 18th. Mr. Joseph Forte, Principal, pointed out that the purpose of this science demonstration is to give parents an insight into what elementary science is and how it is taught in our school today. He introduced the teacher and a group of children from each of the seven grades participating in a demonstration. Miss Dogherthy's Kindergarten chose for its subject, The Wind. Mrs. Dyer's First Grade had Plants for its topic. Miss Littlefield's Second Grade showed, Magnets. Miss Saito's Third Grade presented Weather and Temperature. Mrs. Geary's Fourth Grade demonstrated how sound is produced by vibrating objects. Miss Millican's Fifth Grade had for their topic, Air Pressure. Mrs. McLean's Sixth Grade chose Rocks and Volcanoes. A great deal of work on the part of all the children, the teachers, Mrs. Dwyer, the Secretary, Mr. Pratt, the custodian, had made this program possible.

BASKETBALL COACH HOLY NAME SPEAKER

At the regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, to be held Sunday, April 8, Winchester High School basketball coach, Jim Phillips, will be the guest speaker. Coach Phillips, who is a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, will no doubt give many interesting highlights on perhaps Winchester's greatest basketball team, a team that lost the State Class A Championship in the final seconds to New England Champion Duxbury High of Fall River in a thrill packed game.

This is Fathers and Sons meeting and a large turnout is expected. The Society will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 7:45 a. m. mass which will be celebrated by Spiritual Director, Rev. Martin J. P. Dolphin. After mass, coffee and doughnuts will be served in St. Mary's Hall and a short business meeting will be held.

President Joe Foley will present Fr. Dolphin with a Spiritual Bouquet from the Society in appreciation of his help and cooperation throughout the years. New members are always welcome and by paying dues of $1.00 to Treasurer John Fitzgerald become active members of the Society.

We are thankful that two of our members are now out of the hospital and are recuperating at home, Leo Garvey and Frank Haley. Many thanks to those who kept the Vigil on Holy Thursday.

The officers for 1956 are: President, Joseph Foley; Vice-President, Joseph Moran; Treasurer, John Fitzgerald; Secretary, Albert E. Thorne, Jr.; Program Chairman, William Burns and Sick and Vigil Chairman, John Sullivan.

GLOBE CANDIDS BOOST DRIVE

Candid camera shots of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation's 1956 Drive (which takes place April 8) will appear in the rotogravure of the Boston Globe on Sunday, April 8. Be sure to turn to that section!

Pictures of the "Drive in action" have been taken by the Globe's top-notch photographer, Charles Dixon. They show the planning of the Drive, posters being made by student artists of Miss Goodrich's class at the High School, typical interviews of some of our leading citizens, interviews of high school teachers by the Scholarship Committee, and two Scholarship Foundation students who are now at M.I.T.

Stanley Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen of Park road, is president of the Baptist Youth Fellowship, the members of which will hold their annual convention April 20-27, at the First Baptist Church in Greenfield. More than 1,000 boys and girls from 298 churches will attend.

WINCHESTER SKATERS IN ICE CHIPS

The Skating Club of Boston's 44th annual production, Ice Chips of 1956, the amateur ice extravaganza traditionally known as "the show of champions" will be held at the Boston Garden, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoon, April 5, 6, 7 and 8. Co-starring in the feature roles will be the Olympic champions, Tenley Albright and Haydon Alan Jenkins. This will be the charming Tenley's first public skating appearance since her triumph in the Winter Olympics, in Italy. Haydon Jenkins, of Colorado Springs, is a spectacular stylist whose free skating routine is sure to thrill local ice fans.

Also listed in a prominent role in Ice Chips will be Hayes' younger brother David Jenkins, who has been finishing in a runner-up position in all major competition. Also prominently listed on the Ice Chips program are Sidney Arnold and Franklin Nelson, the admirable pairs champions, and one of the funniest men on ice, Arthur Melles, the man with the rubber legs.

Skating in Ice Chips from Winchester are Gilbert Hood, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, Peter Jones, Lynne LaRose, Mary Newton, Maribel Owens, Gay Vanner and Charles Vanner, Jr.

K. OF C. DRIVE FOR NEW MEMBERS

The Knights of Columbus, largest fraternal order for Catholic Men, will celebrate their acceptance of the Society's 1,000,000th member by May 20th of this year, according to information received by the Order's local representatives.

Since this organization's founding dates back only to March 29, 1862, and began with a nucleus of only a few men, this is an impressive record. Instituted at New Haven, the Order now is all over the U. S. and its possessions. Here in our own community, Winchester Council, No. 210, which was established in 1896, according to the Grand Knight Vincent F. Erhard, is conducting an intensive membership recruiting campaign headed by Past Grand Knight John F. Nowell, Membership Insurance Chairman of the Council.

Winchester Council now numbers approximately 375 members, all of whom are actively engaged in various religious, civic, educational, and patriotic projects on a local, state-wide, and national scale.

All practical Catholic men 18 years and older are eligible for membership in the K. of C., and all such prospective members should indicate their intention of joining by contacting any of the Officers or men or directly contacting the Membership Chairman, John F. Nowell at 4 Englewood road, in Winchester.

WINCHESTER BOY IN CROSS COUNTRY FLIGHT

T/Sgt. Richard G. Snell, 69
Woodside road, Winchester, a radio operator with the 69th bombardment squadron at Loring Air Force Base in northern Maine flew recently with a B-36 Boeing intercontinental bomber for a day and a half across the country east to west and return, ranging from Dallas to Montreal without landing, providing a unique feature from Dave Garroway's television show "Today."

The flight, which covered 6,685 miles and used 27,000 gallons of gasoline, started from Westover
Air Force Base in Massachusetts.
The crew took the giant bomber to 10,000 feet over Ohio and Indiana and performed a refueling demonstration over Cleveland. They went through the center of Chicago at 3,000 feet and on to Kansas City and Denver for a bombing demonstration.

Their flight carried them over cities of Los Angeles, Phoenix, Dallas and on to Cincinnati where fighters made passes at their aircraft. The 69th bombardment squadron crew then returned to Westover through Montreal performing a Ground Controlled Approach landing at the 8th Air Force headquarters base. The NBC television crew took more than 175 photographs and 12,000 feet of motion picture film in addition to tape recording most of the flight conversation.

Sergeant Snell, his wife Ruth E.
(Harvey), and six month old son
Richard C. temporarily reside on Loring Air Force Base.

OLD PHARMACY CHANGES HANDS

WINCHESTER BOY BUYS BUSINESS ONCE OWNED BY WINCHESTER M.D.

Dominic G. Errico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Errico of 37 Loring avenue, has bought the old line Middlesex Drug Company Pharmacy in Central Square, Stoneham, from Elbert and Elizabeth Boyd, who as man and wife, both registered pharmacists, had operated the business since 1913.

The purchase of the business by a Winchester boy recalls the fact that prior to his death in 1905 the pharmacy was owned by Dr. John I. French, whose home was on Mystic Valley Parkway near Washington. A practicing physician in town, Dr. French was a member of the Winchester Board of Health from 1903 to 1905.

The Boyds acquired the pharmacy from Dr. French's widow, who was leaving Winchester about the time of the sale. For 43 years they conducted the business on the busy corner in the tall building you see beyond the Police Traffic box as you approach Stoneham square from Winchester.

The new owner, Mr. Errico, was born in Winchester in 1922, and was graduated from Winchester High School in 1940, playing football, baseball and basketball during his undergraduate days.

After high school he entered New England College, of Pharmacy, from which he was graduated with honors in 1947. He received his first actual experience in Winchester at Purdie's Pharmacy on Washington street at the corner of Swanton street, where he was employed for three years.

Mr. Errico spent his first business day in his new pharmacy Monday of this week. His many friends in town are wishing him success in his new venture.

Travel books, photograph books, engagement books, 1 year and 5 year diaries and address books on sale at the Winchester Star. Star Building.

DIRECT ASSIGNMENT ASSURED HOLDERS OF LETTERS TO ARMY SPECIALISTS' SCHOOL

Young men and women of America who hold letters of acceptance to an Army Specialists' School are now assured of a direct assignment by the United States Army in accordance with their interests and abilities.

Today, more than ever, guidance counselors are urging young people to develop their basic skills and aptitudes and to put them to work in a technical field. It is common knowledge that today's keyword to the future is Specialize, and the Army is willing to train the right personnel, the best qualified young men and women—as skilled specialists.

This new and exciting program is called "Reserved For You" and actually reserves a classroom seat in a school of your choice and ability before you enlist or sign anything. There are over 100 technical fields from which to choose, including everything from Guided Missiles to Motion Picture Photography.

For application, get the full details from Sergeant First Class William Bonnell of the local Recruiting Station at 49 High street, Medford Square. Later, if accepted, you will receive a letter telling you that a reservation has been made in the school of your choice. This is your passport to a well trained future, and opens the door for unlimited opportunities. The rest is up to you.

Those interested may get full information and a complete list of schools from Sergeant Bonnell.

MISSION UNION

The annual meeting and Tea of the Mission Union Guild of the Congregational Church will be held on Tuesday at 2:00 p. m.

A special treat will be the singing of one of our own members, Mrs. Albert Deitz.

After the program a Spring Tea will be served under the direction of Mrs. Richard Davenport. All women of the church are invited.

DEMOLAY ENTERTAINS PERKINS GIRLS

Winchester Chapter Order of Demolay, in an evening long to be remembered by every one in attendance, recently played host to approximately thirty girls from the Perkins Institution for the Blind at the First Baptist Church Social Hall. In spite of bad driving conditions caused by snow-covered highways, a group of boys drove to Watertown to pick up the girls and later in the evening escorted them safely home.

Music for dancing was provided by Stan Mullen on the piano, Everett Bixby, Jr., on the marimba and Ronnie Wheaton on the drums. Delicious cake, punch and ice cream was prepared and served by the Mothers Circle. Each girl was presented with a beautiful corsage. Misses Barbara Eaton and Judy Fowler were on hand to entertain with vocal and piano selections. The Mothers and Dads of the Winchester Chapter are extremely proud of the manner in which their boys conducted themselves on this occasion. To see them laugh, sing and dance with these girls, showing them every courtesy of well-mannered young men was a tribute to their fine training. The evening was arranged through the efforts of Dad Advisor Roland "Skip" Davis.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

A Member's Show was the attraction at the April meeting of the Winchester Art Association held in the Library Gallery on Tuesday evening, April 3rd. A large number attended and enjoyed the coffee hour arranged by Mrs. Richard Frazier and assisted by Mrs. Wesley A. Mallory and Miss Sylvia Parker. Dr. Samuel Kirkwood presided and turned the meeting over to Mrs. Roland Patrick who presided over a discussion panel consisting of Mrs. James Willing, Mrs. Gretchen West, Dr. Leslie Lobingier and Dr. George Marks. The lively and amusing discussion expressed real appreciation of the pictures on exhibit which are the work of the members. Great variety in the subjects chosen and varying degrees of ability are displayed for some pictures are the work of accomplished artists and some are the work of beginners yet altogether it is a pleasing and interesting exhibit of merit.

All the 31 pictures hanging in the exhibit had previously been selected from 64 pictures submitted and judged by a jury of well-known artists who were Mr. Harold Lindergreen, Mr. Glenn McNutt and Mr. Robert Grady. The Art Association may well be proud of the fine response of its members in producing such a good show. At the close of the meeting the results of the poll taken for the favorite picture were announced. First choice went to Mrs. Elizabeth Lobingier's abstract "Two Fishermen" and the second place to Constance Zimmerman's Beacon Hill scene entitled "Footsteps in the Snow." This exhibit remains in the Library Gallery through April.

EDITORIAL

Dr. Mueller rightly deplored at town meeting Monday, a growing tendency to discredit the Finance Committee and beat its recommendations just for the sake of beating them. The Finance Committee is not public enemy No. 1. Rather it is a very valuable part of our town government, contributing gratis hundreds of man hours of hard work in consideration of town budgets and in arriving at the opinions expressed in the warrant and at town meeting.

The Finance Committee can not always be right, and nobody, least of all Dr. Mueller, expects any one to accept its recommendations if he thinks they are not sound. We, like Mr. Tansey, surely hope the day will not come to our town meeting when an honest objector to any town officer's or committee's opinion fails to rise in vocal objection if he so desires, or to vote in opposition if that is the way he feels about it. It is only through honest difference of opinion, honestly expressed, that progress is made. Democracy can not long function in an atmosphere of blind obedience.

It is safe to say, however, that the Finance Committee, because of its close acquaintance with town budgets and many discussions with department heads, is much better qualified to express an intelligent opinion on town expenditures than the rank and file of town meeting members, many of whom act and vote as if their first reading of the warrant is at town meeting. There are, it is true, a number of conscientious precinct delegates, who take the trouble to inform themselves on matters to be decided at town meeting, but even they can not have the first-hand information that comes to the Finance Committee members who live with town business for many weeks.

It is the Star's feeling that the Finance Committee is entitled to a fair hearing and careful consideration of the opinions it expresses at town meeting. Perhaps the delegates would listen more closely and consider more carefully if they were given more of the background that caused the Committee to make a particular recommendation. A lot of items appearing in the various budgets would seem to merit a good deal more explanation than they get, or is asked for by those who vote the taxpayers money.

No one can accuse this year's Finance Committee of really forcing its opinions on the voters. Generally its opinion has been expressed once, with no attempt made to refute opposing arguments, of which some have seemed to be based much more on emotion than logic. It is difficult to oppose emotion with logic and you are not going to do it often with a simple statement of facts, unsupported by arguments.

Being human, Finance Committees make mistakes. In our humble opinion it made one Monday when it opposed the payment of those unpaid school bills from the Excess and Deficiency Account. Incidentally it was nice, but perhaps not too clever of the Financiers to carry the ball for the School Committee in that discussion.

The Star agrees with those who supported the Finance Committee's opinion that the cost of Grant Road should come entirely from tax money. There was no doubt that the meeting overwhelmingly wanted to help the residents of that street whose trouble was however, no fault of the town. Extending that sort of help should come, after all, from the pocket, not the bank account.

IT WAS OPENED WITH A PRAYER

Editor of the Star:

The town meeting Monday evening was opened with a prayer. You will remember that it was a prayer for unity, honest thinking, and good collective action.

We all believe in regard to the collective action that every individual certainly has his rights to be heard and to question. Also, anyone in town government, we know, necessarily has to be able to take it on the chin.

These jobs are not only thankless jobs but the incumbents are very vulnerable to all kinds of insinuations. However, the idea of forgiving for "they know not what they do" is certainly a hard-to-think-of-say statement in the case of several who should know but inferred ulterior motives in one case and irresponsible financial management by a certain department in another.

Prayers can help if we are sincere, so let's keep the Faith.

24TH ANNUAL VAUDEVILLE
AT HIGH SCHOOL

Several novel dance patterns have been devised that should tickle the palate of those who love the art of Terpsichore. Once again Marguerite (Derro) McCabe is teaching the tap dancers. Noreen Maillot, a student at Sargent College, is directing the ponies and ponnies. Incidentally Noreen has been selected for a year's study in Paris. Last Year's colorful Dutch dancing group is preparing a dainty Japanese dance under the direction of Mrs. Cullen.

All of the vocal numbers are being coached by Music Director Wendell Withington. The popular Octette will take their listeners on a "Sentimental Journey," while a boys' quartet will provide some close harmony. Several solo and duet numbers have been selected from an unusually good supply of vocal talent.

The next best thing to one of Ted O'Rourke's pantomimes is one coached by Ted. A popular Teresa Brewer number is reported to be reminiscent of his famous Tallahassee Bit. Leo Callahan will be there with his own brand of mimicry.

Once again an outstanding acrobatic dance will continue the Johnson family children, as Marguerite and Carleen follow the lead of George and Noreen. The Girls' Tumblettes, who gained so much acclaim for their performances at the Boston Garden during the Tech Tourney, may find the boys' gymnastic team, coached by Mr. Battino, is a worthy rival for the spotlight.

For two of the show's most colorful numbers, Mr. and Mrs. Cullen turned to the cast of "Babes in Toyland," an operetta planned for last fall but not presented because of the lack of an auditorium. Featured singers will be Barbara Eaton, Dorothy Smith, and Bill Currier.

The high school orchestra will play the accompaniment for the operetta number, and in addition, it will present an overture at the beginning of the second part of the show. For the rest of the show, live music will be provided by Herb Gardner's inimitable band.

In commenting on the show this week, Director Hayward seemed confident that by certain time on April 13, the rough spots will be gone and the cast will be ready with another first rate Vaudeville. A more adaptable stage, with lighting, and comfortable seats also contribute to audience satisfaction. In other words, you Vaudeville fans had better get your tickets early.

For a moment it looked as though Article 10 was going to slip right by the meeting with the appropriation of $566.95 to pay certain unpaid bills incurred by the School Committee in the years 1949 to 1954.

Mr. Saraco, however, felt some one ought to explain this procedure, and Mr. Dolan said that the four bills in question were either overlooked or received too late to be paid in the fiscal years in which they had occurred, and that the Town Accountant had refused to authorize their payment, except through an article in the warrant and a vote of the town.

Mr. Saraco moved to amend the motion of the Finance Committee to pay the bills out of town money by substituting payment from the Excess and Deficiency Fund, stating that the tax payers had already appropriated funds to pay these bills, and that the town should not be burdened with revenue would in effect mean that the tax payers are paying them twice.

Mr. Dolan opposed the payment from town's available funds that the town's available funds were rapidly reaching a level beyond which it would be imprudent to go. Mr. Cullen supported Mr. Saraco. So did Mr. Lewis. The meeting, however, supported the Finance Committee, voting down the amendment, 100-59, after the chair had ruled that a voice vote had defeated the proposal to pay the bills from E & D.

The sum of $2,500 was appropriated to fight the spread of the Dutch elm disease, and the meeting authorized the expenditure of $4,782.28 from the Cemetery Fund for the embellishment of Wildwood Cemetery.

Mr. Pond, chairman of the Cemetery Commissioners, asked the meeting to authorize the Commissioners to accept a gift of $1,000 from Mrs. Ernest R. Eustis, widow of the former long time Cemetery Commissioner and clerk of the board, to be used for the maintenance of the cemetery. A request to pay this sum to the commissioners of the cemetery was found by Mrs. Eustis among her husband's papers after his death.

The meeting voted to accept the gift with the thanks of the town. It then re-elected Coleman G. Foley as the town's director of activity in support of County Aid to the town, appropriating $50 for his use in this capacity.

It was next voted to fix the number of measurers of wood and bark at eight and to delegate the power of appointment to the Selectmen. The sum of $7,645.00 was appropriated to be added to $17,355 in funds on hand to complete the construction of Johnson road, as a Chapter Project, commenced in 1951, as far as Ridge street.

Mr. Redding explained that the town had committed itself to do this work and that already 1400 feet of the road had been completed, with the remaining portion of the road rough graded as far as Ridge street. This brought the meeting to consideration of street layouts as recommended by the Board of Selectmen, the proposed streets being Blossom Hill road, Chardon road, Wellington road, Sussex road, Sawmill Brook road, Royalston avenue, Hinds road, Cranston road, and Grant road. The Selectmen asked the appropriation of $97,190.00 for the construction of these streets, taking $61,800 from the Excess and Deficiency Account, and raising $35,390 by revenue.

Moderator Chadwick attempted to follow the usual procedure of general acceptance without reading the several lengthy layouts, but the Finance Committee asked that Grant road be considered separately and Mr. Rotondi asked that three of the remaining roads also be considered separately and that the layouts be read by the Moderator.

Mr. Chadwick was part way through the reading of the layout of the first street when Mr. Rotondi withdrew his request for the reading of the layout, but still wanted special consideration of the articles. No motion was at hand, the chair seemed in doubt as to the pleasure of the meeting, and after some little discussion around the rostrum, a 15 minute recess was proposed by Mr. Hewis to give the authorities a chance to work out a modus operandi and the would get things done again and keep them going legally. Seldom, if ever, has the Star witnessed more apparent confusion and indecision at a town meeting.

A tremendous thump from the Moderator's gavel finally brought the meeting back to order, Mr. Rotondi withdrew his request for separate consideration of the articles in question and the meeting considered the motion submitted by the Selectmen.

Mr. Pratt of the Finance Committee moved to amend this motion by eliminating Grant road from the streets to be accepted and by reducing the total to be raised by the amount asked by the Selectmen to complete the road.

Mr. Pratt explained the Finance Committee's position, stating that Grant road is 750 feet long and includes 15 house lots, with four houses built and only one of those occupied in an inhabited position. The Committee felt that it is not good financing, especially now, to complete this road, and that as a policy it is not sound for the town to continue to build roads for a few residents who have purchased homes or lots on unaccepted streets that investigation should disclose are not going to provide passable in extreme weather conditions.

Mr. Redding stated the Selectmen had considered the matter of Grant road very carefully and admitted that in many respects it was another unfortunate case such as Laurel Hill lane and Tufts road ever, the last of its kind the town was likely to encounter, and the Selectmen had arrived at the conclusion that in view of the condition of the road and the hazard to those living on it, the street should be accepted.

Only Mr. Russell spoke directly in support of the Finance Committee's amendment, reminding the meeting of the old latin proverb, "Caveat Emptor," let the buyer beware! He said it is not fair to the taxpayers to be continually "bailing out" householders who had bought homes on streets like Grant road.

Those who felt that the street should be accepted were led by Mrs. Cause, who outlined at some length the condition of the road, its hazards, the impossibility of getting services and emergency apparatus to those on the street and stating the feeling of those who have bought homes there.

In support of her position were Mr. Bonnell, speaking for a majority of the Planning Board, Mr. Bund, Mrs. McDonald, Mr. Cullen, Mr. Winn, Mr. Rotondi and others. Without opposition, proponents continued to arise to state their views until cries of "question" indicated that many members felt the more than an hour devoted to consideration of the question was sufficient.

At this point Mr. Pratt informed the chair that in the event that the meeting voted to accept Grant road, the Finance Committee would offer another amendment to the original motion, proposing to take the entire $11,800 for the construction from revenue.

This brought the elder Mr. Farnsworth to his feet to describe such threatening tactics as "log" and to place himself strongly on the side of those favoring the acceptance of Grant road. Mr. Chapin explained that the Finance Committee felt that the Excess and Deficiency Account should not be further reduced by including the $11,800 necessary to complete Grant road, that the Finance Committee was willing to accept the meeting's decision to complete the street, but that it felt sound financial procedure indicated paying for the street out of the taxpayers' pockets rather than from their bank account.

Mr. Schaeffer supported this reasoning, so did Dr. Mueller, Mr. Cusack, Mr. Bonnell and Mr. Ayer. Mr. Hewis and Mr. Cullen opposed.

Dr. Mueller, in his remarks, deplored what he felt to be a growing desire to beat the Finance Committee as something to be proud of and paid a warm tribute to the work and accomplishments of Finance Committees through the years.

Mr. Tansey felt that blind acceptance of any one's dictation in opposition on one's personal views is deplorable and hoped the day would never come in town meeting when any one opposed to anything would fail to register his opposition regardless of where he opposed.

Mr. Greer ventured to repeat a warning he had made while serving on the Board of Selectmen that small houses, on which the assessment is less than $10,000 or $11,000, no financial assets to a town from the tax angle.

The meeting demanded the question and the Finance Committee's original amendment excluding Grant road from acceptance was lost on a voice vote, with no doubt in any one's mind. The same was true of the acceptance of the Finance Committee's second amendment, to take the entire cost of Grant road from tax revenue. There was no question about the meeting's feeling.

The original motion as amended was then passed, appropriating $97,190, as asked by the Selectmen, with the exception that $50,000 is to come from E & D, and $47,190 from revenue.

Articles 17 and 18 were indefinitely postponed. These articles proposing the acceptance of portions of Churchill and Laurel Hill roads, could not be acted upon by the meeting since the Selectmen had made no layouts of them, the Town Council ruling that such layouts are necessary under the law for action by a town meeting in connection with street acceptances.

Mr. Rotondi asked the indulgence of the meeting to speak in connection with the two roads, to explain to the meeting the hardship in which he is involved because he can not use the roads in question and tell of his treatment at the hands of the Selectmen, Planning Board and neighbors. He was afforded extra time to complete his remarks, after which upon motion of Mr. Saraco, the meeting adjourned at 11:15, Mr. Hewis having previously failed in an attempt to adjourn five minutes earlier.

But with HEATING OILS

The FUMES are NOT deadly;
ACCIDENTAL SPARKS will hardly cause an explosion;
OIL LEAKS are NOT usually of an EMERGENCY nature.

That is why

THE HAZARDS OF MODERN LIVING ARE MULTIPLYING

But with FUEL OIL, home heating is reasonably SAFE as well as ECONOMICAL.

ONE OF THE GREATEST MISTAKES

a young man can make is to regard his life insurance as an expensive part of his cost of living. Instead, if his policies were properly planned, he should get as much satisfaction out of paying his premiums as he would if he were putting an equal sum in the bank or into good investments.

I'll be glad to show you why.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

PRESERVATION OF ANTIQUES COMMITTEE

Wednesday, March 28, at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, a lecture on a special line of buttons was given by Mrs. Ethel McPhail of Brighton. She was introduced by Mrs. Earle Andrews, chairman of the committee.

Many large cards were displayed on which extremely rare and interesting buttons were mounted beside colored pictures relating to them. The collection was restricted to buttons whose designs were symbolic or significant of religious or biblical subjects.

Buttons illustrating incidents in the lives of the church saints, the conversion of Paul, stoning of Stephen, St. Eric of Sweden, Joan of Arc, the holy family Charlemagne, a carved ivory button of Gandhi—buttons from many far countries, some just now joining the United Nations, were arranged with meticulous care and artistry.

Not only an engrossing hobby, Mrs. McPhail said, is hers but a fascinating study. She also collects crosses and a notable collection of beautiful ecclesiastical crosses of different materials was exhibited by her owner, Mrs. Andrews. In conclusion, her committee served delicious refreshments.

Literature Committee
The meeting held at the Public Library Monday afternoon, April second, was the closing one of the season for this committee. A paper on the life and work of the Southern writer, Thomas Wolfe, was read by Mrs. J. Edward Downes. Discussion followed.

Wolfe's birthplace, Asheville, N. C., was the scene of his spectacular first novel, "Look Homeward, Angel" and in this and his three other major books, the content is largely autobiographical. A compelling desire to write brought forth his first book at seventeen. At Harvard he was enrolled in the "47 Workshop," writing several plays as well as some poetry of undeniably spiritual quality.

"The Web and the Rock" and "You Can't Go Home Again" were published after his death at thirty-eight.

THE STAR GETS AROUND

"Maury" Tompkins, Cleveland advertising manager for Life Magazine, is a former Winchester boy, just as his wife, the former "Chris" Craven, used to live as a girl in this town. As a consequence they quickly "latched onto" the copy of the Star that came addressed to Mr. Tompkins' mother, Mrs. Elsie B. Tompkins of Warren street, while she was visiting her son and daughter-in-law and their 11 year-old daughter recently.

In glancing through the paper "Maury" noticed the ad of another former Winchester resident, Frank W. McLean, now a realtor in business in Harwichport, on Cape Cod. The ad was of especial interest because the Tompkins were planning to spend their vacation on the Cape this summer and "Maury" naturally figured that Frank, an old Winchesterite would take a special interest in a Cape rental for a former Winchester boy and his family.

Frank, on a visit the first of the week to the Star office, allowed as how he'd give this one the real old college try and figured he could fix "Maury" up all right. Incidentally he renewed his ad in the Star at the same time. Says Star advertising pays!

WINCHESTER WOMAN'S SHOP MAKING KELLY BRIDESMAIDS GOWNS

Priscilla of Boston, Inc., an exclusive dress shop at 129 Newbury street, is making the dresses that will be worn by the bridesmaids at Grace Kelly's marriage to Prince Ranier III, of Monaco.

Ordinarily this statement would create only mild, if indeed any interest in Winchester, but when to this statement is added the information that Priscilla's is owned by a Winchester woman, Mrs. Priscilla Kidder of 18 Brooks street, the announcement takes on real local significance.

And to add to the interest Mrs. Kidder designed the dresses herself, having returned to Boston last Thursday after making the final fittings. Four bridesmaids had been previously fitted, and the remaining two are having their dresses made to measure in Mrs. Kidder's shop, since they are out of the country.

For the distaff side, the dresses are simply designed of sunlight yellow taffeta with fluid skirts, and bell-shaped sleeves.

Mrs. Kidder, who is a designer, has a fine background in the bridal fashion field that explains her getting this wonderful bridal styling "plum."

From her first job in a Boston department store with a $4.50 salary to her present bridal salon on Newbury street, her success has been exceptional.

After struggling in various jobs connected with designing and fashion she finally was able to rent an empty store in Boston's high fashion area on Newbury street.

The first year, with her sister, she did everything from sweeping floors to designing and sewing the bridal gowns, but she took in $10,000 cash the first week of her venture.

Mother of three children, Robert, Richard and Betsy, aged 9, 6 and 3, Mrs. Kidder lives in Winchester, has often been called the Dior of the bridal fashion field.

She tells the story of a New York department store buyer who once asked her where she got the lovely bridal gowns in her Boston shop.

Refusing to believe Mrs. Kidder when she told her she made them herself, the buyer asked for an actual showing, and Mrs. Kidder took four models to New York for a "one man show."

How much the Grace Kelly bridesmaids' gowns cost is of course real hush-hush news. But just in case you're curious, gowns at the Bride's Shop start at $69 and go up to $4,000.

Mrs. Kidder started her own small business, known as "The Bride's Shop" in Boston in 1946, the year her husband, James Norton Kidder, former Harvard hockey player, returned from service with the Air Force and took a salesman's job with a candy manufacturer.

Mr. Kidder helped his wife with her business nights, and when in 1950 he faced a transfer that would take him to another city he decided to join his wife's establishment full time. Mrs. Kidder's skill as a designer had mushroomed her business to such an extent that a full time manager was a necessity.

So Mr. Kidder took over the multitudinous management details, leaving his wife free to devote all her genius to designing. Deliveries are one of their chief headaches, as they have to be absolutely guaranteed, and often this means night and day driving, in which Mr. and Mrs. Kidder share. Another real problem is the scarcity of needlewomen for the fine needlework that goes into Priscilla's gowns. Girls aren't interested in sewing now Mrs. Kidder finds.

"Priscilla of Boston" is now incorporated as a wholesale producer of bridal gowns and all the bridal party dresses that go with them. A factory is located at 117 Newbury street, a few doors away from the Bride's Shop at 129, and many of the largest and best known firms are regular accounts. Included are Marshall Field, Garfinkle's and Woodward's in Washington, Bonwit Teller, Saks, Mangin and Nieman-Marcus.

It was from the last named firm, located in Dallas that the order for the Kelly gowns came. The first sketch for the gowns came from Dallas with yellow as the color. Mrs. Kidder modified the design and selected the exact shade of yellow. She says she has enjoyed her entire association with Miss Kelly, a keen judge of clothes, very much.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kidder are New Englanders. Mrs. Kidder is Priscilla Comins of Quincy. She attended the New England School of Design, but her interest in clothing and their design goes back to her girlhood when she learned to sew and make her own things.

ADVERTISING AWARD TO WELCOME WAGON

Announcement has been made by Thomas W. Briggs, President of Welcome Wagon, Inc., New York and Memphis, Tennessee, that a Welcome Wagon Supervisor in the Greater Washington, D. C. area, Mrs. Ruth Cotting, has been named that city's 1956 Advertising Woman of the Year by the Women's Advertising Club of Washington.

Each year a woman is chosen by that club for her outstanding contributions in the field of advertising. This year's selection, announced by the club president, Elinor Lee, was made by a committee headed by Betty Darling Gwyer, the club's 1955 award recipient.

Among the distinguished persons called upon by Mrs. Cotting was Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Having won the District's 1956 award, Mrs. Cotting will compete with the winners from other major cities for the national award of the Council on Women's Advertising Wins of the Advertising Federation of America.

AWARDS FOR 4-H MEMBERS

An increased number of incentives are being offered for the 100,000 4-H Club members participating in the 1956 National 4-H Frozen Foods Program.

A new addition to the Honor Roll of National Donors of 4-H Awards, the Whirlpool-Seeger Corporation of St. Joseph, Mich., is providing medals for four county winners this year, double the number previously offered. State winners in the program will receive all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, in place of a $50 U. S. Savings Bond. At the Congress, six national winners will be named and each presented a $300 college scholarship.

The National Frozen Foods Awards Program has become increasingly popular among 4-H members since its inception in 1945. Through the program, club members learn to use freezing equipment advantageously and economically, discover the local foods best adapted to freezing, and develop skill in preparing, packaging and freezing meats, poultry, eggs fish and vegetables.

The program is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, and the awards arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago. Full information is available from county Extension offices.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

ENTERTAINMENT AND AUCTION, APRIL 27TH,
ADMISSION FREE

The "Washington Players" will present another original play on Friday evening, April 27, 1956, at 8:00 p. m. If you have seen any of these presentations, you know you will attend, and if you have not seen one of these originals you shouldn't miss this one. Immediately following this "Premiere" there will be an auction of relics, antiques, cellar treasures, new merchandise and what have you, conducted by that very popular auctioneer Bob Foley. This is the time of year to do that overdue job of cleaning-out the cellar and attic. As you sort things over making room for new treasures don't throw away the old ones. Deliver them to 16 Hillcrest Parkway as Henry Clark has offered his garage for a storage room until April 27. If you have donations, but need transportation call Henry Clark at Winchester 6-2740 or Joe McDonagh at Winchester 6-3988-M and they will arrange for a pick up.

Reserve Friday, April 27th, for an evening of fun and be sure to invite those Theatre and Auction minded friends. As usual we are depending on you to make this another successful venture for the Washington School Dads' Club. As the saying goes "Better Late Than Never" but we would like to express our appreciation to all the Fathers and Sons that turned out for the Chowder Party last month—from all reports it was enjoyed by all. Many thanks to Mr. Battino and his tumbling team from the Junior High School. A most impressive presentation.

UNITARIAN CHOIR GIVES VESPERS

The Winchester Unitarian Choir delivered itself of another absolutely first class performance on the evening of March 28th, when it presented Dubois' "Seven Last Words" at the Unitarian Church.

Under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham, who maintained a firm but unobtrusive command throughout, shading the softer passages with exquisite delicacy and building the climaxes to resounding fortissimo, the choir, augmented to a strength of fifty-two voices for this event, displayed a precision and authority that was remarkable in view of the fact that the succession of snowstorms had actually prevented a single rehearsal at which the entire group could be in attendance until the evening of the performance itself.

The attacks and releases were well disciplined, dramatic in the explosive sections of the First and Fifth words, and handled with straightforward interpretive feeling throughout. The inner melodies were nicely brought out, and the a capella—especially the ending chorale with the low C in the basses—was clean and sure.

Dolores Baldyga, whose soprano is wonderfully suited to this sort of thing, handled the opening solo with an excellent expression of its essentially plaintive, even mournful, quality. John Morabito, tenor, acquitted himself equally well, particularly in the closing pianissimo of the Second Word. We were most impressed with Sidney Blanchard, Jr., baritone whom we have never heard sing better. His principal opportunity came in the Fourth Word, and he carried it with feeling, understanding, and musicianship.

Weston L. Brannen at the organ, Mary Jane Anderson, harpist, and Ralph Stevens, tympanist, provided an instrumental depth and color which was very helpful.

BATES CANCER CHAIRMAN

FIGHT CANCER AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Mr. Howard W. Bates of 5 Winthrop street has been named Winchester chairman for the 1956 Cancer Crusade of the Mass. Division of the American Cancer Society, which seeks $1,250,000 in the Commonwealth during April to fight cancer through research, education and service.

In announcing Mr. Bates as local chairman, State Campaign Chairman Cameron S. Thompson said, "Only through continued support of the public will the battle against cancer be won, and the most important part of that battle is in the local campaign organizations of the cities and towns of Massachusetts."

The 1956 Cancer Crusade was officially launched April 2, and gotten away to a good start at a kick-off luncheon yesterday attended by more than 500 campaign chairmen, volunteers and civic dignitaries from all parts of the state. Sixty percent of all funds raised in Massachusetts is retained by the Massachusetts Division for its own programs of research, education and service to patients. One-fourth goes to the National Society for allocation to cancer research projects wherever the need is greatest, and the remaining 15 percent is expended by the national office for education service, training of scientists and administration. Last year more than $666,000.00 was awarded to Massachusetts research projects and institutions.

CONTROLLING THE HEIGHT OF TREES AND SHRUBS

By Max G. Fultz
(Middlesex County Agricultural Agent)

The comparative height of plants in the home grounds is an important part of their use. The natural contrast in height to work out background and fundamental effects, the adjustment in the apparent height of the house are attained only if the height of the tree or shrub is kept within the desired range.

Selection of the proper plant material before planting is one way of developing the proper height. Trees vary in height according to the species. A hemlock or spruce is used for effects needing tall overgreens. Yew or arborvitae are used for medium effects, the corner planting of the house being an example. Spreading yew and pfitzer's juniper are used for low effects. The same is true in the case of deciduous trees. The oaks and the maples are tall trees. Variations such as pin oak less in extremes of height, and specimen trees such as flowering dogwood or crab are classed in height along with such tall shrubs as lilac or mock orange.

Often folks are vexed as the planting ages by the fact that it seems difficult to keep the height from getting out of hand. Pruning can and should be used to maintain the height at a proper level. There are two general approaches to height limitation by pruning. One is to continue to bring in new wood or corresponding lower height than the old shoots that get out of hand. This is a very good method for pruning lilacs or other tall-growing shrubs.

The other method is simply to cut back the shrub or tree. The wrong way to do this is straight-line heading back. Under such procedure a new layer is placed at the point of cutting. This layer is of stiff growth that soon becomes higher than before, and it forms a layer excluding the sunlight and forcing out of operation the desirable strengthening and formation of lower branches.

The right way to cut back is to prune to a good, strong side limb, preferably one running out at 45°. In the case of a tree wherein the center is important, one will cut to a side limb running directly into the main vantage point. Some, particularly with evergreens, tie this limb in a vertical position so that it soon assumes the position of a new leader. The cutting back in a shrub clump should be done irregularly to preserve the natural effect and to aid good distribution of air and sunshine. The top should be thinned enough to also aid in these important factors.

James Moulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Moulton of 149 Forest street, is touring the south as a member of the Brown varsity tennis team, playing against Georgetown, Washington and Lee, V.M.I., William and Mary and Wake Forest. Jimmy, a 1954 graduate of Winchester High School, was co-captain of the school tennis team and Massachusetts State Interscholastic tennis singles champion in his senior year.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The annual spring luncheon marking the end of the Club year 1955-56 was held at the White Spot restaurant, Four Corners, Woburn, on Monday, April 3, at 12:30. At the head table with the president, Mrs. Hiram Moody, were seated officers and committee chairmen. Mrs. Moody thanked Mrs. Kingman Cass and those who helped her in arranging the lovely floral centerpieces and sprays which gave a very festive air to the occasion. After the excellent luncheon a few brief reports were made. Certain amendments to articles in the club constitution recommended by the executive board and read at a previous meeting were again read by the recording secretary, voted upon, and adopted. Mrs. Wilson also read her report which included all the activities of the club year.

WHAT IS THE WINCHESTER JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON?

The Winchester Junior Florence Crittenton supports the Crittenton Hastings House which is a non-sectarian social agency for unwed parents which offers confidential counseling to both, and maintains a home for the mothers. The aim of the agency is to help each girl make sound plans for her later adjustment to normal community life and a wise decision of age, race, creed or place of residence.

Social services are carried on by trained social workers and a clinical psychologist. Psychiatric consultation is available when needed. Confidentiality is respected on a professional basis.

Medical services are directed by an obstetrician on the Staff of the Boston Lying-in Hospital. He personally supervises the care of the girls and sees each one privately at a weekly prenatal clinic held at the Home. Confinement is at the Boston Lying-in Hospital where the patients stay in a special Crittenton Hastings ward and the best in Obstetrical and neonatal care is assured.

Payment for care is determined by the financial circumstances of each applicant. No one is ever refused for lack of ability to pay. The Annual Bazaar held at the John Hancock Hall by all greater Boston circles, and the fall and spring dances, are the Winchester Junior Circle's money raising projects which help to support Crittenton Hastings House. In addition, these activities provide a scholarship fund for a deserving girl to further her education. Crittenton Hastings House is also a Red Feather Agency.

This spring the "Conventionnighters Ball" will be held at the Town Hall, Friday May 4th. We're hoping for a big turnout. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Sumner Andrews, Winchester 6-1692. You do not have to be a member to enjoy an evening of dancing. Get a group together, or just your best friends. But Don't Miss It.

The snowstorm on Sunday, April 8, forced the cancellation of the regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Holy Name Society. Father Martin J. Dolphin announced at the 7:45 a. m. mass that the entire program has been put back one month.

In spite of the storm a large group of men received Holy Communion in a body and were anticipating hearing Winchester High School Basketball Coach Jim Phillips at the meeting. We will have to wait to hear Jim until May when the same program will be held.

ARLINGTON-WINCHESTER SIMMONS CLUB

The April meeting of the Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club was held April 4, 1956, at the Wyman School in Winchester.

The meeting opened at 7:30 with a coffee hour after which an important business meeting was conducted by Mrs. James Walsh of Winchester, acting chairman. The proposed constitution was read and approved. Mrs. Lucille Yeaton, chairman of the nominating committee, presented a slate of officers which was unanimously approved. They are as follows:

President, Joan Walsh of Winchester.
Vice-President, Meredith Schoeber of Arlington.
Recording Secretary, Janet Gardner of Arlington.
Corresponding Secretary, Ann Anderson of Winchester.
Treasurer, Ruth Sparks of Arlington.
Dr. Donald Beckly, director of the Prince School of Retailing at Simmons College was introduced as the speaker of the evening. His topic, "Retailing as a Career or as a Consumer," touched upon the problems of the retailer and the consumer. He cited the three major problems in retailing, the decline of all standards of sales service; transportation difficulties which have led to suburban shopping; and the disruption of prices due to discount houses. Dr. Beckly ended with a brief discussion of the Prince School training courses in retailing. His talk stimulated an interesting discussion before the meeting adjourned.

Winchester members present were:

Mrs. James Walsh
Mrs. Bernhardt Anderson
Mrs. Paul Lawson
Mrs. Ralph Swan

Mrs. Rony Snyder
Mrs. Harold Alpaugh

YOUNG REPUBLICANS INVITE YOUNG VOTERS TO COUNTRY CLUB PARTY

The Young Republican Club of Winchester will pay to a gay Spring Get-Acquainted Party this Sunday afternoon, April 15, beginning at 4:00 at the Winchester Country Club. This informal meeting was announced last month at the Mystic School Auditorium rally-meeting. W.Y.R.C. members will welcome all townspeople between the ages of 21 and 38 years who are interested in learning more about their town, state, and federal governments—and the role of the Young Republican.

This is an Open House Party. There will be no speaker-audience feeling, no high-pressure selling. The purpose of the occasion is to allow Winchester young people to meet one another under the relaxed atmosphere of a silver punch, and to see the enthusiasm of the membership. If you have lived in town long, your friends will be present; if you are new in town, your conscientious neighbors will warmly greet you and see that you and your spouse are well-met. If you are unspoused, come and toast to Liberty.

MATIGNON GUILD

Moving pictures of last year's South American pilgrimage will be shown by Gerard Hayes, assistant vice president of the National Shawmut Bank at the meeting of Matignon Guild on Thursday, April 12, at 2:30. Guests may be invited.

Final returns of the sisters' fund will be made to the chairman, Mrs. Philip MacDonald.

Members will choose the nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the coming year.

Hospitality chairman will be Mrs. Theodore Carlin. Mrs. James Cannon, Mrs. John Bush, and Mrs. Alphonse LaFreniere.

WINCHESTER BOYS ON CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

Three Winchester boys received varsity letters in hockey at Belmont Hill School last week competing on the schools Private School League Championship team. Gregory Downes of 53 Emerson road was the team's leading defenseman and was elected captain of the 1957 team.

Playing center on the second line was Larry Hawkins of 11 Stratford road, who was the team's third high scorer. Jack Page of 7 Lagrange street played first string goalie as the team finished its league undefeated and posted a 12-3 seasons record.

Belmont Hill's basketball team also won the Private School League with an undefeated record, the first time that one school has won both league titles. Dick Clark of 21 Sheffield West played on the team, which went to the finals of the New England Prep School Class B Tournament.

Bob Watkins of 47 Swan road was awarded a letter in wrestling at Belmont Hill. Although only a freshman, Watkins was his team's most successful wrestler, winning six out of eight matches.

FORMER WINCHESTER WOMAN ON THE AIR

"Johnny Goes to the Doctor," Josephine Abbott Sever's latest medical book for children, will be discussed by the author on WBMS public service interview "What's It To You?" Monday, April 16.

The program heard each Monday and Wednesday from 11:45 to 12 noon, is presented in co-operation with United Community Services and its 277 Red Feather agencies.

Mrs. Sever, now director of Public Relations at Children's Medical Center, Boston, held former positions as consultant in parent education, Massachusetts State Department of Public Health, and as educational consultant to the American Social Hygiene Association. She was named Massachusetts State Mother in 1947. Formerly of Winchester, Mrs. Sever resides at 43 Normandy street, Lexington.

The new book has been published, as was her 1954 publication, "Johnny Goes to the Hospital," by the Children's Medical Center to help familiarize the child with what it is like to visit a doctor's office so fears may be anticipated and allayed.

"LIGHT UP THE SKY"

The laugh-packed comedy by Moss Hart, "Light Up The Sky," will be given by the Parish Players on April 26, 27 and 28, in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church.

Mr. Harlan F. Grant is directing. Mrs. J. Waldo Bond is in charge of tickets, and all seats are reserved. This amusing play is the story of what happens (behind the scenes) on the opening night of a new play in Boston, with the worries and triumphs of the author, director, very temperamental star, and her delightful producer. When the play was written by Moss Hart, critics claimed it to be a take-off on well known Broadway stars, as was obvious from the lines.

Mrs. Robert P. Blake plays the star, Irene; Elizabeth Hoxie is her "burlesque queen mother;" John Ricker is Sidney Black, the rich sponsor of the play; Charles Mulhern is the shy, talented play-wright; William Early has the role of Tyler, the star's stock-broker husband. Elmer Carlson and Sewell Richardson, newcomers to the players, have excellent comedy roles, as does Beverly Carroll. Charles Kakkakis, Mary Lowry, Playing Shriners at a convention will be George H. Gowdy, Charles Brown, Edwin Eccles, who are also on the stage crew. Mrs. George E. Connor is chairman of production.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

S.O.I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The roll offs went off as scheduled on March 25, and finally on April 5.

Notre Dame, Holy Cross and St. Mary's each jumped into a three to one lead going into the final night.

Notre Dame proved to California that they were no match for them as they were trounced by a score of 6-2. The winners of top honors are Captain "Choppers" Gangi, Mel Fiore, Max LaCrubba, Area Amico, Ben Giliotti and Dan Gattenieri.

The skirmish for second place proved without a shadow of a doubt that it never pays to give up. Going into the last night Georgetown was losing by 3-1 score plus a 53 pinfall deficit. They lost the first string of the final night making it a 4-1 deficit. They were losing the second string going into the final two boxes and it looked like a losing cause as Nicky Molea came up to bowl.

Taking careful aim he put on one of the greatest spectacular, stupendous one-man shows as he came up with 3 strikes in a row for a total pinfall of 57 pins to smash the contest wide open. This charge of penicillin stimulated his team to an eventual victory as they won the final string and tied it 4 points all and in the tabulation they won the match 2780 pinfall to Holy Cross 2777.

This contest was one of the greatest dramas ever staged by any S.O.I. bowling team. The members of this wonder team are Captain Jeff Gaudioso, Nicky Molea, Joe Berardi, Pete Lonigro, Roy Penta and Richie Riga, Sr.

Last but not least the battle for third place between St. Mary's and Boston College was soundly decided as St. Mary's trounced Boston College but it wasn't as easy as it sounds, for Sir "Winnie" Frongillo came out of retirement to stimulate his team as he practically single handedly took the spark out of the opposition and guided his team to a well deserved victory.

Tony Saraco naturally bowled his usual good bowling. The winners are Captain Tony Saraco, Sir "Winnie" Frongillo, "Chic" Vespucci, Tony Penta, Joe DiIorio and Ralph Turoc.

Richard Bucci although was not able to guide his team to victory had the honor of leading the entire group of bowlers with a 650 pinfall and runner-up was "Choppers" Gangi with 644.

Just a few words about Jeff Gaudioso who never got over the shock of the beating his team took the first night and who appeared in a melancholic condition this last night.

The shock of a possible victory as Nicky Molea turned the tide, sent him into a state of intense restlessness of mind and body and he was having hallucinations along with delusions, incoherence of speech and finally unconsciousness set in.

We are happy to announce at this date that he is responding to treatments and ultimate recovery is assured even though he has taken many shock treatment to date.

The bowling banquet is to be held Saturday, April 14, 6:30 p. m. at the S. O. I. Clubhouse.

Mr. Robert Sand of 14 Park avenue, associated with the Polaroid Corp., of Waltham, is president of the Charles River Industrial Management Club, the members of which held their charter meeting last week Thursday at the Newton Y.M.C.A. John D. Drumme, Public Relations Director of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, was the guest speaker.

"... and so they killed the goose that laid the Golden Eggs!"

STARVATION will kill off a business just as surely as it will a goose. "Productivity" is the life of a business; the vital ingredient from which comes the Golden Eggs of jobs, high wages, regular payrolls, pensions and other employee benefits. Without "productivity" no business can long survive. It dies — and with its death there are no more values for employees, communities, workers or owners.

Beggs & Cobb wants to continue to operate in Winchester, but restricted, limited productivity at the Winchester tannery is threatening its very existence. The Company repeatedly has said that it wants to stay in Winchester and intends to stay in Winchester if it can put the plant there on a profitable, productive, competitive basis. Conditions, however, have reached the state where the following letter to Company employees was necessary. It tells of the decision that must be made by Beggs & Cobb management in the very near future:

To Our Employees Winchester, Massachusetts

Three months ago your Union signed a new two-year contract with our Company, the essence of which was based upon cooperation to secure and maintain maximum productivity by which the Winchester Tannery could resume operations and continue to provide employment for the many looking to the Company for job security.

I have watched the Winchester operations closely. Instead of the cooperation that was promised, and which the wage incentive plan provided, I have seen little other than bickering, delaying, and destructive politicking. The one goal — of work and productivity — has given way to petty and political issues, principally concerning whether the Union policies shall be determined by the Union designated recently as a certified representative of the workers by the National Labor Relations Board, or by a minority Union displaced by the certified Union. Confusion exists, and we are all suffering because of the seeds of dissension sown among you by those who apparently do not place your welfare before such political issues.

The market for the Winchester product is being lost to us. Costs of operations instead of diminishing are increasing — our operation at Winchester continues to be unprofitable. Standards are being evaded rather than adopted. Can't you understand the meaning of these disastrous conditions to you and the members of your family? I want you to know exactly what I told your Union stewards and business agents, Queen and Muraco, yesterday.

Three weeks from now — upon my return from a business trip — I shall have no alternative other than to order a drastic cut in the daily soak, unless the attitude of our employees has shown a decided conscientious approach toward productivity, and unless there is evidence of Union, employee and management cooperation toward building the Winchester productivity to the necessary competitive position.

Regretfully, if these conditions continue, there can be no other decision. The Winchester tannery must have production in order that the cost per foot of the leather shall be reduced. This reduction in cost is necessary to obtain business in the competitive market, and it would be only after this business was obtained that the soak could be increased with the re-employment of our large numbers of former employees. The future, or the fate, of Winchester is solely in your hands. The management, the capital, and the plant have been provided for your jobs. The will to work, the will to produce, is your contribution and your decision. If you do work and you do produce, and you have an understanding attitude toward the needs of the Winchester tannery, you will have a job. If not, there will be no production.

In three weeks we will make our decision. It is up to you.

Sincerely,
BEGGS & COBB, Inc.

Union Educates Workers Against Loafing

Andrew F. Harvey, Business Manager, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 124, A.F.L., said: "If we follow the Golden Rule toward our employers and do them as they do to us, we will have a better day's work without hesitation and grumbling, we have taken the first step to make the world right. My personal aim is to tell the men that they have a responsibility on the job to give everything they have . . . It means putting in 8 hours' work for 8 hours' pay. Some men believe all they have to do is show up and go home . . . It is a pure, simple statement of fact that there is far too much loafing today in the craft unions."

Union Urges Members To Increase Productivity

The International Brotherhood of Teamsters appealed to its members to help increase the productivity of industries which employ them. The Union declared in a double-page feature in the March issue of its Union Membership Magazine:

"The Teamsters can perform a service of great value to the system of free enterprise through adopting affirmative and socially constructive programs to promote the efficiency of our distribution industries. Such programs would not only be good for the country, they would be good for the Union and its membership for in the last analysis the only way to advance living standards of Union members is to increase the productivity of the industries which employ them."

HOST FAMILY NEEDED FOR FOREIGN STUDENT

Acting Principal John D. Stevens announced this week that the high school office will welcome applications from Winchester families who would like to be host to a foreign student for the year 1956-57. For the past two years Winchester High School has been fortunate to have in its student body a young foreign student who has come to the United States under American Field Service auspices; and it is hoped that this experience in international understanding can be repeated during the next school year.

Students coming from abroad are carefully screened by the American Field Service, as are the families to which they are assigned, and every effort is made to place youngsters in homes where they will make successful adjustments. Preference is given to families with children of high school age, although this is not an absolute requirement. Inquiries about the program should be made to Principal Stevens at the high school or to Mrs. Harlow Russell, Mrs. Russell, with whose family Paul Kluzer (the exchange student from Milan, Italy) is living, will be able to offer the benefit of first-hand experience with the A.F.S. program.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Art Classes Prepared Posters
More than 30 students in the art classes under the direction of Miss Edna Hatch contributed to the success of the splendid show of Artists and Craftsmen at Work, sponsored by the Winchester Art Association.

Spelling Bees
Recently the pupils in Mr. Frank Provinzano's home room have been sharpening their spelling skills by conducting a series of spelling bees. Competition with the best spellers in other home rooms has further enlivened the pupils' interest in this old-fashioned but still useful activity.

Science Classes
A permanent junior high school science museum is the goal of the pupils in Mr. Parsons' science classes who have begun to collect a wide variety of specimens. A science fair is being planned for the end of this month. New England's ever-changing weather is the subject of some interesting projects being conducted by pupils in Grade 8, while the children in Grade 7 have been doing food experiments.

Creative Writing
English teacher Mr. Thomas Devine was buried recently under a tidal wave of literary gems from his pupils. Most of them dealt with sports, and their titles have ranged from "I Just Beat Rocky" to "The Sports Scene on Mars." Even the grammar program during this time was sports orientated.

THE LIBRARY: MUSIC AND FILMS

Those who attend the hi-fidelity recorded concerts on Wednesday, April 18th, will hear a varied and interesting program. Eugene Ormandy will conduct the Philadelphia Orchestra in "The Swan of Tuonela," by Sibelius. Following this will be a group of songs, featuring the late Kathleen Ferrier, contralto. Bringing the program to a close will be a complete performance of the ballet suite from Glazounov's "The Seasons," the French National Symphony Orchestra conducted by Desormiere.

Concerts are at 7:30 p. m. and again at 7:30 p. m.

"Beaver Valley" starts the film program at Family Night and Children's Hour, Friday evening, April 13th at 7:30 p. m. and Saturday morning, April 14th at 10:15 a. m. The second movie will be "Photography and Startling Events," followed by "Common Animals of the Woods." "Madeline" will bring the program to a close.

BAPTIST MEN TO HEAR BEARD

Mr. William Beard, Process Development Manager of the Cry-O-Vac Company, will address the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church, Winchester, at 9:45 a.m. on Sunday, April 15. He will discuss, with the aid of many colored slides, his recent globe-encircling journey, on which, by travelling the less frequently used byways, he gained a more intimate knowledge of the people in the countries he visited.

A GREAT PLEASURE!

Editor of the Star:
Believing that someone connected with your paper will know whom to thank, let me express the pleasure I felt in attending the "Art in Action" show last night.

ARE THEY A LIABILITY?

Editor of the Star:
Referring to your article on "Ad-journed Town Meeting" in the Star of Friday, April 6, 1956, what would Mr. Greer suggest be done with all the homes in Winchester assessed under 10 or 11 thousand dollars?

If they are not an asset to the town, are they a liability?

FOR THE BENEFIT OF BLIND PEOPLE

DISCUSS RESERVE UNIT FOR WINCHESTER

ARMY UNIT IN WINCHESTER

The above picture shows an organizational meeting in reference to the setting up of Co. C, 319th Eng. Bn., of the 94th Div., in Winchester. Weekly drills are being held every Wednesday night at the American Legion House. You will note Major General Ralph Palladino and Captain Charles Blanchard are residents of our Town.

Why a Reserve Unit in Winchester? Under the Reserve Forces Act of August 1955, all men entering the Military Services subsequent to this Act of Congress have a Military Obligation in the Reserves. For the accommodation of Winchester men, and those in surrounding towns, the 319th Engineers have set up Co. C Company here where men can attend drills without having to go to the Army Base. Is this Reserve Unit of any interest to men who went into the Service prior to August 1955? It certainly is. Even though these men do not come under the obligation of the 1955 Act, they did enlist under the 1951 (or went in through Selective Service) which called for an 8 year indebtedness: under the 1955 Act they have been put in the "Control Group" and should trouble come, following past patterns, they will be called back to duty. However, men who entered the Service under the 1951 law can be placed in the Standby Reserve by joining the Ready Reserve for one year—this holds good until July 1, 1957. Ready Reserve Participation consists of 48 paid drills, 17 days at summer Camp with all pay and allowances. Men in the Standby Reserve can only be called back to duty by Act of Congress—which would mean all out war.

Next week I will give the details on the four Reserve programs in which young men and parents of this area should be vitally interested, meantime, M/Sgt. Bradford Knox, formerly of the Medford Reg. Station, is now assigned to working on the Reserve programs. You can reach him at his home Mytic 6-3854 or call Liberty 2-6000 Extension 525 for any information. Needless to say, you can always call the writer.

Cordially yours,

Mrs. K. B. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

TOWN MEETING DISSOLVED

This brought the total appropriation for snow and ice removal to $82,600.00, but the increase had no effect on the tax rate because under a reconsideration of the Highways and Bridges Account it was voted to transfer from this account the $5,500 additional appropriation for snow and ice.

Under Article 24 it was voted to establish a building committee to study ways and means to provide adequate space for the School Administrative and other town offices. Known as the Town Offices Committee, it is to include one member each of the School Committee, Selectmen and Planning Board and four citizens to be appointed by the Moderator.

The original motion called for two members of the School Committee and three citizens at large, but an amendment offered by Mr. Saraco reduced the School membership to one and increased the members at large to four.

The committee is authorized to consider any or all uses of the Wadleigh Building, Town Hall and any other town property and was given $3,500 to be expended in its deliberations.

Mr. Twombly objected to the phrasing of the motion, claiming it should be worded so that the spending of money by the committee is permissive rather than mandatory. Mr. Hewis felt that it ought not to be necessary to spend money and out about the Wadleigh building since it has been investigated and discussed for the past 18 years.

In response to a question by Mr. Cusack, Mr. Dolan stated that the Planning Board had asked for the $3,500, the School Committee's original request under the article having been for $7,500.

Mr. Hooper explained the School Department's pressing need for more space for its administrative department and the Finance Committee recommended favorable action on the formation of the committee and the transfer of $3,500 from the Excess and Deficiency Account for its use.

It was then moved to consider Article 38, the committee article, and Mrs. Woodside moved to establish a committee of three citizens to consider the advisability of providing recreation quarters for boys and girls no longer in school, and to bring back recommendations to include plans and cost of such a project to a subsequent meeting.

Mrs. Woodside spoke at some length on the desirability of this project, told of the pioneering she had done in this field some years ago and of the need for such recreational facilities today.

Her motion was carried 82-64 on a standing vote, with the solid south broken wide open.

Mr. Ives explained under Article 26 the Park Department's belief that the town should authorize the acquisition for a public playground of a parcel of land comprising some 9.3 acres at Lockland road and Ridge street, asking an appropriation of $800 to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Account. Mr. Ives explained that the town at the advice of the Park Commissioners had previously bought for a playground a lot of land at Johnson road and Ridge street. This lot the School Committee now wants as the site for a west side school when needed. The town had also bought for the School Committee's use at the time the playground was bought a lot of land nearer the Arlington line and quite near the site of the land the Park Board was asking the meeting to buy now for a playground. This lot was deemed dangerous for school use when it was learned that a gas main passed through it, and as a consequence the School Committee was left without a school site in a rapidly growing part of the town.

Mr. Ives, and Mr. Gowdy, explained the desirability of the new site for a playground, which became necessary if the formerly purchased site was to go to the School Department. Mr. Ives argued that a playground is a necessity in the last and largest area to be developed in town, and Mr. Gowdy explained that the lot proposed at Lockland avenue and Ridge street, would give the town a chain of playgrounds, each about the same distance as the crow flies from each other.

The Park Commissioners estimated that $30,000 would be necessary to complete the playground, but asked only $800 at that time. Mr. Hewis opposed stating the playground is not advantageously located with respect to the proposed new Route 3 limited access highway and with regard to the proximity of Lockland road and Ridge street and the gas main which had condemned the school site.

The Finance Committee and Planning Board favored the purchase. Mr. Morton felt it prudent to wait a year, or until more definite knowledge of the new Route 3 is available.

Mr. Lyman urged immediate purchase, stating that the delay of a year might mean the loss of the neighborhood of, or on the proposed site that would make its purchase too expensive.

Mr. Saraco wanted to know why the lot that was considered so wonderful for a playground two years ago is now wanted for a school, and why the town does not use the land for the playground as originally intended and buy a new site for the school.

Both Mr. Hooper and Mr. Littleton explained that the Johnson road-Ridge street site had been the motion providing for the school, but that its members had been swayed toward the land with the gas-pipe by a professional planner who believed that the second location was superior to the first population-wise. Mr. Littleton added that he and Mr. Hooper had tramped the hill district in a vain search for a site better than that originally chosen for the school. He added that the School Committee would be entirely satisfied with the old playground site.

A two-thirds vote was necessary for the transfer by the Park Commissioners, and by a standing vote the motion was carried, 150-11. By unanimous vote the meeting authorized the transfer by the Park Commissioners to the School Committee of the parcel of land at Johnson road and Ridge street originally bought for a playground.

Mr. Willis spoke at some length of the growing need for additional space and facilities for the public library, telling of the Trustees own research in that direction and of a survey done by a Springfield, and a Harvard librarian, in which the inadequacies of the present setup were pointed out. The meeting authorized the establishment of a library committee to make a study of and to procure plans and estimates for an addition to the public library. The committee was set at five citizens, one of whom is to be a member of the committee with the sum of $4,500 was made available to the committee for surveys and expert advice, the motion being carried with no debate.

The sum of $1,500 was appropriated to be expended by the Tree Department for the trimming, clearing and improving of the Town Forest in the Southernly end of the town off Brooks street near the Medford line. Mr. Russell spoke for the motion.

The subject matter of Article 34, authorizing the Board of Health to burn combustible material in the present disposal area was indefinitely postponed, and the Incinerator and Waste Committee studying effective means for disposing of the town's garbage and rubbish was continued with $4,000 being appropriated for its use.

Mr. Smith explained what the committee had done and what it hopes to accomplish in a way to preclude any debate, especially when the motion to continue his committee had the backing of both the Finance Committee and Board of Health.

Mr. Greer reported for the Fiscal Survey Committee, the members of which proposed the establishment of a committee of six members, exclusive of the town accountant, to make changes in the fiscal procedures and practices of the town, including the system of accounts of the several offices, boards and commissions, to employ temporary help for the accounting department and to make specific recommendations for the possible purchase of modern accounting machines and equipment.

The motion under the article included all this and the appropriation of $3,500 for the committee's use. Mr. Greer explained that it is many years since the town's business practices and system of accounts have been overhauled, and that the Fiscal Survey Committee has faced a difficult task. He asked the acceptance by the meeting of the motion providing for the committee the necessary authority to do whatever in its judgement is necessary to modernize the town's financial structure, subject to State limitations and the judgment of the Board of Selectmen.

Mr. Hewis first objected to the length of the motion and asked to have it broken up into separate motions, specifically asking to be elected to granting the committee the authority to change long established practices of town departments without giving those departments a chance to be heard by the town that has elected them. He felt that changes in town financial practices should be voted by the town.

Mr. Greer explained that the committee could not force procedures on departments in opposition to State laws governing them, and also explained that under the committee's activities and studies, it would be relieved of some of his routine duties to be available for assistance to the committee, subject to the approval of the Selectmen.

The Selectmen approved the motion, so did the Finance Committee and Mr. Schaeffer. Mr. Hewis persisted in his opposition, whereupon Mr. Cusack moved the "previous question," limiting debate, stating his support of the Fiscal Committee's recommendations.

The previous question was carried and so was the original motion as proposed by the committee with Mr. Hewis and a scattering of other members in opposition.

With the clock showing 11:05 Mr. Saraco moved to adjourn, but was unsuccessful. Mr. Kittredge, reporting for the Town Report Format Committee, told of that committee's activities and studies, of the various reports of towns it had studied and of the strong and weak points of the present town report.

His committee asked the continuance of the committee to continue its studies and to be available

If you are behind in getting things done, ask yourself —

Q: Couldn't I save time by opening a checking account?

A: Yes. I wouldn't make those extra stops to pay bills by cash. I could write checks at home and mail them anytime — even nights and holidays.

Q: Save worry?

A: Yes. Cash is safer in the bank — no danger of losing it or being robbed. Canceled checks are receipts.

WON'T YOU TAKE THE NEXT STEP — COME IN TO OPEN YOUR ACCOUNT RIGHT AWAY?

for advice on the matter of the town report if the Selectmen see fit to ask them.

Specifically Mr. Kittredge said his committee felt that the tax list in the back of the present town report should be eliminated, effecting a considerable saving, and that interesting vital statistics of the town be included at the beginning of the town report with pictures and grafts to liven the book.

Mr. Elliott opposed eliminating the tax list and Mr. Cullen was opposed to the establishment of any committee with the right of continuity in the committee. Mr. Lyman was concerned over giving the committee any authority to enforce its proposals in the event it was voted to continue the committee, and was assured that the committee would be available to the Selectmen for recommendations if the Board so wished.

The meeting voted to establish the committee for further study, and then voted indefinite postponement of article 39 seeking to change certain land on Vine street from general residence to business district status.

Mr. Armstrong spoke for the motion to change the zoning map to establish lots on Cambridge street near the Winchester Conservatories at 10,000 instead of 15,000 ft., contending that contiguous property is zoned for 10,000 ft. lots and that it is not realistic to require the lots in question to contain 15,000 ft. The Finance Committee and Planning Board opposed and the motion was lost on a voice vote.

The meeting authorized the Town to accept the Scholarship Fund bequest from the estate of Philip J. Blank, giving custody of the money to the Commissioner of Trust Funds and authorizing the administration of the Scholarship by the School Committee as the Philip J. Blank Scholarship.

The sum of $19,025 was voted to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Account for the purchase of the land at Johnson road and Ridge street, originally bought for a playground. An additional sum of $4,950 was transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Account to complete the purchase of the Wilson Property on Shore road and Winchester place for a public parking lot.

With this vote the warrant was concluded, the motion to dissolve was made by Mr. Lane and was carried by general acclaim!

MR. AND MRS. CLUB

The Mr. and Mrs. Club of St. Mary's held their monthly meeting on Wednesday, April 4, at 8:15 p. m. It is amazing how they can hold their meetings each month and never fail to come up with a new and exhilarating idea for their feature attraction. Around the clock with Mr. and Mrs. was the title of the Fashion Show put on by the House of Fahey, Kiley and Dolan.

It began with a truly beautiful bridal party and then in contrast to this, proceeded to portray phases and activities in a bride and groom's future life in stark reality, attired in farcical and side-splitting costumes.

There was definitely no resemblance to Vogue's or Esquire's ensembles for Gardening, Driving the Children to School, Camping, Marketing, etc., etc. The outfit most Winchesterites would appreciate was for the "Saturday Morning Trip to the Dump."

The clever Mesdames responsible for this hilarious Style Show were, Mrs. Robert Fahey, Mrs. Henry Kiley and Mrs. John Dolan.

Those participating in it were as follows: Patricia Brennan, Stephanie Schmander, Norma Schell, Eleanor Bates, Tom Bates, Corinne Ford, John O'Grady, Patricia Hintlian, Rita Collins, James Hintlian, Richard Schmander, Marie Richardson, John Campbell, Barbara Goodfellow, Marie Campbell, Virginia O'Grady, Robert Fahey, Charlotte Wilson, Joan Stiles, Richard Stiles and Warren Wilson. The pianist was Thomas Deechan, and stagehand was John Collins. The refreshments were in the charge of Margaret and Paul Mulloy.

Plans are being formulated for our Annual May Dance, to be held May 11th, at St. Mary's Hall. Music will be furnished by Ken Reeves orchestra and Chairmen for this dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fortiere.

This is one event which brings out our Mr. and Mrs. in all their gay spring finery in anticipation of a wonderful and rewarding evening as the proceeds of this dance are the Club's Annual gift to the pastor.

"MRS. AMERICA"

In the "Mrs. America" local contest semi-finals held on the evening of April 3, 1956, under the sponsorship of the Mystic Valley Gas Company, Mrs. Ann Fisher of 12 Grafton street, Arlington, Mass., was judged the winner.

The judges in the local contest were: Mrs. Effie McEwen, a Home Economics teacher at Arlington High School; Miss Eleanor McLaughlin, head of Home Economics Department of Belmont High and Junior High Schools; Miss Rose Derdarian, Home Economics teacher of Lincoln Junior High in Malden.

Mrs. Fisher will enter the State Finals to be held in Boston on April 19, 1956. The winner of the finals will then enter the National Contest to be staged at Ellinor Village in Florida.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Beta Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi began their spring rushing program by inviting friends to a social meeting which was held on April 5. The purpose of this meeting was to acquaint prospective members with Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Laura Cochran, guest speaker for the evening, presented an enjoyable program on Poise and Charm.

A social hour followed with refreshments being served to conclude the evening.

A coffee will be held later in the month for guests and their friends present at the April 5 meeting.

CHECKUP AND CHECK!

A common sense approach to the American Cancer Society's "check-up" slogan in its 1956 drive for $12,000 in Winchester was urged today by Mr. Howard W. Bates, local campaign chairman.

That slogan, "Fight cancer with a checkup and a check," has been sounded throughout Winchester by ACS volunteers ever since the drive began on April 2.

"Checkup, I hope, will become a household word in this community as a result of our educational and fund-raising crusade," Mr. Bates declared. "It is highly important that we put the accent on the positive in protecting health."

"The body is like the proverbial iceberg, in that the great bulk of what constitutes potentially serious illness lies beneath the surface, invisible to the untrained eye."

"What a regular physical examination does is to give the doctor a chance to nip a possibly troublesome condition in the bud. The value of the checkup is expressed in countless old sayings: a stitch in time; an ounce of prevention; he who hesitates, and so forth."

"The ACS campaign spoke of good health as our most precious possession."

"Those who enjoy good health naturally want it to stay good," he declared. "We all will be better off if we think of our physicians as guardians of health as well as healers of the sick. The periodic health examination is a sound investment in good living."

"When you go for a checkup, you are not only taking out insurance against cancer. At the same time you are putting a richly justified premium on health."

The drive here is part of the American Cancer Society's nationwide campaign in which it seeks a total of $26,000,000 to carry on its fight to reduce cancer deaths through programs of medical research and public and professional education.

TOWN MEETING REJECTS BID FOR PARKING LOT EXPENDITURES

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, MEETING

Town Meeting members in session at the High School auditorium Thursday evening, April 5, refused to authorize expenditures for parking lots on the Skilling Estate and next to the railroad tracks between Mystic Avenue and Waterfield Road.

Defeat to a proposal of the Selectmen which would have authorized $25,000 for improvement of the Skilling Estate parking lot came when meeting members voted 109 to 54 to postpone action on Article 19.

Action tabling construction of a parking lot and bridge near the railroad tracks came on a voice vote.

In other action, Town Meeting members authorized transfer of $15,500 from various funds, including $569 from the excess and deficiency fund, for the completion of various minor outside improvements on school property.

Finally, Town Meeting members authorized the expenditure of $3,600 for repairs at the Lewis Parkhurst School, where water damage has created a maintenance problem. The Meeting was marked by exhaustive exploration into each of the five articles presented for action. Exchanges of opinions were sharp, and questions were hurled from the floor to speakers who advocated action on articles under debate.

George Redding, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, opened debate on Article 19, when he called for $25,000 from the excess and deficiency fund for embellishment of the Skilling Estate as a parking lot. He said that existing facilities are inadequate to handle the traffic load which has developed in recent years. He also noted that Winchester will lose parking space along the Mystic Valley Parkway when construction of the grade crossing elimination project is completed. Winchesterites now park along the Parkway upon the generosity of the Metropolitan District Commission, which extended permission to use the Parkway because of the railroad construction.

Mr. Redding's approach to the Skilling Estate parking project was that the area can be made an attractive lot with trees and shrubs. He said that 225 parking spaces could be created in the area with no taking of land now in private hands. He indicated that embellishment of the lot would not permanently commit the area to parking—the land might someday be developed for private or municipal purposes other than parking even if a high grade parking lot were established.

Mr. Redding concluded that commercial development of the Skilling Estate could create a burden for the Town. He cited a Greenwich study which indicates that stores and offices tend to take more in municipal services than they replace in taxes. According to the study, stores and offices contribute six per cent of all taxes, yet they take nine per cent of all municipal service expenditures.

Opposition from the Town Planning Board to an expenditure of $25,000 for the parking lot was voiced by Ralph H. Bonnell, chairman of the Board. Mr. Bonnell amended Mr. Redding's motion to read $8,500 instead of $25,000. $8,500 would provide a gravel and tar mix for the area.

Mr. Bonnell argued that an expenditure of $25,000 is too high when considered against Winchester's rising tax rate and against the cost of other programs of higher priority. He also argued that the parking problem is not as bad as it is popularly conceived, and that the end of overhead work will free facilities now being used by construction workers.

Turning his attention to the future use of the Skilling lot, Mr. Bonnell suggested that it might be developed as a commercial property. Some use of the land, according to Mr. Bonnell, might shave one dollar off the tax rate and add about 500 car spaces to the Town's parking facilities. He felt that a $25,000 expenditure on the property for parking facilities might commit the area to parking forever.

"The value of the land is not what we paid for it, but what it will produce for the town," Mr. Bonnell concluded.

John A. Dolan, chairman of the Finance Committee, supported the Selectmen. He asserted that a $25,000 parking lot would be inexpensive to maintain.

Alfred Elliott, chairman of the Board of Assessors, started the move to postpone action on the Skilling parking lot article. After an impassioned speech in which he declared, "I don't see the big rush, we're going to be here next year," a motion to postpone came from the floor. A disputed voice vote was followed by a standing poll, which approved postponement 109 to 54.

Mr. Redding then opened debate on Article 20, a $35,000 transfer from the excess and deficiency fund for the construction of parking facilities and a bridge in the area between Waterfield Road and the Mystic Avenue extension. He renewed his argument that the parking problem is critical and that when construction of the overhead is completed the Town will lose its space on the MDC parkway.

Pointing out that Bacon Street will be closed for nine months and that Common Street will be opened to Waterfield Road, Mr. Redding said, "We're going to have a dangerous traffic situation opposite the Post Office." The motion which he had offered would have created a traffic outlet at the Snow Bridge.

Mr. Redding then amended his motion so that the project could be financed out of E & D, revenue, and the parking meter fund.

Mr. Elliott said, "Wait until next year. Charlie Harrold (Chief of Police) and his boys can handle the traffic."

Chief Harrold mounted the Moderator's platform and illustrated with a map the traffic problem which will be created at the foot of Common Street when the underpass is opened. He was strongly in support of Mr. Redding's motion.

Mr. Dolan, speaking for the Finance Committee, recommended unfavorable action. He viewed the project as a temporary expedient and suggested that "until the grade crossing dust has settled, we should wait." He also denounced the project from a financial point of view. He said that to remove $25,000 from E & D would reduce available funds below a prudent level. He amended the article to read that the $35,000 should be raised by taxation.

A sharp debate followed this motion. It closed when a motion to table came from the floor, and Town Meeting members tabled the article by voice vote.

Article 21 was the next item of business. William J. Speers, Jr., speaking as chairman of the School Building Committee, argued for $15,500 by transfer from various funds, to complete outside construction projects at the Junior and Senior High Schools. These projects included steps from the High School to the Unitarian Church lot line, black topping for the parking area in back of the High School, and other minor improvements.

Mr. Dolan, expressing the feelings of the Finance Committee, recommended favorable action. After a few laudatory remarks by Arthur Hewis, Article 21 was passed by voice vote. Article 22, an article with subject matter similar to 21, passed by voice vote a few minutes later.

LAWN CARE

by Max G. Fultz
(Middlesex County Agricultural Agent)

From the first to the twentieth of April is a critical time as far as the lawn in the home grounds is concerned. The lawn in itself is the primary component of good home plantings. A healthy, vigorous lawn makes up a green setting or canvas for the entire arrangement of trees, shrubs or flowers. The green of the grass blends soothingly with the green of evergreens and the foliage color of deciduous shrubs. It furnishes excellent color contrast with the varying colors and whites of flowering plants.

In the event of seeding a new lawn, spring sowing of the grass is perfectly all right, although not generally conceded to be quite as satisfactory as fall seeding. We ordinarily think of the border line as being around the first of May for establishing the new lawn. Getting the grass away to an early start while there is plenty of moisture in the soil is of great importance in the seeding of the new lawn. Although some have seeded lawns considerably later than April 19th, the chance of success is reduced in proportion by extending the time of seeding. Incorporating some form of organic matter into the topsoil should never be omitted. This should have already been done, but well-rotted manure or compost with some superphosphate and other fertilizer can be used fairly close to the time of seeding. It is very difficult to correct organic matter deficiency in the established lawn.

In the established lawn, a fertilizer application of such formulas as 5-8-7, 5-10-5, 7-7-7, 8-6-2 or 8-6-4 should be used at about 15 to 20 pounds per 100 square feet from April 1 to 20. As near to the first of April as is possible should be the goal. This early push will carry the lawn through more adverse conditions later on, and good early grass growth is the best weed control.

The lawn should be limed with ground limestone at about 50 pounds per 1000 square feet about every other year or every third year. A pH of 6.0 or better is desirable for lawn grass.

"Camel's Nose" Theorists Offer Thin Opposition To Chadwick Bill

By Charles Ball

Mild opposition has begun to develop against Representative Harrison Chadwick's Boston Area Planning Council bill. It is opposition which will not prevent passage of the bill, but the fact that opposition should appear is worthy of mention.

Opposition began to develop at a public hearing held at the State House two weeks ago. It was voiced by officials from Wellesley and Newton, who expressed the "camel's nose" philosophy of government from behind their narrow blinders.

They expressed the fear that the Planning bill is a camel's nose in the tent. Soon, they argued, the camel will have his neck, his shoulders, and finally his tail in the tent. Once that happens, they said, we will have one municipal government for the whole metropolitan area rather than the 83 which now exercise authority. Opponents of the bill also questioned the need for area-wide planning.

Their arguments were founded in an illogical evaluation of Representative Chadwick's bill. Actually, Chadwick bill represents an alternative to complete integration of the 83 municipalities of the area. It is an alternative which preserves the autonomy of Winchester, Newton and Wellesley, yet it goes a long way toward solving many problems which are clearly area-wide in scope.

Two provisions in the Chadwick bill safeguard local self-government: the representative body which directs the work of the planning agency draws its membership from the communities within its jurisdiction. Every community, by law, is represented. Secondly, actions of the planning agency are advisory only; they do not have the force of law. If Winchester were to submit a plan to the agency for review, Winchester would have the alternatives of either accepting or rejecting the suggestions of the planners.

Citizen participation thereby comes at two levels: at the local level, where policy and administration are consumed; and at the metropolitan level, where advice and criticism are exercised. The only purpose of review by the Council is to create the opportunity for laying the plans of municipalities against the plans of the whole area. This division of function offers no iron-clad assurance of sound planning, but it does offer an integrating tendency which will accomplish the results which Representative Chadwick hopes to attain.

If the Council bill is passed, residents of the metropolitan Boston area need not worry that their local governments will be swallowed up in a metropolitan government. The Chadwick bill removes the need for further broad-gauge integration, because it offers the opportunity for integrating services of government which a more drastic would also embrace.

A similar council, the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, has operated successfully for the past six years.

ROTARY AUCTION COMING UP

Among the red letter days of the early spring in Winchester is the annual Rotary Auction, this year to be held all day Saturday, April 28, at the town hall.

Doors open at 10:00 a. m. and, of course, the pick of the bargains are available at that time and usually go quickly.

Every one is sure to find something they want at the Rotary Auction, for which Rotarians are busy collecting throughout the year. They can still use more items, and any one having anything at all to donate to this worth-while sale is asked to call "Chub" Murphy at the West Side Texaco Station for prompt pick-up service, and we mean promptly!

"Al" Elliott, the "Homespun Boy," Mr. Auction himself, has relinquished the chairmanship of the event this year to his brother, Sid, but is keeping a weather eye on donations, and personally promises to have in the sale several items that are sure to interest Tom Quigley, whose purchases in the past have been features of these events.

As in past years and this year, headed by Mrs. Aram Mouradian as chairman, there will be the usual delicious lunches and snacks prepared by the Rotary Anns available at noon and throughout the day.

Any who have eaten this delicious food will look forward to more this year, and are sure to attend the auction for this reason, if for no other.

Proceeds from the Auction are used by the Rotary for good works in which the club is interested. Already they have paid for cabins at Winning Farm, a radio station at high school and other desirable assets to the town and its youth.

This year's proceeds will go to the Home for the Aged, the Police Athletic League and the Little League.

SIGN FOR "RAYMIE"

Friends of Ray V. Hayward, long time director of the Winchester High School Vaudeville Show, are invited to sign guest books to be presented to him after the performance at the high school auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings.

Special volunteers will be in charge of the books which will be on each side of the auditorium lobby, and it is hoped as many as possible will sign them as mementos of Mr. Hayward's two last shows! The popular director and member of the high school English Department, as well as Faculty Manager of Athletics is retiring in June after nearly thirty years service to the school.

FOUR WINCHESTER SENIORS AWARDED CERTIFICATES BY MERIT SCHOLARSHIP GROUP

RANKED IN TOP
ONE PERCENT IN ABILITY

Four Winchester seniors are among more than 4,300 top notch high school students from every state in the nation who have just been awarded Certificates of Merit by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. These students are all estimated to be in the top half of one per cent in ability of all high school seniors.

The NMSC has been conducting a nationwide hunt for students best able to benefit from a college education. Certificate of Merit winners have been chosen for their excellent standing in the search, which covered hundreds of thousands of students in 10,338 high schools that entered the competition.

From Winchester are: Miss Margaret Dietz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. H. Dietz of 19 Cambridge street, a senior at Winchester High School; Miss Ellen R. Glowacki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Glowacki of 18 N. Gateway street, a senior at Winchester High School; Langley C. Keyes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Langley C. Keyes of 1 Copley street, a senior at Phillips Academy; and Francis L. Valcour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Valcour of 50 Yale street, a senior at Matignon High School.

The names of the Certificate winners are being circulated among colleges, universities, and other scholarship granting agencies in the United States. This list of talented students is the most comprehensive ever distributed in this country.

The 4,300, and an even smaller group now being carefully appraised as scholarship winners, were screened from 60,000 seniors, nominated by their high school principals to take the first NMSC test last October, when more than one million dollars in scholarships was announced available.

Since then 16 leading U. S. corporations have joined the Merit Scholarship program, adding a million dollars to the total. This million dollars has been matched by the NMSC so that 3 million dollars worth of scholarships are now available for the coming school year. The Merit Scholarship Program is thus the largest private scholarship program in American history.

Each of the scholarships to be awarded on this year's program will have an average total value to student and college of $6,000 and will cover all four years of college. Actually, the amount of each scholarship will be based on need of the student, and will range from nominal amounts to full tuition plus full cost-of-living expenses.

In addition, the college a Merit Scholar attends will receive a grant equal to tuition, providing the two together do not exceed $1,500 per year.

Scholarship winners will be announced on or about May 1.

COL. RALPH T. MILLER

THE LAST BREAKFAST

This Sunday at 9:15 will be the last opportunity of the year to enjoy one of the famous Men's Brotherhood family breakfasts at the First Baptist Church. This looks like it will be the best one of the year. After breakfast, the speaker will be Colonel Ralph T. Miller, provincial Commander of the Salvation Army, who will use as his topic "The Inner Circle."

Colonel Miller is an outstanding orator who keeps his audience spellbound with the unusual manner in which he presents his message. He is the third generation of Salvation Army workers, and his two sons continue the unbroken line as captains in the same organization. Colonel Miller directed the round-the-clock flood relief program following the devastation floods in New England last August and October.

The public is invited to come and bring their whole families for breakfast at 9:15. The children will go to their classes at 9:45 while the adults stay to hear Colonel Miller.

Reservations for the breakfast are not necessary, but it will facilitate planning and be much appreciated if all those interested will indicate their intentions in advance by calling Walter Josephson, Winchester 6-1693 or the church office Winchester 6-2864.

No charge for admission is made, only a collection will be taken to pay for the breakfast.

INTERDENOMINATIONAL YOUTH GROUP

The Church of the Epiphany will be host to the Interdenominational Youth Group of Winchester when it meets in the Parish Hall on Tuesday, April 24, at 8:00 p.m. to hear a lecture and see slides on Russia taken by Professor Richard Frye of Harvard University. Refreshments will be served.

HELPED WOBURN Y TO CROWN

Johnny Farrell, great little floor man on Winchester High School's State Championship basketball team of 1952, was an important cog in the Woburn YMCA's winning the Two State Title from Fall River at the Springfield College gymnasium Saturday, April 7, 59-61.

Farrell, playing right guard for Woburn scored 20 points, and started a six point scoring surge that gave Woburn a ten point lead that proved enough to hold off Fall River.

At last week's Gold Medal Basketball Award Banquet at the Woburn YMCA Farrell was awarded the United States Federation gold medal in Class A, and as the winner of this award qualified for the All American Gold Medal team. As a member of the Sons-of-Italy sponsored Vagabonds, winners of the Y's Class A Championship, Farrell was picked as a guard on the first Class A All Tourney Team. He was also chosen as the league's best offensive player.

Johnny's brother, Lou, who played for the Hughes Lumber team in Class A, won the high point award for a single game during the season. Both boys are sons of Patrolman E. Farrell of the Police Department.

Still another Winchester boy, Paul Murphy, who played with Johnny Farrell on the Vagabonds, was picked as center on the class A All Tourney Team. He also won the bronze United States Honor Federation Medal.

Joe Bellino received the most valuable player trophy, which is presented annually by Chitelo's Men's Shop. Also announced was the election of Mike Callahan as next year's team captain.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS AT HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

It was Foreign Student Exchange Day at the Winchester High School last week, when foreign students from France, Ireland, Italy and Turkey addressed the student body in the new Memorial Auditorium.

Sharing the spotlight with them were three Winchester girls who spent last summer living with families in Italy, Switzerland and Germany. All of these young people were enthusiastic about the work of the American Field Service which is making these international exchanges possible.

As the first main speaker at the assembly, Christina Page, a Winchester High School senior, ably described the American Field Service program and told one or two of her experiences as a member of a family in Switzerland. In introducing the foreign students she was assisted by the two other Winchester A.F.S. girls, Nancy Bradley and Elizabeth Brown.

Speaking as a representative of the "Auld Sod," Robin Dunseath, who is presently living in Concord, demonstrated the Irishman's knack for telling a good story.

Though her name sounded Spanish, Fanchita Genzales Batiles proved to be a very forthright young lady from Paris, France. Apparently, life in Stoneham, Massachusetts, is a far cry from what she had anticipated in a land which she believed to be populated by Mr. Rockefeller and cowboys.

Seniz Balkan came all the way from Istanbul, Turkey, to attend school in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Her charm and desire to please were a good demonstration of what Paul Kluzer, of Milan, Italy, meant when he said that when one really gets to know another person one cannot help liking him.

As Italy's "ambassador" to Winchester, Paul Kluzer has won the friendship and respect of pupils and teachers alike. His contribution to the academic and extra-curricular life of the school is another evidence of the value of the student exchange program.

Later in the day the young people were guests of the Winchester Rotary Club at luncheon. Rotary members, who have supported the student exchange program in part for the past two years, were interested to hear the comments of the foreign students on life in America as they see it.

Dorothy Schacht Monson of 12 Cranston road, is Co-Chairman of the Fisher Junior College Alumnae Party to be held in the auditorium of the college 118 Beacon street, Boston, on Tuesday evening, April 17.

H.S. PARENT-FACULTY ASSN. HEARD HARVARD DEAN

The members of the Winchester High School Parent-Faculty Association who attended the annual meeting on Tuesday, April 10, enjoyed a rare treat in having Dean Francis Keppel of the Harvard Graduate School of Education as the featured speaker. Speaking on one of education's gravest problems, that of recruiting able college graduates for the teaching profession, Dean Keppel demonstrated that one can be serious, thoughtful, and highly entertaining, all at the same time.

Dean Keppel pointed out that graduate schools of education face stiff competition in their efforts to attract the best type of young person into teaching. Despite the attractions of other occupations, he believes that such programs as the Harvard-Ford Foundation teacher-interim plan are already achieving a measure of success. He praised the communities, including Winchester, which have had the courage and foresight to enter this program.

Another feature of the evening's program was the delightful singing of the girls' glee club of the high school under the direction of Mr. Wendell Withington. Opening with a song appropriate to the occasion, "It's a Grand Night for Singing," the girls presented a program that was varied sufficiently to please every taste. Barbara Hickey was the soprano soloist as the group sang the deeply religious "Listen to the Lamb." Their final number, affectionately dedicated to Latin scholar Will Skerry, was the popular "Happy Wanderer."

During the business meeting earlier in the program, association president Otto Schaefer reviewed the successful events of the past year and thanked the parents and board members for their support. As a result of the association's financial efforts, he announced that a total of $600 has been appropriated to help complete the Robert M. Keeney Memorial Library at the high school. An additional sum of $300 will be contributed to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, and $100 has been given toward the fund for a foreign exchange student under the American Field Services.

Reporting for the nominating committee, Mrs. Herbert F. Ross named the slate of officers for next year. It includes the following: President: Mrs. Harlow Russell; Vice-President: Mr. Robert Mulford; Secretary: Mrs. Joy Wooley; Treasurer: Mr. Henry Pitts; Program Co-Chairmen: Mrs. Leonard Meade and Mr. John D. Stevens.

Ways and Means: Mr. and Mrs. William Schumacher

Social: Mrs. Robert Low

Membership Chairmen: Mr. and Mrs. William Wolsey

Room Parent Chairman: Mrs. Clifford Keane

Publicity: Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper

Publicity: Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper

Nominating Chairman: Mr. Otto Schaefer

Much credit goes to the Program Co-chairmen, Mrs. John Lynch and Mr. Will Skerry, for arranging such an interesting program.

NEW LOBINGER BOOK

A new book, published this week by The Pilgrim Press, is entitled "If Teaching Is Your Job." The author is John Leslie Lobinger of Manchester road.

It is planned for church school teachers, especially volunteers without professional training in this field. It is based on practical experience and reflects the needs and problems of church school workers of many denominations, in Massachusetts and in other parts of the country. For many years the author has had contact with church school teachers in religious education conferences, institutes and summer training schools in various parts of the United States. He writes out of this kind of experience.

This new book is a kind of companion volume to the author's book of three or four years ago entitled "The Better Church School."

WINCHESTER SCHOOLS PLAN SPRING CONCERTS

The pupils in the Winchester schools are hard at work preparing for their annual spring concert to be held in the high school auditorium on the evenings of May 4 and 11. Because of the substantial growth of the school music program during the past few years, it will be necessary this year to have two concerts; the first, on May 4, will be entirely instrumental, and the second, on May 11, will feature vocal groups.

More than 300 pupils in the elementary, junior high, and senior high schools will present the program on instrumental music. Mr. Ted Janner will direct the elementary string groups, and Mr. Herbert Philpott is in charge of the beginners' band. In the junior and senior high schools Mr. Wendell Withington will lead both orchestra and band.

For the vocal concert on May 11, Miss Jeanne Loudon is training a sixth grade chorus. At the junior high school level, Mrs. Eleanor Thibault is directing three groups—the girls' glee club, the boys' glee club, and the mixed glee club. Similar high school choral groups are under the direction of Wendell Withington. The always popular Octette will also share in the program.

In announcing these concerts, music supervisor Wendell Withington expressed the hope that the division of the annual music festival into two parts will enable the public to get a better picture of the entire scope of the music program in the Winchester schools. Mrs. Robert D. Swisher is chairman of the ticket committee for both events.

THE WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Annual meeting. As a fitting climax to a successful year, the Board of the Women's Association has planned a most interesting meeting for Tuesday, April 24. We are to be entertained by the High School Octette, always a treat, and Mrs. Henry Spencer is arranging a presentation by some of the members, of a few facts from the perennial best seller. Nothing cruder, nothing profound, only a pearl or two you may have missed.

To get us off to a good start, Mrs. Clinton Farnham and Mrs. Edward Zinn are inviting all women of the Church to lunch at 1:00 p. m. in Chidley Hall. It is imperative to make reservations before Friday, April 20. To do this, call Mrs. Howard Bartlett, Winchester 3-2518, or Mrs. Frank Enman, Winchester 6-0976-J. Others helping with the luncheon are: Mrs. Paul Atwood, Mrs. C. H. Clogston, Mrs. Harry Easton, Mrs. Carl Zimmerman, Mrs. Henry Harris, Mrs. Denton Randall and Mrs. C. W. Bennett. There will be child care in Nursery 2, the room next to the Church Office.

COLLEGE CLUB TEA FOR NEW MEMBERS

The Winchester College Club board members held a tea for new members, at the home of their president, Mrs. Albert D. Swazey. Tea and sandwiches were served from a lovely Spring decorated table.

Mrs. Swazey welcomed the ladies, and told them a bit of the history of the Club, and of the many interesting Study Groups.

Fifteen members were welcomed into the Club.

COMMISSION RECOMMENDS FOUR POINT APPROACH TO BOATING REGULATION

REFEREE ROLE SEEN NECESSARY TO SAFETY

A legislative recess commission has filed a report with the General Court which contains recommendations which, if passed into law, will be important both to Winchester residents along the Mystic Lakes and to motor boat fans.

The commission recommends a four-point attack on the dangerous antics of some motor boaters. Those recommendations include:

1. Statewide registration of all motor boats operated on the territorial waters of the Commonwealth. Registration would be under the Department Natural Resources. Registration would permit law officers to identify and punish those who violate safety codes.

2. A requirement that all motor boats be equipped with certain safety equipment to prevent injury to life and property.

3. Vesting of the power to regulate local waters in the hands of municipal authorities.

4. A safety program designed to educate the public on the dangers of motor boating.

The commission said in its report:

"There is no doubt that regulatory legislation over a purely recreational activity would have been unnecessary if the boating public had observed the golden rule and demonstrated simple courtesy. But a complex society requires the creation of referees to protect the lives and safety of the greater number."

Recommendations of the commission will become law if the General Court acts favorably on Senate bill number 580. A bill (House no. 1650) submitted by Representative Harrison Chadwick would require the registration of power boats.

DARTMOUTH CLUB TO HEAR UPGREN

The newly formed Dartmouth Alumni Club of Winchester is looking forward to its second meeting at the Music Hall on Bacon street Wednesday evening, May 3, when Dr. Arthur R. Upgren, Dean and Director of the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration at Dartmouth, will be the speaker.

A buffet dinner will be served at 7:15 and wives of members are cordially invited. William C. Cusack is president of the club, Waldon B. Hersey, treasurer and Harris S. Richardson, Jr., secretary.

Since Dr. Upgren is one of Dartmouth's most popular speakers, those planning to hear him and attend the dinner on May 9, are urged to contact any of the officers named above as soon as possible.

A graduate of University of Wisconsin with a Ph.D. from University of Minnesota, Dr. Upgren, in addition to his college work, has done research in the field of international relations, served as an economist in the State Department's reciprocal trade agreements program, also as research secretary of the Council on Foreign Relations of New York and has been an economic consultant to the Government of the National Economies Division of the Commerce Department.

In addition to the wives of local club members, Dartmouth men and their wives in neighboring towns are invited to hear Dr. Upgren.

EIGHTH GRADERS
AT THE LIBRARY

Nine eighth grade English classes from the Junior High School visited the adult department of the Public Library Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The purpose of the visit was to prepare the boys and girls for transfer from the Boys' and Girls' Room, to receive instruction in the use of the library, and to receive high school library cards. A total of 250 students were registered.

A short movie entitled "Know Your Library" started the forty minute class. The plot concerned a high school girl with an assignment in Civics. Her library is "just too confusing" Persuaded by her cousin to try again, she asks the librarian to help her find material. The librarian explains how to use the card catalog, Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, and the vertical file.

After the movie, Mrs. Eugene Winter, the Young Adults' Librarian conducted a tour of the adult library, pointing out the same important features seen in the movie. The arrangement of books in the Students' Room was noted, as well as those in the Reference Room. At the card catalog, Mrs. Winter explained how to locate a book and how to ask for it at the Circulation Desk. After having the library "charge-card" system explained, each student received his new card. The adult library is pleased to welcome such an interested group of young people. This group constitutes the future adults of the town, and it is hoped that each one will use the library to the fullest extent throughout the future years. A look in the Students' Room after school days will find the majority of these boys and girls beginning what is hoped will be a long association.

STATE F.F.A. CONVENTION

John McKinley of Elmwood avenue acted as Sentinel at the Silver Anniversary Convention of the Massachusetts Association of Future Farmers of America, held recently at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst.

This state association has 900 members from about 29 chapters. As past president of Essex Chapter, which, incidentally, is the largest chapter in northeastern United States, Mr. McKinley spoke briefly at the Officers-Delegates luncheon to explain the work of his chapter at Essex County Agricultural School in Hathorne.

Howard Wilson of Dunster Lane attended the convention as a member of the Essex Chapter F.F.A. Quartette which rendered several fine selections at the meetings.

QUEBEC VACATION

A little rain could hardly dampen the spirits of the sixty-nine High School young people and seven adults who left the First Congregational Church before seven o'clock Monday morning in two deluxe buses bound for Quebec City, Canada. It was Forum's annual spring trip.

The young people and chaperones will stay at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel. The trip is under the direction of Mr. Wesley A. Mailery, Associate Minister of the Church, and a committee of Forum members with Elizabeth Ann Hood as Chairman.

Detailed arrangements have been made in advance to visit places of special interest in Quebec and vicinity, including the Citadel, Montmorency, State Anne de Beaufort, French shops, churches, and many others.

The group will return to Winchester this Friday. The list of young people and chaperones making the trip is as follows:

Chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. Mailery, Mrs. McHenry Browne, Mrs. Charles M. Miller, Mrs. K. Foster Cleaver, Mr. Dikran Hadidian and Mr. F. Meredith Cooper.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

One of our most interesting and entertaining programs of the year postponed because of a severe snowstorm, will be given at the next meeting of the Winchester Chapter Guild of the Infant Saviour on Tuesday afternoon, April 24, at St. Mary's Hall, Winchester at 2 p.m. Mr. Robert Finn of 4 Hillside avenue, will illustrate and narrate a story of utmost appeal to every woman, "Diamonds."

Mr. Finn has a background that well qualifies him to know what is of the greatest interest to women in this subject. A veteran of 25 years experience in the diamond business he is now the diamond department manager of Elengor in Boston and has appeared on many television programs in this capacity.

A varied program has been planned which will include a new technicolor film, made under the auspices of the famous Debeers Ltd., which controls 90% of the diamond corporation. Filmed in Kimberley, South Africa, it shows the complete process mining, cutting, and the romantic and historical progress of the diamond industry.

Mr. Finn will be assisted by Mrs. William Sutherland of Arlington and they will give the members an opportunity to examine the different qualities of diamonds, both rough and cut, through a diamond microscope. The valuation of diamonds will be explained by Mr. Finn with reference to 4 factors, the cut, color, clarity and carat weight and with this knowledge everyone present should be capable of selecting her next birthday or anniversary gift.

Members are invited to bring guests to enjoy this program and the delicious tea to be served by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Edward McElhinney and Mrs. George Welch and their committee.

EDITORIALS

Another town meeting is over, and the Skillings lot aside, nothing new has been done to provide additional parking to improve local business. The parking meters have helped. Even many who opposed their installation agree to that, but with all due respect to the meters they have simply made available to more parkers the space we already had.

Just how permanent general parking on the Skillings Estate is to be is conjectural. The Planning Board successfully opposed the Selectmen's proposal to expend $25,000 to complete a permanent 250-car parking lot there, despite the approval of the Finance Committee, preferring to hold the land in readiness for possible purchase by business interests for a shopping center, with facilities for 500 cars. A parking lot that is a part of a shopping center and owned by it, is not going to help general parking. Shopping center patrons are going to monopolize its spaces.

There is, of course, the Quigley lot on Park street, but this is for paid parking which seems to have little appeal for many motorists who readily pay for other motoring conveniences.

It is true that with the completion of the overhead quite a few spaces for parking will return to the town. Whether they will exceed those lost when the MDC finally forbids general parking on the Parkway is something to think about. Meanwhile the cars using church yards for parking are not going to be permitted to do so forever. As a matter of fact this parking stop-gap is already being curtailed. The churches have been very patient during the parking crisis.

Mr. Elliott's suggestion that we keep Winchester a one-horse town undoubtedly appeals to many old timers, the Editor included, but unfortunately the choice is not Winchester's. The general use of automobiles has brought more outsiders to town.

Winchester's train service has been so good that many out-of-town commuters regularly drive to Winchester and entrain here for Boston, leaving their cars in our unlimited parking places to the exclusion of local shoppers, most or nearly all of whom get to the center much later than the commuters. The railroad, of course, will not restrict the use of its property to prevent such parking, and the town has been reluctant to make parking regulations to prevent the use of its unlimited areas by these out-of-town train-riders.

There were a number of local business men disappointed in the recent town meeting's refusal to accept the Selectmen's proposal to extend parking along the river to the snow bridge opposite Mystic avenue, and enlarging that bridge to provide access from the lot to the Parkway at that point.

The Planning Board gives as one reason for opposing this project the opinion of its planning expert who says motorists will not walk over 300 feet from where they park to the store they wish to patronize. The way parking conditions are likely to be in this town in the future, they are going to have to.

Commencing Easter Sunday when one was found at the entrance of the town disposal area, several so-called practice bombs, used by the military to simulate 100 pound high explosives have been picked up around town.

The explosive ordnance disposal officer from Fort Banks, who called for one of the bombs at Fire Headquarters stated that if the black powder charge has not been taken from the detonating chamber of a practice bomb, it would be possible for any one handling the bomb to be badly injured in the event it exploded. He advised any one finding such a bomb to let it strictly alone, and to communicate with the police or fire authorities, adding that it would be wise for the latter simply to guard the bomb until some one from the military, versed in high explosives, could arrive to take charge of it.

Both the ordnance officer and local fire and police authorities are viewing with concern the increasing number of chemistry-minded youngsters who are attempting to mix up explosive concoctions to place in home-made bombs. Serious injury and considerable property damage have resulted from such bombs not too far from Winchester, and right in this town we have had some narrow escapes along similar lines.

Both Chief Harold of the Police Department and Chief Callahan of the Fire Department have asked the Star to warn parents of teenagers prone to unsupervised chemical experimenting to see to it that their progeny keep out of the field of explosives, explaining carefully the danger involved, both to the youngsters themselves and their families and friends.

It is so easy to get the necessary elements to produce really lethal explosives that the warning of our Police and Fire Chiefs is one that parents well may heed!

HONOR WHERE HONOR IS DUE

Editor of the Star:

Winchester High School basketball team has had one of the best, if not the most successful, basketball seasons in its history. In past years it has been customary for the Winchester High School sport followers to recognize such records in some tangible manner. Consequently the question has arisen as to what form such recognition should be given to this 1955-56 team.

Many people with whom I have talked are of the opinion that banners, jackets, cups and bracelets have ceased to have any lasting value. Therefore, it has been suggested that a new electric basketball clock and score board be presented to the basketball team, the same to be placed on the new gymnasium. There it will be a permanent memorial to a great team as a symbol of courage and sportsmanship to all other basketball teams in future years.

A suitable plaque will be placed near the clock.

To purchase such a clock will cost approximately $500.00 and a committee has been formed to receive donations for the "Clock Fund."

It is the hope of the committee that the Winchester basketball fans will buy on minute time on the clock for $1.00. The clock will run for a 12 hour period or 720 minutes. Any surplus money will be turned over to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

Donations are immediately receivable and can be left with Mr. Ralph Hatch at the Winchester Savings Bank or with any of the Committee listed below. The committee would like to have the money in hand by May 5. This project has the approval of the School Committee and the basketball team.

Come on Winchester lets show this team that we are proud of them and their record.

AN APPRECIATION

Editor of the Star:

Dwellers in Winchester; do you ever pause to look at our mill-dam, cascading foam at this season or in summer low-water glance at the graceful semi-circle that forms the dam itself?

There is also the picture-backdrop of Library, sweeping lawns, island, willows and wine-glass elms.

Few are living, who recall the untidy, ugly central area of town as it was before the present dam and two arching bridges were built? The texture and strength of all three structures is worth noting. They have withstood the wearing of half a century very well. They are more beautiful in soft tones today.

Should we not salute one fellow townsman, Mr. George M. Byrne, who put in much loving thought and time to insure their durable beauty?

THANK YOU! THANK YOU!

Editor of the Star:

May we thank, through your pages, the many people who made the "Artists and Craftsmen at Work" evening so successful? We are grateful to Dr. Gilson for receiving the original idea with enthusiasm. This first contact set the tone which followed in all further contacts with the school whether through the students, teachers or custodians.

Our tickets were printed by students in Mr. Aversa's print shop. Much of our typing was done by students in Miss Bronson's classes. Hundreds of posters were made for us by students under the guidance of Miss French in the elementary schools, Miss Hatch in the Junior High School and Miss Goodrich in the High School. These posters enabled us to present the town with two complete sets of seventy each during the two weeks preceding April 6th. This particular publicity we feel sure was of the greatest importance in our successful sale of tickets.

Our gratitude to Mr. Morse and boys from his classes who helped arrange our background music and to Mr. Knowlton, Mr. Bettino and a large group of boys who helped us move the furniture needed by those demonstrating. We are more grateful than we can say for all of this cooperation from our school department.

Our Special thanks go to our seventeen demonstrating artists whose overwhelming popularity took us and even themselves by storm.

Their outstanding work, their willingness to explain their techniques to the interested audience and in certain cases their allowing some of the younger members of the audience to "try it themselves" won the hearts of the committee as well as the crowd.

Our gratitude goes to Mrs. March at the Girl Scout Office who did some of the mimeographing of notices sent home through the school to Miss Leyden who did some of our additional typing, to Mr. Benrimo who took pictures for us during the evening, to Mr. Sidney Elliott who loaned us drop cloths for protection of the gym floor and of course to you and the Star for your help and advice on our publicity.

But our greatest thanks go to those who sold our tickets and to those who bought them. A total of 1,372 tickets were sold. This figure proves to us that such a project is of interest to Winchester. This sale of 1,372 tickets enables the Winchester Art Association to join the growing ranks of other organizations who give financial support to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

So from the committee our thanks to all the "young and old" who joined us under our new "Big Top" at the Winchester Art Circus of 1955!

Sincerely yours,
Pauline F. Goodrich

A TRIBUTE

The house on the corner was always immaculate; the hedge, grass, and the flowering bushes; in winter the sidewalk was cleared of all snow. No one passed the house without cheerful recognition from the owner and when he drove out he never passed an acquaintance without asking to take him on his way. William H. McMullen will no longer be seen in our town but he will not be forgotten for he taught us much by his living.

IS THIS JUSTICE!

Editor of the Star:

It all began when the Town approved the overpass for this wonderful community of ours. I was told how fortunate I was that the State would take some of my property on Swanton street and that I would be all set financially once a settlement had been reached. Then I was asked to have one of my houses vacated by a certain time. I was told that my house, which I rent to others, had to be torn down to make way for the overpass. This land, with its rental property and space for my business, had been my source of personal income.

I built up my transportation business on this land. Through the 20 years during which I have been in business there, I expanded my operations to include six trucks, I.C.C. rights, D.P.U. rights, equipment and conveyors—all valued at between $50 and $60 thousand. In addition, I have improved my six-room bungalow house in the past five years, spending several hundred dollars for renovating.

For all this property, the State has offered me a mere $4,000.

I have gone almost insane looking for another lot of land upon which to locate my business. Abutting my property is an abandoned sand pit, offered to me for $20,000 ten years ago. Today that land would cost much more. In fact, Woburn, I found a lot of land for which the asking price was $40,000. Another tract is for sale at $21,000.

It becomes thus clear that I must pay at least $20,000 to relocate my business on new land. But the State is offering me only $4,000 for the land upon which I am now located. The overpass will thereby cost me at least $16,000, maybe much more.

Is that justice? I submit that it is not!

When a Mr. Kaplan, the agent for the State, told me of the State's offer, I told him of the injustice which is being worked upon me. He laughed in my face!

All of this, all of my story is the Gospel truth.

WINS HAVERFORD FELLOWSHIPS

Robert R. Traut, a graduate of Winchester High School and a senior at Haverford College (Haverford, Pa.), has been awarded two fellowships for graduate study next year. It was announced today.

The first, a four-year Rockefeller Institute Fellowship for study of biological sciences at the Institute, will amount to a yearly stipend of $3,500. In addition Haverford has awarded Traut one of their top honors—the Clementine Cope Fellowship which may be used at any institution for graduate study.

Traut will be among the ten students chosen by Amherst, Dartmouth, Haverford, Oslo, Pennsylvania, Smith, Union, Yale, and Wesleyan, to prepare for careers of research and teaching in the biological sciences at the Rockefeller Institute. In 1954 the Institute changed its charter to become a graduate university in order to help in the training of scientists. The vast and impressive resources of the Rockefeller Institute, which includes an endowment of approximately $150,000,000, will be utilized in training these able young scientists.

Before coming to the oldest Quaker college in the suburbs of Philadelphia, Traut was an outstanding student at Winchester High School. He was president of the Science Club, president of the Mathematics Club and of the National Honor Society; he played in the orchestra and band, was on the staff of the Yearbook, a member of the Rifle Team and won the Harvard Book Prize.

At Haverford, Traut has majored in Chemistry; he held a Corporation Fellowship for three years which means he was at the top of his class; played in the band and orchestra, was on the staff of the Record, a member of the Chem Club, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa as a junior.

Traut's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Traut, now live in Claremont, Calif.

EDUCATION QUESTIONNAIRE

Have you returned your questionnaire on Public Adult Education? Last week questionnaires were sent to 500 residents in Winchester as part of a survey conducted by the League of Women Voters to determine whether there is an interest in this town for such a program. An opportunity to indicate the kinds of courses people would like to take was also given. To have the results meaningful, there should be as many returns as possible. You are urged to express your opinion on Public Adult Education by returning the questionnaire or by calling Mrs. Robert Griffith, Winchester 6-2920.

Many towns have begun their Adult Education programs with state-aided courses in arts and crafts. For such approved courses the State returns one half the net maintenance cost to the Town Treasury at the end of the year. The registration fee is usually one dollar for each course. For other courses not included in the state program, the student generally bears all or most of the cost. The popularity of Public Adult Education programs is increasing rapidly throughout the country.

GOOD PROPERTY

Investors seek it to provide or supplement today's income, but, equally important, to serve as a substitute for earning power some day. What are the characteristics of the ideal investment? Safety, future value, marketability, no reinvestment problem, convenience of selection and purchase, flexibility, compounding of interest. Let me tell you why carefully planned life insurance meets all these tests of "good property" and a good investment.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB STARTS 55TH SEASON

Under the capable direction of Commodore Robert Armstrong, who was unanimously reelected for a second term at last fall's business meeting, the Winchester Boat Club opens the doors for a brand new season. And they are very different doors indeed, in case you haven't been near the club house recently.

During the winter when they should have been worrying about ice and snow, the Board of Directors voted a very substantial sum of money for a thorough face-lifting of the downstairs portion of the building. There will be TV viewing, dancing and "setting" downstairs as well as upstairs. The feature attraction is a magnificent new sofa which will undoubtedly cause a lot of consternation among those of us who are waging the battle of the bulge. It's going to take a lot of won't power to pass it by.

More good news about the coming season lies in the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otto, who did such a slick job last year, will serve as "Mine Hosts" of the Club for '56. Vinney Murphy and newcomer named Jack Noble will take care of the Life-guarding duties and grounds upkeep. That seems to add up to a pretty sensational staff.

The Snipe Fleet, with Claverburggaard as Captain, in anticipation of another season jam-packed with thrills. All boats are rumored to be in tip-top shape and most of the skippers looked like they didn't lost any of their zest for zooming at a recent Snipe Fleet meeting.

This year's Ladies Bridge battles will be championed by Mrs. Joshua Vergaglia, and if any of you lasses would like to volunteer to referee some of these Culbertsonian Catastrophes that are so popular with our ladies, please call Mrs. Vergaglia.

Maybe by the time this appears in print the sun will have started to shine. Whether it does or doesn't, come on down to the club anyway—the banana splits are the nuts.

The Snipe Fleet (and friends) are scheduled to launch the docks on Saturday morning, April 21st, at 9:30 a. m. Your backache from shoveling snow should be just about cured, so come on down and get a new one. Launchings will be under the direction of the Commodore and refreshments will be served to the workers. See ya!

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Here are the facts and figures on the recent cookie sale. Orders were taken for 16, 284 boxes. We are extremely pleased with this success. Part of the money raised will go for improvements at the local Girl Scout Cabin. A level playing field is needed for sports and games for the summer program, also materials for this program.

The cookies are ready for delivery this coming Monday, April 23rd. Because the cookies have to be ordered by the carton, there will be extra boxes. Each Troop Leader and Cookie Pusher is urged to make every effort to see that these extra cookies are sold, so we can add every possible bit to the success already achieved.

Recently we put in a "Help Wanted" notice, for people interested in working with the Senior Girl Scouts in their outdoor sports and activities. An informal meeting is scheduled at the Girl Scout cabin on Wednesday, April 25th, at 8 p. m. It will be an interesting evening to hear and see what has been done for the older girls in Winchester and to learn of plans for their future.

Junior High Girl Scouts will have an opportunity to work for their Conservation Badge, starting Saturday morning, April 28, from 10 to 12 a. m., at the Girl Scout Cabin. Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart will be in charge of the group, and other qualified adults will assist, as needed.

The committee studying the development of neighborhoods in the Winchester Council will meet at the Cabin on Tuesday, April 24, at 10 a. m.

The first session of the Outdoor Course for leaders will meet at the C. S. Office on Tuesday, April 24, at 9:30 a. m., with Mrs. William Glowacki, volunteer trainer, in charge. There is still room for a few more leaders in this course.

Mrs. E. M. Shinnick, Executive Director, will be at Swamscott April 25-27 attending an Administrative Staff Meeting and the Association of Girl Scout Workers. The office will be open as usual, except at lunch hour.

KILEY RECITAL

Last Tuesday evening, the first of special recitals by twelve pupils was given at 8 o'clock at the Eunice M. Kiley Pianoforte Studio, 433 Main street.

Each performer is required to play eight compositions by well known composers, including a sonata movement.

The following students were the participants of Tuesday evening's program: Carol Whitlock, Peggie Padelford, Susan Carley and Elizabeth Brown.

Classical numbers were beautiful. By performed from the following composers, Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Handel, Sibelius, Chopin, Haydn, Grieg, Debussy, Liszt and others.

A capacity audience stayed to congratulate the youthful students. On Friday evening, and Sunday afternoon, the other recitals will be given.

TENNIS ASSOCIATION ELECTS ADOLPH ALLA PRESIDENT

The Annual Meeting of the Winchester Tennis Association was held at the home of last year's president, Robert B. Kittredge, on Wednesday evening, April 11th. After a meeting by the host, the greeting was formally opened. The perennial Secretary-Treasurer, Dwight E. Bellows, read the minutes of last year's meeting and commented on the financial statement which was distributed to all the members present.

The report of the Nominating Committee included the following slate of officers:

President, Adolph Alla.
Secretary-Treasurer, Dwight E. Bellows.

Members of the Governing Board, Robert Kittredge, Dorothy Hills.

The nominations were approved and Adolph Alla took command of the meeting and heard motions for new business. Included in this business were discussions about Winchester forming two separate teams in the very active Suburban Twilight League (motion approved) and forming a committee to study the possibility of the Club's financing lights for evening play and tarpaulin for protection against the wind at the Parker Courts. (This motion was also approved and a Committee Chairman, Joseph Bacon, was appointed by the President.)

The members learned of the scheduling of some of the future tournaments this season. The annual Spring Doubles Tournament is set to begin May 26th. Our town will also host the Mystic Valley Tennis Center Tournament for young people from greater New England on June 13th. The President appointed the various committee chairmen and the business meeting was closed. Refreshments and a social hour followed.

All articles in the sale have been made by the blind, and representatives from all of the women's organizations are volunteering to serve for one hour as salesladies. Blind workers at work on looms, chairs, crafts, will highlight the Sale.

SPRING PLAY

Mulhern, John Richer, Jr., Marian T. Blake, William Early, Sewell Richardson, Robert P. Blake, George H. Gowdy, Robert Millican, Charles A. Brown. The latter three are doubling as stage crew and as "Shriners" in this play. George S. Hebb, Jr., Chester Watts and Edwin Eccles, complete the stage crew.

YOUTHS ON PROBATION FOR HUB CAP THEFT

Two youths were placed in six months' probation at Woburn Court last week after they were found guilty of stealing hub caps from an automobile which had been parked at the Winchester Hospital.

In probation are: Ronald C. Cirafo, 21, of Cambridge, and Joseph N. Wilkie, 22, of Charlestown, who confessed having stolen hub caps from a car owned by Dr. Philip J. McManus of 465 Main street while it was parked at the Winchester Hospital the night of April 10.

The two youths were arrested in Melrose the same night when MDC officers stopped their slow moving car. While questioning the two youths, the MDC officers discovered the stolen hub caps in the rear seat of the car.

Wilkie and Cirafo were arraigned in Woburn Wednesday, April 11. Their case was continued until Friday, April 13, when they were found guilty.

DISCUSSION LEADER

Dr. William E. Gordon of 4 Ardley place, Winchester, was one of the discussion leaders in the Salem High School "Career Days" activities on Wednesday, April 18. Dr. Gordon is associated with the well-known research consulting firm of Arthur D. Little Inc., in Cambridge. He conducted a session on "Opportunities in Science."

Career Days is a project sponsored by the Salem Chamber of Commerce to aid high school students in their choice of occupation. SECOND CHURCH FELLOWSHIP NIGHT

The Second Congregational Church will have its final Fellowship Night this coming Sunday evening.

The special feature will be the showing of a film sponsored by the Protestant Educational League, "Mixed Marriage." This is a "factual" presentation of the matrimony of a Protestant and a Roman Catholic, dramatizing the problems of the average mixed marriage. The Reverend Dwight French will be present to answer any questions on this subject.

The showing of the film will be at 8:00 p. m. in the Social Hall of the church. Everyone is invited to attend.

Preceding this program there will be an informal Worship Service in the Sanctuary beginning at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Skerik, Pastor, will consider the story and message of several well known hymns.

Refreshments will conclude the evening, served by the High School Youth Group under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kent.

MRS. WOODWARD SPOKE

Mrs. Philip J. "Sally" Woodward of Sheffield held the closest attention of a large audience Tuesday forenoon, when she addressed the members of the English Speaking Union and the College Club of Boston at the first joint meeting of the two groups in the College Club headquarters at 40 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

Mrs. Woodward has recently returned from England where she headed a group of 15 women from this country sent abroad to study the workings of Civil Defense in England and to exchange ideas basic to this important activity with British women CD officials. Her remarks on Tuesday were of absorbing interest and brilliantly delivered.

After her address Mrs. Woodward was guest at a small luncheon given in her honor. Mrs. Harrison F. Lyman was one of the hostesses, both for the joint meeting and the luncheon.

ST. MARY'S MR. AND MRS. CLUB

Hear Ye, Hear Ye: On May 11th, the Mr. and Mrs. Club of St. Mary's is having their annual May Dance. Tickets are already being sold and Jean and Bill Burns are ticket chairmen. They are now selecting their committees for distribution of tickets, so just sit tight and every member will be contacted. This promises to be one of the merriest affairs of the season as Mr. and Mrs. may invite their friends.

Jane and Paul Whitney are in charge of decorating and Mary and Howard Leary are donating their chef's caps to head up the refreshment committee.

So don't forget to put a big red circle around that date May 11th, as we all want it to be a huge success. The proceeds are the club's annual gift to Father Manion, so some on club, Go—Go—Go!!!

ANNUAL MEETING AND LUNCHEON

A colorful and delicious luncheon was served to the members of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester and their guests at the Country Club on Wednesday, April 11th. Preceding the luncheon, a reception was held for the honor guests and a short annual business meeting followed.

Mrs. Charles P. Howard, Special Advisor to the Federal Defense Administrator and Permanent Alternate Delegate to NATO was the principal speaker. It was a happy occasion, for Mrs. Howard is well-known and much admired here in Winchester.

ENJOYED BASEBALL FILMS

At their most recent meeting the Knights of Columbus enjoyed two Red Sox Spring training films which also went well into the regular season. The films highlighted many of the Red Sox players, showing their various abilities both at bat and in the field.

Shots of the 1955 season showed many feature plays leading up to the World Series, the Old Timers game as well as the Baseball Shrine at Cooperstown.

Stars of rival teams in both leagues were also highlighted with films in color and with sound, plus the pleasant narration of popular Curt Gowdy.

The films were shown by over willing Brother Knight Tom Drapau through the courtesy of the Coca Cola Company. A collation in keeping with the baseball films was served by House Committee Chairman Dick Fiore and Bert Stevens.

In Memoriam

The Council was saddened to learn of the sudden passing of Mr. John L. Munro of Central street in town, the world traveler who died suddenly in Europe while on a trip with Mrs. Munro. Early in the Fall, Mr. Munro was gracious enough to show to the Council many colored slides of some of his travels in Rome, and many other foreign places. He had promised to favor the Knights again after this current trip but such is unfortunately not to be. The Council extends to Mrs. Munro its deepest sympathy.

FREEDOM POSSIBLE NOW!

Never doubt the power of a spiritual understanding of God, said Ella H. Hay of Indianapolis, Indiana at a public lecture in Stoneham Sunday afternoon.

No matter what your needs may be, she told her audience, through spiritually correct thinking you can learn how to cope with fatigue, fear, loneliness, and insufficiency. Freedom from the bondage of sin, sickness, and other discords can be experienced now, Mrs. Hay declared.

On extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, she spoke in Stoneham Town Hall at the invitation of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Mrs. Hay's subject was "Christian Science: The Way of True Freedom Now." She was introduced by Ernest John Wright of Winchester.

The way of true freedom is set forth in the inspired Word of the Bible, the lecturer stated.

As Christ Jesus was a student of Scripture, she said, "it is natural for us to turn wholeheartedly to the holy record for correct information concerning the nature of God and the way to true freedom."

The Bible, she went on, reveals that there is but one God, changeless and eternal, and that the real man is His image and likeness.

Understanding the spiritual relationship between God and man enabled Christ Jesus to prove by his mighty works of healing, that truth makes free, she observed.

Commenting on the statement from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 404): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need," she said: "Your need is to know God, to feel His presence and acknowledge His power . . . and to recognize your true selfhood as the child of God."

"True business is knowing the truth that makes free, and this spiritual activity is always joyous, intelligent, wise, and successful," the lecturer declared.

AWARD TO RICHMOND

FIRST TO BE SO HONORED

Harold B. Richmond, board chairman, General Radio Company, received the coveted Scientific Apparatus Makers Award recently at Balaire, Fla., in recognition of his leadership, vision and devotion to the growth and progress of the scientific instrument industry. Presented by SAMA president Henry F. Dever as the highlight of the Association's annual dinner meeting, Richmond was cited as the first person in the history of the industry to receive such recognition prior to retirement.

SAMA spokesman, Henry Dever, president, Brown Instruments Division, Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, praised Mr. Richmond for his outstanding record of achievement and contribution to the best interests of his country and his industry.

Mr. Richmond, winner of the Presidential Medal of Merit in 1948, for his notable work in the development of the first guided missile ever to be used by the allied forces in World War II, was also congratulated by Dever for his many years of work on behalf of the instrument makers. The SAMA president pointed out that Mr. Richmond's record of service to the association dates from 1938 to the present.

Outstanding Record
Serving as chairman of the Association's board of directors in 1947, the award winner was president of SAMA in 1948. Today, Mr. Richmond is one of the Association's directors-at-large.

Besides remaining active in maintaining his country's defenses after World War II by serving as chairman of the National Academy of Science's Advisory Committee on Guided Missiles, Mr. Richmond has also been deeply interested in the field of scientific and engineering education. Norwich University awarded him an honorary doctorate in 1947.

Continually active in the alumni work of his alma mater, M.I.T., he has been chairman of the school's visiting committees for the departments of electrical engineering, biology and public health, physics, modern languages and military science. He has also served on M.I.T.'s board of directors from 1932 to 1944 and has been a life member of the school's corporation since 1952.

HOSPITAL AIDES CLASS

The Winchester Hospital announces the formation of another class for the training of Hospital Aides. This is the fourth class to be trained at the Hospital, and according to Harlan L. Paine, Jr., the Administrator, these training programs have been very successful. Not only have the graduates proved of great value to the Hospital, but those girls who have completed the training have all indicated that they have found the training invaluable and the work most satisfying.

The class which will start on May 14th, is open to girls 18 years of age and over who have had at least two years of high school. Students will be paid while going to school and upon their graduation will be eligible for positions in the Nursing Department of the Winchester Hospital.

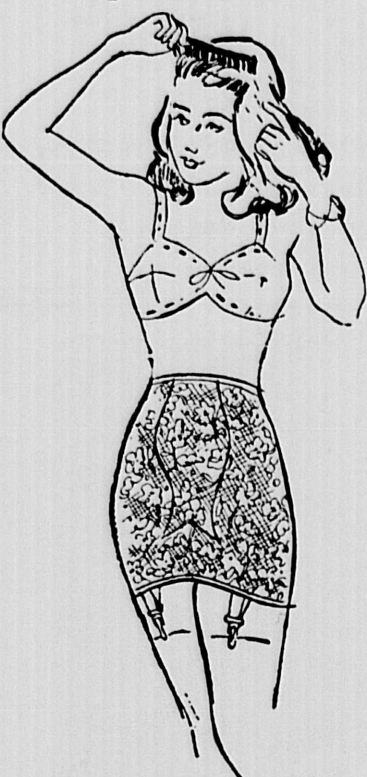

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF ARMY OFFER

Many high school seniors are taking advantage of the Army's offer to permit them to be processed for enlistment under the Army Guaranteed School program during the Spring vacation, according to Master Sergeant Sterlin Wark, local Army Recruiter.

Under this plan, the high school senior selects his school from the lists of over 150 courses offered for direct enlistment and takes his mental and physical examinations during the Spring vacation. An application for the senior to attend the school of his choice is then forwarded to The Adjutant General in Washington, D. C.

If accepted, the applicant is notified by The Adjutant General, who sends the applicant a written guarantee that he will attend the school he selects and instruction as to when he should enlist. No high school senior will be required to enlist prior to graduation date. Full information on this unusual offer may be obtained at the local Army Recruiting Station at 49 High street, Medford square, or by calling MYSTIC 6-5777.

METHODISTS DRIVE SUCCESSFUL
In one of its most challenging projects in over a quarter of a century, the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church announces an amazing response on the part of its members and friends.
With a growing attendance in Sunday School and inadequate facilities to meet the needs, a Planning and Survey Committee met to consider ways and means of raising money to build an addition to the church.
With a year of careful planning and studying, it was decided to proceed with a fund raising program. Close to fifty men were contacted in completing the Canvass Organization and a goal of $125,000.00 was set.
At the "Victory Service" this past Sunday, the pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., announced the total amount raised thus far, including previous gifts, as over $110,000.00, with more pledges yet to come.
The wonderful response and labors on the part of the Canvass Organization and the members and friends of the church, have left an impact that the church leaders feel will have an effect on the spiritual life of the church. New interests have already been revealed which will undoubtedly add to a stronger religious community, where all will benefit.
Along with other churches of the community, the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church has, in this project, expressed a desire to sacrificially share in the great responsibility of directing the lives of its young people and finds a joy in the service it gives.
Members serving on the Canvass Organization were as follows:
Paul Phinney, Cory Wynn, Paul Leclerc, Harry V. Gierke, Lewis Wynn, S. Munroe, Elmer N. Grinnell, William A. Gierke, Charles Hedges, Lloyd Gierke, Charles Kinney, Harry Emmens, W. Raymond Chase, Claude Calahan, J. W. Leonard, George Needham, and Paul White.

The program opened with 3 selections by the school band under the direction of Mr. Herbert Philpott. Dianne Watson greeted the audience and introduced a typical boy and girl of 1956, Kenneth Donagan and Mary Alice McElhinney, who decided to watch a television program on station GWS depicting changes in education. Patricia Tofuri appeared as the announcer, and Miss Roberts led the pupils of her sixth grade in singing "America the Beautiful." Then John Colliander appeared as Horace Mann, Douglas Cann as George Washington, Judith Yore as Emma Willard, Carol Coakley as Mary Lyon, Joyce Horvath as Frances Willard, and Richard Hanson as Carl Schurz, each summarizing his or her contribution to American Education.

S.O.I. BOWLING BANQUET
The S.O.I. Bowling Banquet started precisely at 7:00 p. m. last Saturday evening at the club house. The chairman of the Sports Committee, Hokie Procopio, introduced the master of ceremonies, Jeff Gaudioso, who gave a remarkable performance.
The first speaker of the evening was our young and vibrant venerable, Richard Penta, who spoke about coordinated unity and concentrated goodwill for the good of the order. Also called upon to say a few words were A. P. Tofuri and Carmen Frongillo, whom we all look upon as the backbone of our organization.
The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the John Volpe Trophies which were presented by Carmen Frongillo to the winners, Tony Saraco, high average; Joe Berardi, high triple; and Richard Bucci, high single. Winners of first place trophies went to "Choppers" Gangi, Mel Fiore, Max LaCrubba, Arca Amico, Ben Giliotti and Dan Gattinieri.
Winners of second place trophies went to Jeff Gaudioso, Nicky Mola, Joe Berardi, Pete Lonigro, Roy Penta and Richard Riga.
Winners of third place trophies went to Tony Saraco, Mingy Frongillo, Chic Vespucci, Tony Penta, Ralph Tauro and Joe Dilorio.
The M.C. then called upon the chairman of the Sports Committee to make the presentation of the trophy, "Bowler of the Year." This particular trophy is presented to the bowler who in the eyes of a secret committee has contributed the most to the good of the order. The happy and most surprised winner was William "Muligan" Fiore.
A delicious turkey dinner and excellent entertainment was enjoyed by all.
Much to his surprise Randy Kazanian, bowling scribe, was presented a very beautiful desk clock set in marble and flanked by a pen and bowler.
Presented on behalf of the entire group of bowlers the gift was accepted by the deeply appreciative Randy with the promise that it would always be one of his most cherished possessions.

FIREMAN'S BALL

VAUDEVILLE PRECEDED DANCING IN TOWN HALL

The annual concert and ball of the Winchester Fireman's Relief Association attracted a large crowd to the town hall last Wednesday evening, April 18, to enjoy six acts of professional vaudeville, followed by dancing until midnight to the music of Carl Rhode and his Orchestra.

The Rhode Band, long favorites in Winchester, opened the show with an overture, after which Teddy Mills, the Em Cee, introduced Bobby Whelan and Yvette, in a bicycle and unicycle act that saw Bobby balancing the curvy Yvette on his shoulders while perched atop a high unicycle.

Lucky Lewis, colored tap dancer, proved a read ripper fire hooter and one of the best of his kind to be seen here in years. His unaccompanied dancing was especially well received.

Freddie Marquette put on an unusual balancing act, tumbling act, in which he was assisted by an unnamed "stooge" from the audience, who did rather better than most of those unwary souls, who venture onto the stage at the invitation of a professional.

Lee Carol proved a popular singer, from whom the audience was loth to part, incessant applause keeping her at the "mike" for several encores.

Larry Drake offered several out-of-the-ordinary musical impressions, including one of the late Scotch singing comedian Sir Harry Lauder. He also imitated a number of musical instruments, including the trombone, Hawaiian guitar, ocarina and several others, concluding his skit with a bit of comedy violin playing that made a real hit.

Concluding the bill was Terry Bowles, the Em Cee, who doubled in brass with a some rapid fire gagging and tumbling.

After the hall had been cleared dancing continued until 12 with Chief James E. Callahan of the Fire Department as floor marshal, Lt. John F. O'Melia, door director, and Captain Frank Amico, chief of aids. Captain Edward Dillon Fitzgerald, Paul Haggarty and Robert Wyman were the committee in charge of the entertainment. Following are the officers of the Relief Association:

President, Lt. John F. O'Melia; Vice Pres., Charles J. Moran; Secretary, Bernard F. McGowan; Treasurer, John J. Flaherty; Directors, John Nash, Henry Heitz, Norman Doucette, Warren Osborne.

ESCAPED DROWNING

Edward B. Kerrigan, 16 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Kerrigan of 80 Lorena road, escaped drowning on the forenoon of Patriot's Day when he fell into a pool of water, part of which is in the yard of his home.

The pool is formed by an accumulation of water carried from the Fells in a brook flowing down at a point near the Kerrigan home. Edward, while playing around the edge of the pool, is believed to have tripped and fallen into the water.

His father saw his plight and got him safely out of the pool, though badly frightened and in a state of shock. A call for assistance was sent in to police headquarters, and in an incredibly short time officers under Sgt. John Dolan were at the scene with the police ambulance and cruiser. Captain Frank Amico led a fire detail which included Ladder 1 and the rescue truck and life-saving boat.

CONLEY — VICTORINE

Miss Louise Ann Victorine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Victorine of 72 Perkins street, Gloucester, and Edward Michael Conley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Conley of 7 Chisholm road, were married Saturday afternoon, April 22, at Our Lady of Good Voyage Church in Gloucester. The ceremony was performed at 2:30 by the Rev. John Connell, and a reception followed at the Eastern Point Hotel.

Miss Victorine was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, the mandarin collar and bodice being adorned with sequins and pearls and the skirt extending to form a chapel length train. Her veil of French illusion was held in place with a beaded crown matching her gown and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis centered with an orchid.

The junior bridesmaid was her sister's honor attendant, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Jean Ewalt of North Reading, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Gail F. Ewalt of Gloucester. Miss Shari M. Victorine of Gloucester, sister of the bride was junior bridesmaid.

The honor attendant wore a ball-length dress of blue crystalite with matching jacket, a big crown and veil and matching blue shoes. Her flowers were pink split carnations arranged in a cascade bouquet.

The bridesmaids' dresses were like those of the honor attendant, fashioned in pink. They wore pink veiled crowns and shoes and their flowers were deep pink.

The junior bridesmaid wore a full-length pink crystalite frock with a shawl collar and tiered skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of deep pink carnations and wore a headpiece of matching flowers.

Costello Memo Stirs Tempest
In Town Government Teapot

By Charles Ball

A memorandum to all department heads issued by James J. Costello, Town Accountant, sent a ripple across the otherwise calm waters at Town Hall this past week.

Mr. Costello's memorandum asks that certain information about bills in excess of $1,000 be given him by department heads so that payment can be expedited. Specifically, his memorandum calls for:

1. A clipping of advertisements for bids from the Winchester Star.
2. A copy of the specifications prepared by the departments for bidders.
3. A list of all bidders and their bids.
4. A statement from department heads stating the reason for rejection of low bids if a bid is awarded to others than the low bidder.

Mr. Costello closed his memorandum with these words: "Failure to provide this information will result in delay of approval and ultimate payment of the obligations."

No sooner had the memorandum been delivered to department and board heads when a rumble of disapproval began among department heads have asked Town Counsel Vincent P. Clarke for a ruling on the legality of Mr. Costello's request. Mr. Clarke's opinion is expected next week.

One department head told this reporter that he resents the "lack of diplomacy and tact" exhibited in Mr. Costello's memorandum. "You think these department heads are next to Charleston jail," he said.

Mr. Costello explained that "this information is necessary for the adequate auditing of town accounts." The State Division of Accounts requests some of this information from Mr. Costello when it makes an audit of Winchester's accounts. "It would aid my work if this information were on file in my office," he said.

Aside from the convenience angle, Mr. Costello said that he believes that he has the legal authority to request this information. Under Chapter 40, Section 56, he is charged to "examine all bids, drafts, orders, and pay rolls . . . to see if they are 'correct' before approving them and drawing a warrant for payment."

"In my opinion, I cannot fulfill my obligations under this statute unless I am provided with this information," Mr. Costello said.

"My memorandum in no way questions the integrity of any department officer or employee. It is merely a formal request for information which has usually been available in the department offices. The delivery of this information to me would expedite my duties."

To illustrate the difficulty encountered by Mr. Costello in auditing invoices because of inadequate information, he referred to an invoice from his files for this reporter. The entire invoice contained only these words:

"For building press booth and photograph platform at Manchester Field, as per contract—less charges for truck hire and painting which we will take care of when weather permits: $1,700."

"I cannot determine whether this is a correct invoice or not without information about the contract, the bids, and the specifications," Mr. Costello said.

For better or for worse, Daylight Saving commences Sunday, April 29, and will continue this year until October 29, a month's extension over the old schedule.

Don't forget to push the family clocks ahead when you turn in Saturday night, or later, and be advised there are some changes in the train times between Winchester and Boston.

New timetables are, or will be, available at the Winchester National Railway Station, at E. H. Butterworth, jeweler, on Common street, and W. Allan Wilde and Son, insurance, on Thompson street.

THREE HUNDRED SEVENTY-FIVE TRY OUT FOR LITTLE LEAGUE

For the past two weekends some 375 enthusiastic Winchester boys between the ages of 8 and 12 have been trying out for the Little League at Loring Avenue Field. There have been both morning and afternoon sessions; the ball players have been closely supervised and observed by the managers and coaches of the Little League and farm team organization. Members of the newly organized "Dads' Club" have assisted in all tryouts thus shifting some of the workload from the managers and coaches.

The interest of the candidates is high, as each aspirant hopes to make a team and thus take the first step along the road travelled by last year's team to the World Series at Williamsport. All observers agreed that the quality of the baseball displayed at the try-outs augurs well for future Winchester Little League years.

Saturday afternoon, April 28th, at 1:30 p.m. there is one last try-out for boys ages 8, 9, 10 and 11. This is a farm league try-out and 12 year old boys are not eligible.

Saturday morning, April 28th, at 9:00 o'clock and throughout the morning until noon, all candidates will meet at the Common and canvass the Town on annual Little League Tag Day raising funds to offset expenses for baseballs, bats, uniforms and other equipment. It is hoped that all will contribute generously.

Sunday afternoon at Ginn Field, April 29th, Wilbur and Paul Connors met with thirteen young men, most of whom had Little League experience and who have signified a desire to help out in the Little League program by umpiring. Sunday afternoon, April 29th, is the next session, at which time a practice game will be played between the Braves and the Dodgers to give the umpire trainees game experience.

It is expected that the umpires will be given caps and some sort of jersey by the Little League organization to be worn while officiating.

Snip and Paste something to amuse the children. Everything you need for hours of fun, on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Building.

GOSS HEADS "JUNGLETRAC" TESTS IN ARTIC

Fort Churchill, Canada: In all previous operations in the North, the tendency of trucks to sink down and get stuck in snow has meant that the Army had to equip itself with special, tracked vehicles for winter operations.

Now this may change, and the Army may be able to take a big step in the direction of "standard" vehicles. The Ordnance Climatic Test Detachment has under test a "Jungletrac"—a combination of elcots and chains which, wrapped around the rear wheels of the big cargo trucks, converts the trucks into "half-tracks." Vehicles with "Jungletracs" have been churning up the snow on the test courses at Fort Churchill most of the winter. More power—less slippage in snow.

In charge of the test is a Winchester boy, Pfc. Donald Gross, now of Escanaba, Michigan. He is one of a rather limited number of enlisted men classified as "scientific and professional" personnel and given these responsibilities by virtue of their advanced civilian education or experience. Goss, a graduate in mechanical engineering of Tufts College in Boston, worked for three and a half years for Allis-Chalmers before entering the service.

His wife, Helen, lives at 1026 Stephenson avenue in Escanaba. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Goss, 41 Allen road, Winchester, Mass.

Carol Damon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Damon, 70 Arlington street, and who is a member of the Sophomore Class at Vassar College has been chosen to serve as a Post at the Senior Prom to be held on April 28. Miss Damon, who prepared for college at the Winchester High School, has participated in activities of the Glee Club, the Italian Club, and the Yacht Club.

MANY SELF-EMPLOYED FAIL TO GET
SOCIAL SECURITY CREDIT

It has recently been brought to the attention of Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank that many self-employed individuals are not obtaining credit towards social security benefits. This group consists of those individuals whose net earnings from self-employment are between $400 and $600 a year. Many of these persons have neglected to file U. S. Individual Income Tax Returns honestly believing that no return is required if their net earnings do not exceed $600. Under the provision of the Social Security Law, Mr. Scott explained, a Form 1040 and Schedule C must be filed by every self-employed individual if the gross receipts or income from a trade or business less all business expenses results in net earnings of $400 or more. The tax return must be filed in order that social security credits may be given for such self-employment.

It is believed that many rooming house operators, dressmakers, music teachers and other persons carrying on a trade or business in their own homes are unaware of this protection afforded to them under the law.

Mr. Scott suggests that if any individual believes that his announcement applies to him he should contact the nearest social security district office. The office which services the Winchester area is located at 2 Tremont street, Cambridge and the telephone number is UNiversity 4-3900.

For the convenience of the residents of Winchester, representatives of the Cambridge Office are present at the Winchester Post Office, front entrance, every Tuesday morning for two hours beginning at 10:30 a.m. They will be glad to furnish any information relative to the law and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Law.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

David C. Sweeney, Jr., District Organizer of the Young Democrats of Massachusetts, announces the formation of a Young Democrats Club of Winchester. Any persons between the ages of eighteen and forty are eligible for membership in the organization. Those interested may contact Mr. Sweeney at 43 Dudley street, Medford or call MYstic 6-4355.

ROSES ARE POPULAR
IN THE GARDENBy Max G. Fultz
(Middlesex County Agricultural Agent)

Of all the flowering plants in the home grounds, probably the most popular is the rose. The diversified uses of roses as part of the plant arrangement and their beauty and fragrance as cut flowers are good reasons for this popularity. The rose may be used for borders, as part of plantings on the lawn, for arbors and trellises, as ground covers and some species may be used as specimen plants. The climbing types are often used at corners and entrances.

Roses naturally divide into two general classes, the bush and the climbing. Characteristics, however, overlap and integrate to such an extent that the line is not too sharply marked between the two classifications. Culturally, all roses respond about the same. Good soil preparation and use of plenty of organic matter at planting time are important in getting the plants started right. Once a rose is well-rooted and underway it will stand a large amount of punishment. They need a pH of 6.0 or better about like most horticultural crops. They are heavy users of potash so that fertilizers of the 1-2-2 ratio, such as 5-10-10, are appropriate.

Bush roses include hybrid teas, floribundas, old-fashioned, and tree types. In the modern version people are referring in general to hybrid teas when they speak of roses. In this area they vary in regard to winter hardiness, but there are many that are very well adapted. These are the ones grown by florists under glass, and in rose gardens. Floribundas bear their flowers in clusters and are generally winter hardy. They are popular for bed plantings where profusion of flowers is desirable. Old-fashioned roses include the old varieties and species that were popular in the gardens of our grandparents. They are unusually fragrant and are very hardy and, like the floribundas, require a minimum of care. They do not have the finished perfection of blossom of the hybrid teas.

Climbing roses include the old ramblers types, but newer variations have become more popular. The old-fashioned ramblers are hardy, but they are very susceptible to mildew. They have relatively small flowers. The large-flowered climbers grow a little more slowly than ramblers. They include such well-known varieties as Paul's Scarlet, City of York, etc.

In the spring dead, diseased and weak growth should be pruned out of roses. Otherwise, most of the pruning is done right after flowering. The oldest canes of ramblers are cut back to the base when the flowers start to fade. Climbers are pruned at the same time, but the number of old canes removed is more limited. Hybrid teas and floribundas should have the dead flowers removed and the canes cut back to strong, healthy buds. They should not be cut as severely as ramblers, in many cases only two or three inches needing to be removed to give the brush the desired shape and to encourage larger "breaks."

MAINTAINING 3P'S PERFORMANCE

Three Winchester women are on the committee for the benefit performance of Pen, Paint, and Pretzel's performance of "The Druid Circle" at the Tufts Arena Theatre on the Medford Campus. The benefit performance which will be held on April 28 is to aid the Association of Tufts Alumnae.

The women are Mrs. Lester Armstrong of 34 Mt. Pleasant street, Mrs. Howard Leary of 48 Westland avenue, and Mrs. James B. Lane of 8 Ardley road.

RHODODENDRONSBy Max G. Fultz
(Middlesex County Agricultural Agent)

Rhododendrons and broadleaved evergreens have a place in the home grounds, although there are some difficulties in using them. Rhododendrons are the largest plants in the class of broadleaved evergreens. Their large blossoms in liberal display add an attractive splash to the home grounds in the late spring or early summer. The green foliage throughout the year gives them the advantage enjoyed by all evergreens. It should be explained here, however, that this is the borderline of hardness for rhododendrons. The green is much harder to maintain in a healthy state than it is on needle-bearing types. During changeable winters the leaves often wind burn and turn brownish or scorch for numerous reasons. It is important, then, that rhododendrons be planted away from the full sweep of the wind. They should not be planted in low pockets.

This shrub should be protected from the winter sun to avoid leaf browning. It results from excessive loss of moisture when transpiration, due to the fact that they do carry winter foliage. When the soil is frozen the roots are not able to replace the water lost. Where the plants are placed in exposure to winter sun, covers of various kinds are used to diffuse the sun's rays.

The soil used for rhododendrons should be good. They will stand a soil that is too acid for most horticultural crops, with a pH of about 5.0 being the most desirable. Otherwise, they demand plenty of organic matter and fertility. Although they will tolerate quite a bit of shade, they should not be planted directly under large shade trees because of the direct competition for plant foods from the roots of the large trees.

Mulching around the base of the plants is a very good, almost essential, practice. When setting the plants use of peatmoss mixed with loam makes a good medium to use around the roots. Manure, if it is well rotted, may be used in relatively smaller amounts. Another way to figure the rate of peatmoss is about 5 to 8 bushels per 1000 square feet worked into the upper six inches of soil.

Rhododendrons will do well with careful attention. They will enhance the beauty of the home grounds. The investment is high for each plant and this points up the importance of getting them started right and caring for them properly.

Peter Lonigro, a veteran of World War II, will arrive in France, Germany and Belgium during which he was badly wounded in the right leg, is at the Veterans Hospital to have his leg treated for the next five weeks. Mr. Lonigro, who with his wife, Virginia, and three children, lives at 10 Loring avenue, is widely known about town. The Star joins his many friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

PATENT TO AMATO

Andrew J. Amato of 195 Mystic Valley Parkway and Joseph R. L. Dudgeon of Arlington, were the recipients on April 10, 1956, of U.S. patent No. 2,741,033 entitled "Contour Dupliator."

This invention pertains to a novel and improved device for duplicating or obtaining an accurate outline of an irregularly shaped contour. It may be used, for example, to provide an exact reproduction of the contour of an irregular piece of molding or the like to which an important piece is to be joined. As an important feature, it includes a pair of scales upon which are shown measurements, both lengthwise and crosswise of the article being duplicated; and it should be noted also that the contrivance is simple in construction, easy to manipulate, and accurate in its results.

This device of Messrs. Amato and Dudgeon consists essentially of a sleeve-like housing within which a number of laminations are slightly positioned in side-by-side relationship. The forward portions of these laminations are of enlarged triangular shape and the opposite ends have upright lugs thereon. The top surface of the housing is relatively small and has a calibrated scale extending across the top. The upper face of the housing base has a longitudinally projecting scale. Provision is also made for a rotary wedge which may be turned in one direction or the other so as to lock the laminations against longitudinal movement or release them and thus enable them to individually be slid back and forth.

In other words, in the use of this contrivance of Messrs. Amato and Dudgeon, it merely is necessary to release the wedge and move the laminations until their triangular head portions engage the contour to be measured. The wedge is then turned so that the laminations are held tightly together, and it will be found that their opposite ends, taken as a whole, provide the desired duplicate contour. The dimensions or measurements of the latter are readily discernible on the calibrated scales.

The application for this permit, which consists of four claims of originality, was filed on May 18, 1954.

NOT WHAT HE HAD IN MIND

In last week's Star, Mr. Percival Mott had a letter to the editor in which he called attention to the mill dam and the two arching bridges, one on Main street, adjacent to the falls, and the other on Waterfield road at the Postoffice.

The dam and the two bridges were built by former Selectman George M. Byrne and to him Mr. Mott paid tribute, saying in part, "The texture and strength of all three structures is worth noting." Unfortunately the last word of the sentence quoted above appeared in the Star, as "nothing." Mr. Mott's letter is clear enough, and the error is the Star's. We regret it, the more so because we, like Mr. Mott, have always admired this local example of Mr. Byrne's ability as a contractor.

THE WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Home and Garden Club held its April meeting in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church, on Wednesday the 18th.

A lecture on "The Simple Art of Flower Arranging" was given by Mrs. Louise Ham, past President of the Arlington Garden Club and a leading teacher of Flower Arranging.

Mrs. Ham opened her lecture with a discussion of the necessary equipment and the best types of flower containers, illustrating with some beautiful pieces of pewter, painted iron and copper.

To demonstrate some simple, basic arrangements, she first assembled in a low Japanese bowl a few branches and six or seven flowers—creating a line arrangement of stark simplicity and beauty.

This was followed by an example of an easily assembled table arrangement of shaded yellow and red tulips, yellow daisies and snapdragons, illustrating the use of three sets of flowers; for line, depth and filling.

Choosing her flowers with the sureness and imagination of an artist, Mrs. Ham concluded her demonstration with several beautiful arrangements of spring flowers.

"SPRING SPECTACULAR"

The children of St. Mary's School performed before a capacity audience on Tuesday evening, April 17th. A "Spring Spectacular" in the form of a Minstrel Show, under the sponsorship of St. Mary's Mothers' Club and produced by Mrs. Vincent Erhard and her committee was well received by all.

Mrs. Edward Dreano, President, opened the program by thanking all who had helped to make this show such a success.

The Winchester Pet Shop donated a parakeet and cage to a "lucky" member of the cast. Mrs. Erhard drew the name of Diane McCormack. We understand the McCormack's now have a pet shop of their own.

MISSION UNION

On Tuesday, May 8, the final meeting of the Mission Union Guild for this season will be held at the Congregational Conference Center in Framingham. Luncheon will be served at 1:00 p. m. for which reservations should be made before May 6, if possible, with Mrs. Hinton Winchester 6-3433 or Mrs. Nason, Winchester 6-2531.

The speakers will be our own Mr. and Mrs. James S. Allen, just returned from their trip to Ceylon, India, and the Near East. They have visited many of our American Board Schools and colleges and will have inside information for our edification and profit.

This will be an unusual opportunity for us to receive their impressions of our work as well as to greet them personally.

The Center will be decked in all the beauty of its spring bloom with the gardens ablaze with tulips and daffodils. A day of enjoyment and inspiration promises to be in store.

EDITORIAL

So that was really Ray Hayward's last Vaudeville Show at the high school! It takes a while for the real impact of this fact to sink in. So much a part of this great school activity has Mr. Hayward become in the twenty odd years he has directed it that it is hard to think of the show without his guiding hand and master touch.

You would never know it from the program, and least of all from the man himself, but many of the clever lines and sprightly skits that have adorned past Vaudeville shows have come from Mr. Hayward's facile pen. He has written skits, tailoring them to fit talented youngsters, fitted others into already-written skits, and generally directing the production with a sure hand, infinite patience and a profound understanding of the young performers he has guided to success year after year.

Aside from his directing genius, so well exemplified by this year's well paced and smooth running show, Ray has been, among other activities, a valued member of the school English Department, a highly efficient faculty manager of athletics, editor of the school year-book, a capable coach of varsity baseball and an assistant in football. Add to these credits a mellow bass in the choral singing at assemblies, upper echelon playing of pitch, poker or bridge hands, a nice appreciation of amateur dramatics and a keen and tolerant understanding of human nature, both teen-age and adult, and you get some understanding of the versatility of the man who is leaving the service of the town's schools in June.

His loss will be keenly felt, throughout the town and especially by the school he has served so well. None can, however, deny that Mr. Hayward richly deserves the relief from responsibility that is now to be his. It is the Star's sincere wish he may long enjoy it.

RATHER DISTURBING!

Editor of the Star:
Enclosed you will find a copy of my letter to the Board of Selectmen. If you think that this would be of public interest, you have my permission to publish it in the Winchester Star in this coming Friday's edition.

Sincerely yours,
T. K. Davidson
6 Town Way

Board of Selectmen
Town of Winchester
Winchester, Mass.
Gentlemen:

It is rather disturbing to me that in the recent awarding of automotive contract purchases, that the board ignored the lowest bid in five of the ten purchases. After careful study, I can conclude that all bids met the advertised specifications and all low bidders were residents and taxpayers of Winchester.

The above facts are of little interest to me as an automotive distributor as I was low bidder in only three cases out of ten, and inasmuch as I was awarded one of the low bid contracts, I could hardly benefit substantially from your decision. However, as a taxpayer it seems that more careful consideration could have been exercised in saving money expenditures of approximately $334.42, during a year in which it has been found necessary to raise taxes considerably.

In the case of the Police car bid, my representative found it impossible to find out on first call what the actual bids were from the Executive Clerk. It was only after a telephone call to the Attorney General's office, who advised us that such bids shall be placed on file and opened for public inspection, did I send my representative back to the Executive Clerk's office to demand this information. It was only then that I found out this information. Also I found out that some of the specifications on the police cars had been changed on this bid, but not all bidders had been notified. According to the Attorney General's Office this nullifies all bids and bids must be resubmitted. In a telephone conversation with one of your Board members, he told me that these specifications changes without notification to all bidders had caused him considerable concern. However, since he felt the police cars were needed badly, as he had been advised the police car trade-in cruisers were about to fall apart, the Board could act under their emergency powers to accept any bid without re-advertising, and so awarded the contract. Does it not seem strange that these police cruisers, one a 1954 and another a 1955 model, should be about ready to fall apart when they were in good running order last week and one bidder offered a total of $2,764.90 for the two cruisers?

I have a great deal of respect for all of the members of the Board of Selectmen, and I realize your duties demand more than is humanly possible to devote to same. However, cannot some arrangement be made to more carefully consider purchases of all types for Town purposes in order to keep costs of government as low as possible? Also, cannot the awarding of all contracts be advertised or made more easily obtainable by the general public? Cannot a town member put into the next warrant a clause, as most towns and cities in the Commonwealth do, that contracts shall go to lowest bidder, provided all specifications are met and the product is of at least equal performance.

Sincerely yours,
T. K. Davidson

ARMY RESERVE OBLIGATIONS!

Editor of the Star:
It is important that parents and young men understand the Reserve obligation under the Reserve Forces

Act of August 1955. Keep in mind these definitions:
Ready Reserve: Requires 48 drills and 17 days at summer camp annually; men receive pay equivalent to their rank.
Standby Reserve: No active participation; can only be called to active duty by Act of Congress.
Critical Skill: These are determined by Selective Service only. Pertaining to teachers, High School teachers wishing to join the Ready Reserve must have as their subjects mathematics or physical and biological sciences, only. Information on other critical skills may be obtained from your Selective Service Board.

Now, under the Reserve Act passed by Congress in August 1955:
1. Men under 26 years of age entering the service after August 1955, have a total military obligation of 6 years; for a man going through Selective Service this means 2 years Active Duty, 3 years in the Ready Reserve, 1 year in the Standby Reserve. For a man enlisting for 3 years it means 3 years Active Duty, 2 years in the Ready Reserve, 1 year in the Standby Reserve.

2. Men 17-18½ years, volunteers, have an 8 year Military Obligation—6 months Active Duty and the balance of the time in the Ready Reserve.

3. Men who enlisted, or went into the Army through Selective Service, under the 1951 UMT&S Act have an 8 year obligation. Inasmuch as there were no teeth in the bill they did not have to go into the Reserves. However, these men are now in the Control Group and subject to recall in case of trouble. To get out of this group they can—

4. Up until July 1, 1957, go into the Ready Reserve for 1 year, at the end of this time they will be transferred to the Standby Reserve. I highly recommend this. Remember your 8 year obligation is still on the books. The Winchester Unit of the Reserves is mighty handy for Winchester men and those in surrounding towns, why don't you drop in and talk it over with Captain Charles Blanchard some Wednesday evening at the American Legion House where the Unit meets?

I hope this answers many of your questions. Please remember that all men being discharged from July 1, 1957, on will automatically serve in the Ready and Standby Reserves. If personnel fail to participate in Ready Reserve training, the law says they will be called back to Active Duty for 45 days.

Cordially yours,
Mrs. K. B. Toye

SHOULD BE COMMENDED

Editor of the Star:
On April 19, several of us physicians responded to an emergency call in which a small child had a close brush with tragedy. Upon our arrival on the scene the situation was completely under control as a result of the fine work of our Police and Fire Departments.

The speed of response, the calm and understanding departments and the skill of the men who were dispatched should be commended. The residents of Winchester have good reason to rest in the assurance that if help is ever needed it is only moments away.

HOW ABOUT IT!

Are you one of those two thousand or so Winchester fans who thrilled to the great performance of Winchester High School's Class B basketball team in this year's A Division of the annual State Schoolboy Hoop Tournament at the Boston Garden?

If any one had asked you after the tourney for a dollar to perpetuate the memory of that great team, the first in schoolboy history, hereabouts at least, to ask to compete in a tougher class than that in which they have regularly played, you would have shelled out gladly, and probably given more than the dollar asked.

Now there is afoot a plan to commemorate this great team by installing a new electric scoreboard and clock in the high school gymnasium. A large committee headed by Park Commissioner Jim Coon is working on the details and is asking all sports minded residents of the town to contribute one dollar to defray the cost of the scoreboard and the installation in the gym. Incidentally the clock that has been in use there will be returned to its former location in the now junior high school location.

This year's great team, undefeated until its final tournament game, and then by only a single basket, received no public recognition of its outstanding season. The installation of a new scoreboard at school in its name appeals to the boys a lot! The committee is sure all those interested in high school athletics will want to make the modest contribution asked to perpetuate their ability and sportsmanship.

Ralph Hatch at the Savings Bank, the fund treasurer, will be glad to take your dollar, and that is all the committee is asking. You would have given five times that in the Garden after the Brockton and Duxbury games!

WELLESLEY CLUB'S WINCHESTER
MORNINGS OF DIVERSION

Plans are now under way for the popular Winchester Mornings of Diversion, held annually at the Music Hall, and sponsored by the Wellesley Club of Winchester. Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen, present chairman of the Winchester Mornings, will present three outstanding and varied programs during the fall series. Miss Mary Hodge is in charge of reservations.

"Elizabeth Barrett to Mr. Boyd" is the fascinating title of the first lecture on Thursday morning, September 20th. This is also the title of the book published recently by the speaker, Miss Barbara P. McCarthy, Professor of Classical Language at Wellesley College.

On Thursday morning, October 4th, a program of Folk Songs, American and European will be given by Miss Mary Craig McLane and Mr. Theodore Wood. Miss McLane, too, has traveled widely in Europe and America, studying and collecting the folk music of many lands. Interpreting this music with her will be Mr. Wood, who is an Associate Professor at M.I.T. The third lecture by Mildred Buchanan Flagg on October 25th, will bring the series to a glittering close. Mrs. Flagg, a person of rare charm, is a celebrity in her own right, and has many friends of rank and distinction all over the world. In "Your Call to Greatness" her listeners will find romance, nostalgia, adventure and inspiration. Proceeds from the Winchester Mornings benefit both Wellesley College and the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

The Final Tryouts for all new candidates, 13, 14, and 15 year old boys, will be at 1:30 p. m. Manchester Field, Saturday, April 28th. The selection of new players by the managers will take place the following day. All eligible players from last year are still the property of their teams, unless traded or released.

If arrangements can be made, it is possible this year that each of the four teams will carry three extra players until June 10th, when the final 15 are selected to represent each team.

Plans are now being made to open the season Saturday, May 12th, at 2 p. m. at Manchester Field with Giants vs. White Sox and Phillies vs. Indians at 2 P. M. on May 13th.

Mrs. David B. Thoms of Maxwell road spent last week in Haydenville with her daughter, Betsey and son, Robbie, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thoms. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thoms spent the holiday week in Torrington, Conn., visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David B. Thoms.

new Life Insurance issued — $68 million, compared to $297 million in 1950,
as shown in our 1955 Annual Report

There has never been, and never will be, anything but a "buyer's market" in the life insurance industry. Competition in price, as well as in policy features, is ever present. Traditionally, New England Life policies have always been highly competitive as to both cost and features.

The reputation of being a "good company in which to own life insurance" must be earned through the years by a consistently good dividend record, resulting in low net cost, plus competent, gracious service, with prompt and just settlement of all claims.

New England Life has long had that reputation.

You'll find much interesting and helpful information about New England Life in the Annual Report for 1955. Let us know if you'd like a copy.

Remember the fun we all had at the Halloween dance and the Valentine Cabaret dance in February? Now the Lincoln School Dads' Club will hold its annual Spring Dance in the Lincoln School Auditorium on Friday, May 11th, at 8:00 p. m. This dance will also be in the popular Cabaret style and music will be furnished by the Gentile's Orchestra. And say! the door prize is a 1956 Cadillac car! That ought to get some of you half-dressed Mommies and Daddies on the ball to join the happy crowd. And for you chowhounds there will be refreshments. Admission is $1.00 and dress is optional.

So buy your tickets now to make this last dance a big success. Don't forget that all the profit realized by the Dads' Club goes directly to the benefit of the Lincoln School Children.

"I want

She's been looking for a new coat for weeks — suitable for daytime but dressy enough for after five, too.

To someone so practical, a checking account here is a big satisfaction: she can pay anyone, at any time or place. Days, nights, holidays or Sundays, at home or on vacation, she just draws a check, puts it in an envelope, slips it in the mail.

Her checkbook gives a record of expenditures, canceled checks are receipts, and she doesn't run cash-carrying risks... Why shouldn't you have those advantages—starting here, right away?

Y.P.F. MEMBERS ON WASHINGTON TRIP

Forty-one members of the Young People's Fellowship of the Church of the Epiphany under the watchful eyes of five chaperones spent the early part of the recent Spring vacation in our nation's famous capital city, Washington, D. C., where every waking hour was spent in touring the many historic buildings, namely: Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Arlington National Cemetery, the Capitol, the National Art Gallery, the National Zoological Gardens, and the Smithsonian Institute. A moonlight sail down the Potomac with a stop at an amusement park featured one evening's activities. The group was, on another evening, guests of the Y.P.F. of St. Alban's Church where, following evensong at the Cathedral, a dinner, party and dance were arranged in honor of the Winchester guests. The third evening saw the travellers enjoying dinner at Hotel Harrington and movies before departure time.

Thursday morning on schedule "The Federal" arrived at Back Bay Station, Boston, with its tired but happy passengers.

The young people were housed at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Philip Hauck (former members of the Epiphany) and other members of St. Alban's Church. Chaperones included Rev. John W. Ellison, Rev.

and Mrs. Charles E. Batten, Miss Anne Kibbe, and Mrs. E. Phillips Walker.

Members making the trip were:

A year ago the young people saw New York City and its sights. This year the beauty and grandeur of Washington was enjoyed. The success of the venture has certainly been demonstrated, and already plans are in the making for a future trip of even larger proportions.

The Forum Choir will sing. Bob Becker is to be chaplain; the deacons will be Howard Bates, Dickie Bates, Bill Burrows, Doug Gowdy, Gordon Peil, and Peter Schmink; and the ushers will be Kirby Baker, Doug Canning, Tim Hill, Tim Jackson, Brad Ross and Larry Templeman.

Both of the Murrays are reported as in excellent health.

Reported to be in improved health is George S. Cronwell, an employee of the First Congregational Church, who collapsed on Washington street Tuesday morning. Mr. Cronwell, age 70, lives at 27 Irving street. He was taken to the Winchester Hospital by a police ambulance.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS HEAR FARNHAM AND LYMAN

Last Monday evening the Winchester Young Republicans' Club heard speeches and answers to current questions of local politics given by the two candidates for the Republican State Senate nomination.

Coming from Medford and present-ly the only Republican public office holder from that city, Rep. Farnham told of his strong experience in the State House of Representatives.

Mr. Lyman, who has one of the most outstanding records of achievement in service here in Winchester, explained his candidacy and future ambitions.

Although our town is in the midst of a Democratic district (Medford, Woburn and Arlington) Mr. Lyman illustrated that a qualified man is welcomed anywhere. At present he is an independent attorney in Boston.

Representative Farnham showed his ability and political courage by merely agreeing to be on this same program with Mr. Lyman. It was this same zest which has given him his excellent reputation for Republican victories and service in Medford.

Following a question period and a fact-report on the Farm Problem, given by the Program Chairman, Don Van Roosen, refreshments and a social hour were held.

DUCKS RETURN DELAYED

In response to many queries about the absence of the ducks from their usual habitat on the Mill Pond, the Star learned from Park Superintendent "Babe" Mullin that the ducks will not return to the pond until after it is drained and cleaned and the height of the water is lowered in accordance with the grade of the new access highway.

Meanwhile the ducks are remaining in their winter home at "Lord's Farm" in North Woburn.

CREDITS HOMEFRONTERS

At various times we have published letters from the boys in the service but this time we would like to call your attention to this one from a parent, written to Mr. Wilde.

Winchester, Mass.
February 20, 1956

Dear Allan:
Too many times people neglect to give credit where credit is due, so I feel that you are entitled to some of the warm feeling that Mrs. Deroo and myself have for you, and through you, to the Homefronters. We were greatly inspired by your informal talk to Robert and Charlie Govesters. If they listened to you, (which I am sure they did) your advice should leave no doubt in our minds as to their future.

Mrs. Deroo and I felt, before we went to Woburn that we had lost a son. After seeing what the town and the Homefronters had done, and especially after your appearance, we felt that he was just on a part of his training for manhood.

Again I say, Thanks to you Allan, and thanks to the Homefronters for making Mrs. Deroo and myself feel reassured that this is just a part of "today."

Sincerely,
George F. Deroo, Jr.

Alan MacDonald is going to do it.

High time. Alan and his cohorts will disport themselves in the Barrie fantasy Saturday afternoon, May 19th, at 2:30 in the High School auditorium. Rehearsals are under way, and everyone is working furiously, and a good deal of earnest scholarship is going into the preparation of this production.

Candee Callahan, Carol Witham and Jimmy von Rosenberg have come up with an entirely original dance number, even including composition of the music. One of the pirates is a determined five-year-old who passed herself off over the telephone as (a) nine, and (b) a boy, and then so stunned the authorities with the virtuosity of her swashbuckling that she was put on the first team forthwith.

Meanwhile if there are any children who would like to try their hands at designing scenery, or painting scenery, or simply messing about with scenery, please call Mrs. Samoiloff at Winchester 6-2033. Anyone who is interested is more than welcome, because community interest in this Community Theatre seems to be steadily growing.

The board of directors is happy to announce the addition of the following to the list of sponsors during the past week: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bonnell, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. John Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Emery, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills, Professor and Mrs. Karl Terzaghi and Mrs. Bowen Tufts.

SAMOILOFF SOLDIER OF THE MONTH

Pfc. Dudley Samoiloff, still at Fort Sill, Oklahoma where he has been stationed since October, has been chosen "Soldier of the Month" for April at his post.

He recently witnessed a very dramatic edge of a tornado, while on a truck ride across Oklahoma's rolling plains. His description of sky, swirling clouds, and ominous roaring hiss of wind was in lively contrast to the matter-of-fact, fatalistic attitude of townsmen where the truck stopped for shelter.

Pfc. Samoiloff's address is US-51354119, H. Q. and H. Q., Det., 54th Trans. Bn., Fort Sill, Okla.

Representing Winchester Council were Grand Knight and Mrs. Vincent F. Erhardt; Chancellor Sam Vangel; and Philip Savage who were among the more than one thousand in attendance.

Guest speaker was General Carlos P. Romulo, Filipino statesman, diplomat, editor, publisher, radio station operator, and former president of the United Nations Assembly, who is currently serving as the Special and Personal Envoy to the United States of the President of the Philippines.

Seventeen American Universities have shown their esteem by awarding him honorary degrees. Six governments have conferred decorations upon him. He was twice nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize and was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in journalism for a remarkable series of articles that warned before Pearl Harbor of Japan's war plans. Our best friend in the Far East, he has clashed with the communists at many of the world's great conference tables.

In his address he dwelt at great length on the crisis in Asia today, pointing out that Russia must first conquer Asia to conquer the world. He deplored the 650 million Chinese already lost to Soviet Russia, pointing out that there had been no Russian blood shed in Korea. He emphasized that the Americans who died in Korea died for the safety of their loved ones at home just as surely as if they were not a thousand miles away since national security was at stake.

He further declared that we must all make friends in this struggle since no matter how strong we are we cannot win this struggle alone. Touching on the splendid relations between the Philippines and our country General Romulo pointed out how Gen. MacArthur and he were the last ones to leave Bataan and recounted the terrific hardships endured there. He praised America heartily for its honesty, fairness, and justice, particularly in her treatment of the Philippines which is the reason for the latter remaining loyal through the long war.

Gen. Romulo especially urged America to make friends in Asia, pointing out that 1,000,000,000 Asians are in the communist bloc or are neutral and uncommitted as against a total of 19,000,000 in Thailand, the Philippines and Pakistan who are with the West.

Our chain of defense he termed the Aleutians, Korea, Japan Okinawa, Formosa, Guam, and the Philippines asserting, "If any one of these is destroyed, the security of the people of Boston is endangered."

PEE WEES HAD GOOD SEASON

Winchester's fast-skating Pee Wee hockey team ended its season on a successful note by defeating Melrose 7-0, a week ago Saturday at the Lynn Sports Center.

The team, sponsored by the Knits & Co. of Lynn, had a record of six wins, six losses and one tie. With a majority of the boys playing their first year of organized hockey, it was particularly gratifying to Coach Scott Parrot to see the youngsters develop as the season progressed, and after losing their first four decisions, the Pee Wees won six of their last nine games.

One of the highlights of the season was a special game with the Winchester High Freshmen team. The Pee Wees battled on even terms with the older boys and the Freshmen were hard put to win a 3-1 victory.

Ted Marks played an outstanding game, goal and finished the season with a well-earned shutout. Defensive stalwarts included Robert Eaton, Tom Purtle, William Callahan and Kent Parrot. Offensively, high scorers were Steve Powers, Peter Branch, Billy La Marshe and Dana Kelley. Other scorers were Whitney Allen, Doug Scott, Jeff Flaherty and Paul Francis. Those seeing heavy-duty action at both forward and defense were Shawn Scanlon, Tim Callahan and John Thompson.

Young Billy Riley, 10-year-old son of the former Dartmouth and Olympic hockey star, showed great promise with his forechecking and playmaking ability. The 1956-57 Pee Wee program will commence next October 15. All Winchester boys, ages 10 to 14, wishing to participate in preparing for a hockey future, may do so by contacting Mr. Scott Parrot by calling Winchester 6-3534.

OFFICIAL'S RATING TO HERSEY

Miss Allison Hersey, Mt. Holyoke, 59, is the only student at her college to receive the Local Basketball Officials rating in the recently held examinations of the Connecticut Valley Board of Women's Officials.

A former Winchester High School athlete, Miss Hersey is a freshman at Mt. Holyoke, but already has established herself in college athletics. Besides her official's rating she was recently the recipient of an All-Holyoke Basketball award, determined by the recipient's skill, sportsmanship and participation in basketball.

A field hockey "trifle" Allison was selected at the conclusion of the 1955 season to be a member of the Northeastern Field Hockey team, chosen from all New England states and New York City. Besides her hockey and basketball activity she is interested in softball, riding tennis, volleyball, swimming, badminton and lacrosse. She is the daughter of the late Wm. B. Herseys of Woodside road.

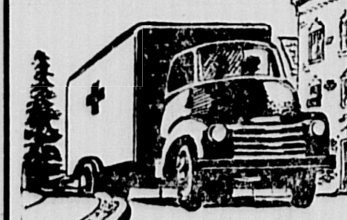

"SNIPE SKIPPERS DUNK DOCKS"

Last Saturday morning, the eternal optimists, members of the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet, swathed in furs and other winter gear launched the floats and rafts at the Boat Club. For the first time since we can remember this major engineering feat was accomplished without a single skipper going over-board. True, one beautiful crowbar no lies at the bottom of the bay, but we're sure some of our capable skin divers will be able to re-claim this when the temperature of the water gets up to 34°.

Dr. Cass wins the honor of having the first Snipe in the water this year, a boat new to him, which he bought at "The Boat Shop." Clarence Borggaard's bee-hive of boat-riding activity. The fact that she is riding in deference should stimulate activity throughout the rest of the fleet. If it doesn't we don't know what will. When it gets warmer, we should have a little more to report but as for now about all we can say is BTTTT!

MERRY MUSICAL FLOWER SHOW AND PLANT EXCHANGE BY WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl and Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills, co-chairmen, entertained recently at a luncheon the steering committee for the Merry Musical Flower Show and Plant Exchange to be held May 16, at the Winchester Home and Garden Club. This will be an out-of-the-ordinary type of flower show, called "Merry Musical Flower Show" because each of the flower arrangements placed in the home of four Winchester residents will be so designed as to illustrate a song title.

Much originality is being used and the show will be open to the public. As an added feature, the garage and entrance way at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Wood will be attractively and appropriately decorated as to simulate a Flower Mart where choice perennials and plants will be sold. Many of these will come from private gardens in Winchester.

The houses to be opened are all in the Myopia section of Winchester and are those of the Robert G. Abbotts, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander P. Aitken, the William F. Mortons and the James Jenks where tea will be served on the terrace. Mrs. John Chipman is president of the club and others on the steering committee include: Mrs. Frederick W. Cole, Mrs. Frederick Churchill, Mrs. Richard Keppler, Mrs. Edward B. Mansfield, Mrs. Dante Bertolami, Mrs. Needham B. Brown, Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard, Mrs. Dwight L. Cart, Mrs. Francis G. Chase, Mrs. Frank R. Creelman, Mrs. Carleton Dane, Mrs. Richard Frazier, Mrs. William W. Goodhue, Mrs. Burton J. Gove, Mrs. Charles Hart, Mrs. James Jenks, Mrs. Dudley F. Kimball, Mrs. Stark J. Mills, Mrs. Herman E. Shane and Mrs. Carl W. Wood.

HOSPITAL OPEN HOUSE

All the people of this vicinity are invited to the Open House at Winchester Hospital between 2 and 5 p. m. next Sunday, which is the first day of National Hospital Week.

One feature of the Open House will be an exhibit of how the Hospital is prepared to handle casualties resulting from any local disaster. The exhibit will include working walkie-talkie radiotelephones to demonstrate how communication would be maintained between a disaster scene and the hospital. Ambulances to be on display and a set-up of cots in the hospital, as well as the equipment and supplies which would be required in an emergency involving many injured persons, will lend realism to the exhibit.

The exhibit is designed to show the various ways in which Winchester Hospital would swing into action in accordance with a standing plan for large scale emergencies. Hospital Administrator Harlan L. Paine, Jr., said.

Another feature of the Open House will be the presentation of emblems to seventeen long-service employees of the Hospital at a ceremony to be held in the main dining room. The presentation to each individual will be made by President Gilbert H. Hood, Jr.

Volunteers from the En Ka Society, the Friends of Winchester Hospital and the Winton Club will be escorts for groups of visitors on tour of the wards and other principal parts of the Hospital.

Escorts from En Ka will be Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin, Mrs. Daniel F. Barnard, Mrs. William F. Hickey, Jr., and Mrs. Donald F. Conner; from the Friends, Mrs. Earl L. Cragin, Mrs. Melvin S. Crosby, Mrs. Richard Pettingill, Mrs. Lindsey H. Caldwell, Mrs. Lloyd R. Stevens, Jr., and Mrs. William R. Kimball; from the Winton Club, Mrs. Donald E. McLean, Mrs. Nelson G. Fontaine, Mrs. John A. Maynard and Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth.

He was a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters and was a former chief ranger of Division 58, A.O.U.F.

Mr. McKeeing leaves his wife, the former Catherine Callahan; a daughter, Miss Helen M. McKeeing of Winchester; five sons, Timothy M., Dennis, Francis, John and Walter L. McKeeing of Lynn; also three grand-children and a brother, Daniel, living in Ireland.

The funeral will be held Monday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Fr. Martin Dolphin was celebrant, Rev. Fr. Charles E. Anadore was deacon and Rev. Edmund Parker, subdeacon.

Bearers were Robert and William Callahan, John McGonell, John O'Connell, Lawrence Kean and Carroll Murphy. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Father Anadore.

REP. HARRISON CHADWICK

SPEAKS BEFORE PLANNING GROUPS IN CHICAGO, BOSTON

Representative Harrison Chadwick spoke yesterday, May 3, at a conference of the Metropolitan Housing and Planning Council at Chicago. The subject of his address was legislative pitfalls in setting up planning agencies. He also spoke about the role of suburbia in metropolitan area planning.

Representative Chadwick spoke before a Massachusetts hospital council in Boston on Wednesday, May 2, before leaving for Chicago. Hospital administrators and planners have long agreed that plans to expand hospitals, locate clinics, and build new medical facilities need data about metropolitan-wide population and location trends. This kind of information, as well as centralized planning, can be had through some kind of metropolitan planning council, Representative Chadwick said.

The Chicago meeting featured workshops, addresses, and discussion groups. It was attended by planning leaders from all parts of the United States.

WINCHESTER'S TAX RATE FOR 1956 $49.60

An Increase of $6 Over 1955 Rate

Chairman Alfred D. Elliott of the Board of Assessors told the Star yesterday that the Tax Rate for the coming year will be $49.60, or an increase of $6 over the 1955 rate of $43.60.

The principal factor in the rate increase is an increase in appropriations at the March Town Meeting of $340,757.34 over the appropriations voted in 1955. This year's appropriations totalled $2,886,305.96. Those of 1955 were $2,545,548.62.

This year's total valuation is $45,918,275.00, of which $2,182,800 is personal property and $43,735,475.00, real estate. Last year's total valuation was $44,618,450, with $2,052,100, personal; and $42,566,350.00, real estate.

The fifth season of Little League in Winchester opens on Sunday, May 6, 1956 at Ginn Field with a doubleheader, the first game between the Braves and Dodgers starting at 1:30 and the second game featuring the Red Sox and Yankees. The Farm League will start the following week.

After two weeks of tryouts, the teams have been selected by their managers and are ready to go. All teams have been hard hit by graduation of players, but the Dodgers will look strange without their two All Star left-handers, missing for the first time since the league began.

For those unfamiliar with Little League, a review of player selection may be in order. Each team is limited to fifteen players, five of whom may be twelve, five age eleven, and the remainder ages ten, nine, or eight. League age is that age prior to August one. Each manager, after looking over all the prospects, tries to select the best five players. He must be careful to fill his roster before running out of time. In subsequent years he receives ten thousand units to purchase five more players to replace the five who were twelve and who have graduated. Ten players are normally carried over to the next season, for once having made a team a player does not try out again.

WINCHESTER'S TAX RATE FOR 1956 $49.60

An Increase of $6 Over 1955 Rate

Chairman Alfred D. Elliott of the Board of Assessors told the Star yesterday that the Tax Rate for the coming year will be $49.60, or an increase of $6 over the 1955 rate of $43.60.

The principal factor in the rate increase is an increase in appropriations at the March Town Meeting of $340,757.34 over the appropriations voted in 1955. This year's appropriations totalled $2,886,305.96. Those of 1955 were $2,545,548.62.

This year's total valuation is $45,918,275.00, of which $2,182,800 is personal property and $43,735,475.00, real estate. Last year's total valuation was $44,618,450, with $2,052,100, personal; and $42,566,350.00, real estate.

The fifth season of Little League in Winchester opens on Sunday, May 6, 1956 at Ginn Field with a doubleheader, the first game between the Braves and Dodgers starting at 1:30 and the second game featuring the Red Sox and Yankees. The Farm League will start the following week.

After two weeks of tryouts, the teams have been selected by their managers and are ready to go. All teams have been hard hit by graduation of players, but the Dodgers will look strange without their two All Star left-handers, missing for the first time since the league began.

HIGH SCHOOL PROM A BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Winchester High School's new gymnasium, transferred into a beautiful circus tent, was the setting for the annual Junior-Senior Prom which was held last Friday evening. From 8:15 to 11:45, the more than 200 couples danced to the music of Marshall's orchestra, applauded the entertainment, and enjoyed delicious light refreshments.

To those who only acquaintance with the new gym has been at basketball games, it should be remarked that they wouldn't have recognized the place last Friday night, so well had it been redesigned to resemble the interior of a circus tent. In the center of the floor was a magnificent cardboard carousel, and the ceiling and walls were cleverly disguised with streamers and cut-out designs.

From the opening event of the evening, which saw the guests skillfully led through the receiving line by Head Usher Lewis Stowe and his assistants, to the final "good-night" of the last departing couple, the entire affair ran with a smoothness that was a tribute to the efficiency of the student committees and their advisers. Frank Dattilo and Gail Cullen were chairman and secretary respectively, and the general chairman for the faculty were Miss Agnes Walsh and Miss Elaine Roy.

Perhaps the most colorful event of the evening was the Grand March, conducted by Warren Davis, leader of the Marshall orchestra, and led by Senior Class President Frank Dattilo and Judith Nason and Junior Class President Albert Lynch and Alice Fitzgerald. In the opinion of one veteran schoolmaster, the young ladies never looked more beautiful nor the young men more handsome than they did on this occasion.

Invited patrons and patronesses for this highlight of the school's social calendar were the following: Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Gilson, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dattilo, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lynch, and Mr. and Mrs. Wade L. Grindle.

The entertainment during intermission time was provided by Linda Santry, Winchester High School's favorite chanteuse, and by the Jibbers-Joseph Gray, David Manning, Quentin Roberts and Ronald Roberts.

Responsible for the delicious refreshments was the committee headed by Alice Fitzgerald, with Mrs. Helen Marks, faculty adviser. Gail Cullen, Carol Massaro, and Louise Ruma, the attractive waitresses, were ably assisted by a group of Sophomore boys led by Dana Starkweather.

Constance Schumacher and her decorating committee, with Miss Mary Regan and Mr. Dominic Beninati as faculty advisers, created a lovely setting which showed off the gowns to advantage.

In charge of tickets were Dan Doherty and Dennis Keane, with Mr. Arthur Butters, faculty adviser. Louise Ruma was chairman of the committee on invitations and flowers assisted by Mrs. Jacqueline Lawton. The all-important properties and clean-up committee was directed by Mrs. Leila-Jane Roberts and Mr. William McGhee. Mr. Will Skerry was in charge of the handsome ushers.

Other members of the faculty and student body deserving mention are: Judith Attardo, Sheila Carleton, Beverly Cuccolo, Maura Donahue, Jane Godwin, Barbara Hotter, Erskine Kelley, Judith Nason, Ronald Parker, Janice Reardon, Marilyn Rogers, Ann Tansey, Joseph Toppi, Marion Walsh, Rita Amico, Leo Callahan, Barbara Horn, Carol Leverone, Anne Moriarty, Vincent Murry, Eileen Reardon, Catherine Tonn, and Messrs. Wendell Withington and Edward Burns.

SACHEMS WINNING

On April 20th, the Winchester H. S. baseball team opened the current season with a win over Belmont by an 8-0 score. John Chapin pitched effective ball for the Sachems allowing but two hits in nine frames. Joe Bellino and Ronnie Roberts were the big guns with the sticks with three hits apiece. Two of Bellino's hits went for triples. Others in the hit column with one each were Captain Bob Haggerty and winning pitcher, Chapin.

Stonham then visited Manchester Field on April 24th, for the second League encounter and Chapin came through with his second win by a close 4-3 score. Jim McElholm connected safely for two hits while Haggerty, Bellino, Symmes, Callahan, Ronnie Roberts and Quill got one each. Stonham got a two-run lead in the opening frame and held it until the fourth when the Sachems crossed pay dirt three times to go ahead 3-2. The locals scored one more in the fifth and two in the sixth to take the lead 5-2 but Stonham fought to score twice more in the seventh.

Lexington came to Winchester on April 29, and Winchester had another big day of his three hits for the day. Getting two hits each were Ronnie Roberts, McElholm and Herzog. Connecting for singles were Flynn, Symmes, Rotondi and Wymann.

Winchester went to Concord on Tuesday, and returned with an 8-0 victory for Chapin's third win of the young season. John allowed six hits and fanned the same number while the Indians were able to find Concord's pitcher for six hits. The game went scoreless until the seventh when the locals crossed the plate six times for a 6-0 lead. The final two runs came in the eighth. Q. Roberts was the big gun at the plate with three hits by Bellino, Callahan and Chapin accounting for the other three. Chapin's hit brought in Q. Roberts with the first run that would have been enough to win his own game.

Bellino has connected for safeties in each game played so far and has two homers, two triples and a double to his credit. Quentin Roberts has a homer, a triple and three doubles chalked up.

The Indians got to Wakefield today and next week the locals play Reading at home on Tuesday and travel to Lexington Friday.

BETA SIGMA PHI

As part of the rushing program, Beta Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a coffee on April 24 for those who are interested in the sorority. Taking part in the program were Cynthia Frink, Virginia Morang, Tina Murphy, Janice Profit, Madeline Derro, Nancy Wilde, Jean Wrisley and Janice Allen.

On April 30, the Winchester Chapter joined the Boston chapters and other chapters from this area in observing Founder's Day. A banquet was held at the Hampton Court Hotel and among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ross. We were very fortunate in having Mr. Ross, founder of Beta Sigma Phi, as guest speaker for the evening. Preceding the dinner the Ritual of Jewels ceremony was held for those who had completed their pledge training period. The members of the Winchester chapter took part in this ceremony.

SPEECH THERAPY LUNCHEON

Mrs. Harry C. Goodwin, Miss Dorothy Gove and Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills are Winchester women who will attend the 4th annual spring luncheon and fashion show sponsored by the Emerson College Women's Committee for Aid to Speech Therapy and Hearing Clinic, attended by nearly 160 children with many forms of speech defects, or the inability to speak at all.

The funds from this year's luncheon will be devoted, not only to the support of the clinic, but also to much needed research on the preschool child with delayed speech. Another service to be developed is a hearing center for young adults needing special guidance to meet business and social contacts.

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

INDIANS SCALPED TANNERS

BELLINO'S BIG BAT LED 17 HIT BARRAGE

The importance of pitching was strikingly demonstrated on Manchester Field last Saturday afternoon when Winchester clobbered Woburn, 18-3, in the first of their annual two game baseball series.

Led by Joe Bellino's big bat, which banged out a home run, triple and single for eight bases and five runs batted in, the Indians shellacked four Tanners pitchers for 17 hits and collected eight bases on balls, putting hits and passes together to tally seven big runs in the first two innings.

Terry Stowe went all the way for Winchester, allowing six hits and being in trouble only when his wildness put men in scoring position. Stowe issued eight bases on ball and the Tanners left 13 men on bases, showing that the Indians' hurler was effective in the clutches.

Woburn made three, and Winchester four errors, but generally speaking the Indians looked further along than the Tanners, especially on the hill, where only the last of four pitchers, Billy Devereaux, looked effective.

This worthy started by fanning the side in the 7th and he would have gotten by the eighth had it not been for two errors that put men on. Symmes then drove out a clean hit, and Billy Morton, former Little League slugger, belted a long triple into the right field seats.

Stowe was very effective against Woburn's star catcher, Joe Castiglione, holding him hitless except in the 7th when his sharp single scored McElhinney from second. With all due respect to "Casty," the big boy never should have had the opportunity to score the run, getting a new life when Joe Bellino dropped his easy fly in foul territory just before he hit. Stowe was making "Casty" hit under the ball all afternoon.

Besides Bellino and Morton, Quentin Roberts and Callahan got doubles, Ronnie Roberts belted out a long triple into the right field stands. Henry Quill also drove out a long three bagger, as well as contributing some nifty fielding and a couple of top-drawer throws. Ronnie Roberts made a couple of nice plays at second, one on a short fly in shallow right field, and Bobby Haggerty and McElholm contributed good catches in the outfield.

MELROSE, 10; WINCHESTER, 7

Melrose went into first place in the Middlesex League last Friday afternoon by beating Winchester at Melrose, 10-7.

It was anybody's game at the end of six with Melrose leading 7-6, by virtue of two big innings in the 3rd and 4th. Winchester put over three in the 5th and one in the 6th, but Melrose tallied one in the 7th and two in the 8th to salt away the game.

Joe Bellino, who had previously singled, belted a 325 foot home run over the left field fence to give Winchester its last run in the ninth. Johnson, Indian's hurler, was not hit hard, but was too wild to be effective. The summary:

PACK 8

The Cub Scouts, Pack 8 of the Noonan School held its regular pack meeting Wednesday night, April 25, at the school hall. The charter for the pack was presented by Cub Master Bruce LaRose to Miss Jergerson, Principal of Noonan School, to be hung in the school building. Presentation of the Pack flag and the American flag to the pack from the Rotary Club was made by Mr. McFeeley.

Each den's table was awarded merits for their displays which centered on bird life for this month. A large showing of bird houses, feeders and natural habitats of birds showed evidence of the interest the boys have taken in this project.

Beginning May 4th, and on each Friday afternoon at 3:30 thereafter, boys and girls of elementary school age should come to the Library for story hours. The stories this year will be on the folklore and the legends of various nations. For pleasant times, meet in the Children's Room every Friday afternoon at 3:30.

Each den made a presentation of a skit which they had prepared at their den meetings. Den 1 received the den flag, which was won on the point system. It was decided to give credit to each club for all parents and relatives present at all pack meetings from now on. The winning den will be taken on a special trip of their choice at the end of the scout year. Next pack meeting all cubs are to be dressed as hoboes. Awards to the den for the best costumes.

SALE FOR THE BLIND

A town-wide Sale for the Blind will take place on Thursday, May 10, from 10 to 5 o'clock in the Unitarian Church Hall, which has been given for this event, and all townspeople are invited to come on that day. Articles in the sale have been made by the blind, and the women of Winchester from all church and civic organizations are volunteering as "eyes" on that day by serving as salesladies.

It has been eighteen years since a Sale for the Blind was held in Winchester, and this year Mrs. George F. Connor and Mrs. Frederick Churchill are serving as co-chairmen. Their committee includes delegates from the various women's organizations who are securing salesladies from their memberships to work one or two hours. Blind demonstrators will be on hand to show how some of the items are made. In this state there are about 7,000 blind people, mostly adults, to whom these handicrafts and skills bring pleasure, a little spending money, and a strong weapon against loneliness.

Items from baby things, to wonderful bar-B-que aprons, for men, press cloths, leather goods—many many lovely things under a dollar, will be featured at these tables, each of which will be manned by the women's organizations. Every penny from each item sold goes to the blind worker.

Among the organizations sharing in the work of making this Sale possible in Winchester on May 10th, will be the following: Women's League, First Baptist Church, Mrs. John Dawson; Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Edward Donaghy; Ladies Bethany Society, Second Congregational Church, Mrs. Ralph Meigs; Women's Church Service Society, Methodist, Mrs. A. H. Mosen; National Braille Press, Mrs. T. F. Hersey; Mrs. MacDonald; Mrs. Hugh Grimes; Mrs. Anna Meserve; Friends of Winchester Hospital; Mrs. Ashley Lewis; Mystic School Mothers' Association, Mrs. Morton Grant; Emblem Club, Mrs. Norma Scholl; Home and Garden Club, Mrs. Herbert Richberg; College Club, Mrs. Theodore Browne; Unitarian Alliance, Mrs. Philip Wadsworth; Mrs. Norma Simonds; Fortnightly, Mrs. Paul Atwood; Mrs. Harold Given; George Washington Mothers' Association, Mrs. Raymond Carter; Eastern Star, Mrs. George Deroo; Church Service League, Epiphany, Mrs. Alfred Denley; Grange No. 343, Mrs. Margaret Hanlon; Women's Association, Mrs. Charles E. Greene; Jr. Florence Crittenton, Mrs. F. C. Rivinius; Toastmistress Club, Mrs. A. H. Elliott and Mrs. Harold Tyne; New Hope Baptist Church, Mrs. Simon Barnes; Smith College Club, Mrs. Austin Broadhurst; Mt. Holyoke Club, Mrs. Joseph Dolben; Guild of the Infant Saviour, Mrs. James Marchant.

These organizations will provide salesladies from their memberships for one or two hours during the day of the sale, Mrs. Edith N. Maynard, in charge of Sales, Division of the Blind, is the general chairman, with Mrs. George H. Gowdy serving as treasurer. It is hoped that all who can will visit this Sale on May 10th, to "help the blind help themselves."

INDUCTEES

Induction ceremonies will be held at the Towanda Club, Woburn, on Monday, May 7, 1956, at 6:30 a. m. when the following Winchester registrants will report for induction: Frederick M. Ives, III, 4 Bush-cliff road.

NAMED PUBLICITY DIRECTOR

Francis K. Smith of 25 Manchester road, has been named Director of Publicity at St. Lawrence university, Canton, N. Y. It was announced last week by Dr. Eugene G. Bewkes, President of St. Lawrence. Mr. Smith will fill the vacancy created when the former Director of Publicity, J. Robert Williams, became Director of Public Information at Cornell University in February.

Mr. Smith is a native of Viborg, South Dakota, and received his early elementary and secondary education in Rapid City, South Dakota. In 1951, he received his A.B. degree from Augustana College, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, with a major in English and Speech. While in college, he was a member of Tau Mu Epsilon, national honorary public relations fraternity; Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary speech fraternity; Blue Key, national honor fraternity, of which he was president at Augustana; and "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." He served as vice-president of the Augustana College Student Association, and business manager of the college theatre.

During the summer of 1950, he acted as Admissions Counselor in the Public Relations department at Augustana. Following graduation from college, he served in the U. S. Air Force until 1953. Upon his separation from the service, he was a substitute teacher in the Dayton, Ohio public school system from February until May of 1954.

In September, 1954, Mr. Smith enrolled as a graduate student at Boston University's School of Public Relations and Communications. In February, 1955, he was chosen for a Graduate Residency with the DuPont Company in Wilmington, Delaware. Since Boston University's inception of this unique public relations training program, Mr. Smith was the first, and to date, the only graduate student to participate. The residency consisted of seven months of work with the DuPont Public Relations department. Following his residency with DuPont, Mr. Smith was awarded a Teaching Fellowship in the Division of Public Relations at Boston University.

In February, 1956, Mr. Smith had an article published in the February issue of "Printer's Ink." The article was entitled, "Comic Books: Why They Can Be A Key Public Relations Medium."

Mr. Smith, who has been in Winchester since last September, expects to complete requirements for his M.S. in Public Relations at Boston University by June of this year.

SALVATION ARMY GOOD NEIGHBOR CANVASS

Rallying behind the slogan "the more you give, the more Winchester benefits," volunteers of the Salvation Army workers for the Salvation Army beginning May 1, will conduct the residential "good neighbor" canvass on behalf of the famed organization with heart and hand to man.

This slogan is true because one dollar of every five contributed here will remain in the Winchester Service Fund exclusively for local needs, according to Charles W. Butler, the Treasurer.

"This great humanitarian campaign is truly of Winchester, by Winchester, and for Winchester," Mr. Butler continued. "I only wish that everyone could know of the every day activities of our Service Fund Committee, especially on behalf of our school children. According to Charles W. Blanchard, the general chairman who lives at 28 Seneca road, "Everyone seems to have a good word for the Salvation Army, but the mothers are among the strongest boosters because they not only know and deeply appreciate the unceasing efforts of the organization on behalf of their husbands and sons in wartime, but also praise the day nurseries, summer fresh air camps, boys' clubs, and Christmas activities for children."

REGISTRAR KING RE-APPOINTED

Yesterday Governor Herter re-appointed Rudolph F. King of Millis as Registrar of Motor Vehicles for another five year term. The Governor's Council suspended the rules and confirmed the appointment.

"Registrar King has performed and outstanding service to the people of Massachusetts in the cause of highway safety," Governor Herter said.

Born on a Canadian farm 68 years ago, King came to Millis when 9 years old. He was elected to the Massachusetts Legislature in 1937, serving as Majority Floor Leader to the House in 1941-42 and Speaker of the House in 1943-44.

Registrar King has served his home town of Millis for nine years on the School Committee and five years as chairman, six years on the Board of Selectmen and four years as chairman. He has been Town Moderator for more than 30 years. He is President of the Medway Cooperative Bank.

Mr. King was appointed Registrar of Motor Vehicles in August, 1954, by Governor Everett Saltonstall and re-appointed in 1951 by Governor Paul A. Dever. He is chairman of the permanent Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee.

In 1952 he was appointed by the Secretary General of the United Nations to serve as a member of a committee of experts to study problems connected with the licensing of motor vehicle drivers, and served as representative of North America on this committee, of which he was elected chairman.

He is married to the former Ethel Post of Millis. They have one son and three grandsons.

ANIMAL CARNIVAL

Gay, exciting and interesting features continue to be added to the program of the Animal Carnival, to be held at the Children's Own School on Saturday, May 12, from 2 to 6 p. m. Mr. John MacFarlane, whose T.V. show "Animal Fair" is much loved by New England children, will talk to the children about the Performing Pony, making that show even more of an attraction for the youngsters and their parents. Entrees for the Pet Show continue to be made by present and former pupils and their friends. Quite a variety, from fish to fowl, is promised.

Among those on the Carnival Committee working hard to make this a great day for the children are:

ANNUAL MAYTIME MUSICAL

The Winchester Unitarian Choir, directed by Mary Ranton Witham, backed by a staunch production crew, and augmented by a glittering galaxy of guest stars, is mobilizing its forces for a significant salute to the fact that this is an Olympic Year. This public-spirited gesture will be made via the 9th Annual Maytime Musicals, which is set for Thursday, May 24th, at 8:30 p. m., in Metcalf Hall at the Unitarian Church.

The theme, or motif, of this year's gala evening of familiar music—which, by the way, has become an especially pleasant sort of Town tradition—is sports: sports of all seasons and all nations; jai alai, throwing the camber, six-day bicycle racing, ze boof fight—all the dear, familiar games we have played since we were old enough to choose up sides. Somehow this is going to be set to music; and the finished product will feature original arrangements, lively novelties, old friends and new surprises.

The theme also has been for two years on the staff of Rushlight, oldest college literary magazine in the United States, established in 1855. In addition she is on the Dean's List.

TO GRADUATE FROM WHEATON

Miss Cynthia Emerson, one of the most active students in Wheaton College, will graduate on June 3. She lives at 31 Everett avenue. Miss Emerson has been on the swim team three years, in the choir, four years, and in the Dramatic Association for two years. A very fine writer, she has been on the Wheaton News for four years, and served as the weekly newspaper's headline editor as a junior and senior. She also has been for two years on the staff of Rushlight, oldest college literary magazine in the United States, established in 1855. In addition she is on the Dean's List.

WYMAN BOARD ENTERTAINED

FEDERALISTS HEARD EDITOR

Sixteen members of the Winchester Chapter, United World Federalists, enjoyed the privilege of hearing Mr. Norman Cousins speak at the Fourth Annual Dinner of the Greater Boston Chapter on Tuesday, April 24th, at the Somerset
Hotel. Mr. Cousins is Honorary President of United World Federalists, Inc., and Editor of the Saturday Review.

"For the first time in history, the potential means exist for imposing authoritarian government over every individual on the face of the earth," Mr. Cousins pointed out.
"It is extremely difficult to develop the awareness that something has to be done to remove the threat of world dictatorship." He emphasized this point by noting that the strong moral in the new book on the Titanic was the difficulty in convincing the passengers the ship was sinking. There was no logical transition from complete apathy to complete panic.

"The only workable alternative to a totalitarian world government is a structured peace based on guarantees of national interdependencies as part of an interdependent world."

Mr. Cousins stated "with the relationship of the national states to the central organization clearly and specifically defined." Mr. Cousins and the United World Federalists believe that a secure peace may be accomplished by supporting the United Nations and by revising the United Nations Charter to strengthen it into a world federation having powers limited to the prevention of aggression and the control of armaments.

"We have as much time as intelligent and resolute men need if we start now," Mr. Cousins concluded.

Time: 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Music: Ken Reeves's Orchestra.
Chairmen: Dan and Kay Fortiere,

Plans for the Mr. and Mrs. Club annual May Dance are progressing rapidly at this point. Members are being contacted, committees are busy planning their festive decorations and scrumptious refreshments, and all in all members are planning their dinner parties preceding this gay occasion. It will be a veritable spring topic to shed our sombre winter snuggles and woollies and emerge in full bloom like the flowering shrubs in soft, shimmering pastels. We even went so far as to contact the weather man but he is a sly old one. His comment was, "Why worry with the floral bedecked interior, the soft lighting and the pulchritudinous femininity swaying to the soft strains of Ken Reeves's music, you don't need me. Nevertheless, I will do my darndest."

Remember the date, May 11th, bring all your friends, get ready, get set and Go—to St. Mary's Mr.

Investment Service for YOU

This firm has roots dating back to 1897 and is, therefore, a well entrenched and responsible New England financial organization.

We are members of the New York and Boston Exchanges and hold an Associate Membership on the American Exchange, formerly known as the New York Curb.

We deal in stock and bonds, mutual funds, bank and insurance stocks, and securities that are traded "over-the-counter" because they are not listed.

Our research department is available to you at all times for inquiries without cost to you.

Not the least of our advantages is the nearness of this branch to our main office in Boston. A direct line enables us to get price quotations quickly and, to the person who finds it difficult to travel to Boston and park a car when he gets there, the convenience of this office makes a distinct appeal.

May we have the opportunity to assist you? We will welcome the privilege to be helpful.

of insurance from New England Life for fifth consecutive yearnew Life Insurance issued — $68 million, compared to $297 million in 1950,
as shown in our 1955 Annual Report

There has never been, and never will be, anything but a "buyer's market" in the life insurance industry. Competition in price, as well as in policy features, is ever present. Traditionally, New England Life policies have always been highly competitive as to both cost and features.

The reputation of being a "good company in which to own life insurance" must be earned through the years by a consistently good dividend record, resulting in low net cost, plus competent, gracious service, with prompt and just settlement of all claims.

New England Life has long had that reputation.

You'll find much interesting and helpful information about New England Life in the Annual Report for 1955. Let us know if you'd like a copy.

A. C. C. W.

The Immaculate Conception Council of Catholic Women held their final meeting of the year at the Parish Hall, April 26, at 8:00 o'clock.

Miss Moira Shannon of Boston College School of Nursing gave a most inspiring and informative talk on the "Role of the Catholic Woman."

She brought to light many virtues a Catholic woman should strive to possess. By her very example woman can show the meaning of self-sacrifice, love and charity. She should be constantly aware of her children's education spiritually, physically and mentally, so as to prepare them for a happy adult life.

A light collation followed before the business meeting got underway. The chairladies read reports on the working of their various committees.

Mrs. Marion MacDonald again stressed the need for more to attend her "Rosary for World Peace" said every Tuesday at 3:00 p. m. at the Immaculate Conception Church.

Mrs. Mary Lennon, President called to the attention of the council the meaning of some of the flowers in a "Mary's Garden" for the month of May.

Rev. Stephen Burke, Spiritual Director then thanked the council for all the good work they performed throughout the year. He told how the Eucharistic Conference will be held on a parish level this year with the Archbishop striving to bring about what he calls the "Great Return."

Mrs. Frederick L. Churchill, Mrs. W. W. Davies, III; Mrs. Eugene G. Rochow, Mrs. Richard M. Alt, Mrs. Wallace McDonald, Mrs. Richard G. King, Mrs. Edward S. Rendall, Mrs. Francis L. D. Judge and Mrs. George S. Stotthoff are Winchester alumnae patronesses for Vassar-Alumnae Night at the Pops on Wednesday evening, May 10. Proceeds benefit the scholarship funds of the two colleges.

IT GIVES ME GREAT PLEASURE

Dr. F. Milne Blanchard presents flowers to Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, founder of the Parish Players.

MRS. CHIDLEY HONORED

Mrs. Howard J. Chidley was honored on Saturday evening at the final curtain of the Parish Players' production of "Light Up the Sky," the play that concluded the thirtieth anniversary of the players. When the second curtain call was answered, the stage crew held the curtain, and Dr. F. Milne Blanchard stepped forward.

Dr. Blanchard is one of the few real veteran Parish Players, for he—along with Mrs. Chidley—appeared in the first Players' show thirty years ago. That play was "The Gondoliers," presented in the town hall to raise money towards the present Parish House. Mrs. Chidley organized the cast and production crew at that time and the group had such fun that she continued the acting nucleus, and out of it was born her "Parish Players," or "Little Theatre Beneath A Spire." In its thirty years, the Parish Players under Mrs. Chidley's guidance, have become one of the oldest and best known community theatre groups in New England.

On Saturday evening, Dr. Blanchard gave a little "speech," in which he lauded Mrs. Chidley as "the mother of the Parish Players," and expressed appreciation to her from all the Players through all the years. Mrs. Chidley, greatly surprised and deeply touched, was led to the stage to accept thirty golden roses—one for each year of her Players.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Mrs. Neil H. Borden and Mrs. William Spaulding attended the 22nd National Convention of the League of Women Voters as representatives of the Winchester League. At this convention, held in Chicago from April 30 to May 4, the twelve hundred delegates, representing a membership of 127,000 women, choose the topics for study and action over the 1956-58 period. Local and state Leagues throughout the country have expressed most interest in the subjects of conservation with emphasis on water resources and individual liberties with the emphasis to be placed on federal loyalty-security programs.

The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan organization established in 1920 to study and act on governmental issues. It does not support or oppose political parties or candidates. After a great deal of study the League may take a position on an issue provided there is a consensus among the membership. Then it supports or opposes specific legislation in accordance with that position.

Mrs. Borden will be the president of the Winchester League of Women Voters for the 1956-58 season. Mrs. Spaulding, a past president, is now treasurer for the State Board of the League.

SOCIAL STUDIES LEADER ADDRESSED TEACHERS

Building a better social studies curriculum for today's schools was the theme of a thought-provoking address delivered by Dr. Lewis Paul Todd at the Washington School auditorium last Wednesday afternoon. Dr. Todd, who is editor of the magazine Social Education and a recognized leader in the field of the social studies, had no pat answers for his audience composed of members of the Winchester School Committee, staff members of the Winchester School Department, and teachers from a number of greater Boston towns.

In his judgment, there is no one best way, in terms of teaching methods or organization, in which to solve the educational problems. Social studies teachers, in particular, must be prepared to engage in a program of continuous study and revision of their curriculum if they are to meet the needs of the child growing up in rapidly changing world of the twentieth century.

Dr. Todd emphasized that the rapid accumulation of knowledge has tremendously increased the problem of selection of materials. For example, the development of science and technology requires far more attention from social studies teachers and textbook writers than it is presently receiving. Particularly important is the revolution which science has made in changing us from a world of village peoples to a world of international relationships.

Speaking of the priorities in social studies instruction, Dr. Todd asserted that the most important thing in the program is that it shall be interesting, especially in the lower grades. Agreeing with Alexander Pope that the proper study of mankind is man, he said "Get people into the social studies curriculum, and keep them there. Above all, emphasize the importance of the creative individual." Another essential of good teaching in this field, he said, is the success with which the instructor uses the social studies to illuminate our own environment today. Also, he must never forget that a major aim is to develop thoughtful, reasoning men and women.

As a final bit of advice to the teacher anxious to improve his teaching but doubtful where to begin, Dr. Todd suggested that if the instructor added only one new and meaningful teaching experience to his course each year he would add tremendously to the value of his work.

At the conclusion of his talk, Principal Leonor Rich and other members of the school staff discussed some proposed changes in the present social studies curriculum of the Winchester schools. By no means conclusive, these proposed changes in the present social studies curriculum of the Winchester schools. By no means conclusive, these proposals are on outgrowth of the course on the Winchester curriculum which is being given this year.

Adding a pleasant note of sociability to an otherwise serious afternoon was the delightful half hour of refreshments which was provided by the Washington School Mothers' Association.

Ready made bows for gift package 19 cents each. Winchester Star, Star Building.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

On Thursday afternoon, April 26, the Winchester Garden Club was entertained at the lovely home of Mrs. Richard Harlow on Swan road. A delightful dessert and coffee hour was held after which Mrs. Angelo Guirardini, President, opened the meeting.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, the program chairman, Mrs. Herbert West, introduced the afternoon's speaker, Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood.

Mrs. Kirkwood's topic was "Re-designing Your Garden" and was beautifully illustrated with colored slides.

She stressed the importance of bringing landscape architecture up-to-date by using contemporary design in the garden, and making the upkeep of an attractive outdoor area easier and more economically to take care of. By using the patterns that Mother Nature creates, a real feeling of rhythm and motion can be achieved.

Mrs. Kirkwood, described and showed the steps in designing a landscape starting with initial blueprints, work in process, through to the finished product. She gave the members many suggestions and ideas to use in their own gardens, and brought to them all a most enjoyable and educational lecture.

VISITED STAR

Cubs of Pack 6, Den 1, visited the Star press room last Thursday afternoon to watch the paper being printed and folded for distribution.

In the group were Douglas Carpenter, Porter Mulford, David Weaver, Stephen Kujander, Joseph Lynch, Kevin Wiggins, Wayne DeStefano, Charles DeStefano and Paul Uccello.

Den mothers with the boys were Mrs. Roger Carpenter and Mrs. Albert Kujander.

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART—I

"Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association. This is the first article in the series.)

A fascinating stranger is at work inside you from the moment of your birth to the moment of your death. Fascinating—because in real life it outperforms the most complicated machines that science can devise, yet serves through the centuries as a symbol of love, courage, selflessness. A stranger—because we know so little of this great and vital force on which our every breath depends. This is your heart. It is the essence of a human being.

For periods ranging up to more than a century, the toughest muscle in the history of man performs its workhorse function, night and day, around the clock and around the calendar. When you ask much of your heart, your heart responds. When you rest, it rests too—but never completely.

Used and abused through long lifetimes, the heart is a living testimonial to the toughness of tissues, muscles, veins, arteries. It is one of the wonders of our universe that the heart does as much—and as well—as it does.

Our poets, authors—and our lovers—constantly pay tribute to the heart, for somehow as the seat of our existence it has become synonymous with the noblest things within us—faith, loyalty, courage, strength, mercy, compassion. The big-hearted are generous; athletes of surpassing spirit are said to be great-hearted; the Bible invokes blessings on "the pure in heart;" the masters write in classic terms of the heart; and, at the other end of the scale, the composer of an earthy ballad told it nearly as well when he paid tribute to a lady who, he said, "had a heart as big as a whale."

The Massachusetts Heart Association is concerned with the physical, and even the psychiatric, side of the heart. The longer Americans live, the more of them will be available to compose tender tributes. And the length—and health of our lives depends in part upon skills and knowledge of our medical profession, the degree of acquaintance we, as non-medical men and women, have with our hearts, and the way in which we act upon that knowledge.

Come with us. Meet the fascinating stranger. (Next week: Your Heart is a Muscle.)

Toward a Better World . . .

Mrs. Cusack Aids Children, Builds Good Will Through UNICEF Work

Fighting poverty and disease among 100 million of the world's children and building international good will is the double-pronged job of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Cusack of 2 Lakeview road.

As alternate United States delegate to the United Nations Children's Fund, Mrs. Cusack represents her country in UNICEF's multi-million dollar program designed to aid children in 78 countries.

"My delight and my pride," Mrs. Cusack told the Winchester Star this past week, "was in making the announcement that the Eisenhower administration has requested 10 million dollars from Congress for the Children's Fund in 1957."

This money, and similar contributions from other nations, will help finance UNICEF in its efforts to aid unfortunate children in 1957. The projects now under UNICEF sponsorship, according to Mrs. Cusack, are four:

1. The establishment of child and maternal health centers.

2. Emergency aid to children suffering in the aftermath of hurricanes, earthquakes, and wars.

3. A fight against malnutrition, which affects two-thirds of the world's children.

4. An antibiotic vaccine attack upon diseases which affect children, such as yaws, tuberculosis, and trachoma.

"These UNICEF programs," Mrs. Cusack said, are the only hope for many, many children. They mean aid, comfort, disaster relief, food, health, housing, medicine, and long range morale for children throughout the world.

"UNICEF is not charity," Mrs. Cusack said. "Every assisted country matches the UN aid with money, people, buildings, and equipment of its own. Once the UNICEF program has been established, it is administered by natives."

Mrs. Cusack says that the rewards of her unpaid job are highly satisfying. "It's a tremendously heart-warming story to hear of children cured of yaws," she said.

Particular programs of UNICEF include the establishment of 126 milk drying plants in countries which cannot produce or store milk twelve months of the year, a TB vaccination program which has distributed 43 million shots at a cost of only one cent per shot, and the distribution of mid-wife kits to mothers in under-developed areas.

Mrs. Cusack's role in this work comes at the policy-making stage, at UNICEF executive meetings at the UN building in New York City. In that post she represents the United States government, expressing its views and watching after its interests. Serving on a program committee, she works out the agency's programming plans.

The other half of Mrs. Cusack's job is the building of international good will. In this capacity, she meets and entertains delegates from foreign countries. She invites and is invited to parties and social occasions which are the meeting grounds for representatives of all nations in their informal hours.

Two weeks ago, for example, Mrs. Cusack entertained Miss Lilly Tongson, Philippine delegate to the UNICEF for three days at the Cusack's Winchester home. Mrs. Cusack and Miss Tongson attended social and patriotic activities throughout the metropolitan Boston area during Miss Tongson's visit.

The net effect of these social activities is to foster understanding between peoples of different backgrounds and of different political beliefs.

UNICEF derives part of its support from Halloween Trick or Treat parties run by town UNICEF committees in the United States. Last year, these activities raised $500,000 for UNICEF work. Mrs. William Wolsey of 75 Lawson road is the executive board of UNICEF in 1956 by President Eisenhower.

When not at the United Nations and at social functions, Mrs. Cusack is busy speaking about UNICEF before women's clubs. She makes about two talks each week.

Mrs. Cusack was appointed to the executive board of UNICEF in 1955 by President Eisenhower.

"Light Up The Sky," which the Parish Players presented last Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in Childey Hall, developed into a fast-moving, smoothly-handled comedy, with a full quota of laughs. It also delivered a few jabs at "behind the scenes" in show business.

Between the hearty laughs and comments there remained room for a few serious thoughts, and a good lesson to be learned. "We are all mixed up, we are feeling our way around," Sidney Black comments. And how true his statement seems.

Actually, the Moss Hart comedy is a rather thin one—he wrote it to burlesque notable actors, directors and producers of the New York Stage, and at the time, it was a tremendous hit. But the plot remains thin. It is to the credit of the Players and their directors, Harlan Grant, that they took a skimpily play, adorned it with a good set, gorgeous costumes, and truly superb, skilled acting to provide the audiences with a good show.

Beverly Carroll, as Miss Lowell, made much of a small role, and carried her part well. Charles Kaskatalski, a Boston Conservatory student, played his role of Carlton Fitzgerald, the director, to the hilt. His "I could cry" line was hilarious and well handled, and he portrayed a character whom we hope to find only in a play! Mary Lowry, as Frances Black, sailed through her "Brooklynese part" as smoothly as she played "Sabrina" in the fall. She was in quite a different role this time—the slightly brassy, loud wife of the producer, yet at the same time a wife with quite an appreciation of her "husband who stepped into the long-haired derby."

Two newcomers to show business, Elmer Carlson and Sewall Richardson, turned in performances on a par with those of the old hands, showing Harlan Grant's ability to draw out hidden talents. We hope to see more of these gentlemen on this stage. Mr. Carlson played to perfection the older author who was sane, quiet, and very mature. Charles Mulhern as the young playwright must have been exactly what Moss Hart wanted in his character; and on stage, he graduated from a very young man to one who soon learned his way in show business.

John Ricker, Jr., as Sidney Black, the little guy who was "shaking hands with the Salzburg Festival," with his broad accent and big manners, was the clever pivot on which the play turned. He never stepped out of character; you laughed with him, worried with him, and stayed with him through his three busy acts. It has been

BLOODMOBILE HERE MAY 14

Because one out of every three patients entering Massachusetts hospitals urgently need at least one blood transfusion is abundant reason for the strong and recurrent appeal of the Red Cross for a larger number of generous blood donors to come forward whenever the Bloodmobile comes to Winchester, declared Oscar E. Merrow, chairman of the Red Cross Blood program.

That numbers of these sick or injured people will critically need far more than a single pint to restore them to vigorous and useful health is amply explained by 135,000 pints of vital blood were mercifully used in our hospitals last year. Nearly all of this tremendous quantity was given by voluntary blood donors either through hospital blood banks or the Red Cross. Approximately half was given through the Red Cross Bloodmobile or the Blood Center in Boston.

Blood is a special and perishable commodity for which there is no known substitute. Mr. Merrow declared. When skillfully and painstakingly stored in a refrigerator, it will keep a short three weeks. Because of this limited life of usefulness for direct transfusion on the one hand and of the necessity of immediately having an adequate supply immediately available on the other hand the Red Cross appeal for blood is made over and over again.

Somewhere in the State blood is being collected every working day in the year. The Bloodmobile will be in Winchester next Monday from one to seven p. m. at the parish house of the First Congregational Church for Winchester and nearby donors to add their blood to a steady continuous supply for an ever continuing need.

MULFORD ON THE AIR

Robert M. Mulford of 29 Pierpont road, general secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, will be heard on WJMS's public service interview "What's It To You?" Wednesday, May 16.

The program, heard each Monday and Wednesday from 11:45 to 12 noon, is presented by the Society with United Community Services and its 277 Red Feather agencies. It is designed to acquaint Greater Boston residents with the various Red Feather service agencies available for their use and features a guest speaker from one of the agencies each time.

Other positions held by Mr. Mulford are: instructor in casework at Boston University School of Social Work; member of the board of directors, Child Welfare League of America; of the National Association of Social Workers; and of Massachusetts Children's Protection Society, also a Red Feather agency.

MISS RAMSDEN, MR. DEAN ENGAGED

The engagement of Miss Mary Miller Ramsden to Mr. Gordon Jay Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dean of Fall River is announced by her mother, Mrs. Earl Ramsden of Brookline, formerly of Taunton.

Miss Ramsden, daughter of the late Earl R. Ramsden is a special teacher of music in the Fall River Public Schools. She received her Bachelor of Music Education from Boston University School of Fine and Applied Arts.

Mr. Dean, minister of music at the First Baptist Church of Winchester and teacher of music at B.U. School of Fine and Applied Arts, received his Master of Church Music Degree from that school.

Both are members of Phi Kappa Lambda National Honorary Music Fraternity.

No date has been set for the wedding.

WON HONORS AT MUSIC FESTIVAL

Winchester High School's Band, Orchestra, Girls Glee Club and Girls Octette won top-ranking Division I rating in the Northeastern Music Festival held last Saturday at Watertown.

Forty-two schools were represented in the festival, during which the various participants played for divisional rating before competent judges. There was no actual competition involved, the groups playing and singing individually for rating in the several divisions.

Wendell Withington, music supervisor of the Winchester School, directed the Winchester units in the festival and spent a busy day dashing from hall to hall to lead his charges. He was naturally delighted with his pupils' high ranking and the fact they may all be proud of him and his boys and girls.

SCOUTS AIDED C. D.

Virtually every registered Boy Scout and Cub Scout in Winchester, nearly 600 strong, turned out last Saturday forenoon to deliver throughout town important Air Raid Instruction cards for the Winchester Civil Defense organization.

The Boy Scout call on the Fire Alarm whistle summoned the boys, in uniform, to the Civil Defense office at the Town Hall where Civil Defense Director Theodore Boecker distributed the cards to them. William Wickwidge, District Commissioner of the Winchester Boy Scouts, was in charge.

EN KA STREET FAIR MAY 25 AND 26

This will be the twenty-first year that all of Winchester and a great number of its neighbors will turn out for a Street Fair that has reached town-size proportions, and is a banner-size benefit for Winchester's civic and charitable projects. For months hundreds of townspeople have been working to assure the success of this Big Day, which every year attracts some 17,000 people from all over this part of the country, and enables En Ka Society to continue its aid to Winchester charities.

The High School Band will give a concert Friday evening at seven o'clock. The ferris wheel, merry-go-round, midway and many booths will be in full swing that evening. Saturday morning the En Ka will be officially opened with the ringing of all the town's church bells at 9:40, the flag will be raised by Eagle Scouts, and there will be a parade through the town. There will be Boy Scouts, the Police Athletic League, new cars—Thunderbirds and Jaguars—as well as some antique cars in the colorful lineup.

The Winchester Town Hall grounds, transformed into an "out-of-this-world" planet, will have a large midway, with the regular street fair favorites, such as ferris wheels, kiddie rides, merry-go-rounds. There will be special En Ka treats such as the Garden Booth, which is always so popular, where first-rate plants and seedlings may be purchased; the Bakery Booth will feature home-cooked food and En Ka cooks are famous for their peanut brittle; and the Attie, which always presents fabulous bargains donated by En Ka members and friends.

In addition there will be all the regular attractions which assure an exciting day to guests of all ages—the balloon man, ice cream, popcorn, grubs, turtles, hot dogs and hamburgers, and tonics. There will be a snack bar serving delicious food all day; tea will be served in the pergola on the Fair Grounds—this is always a welcome break in a busy afternoon; and the renowned Baked Bean Supper, which is always a high spot, will be served in the Baptist Church. This will be prepared by Winchester's best cooks. A bountiful and delicious feast is assured—and all for 99 cents.

The theme of Winchester's 1956 Street Fair is "Out-Of-This-World." Costumes and booth decorations will transport the visitors to a spectacular other world. It will be just as exciting as a trip on the first space ship.

Although the Fair is sponsored by the En Ka Society—which was started in 1902 by five high school girls—the whole town turns out to help. Friends, husbands, and children of members have worked for many weeks to assure the success of the Street Fair—several must have a good time and there must be enough profit to enable En Ka to continue its annual contributions to charities and civic projects in Winchester. Mrs. Herbert P. Ross and Mrs. Maxwell McCree are co-chairmen for the 1956 Fair. They have been assisted by a large number of managers of the many booths, and a very busy "General Committee."

NEARER! "PETER PAN"!!

The result of twelve weeks' theater work by the Children's Theatre School of the Winchester Community Theater will be presented in a performance of "Peter Pan" at the new High School Auditorium on Saturday afternoon, May 19, at 2:30.

While the play is the same Barrie fantasy that has endeared itself to children from eight to eighty over the years, and the direction is in the capable hands of Carlene Samoiloff, this is definitely a children's production from start to finish. Mrs. Samoiloff has stressed the importance of using the children's ideas as much as possible, the choice of play, parts, etc. Problems of scenery, costumes, stage business, original songs and dances, just about everything to do with the production, are put into the hands of the children to solve; and it will be interesting to see how they have solved them. What is the point of a Children's Theatre School, if adults are going to run the whole show? The adults will have their innings later.

Even the posters you are beginning to see around town are the work of the children of the Winchester Art Association classes of Mrs. Agatha Tully.

Rehearsals moved to the stage of the Junior High School Auditorium for the first time this past week amid an uproarious confusion which encouraged everyone with the thought that this is "real" theater.

This should mean, as all theater buffs now, that the show on May 19, will be a pretty smooth production. Mrs. Richard Pettengill, heads the ticket committee.

Miss Joan McKinley of Elmwood avenue was very pleasantly surprised last week while visiting at the home of Mrs. Theodore Wicks, (Beth McCall), who now lives in North Wilmington.

TRUST COMPANY AGAIN LOW BIDDER

Winchester Trust Company is again the low bidder on $500,000 worth of Winchester anticipation-of-revenue notes, for which bids were asked by Town Treasurer E. Abbot Bradley on May 1. The notes, dated May 24, mature October 31.

Bids were opened at the Treasurer's office May 8. The Trust Company's low bid was 1.959 percent, followed by the Second Bank-Street Trust Company of Boston, 1.977; First National Bank of Boston, 2.00 percent; and a joint bid from the Winchester National Bank and National Shawmut Bank of Boston, 2.00 percent. The low bid was slightly under the going market.

The present anticipation-of-revenue notes are the second issued this year by Mr. Bradley. Bids were asked on $300,000 worth of notes on March 6 and the bid awarded March 27, again to the Winchester Trust Company.

The Town Treasurer is empowered to issue notes in anticipation of taxes by the Town Meeting and its governing body by the State under Sec. 4, Chapter 44 of the General Laws to borrow in anticipation of revenue up to the legal capacity of the town, which is $2,222,136.52. To date $800,000 has been borrowed.

Town Treasurer Bradley told the Star that unforeseen expenditures authorized at the March town meeting have made it necessary to issue a second lot of anticipation-of-revenue notes, especially in view of the fact that State tax money has not yet been received and the town is not now expected to be received until fall.

Several factors have entered into the unusual amount of money borrowed this year. Letters asking for bids on the town's notes have to be sent out in advance of town meeting, and at that time this year the amount of the increase in salaries to teachers and town employees was not known, nor was the extra money needed for snow and ice removal and new equipment, an unusually large figure this year.

There were also several tax takings and a much larger payment to the Board of Retirement. In teachers salaries, the town this year will have to pay in June, $270,000 for the balance of the school year, an amount substantially larger than that paid previous to the $450 yearly increase voted at the March town meeting.

100 BIRTHDAY CANDLES

One hundred full years passed in review on Monday, May 7, as Mrs. Isabella Tufts celebrated her 100th birthday at the Home for Aged People. Yes, 100 candles were lighted in her honor around a most beautiful cake, made for her by William F. Schrafft and Sons of Cambridge and decorated by Mr. Oliver Holmes.

Young and old alike came to congratulate Mrs. Tufts. On Sunday, Edward H. Stone, were her daughter, Mrs. Roy Wilson of Winchester and her Minister, Mr. John Snook, Jr., together with other members of her family. A handsomely decorated cake, made for Mrs. Wilson at the White Spot was enjoyed by the immediate relatives.

The "day of all days" started bright and early with the familiar ring of the mail man who delivered hundreds of cards from Mrs. Tufts' well wishing friends and neighbors. Youngest of her guests, who came on Monday afternoon with their leaders, Mrs. H. L. Leary and Mrs. Edward H. Stone, were the Brownie troop of the Parkhurst School. It was a thrilling experience for them all, to have the privilege of presenting the honored guest with two African violet plants.

As the day went on, more and more thoughtful remembrances were filling the living room, so by late afternoon Mrs. Tufts appeared to be sitting in the very midst of a beautiful garden, receiving her friends.

In this setting, a fifteen minute playlet, written by Mrs. George E. Connor, for this very special birthday party, was presented. The playlet took the audience back to a time in Rosindale, about 80 years ago, when a group of the Universalist Church ladies were planning a little tea and musical for the youngest member, Isabella Parker, who was to be married to George Julian Tufts.

The scene was, of course, imaginary, based on little stories of Mrs. Tufts' gleaned here and there, adding her favorite musical numbers and working the pieces into one little episode.

Mrs. Tufts, who sat beside the players in her wheel chair, smiling, tapping her foot to the music and holding tightly to her favorite bouquet, given her by her niece and nephew of Braintree, must indeed have been the "gray and pretty girl of 80 years ago."

The whole playlet was directed to Mrs. Tufts and the players worked in her favorite songs. Mrs. William F. Simes, Mrs. Robert P. Blake, Mrs. Donald L. Puffer, Mrs. George E. Connor and Miss Barbara Eaton were in the cast.

Mrs. Simes, in a lovely brown taffeta gown was the accompanist and also sang "Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair," Barbara Eaton, wearing a mid-19th century deep rose dress, sang "Annie Laurie." Mrs. Blake joined these two singers in "In the Gloaming," beautifully harmonized, and with her guitar, sang "Scarlet Ribbons."

Mrs. Blake was beautiful in a cinnamon period gown. Mrs. Connor wore gray and Mrs. Puffer, a soft pink silk. The effect of the five very old gowns in the living room of the Home, was just lovely.

To end the program the five players joined in a rollicking "Oye Susannah."

It was truly a May day festival—with Mrs. Tufts as the May Queen. Her Court of Honor were the other members of the family at the Home, the Staff, her relatives and friends, and the attendants were members of the En Ka Society who decorated the dining room in a most effective May basket theme, and served a most delicious and attractive supper.

Those on the committee who helped to make this occasion special day it was, were: Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Alan Buros, Mrs. Raymond Dickman, Mrs. Theodore Elliott, Mrs. Walter Keyes, Mrs. Langley Keyes, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. Russell Symmes, Mrs. W. Campbell Ross and Mrs. Victor Wolf who provided each of the ladies at the Home, with a favor.

Mr. Maurice T. Freeman very kindly saw to it that flowers were in abundance for the May baskets, Alan Buros, Jr., made the wooden holder which made possible the lighting of Mrs. Tufts' 100 birthday candles and Mr. Carl Richmond took colored pictures of this wonderful day in all its splendor, a lasting tribute to a lovely lady.

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

The Friends of the Winchester Hospital is primarily a service organization which helps the hospital through its 12 different services, and the many hours per week given by volunteer workers. However, the "Friends" do have two fund-raising projects, the Wall Evening and the Telephone Card Party, the money from which is used to buy equipment for the hospital.

At the annual meeting, Mrs. Arthine Hertig, President of the "Friends," will tell the members what they have bought for the hospital this year. This is always a highlight of the meeting, especially to those who have worked hard to make a success of either project.

If you, too, would like to know what the "Friends" have done this year, come to the annual meeting at Mrs. Fulton Brown's, 24 Arlington street, on May 17th, at 3:00 p. m.

MANAGEMENT-LABOR REACH PLATEAU AT BEGGES & COBB

Management and labor at the Begges & Cobb tannery appear to be crossing a plateau. At the present time that plateau, a mountain of higher productivity, fair profits, and job security may rise.

Or there may be a canyon made deep by productivity and friction between workers and managers. Should there be a canyon, the plant can be expected to close.

According to both company and responsible union officials, workers at the plant can determine the kind of topography they will find at the plateau's end. Honest work and an effort to meet standards mean the mountain. Anything else means the plant will close.

A spokesman for management told the Winchester Star yesterday that production has been raised to 12 packs per day. Normal capacity is 20 packs per day. He indicated whether this increase means that the company expects to continue production. "We are neither optimistic nor pessimistic," he said.

He said that union officials have virtually promised that standards will be met.

"Now it's up to them to prove they mean what they say," he said.

HARRY W. DOLLIVER

Many friends of Harry Dolliver will regret to hear that he passed away at his home in Osborne Harbor, Nova Scotia, on April 16th, after a lengthy illness. He was 76 years of age and born in Port Medway, one of the sons of the late Susan and Stephen Dolliver.

For many years he worked as a carpenter in Winchester, returning to Nova Scotia where his occupation remained the same until 13 years ago when he took over the position as manager of the Capitol Theatre in Lockport.

Surviving are his wife, also four children, Elta, (Mrs. Arthur Tuford), Danford, Conn.; Eunice (Mrs. Leslie Daubney) Springfield; Doris, (Mrs. Douglas Wolfe) Osborne Harbour, and Frances, at home.

The funeral was held from the Oakdale Baptist Church, the services being conducted by Rev. Leon Wright. Interment was in Osborne Cemetery.

MR. AND MRS. CLUB

The Mr. and Mrs. Club of St. Mary's held their monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, May 2nd, at St. Mary's Hall. The meeting was opened by the singing of a May Hymn by Pat Brennan.

The piece de resistance was a table set for the television program "Beat the Clock" but to avoid suit for plagiarism, it was called "Beat your Wife" and confidentially, it was quite a battle!

The Leary Pasquales and Hugh Fays were in charge of conducting the game. The Mr. and Mrs. were escorted to the stage in television style by glamour gals, Irene Dunn and Dolores O'Brien. They then proceeded to beat the clock by real feats of balance and juggling.

The contestants with the steady hands and nerves were Sam and Mary Red, Emily and Rose Samuels, and Estelle and George O'Brien. Joe Collins, our perennial stage hand was in charge of props and supporting suggestions. Golly, it sure was fun!

MRS. WILLIAM HUBER

Funeral services for Mrs. William Huber (Henrietta Lewis), 68, formerly of 151 Washington street, were held April 26, at the Ben-Hur Chapel and the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey pastor, of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Mrs. Huber, who had lived in Winchester for the past eight years, died very suddenly April 23. A native of Stoneham, she was the daughter of John S. and Mary E. Lewis, former owners and editors of the Stoneham Enterprise and Free Press. One of thirteen children, she leaves two sons, John and William Huber of Braintree; and a daughter, Mrs. William Moore of Woburn.

ON COMMITTEE

Croft, 10 Johnson road, are members of the committee planning the annual convention of the Massachusetts Parents' Association for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing. Mr. Worthen is a Director and Mr. Croft is President of the Association. A film "Susan's Wonderful Adventure" showing a deaf child's first years in school will also be presented. The public is invited. There is no admission fee.

FIRE AT DISPOSAL AREA

The Fire Department had another tough fight this week with a dump fire that broke out Tuesday afternoon in a limited area at the rear of the International Cooperation. The men fought the fire until 11:30 Tuesday night and were back on the job at 7:30 Wednesday morning. By 4:15 Wednesday afternoon Chief Callahan told the Star that the fire was practically out and no longer a problem.

BAND-ORCHESTRAL CONCERT PLEASED LARGE AUDIENCE

A crowded house applauded the efforts of more than 300 young musicians who presented a combined Band-Orchestra concert last Friday night at the high school auditorium. From the simpler efforts of the elementary string and band players to the more finished work of the high school musician, the entire program was a splendid demonstration of the results of the program of music instruction which has been developed in the Winchester schools.

TRACK TEAM BEAT MELROSE

Winchester High School's track team had no trouble beating Melrose in a dual meet on Manchester Field last Friday afternoon, 81-32. Winchester scored first places in nine of the 13 events.

Both Lynch in the discus and Mason in the javelin turned in performances that exceeded the school records for those events, but their marks could not be accepted because of a favoring wind.

In the running events the strong wind helped the sprinters, but hampered the distance men, making Franson's 4m 50s mile a nice bit of running. Bodman, aided by the wind turned in a 10/6s in the 100. The summary:

DADS' CLUB MET

The newly formed Little League Dads' Club met last week, Thursday evening, at the George Washington School to discuss plans for the ensuing season.

Acting President Warren Hichborn welcomed the team members and their parents, after which he introduced Little League Players Agents Kenneth S. Hall, who gave a brief but interesting summary of the Little League program in Winchester from its inception. In the course of his remarks Mr. Hall paid an eloquent tribute to Ted Bartlett, first league president, for the pioneering he did for Little League in Winchester.

Mr. Hall in turn introduced the new Little League President Art Johns, who introduced the League Board of Directors. The coach and manager of each Little League major and minor league team then conducted his group to the platform where the major leaguers received their uniforms and the minor leaguers, jerseys and caps.

Mr. Hichborn in the course of his remarks, expressed the hope that each Little League father would give two hours to the League during the season to guarantee the proper working of the program. He specifically asked each father to attend the games with his son, thereby forming a community of interests between the two that will aid both materially.

It was announced that a new slate of officers would be proposed and elected at the next meeting of the club.

Concluding the meeting Joseph Gray, father of Little League "Gordie" Gray, showed motion pictures of the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa., last season, and also of the reception accorded the Winchester team upon its return home.

LITTLE LEAGUE OPENER RAINED OUT

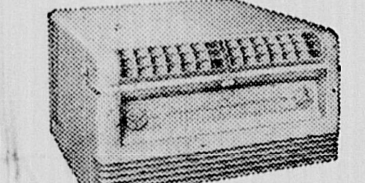

Sunday, May 6, was to have been the big day but rain spoiled it. The Immaculate Conception Band was scheduled to march through the center and be joined by the four Little League teams in uniforms for the parade to Ginn Field; Mr. Ives had warmed up preparatory to throwing out the first ball; the Ladies Auxiliary had cokes iced for all hands—but it rained. The doubleheader has been rescheduled for May 13, at 1:30.

Monday, May 7th, a regularly scheduled game between Yankees and Braves became the opener. The current schedule finds games every weekday night from Monday through Thursday. Weekday games start at 6:00 p. m.

May 13	Braves vs. Dodgers
May 14	Red Sox vs. Yankees
May 15	Yankees vs. Braves
May 16	Braves vs. Yankees

HOLY NAME TO HEAR PHILLIPS

Sunday, May 13, St. Mary's Holy Name Society will hold its regular monthly meeting. The society will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 7:45 a. m. Mass which will be celebrated by Spiritual Director Rev. Martin J. P. Dolphin.

After Mass, coffee and doughnuts will be served in St. Mary's Hall by the committee, headed by Bob Scholl. President Joe Foley will conduct a short business meeting which will include nomination and election of officers for next year and the presentation of a spiritual bouquet to Father Dolphin from the society.

The guest speaker will be Jim Phillips, Winchester High School's successful basketball coach. Jim was slated to speak last month but the snowstorm of April 8th forced the cancellation of the April meeting. A big turnout is expected for this important meeting and all men of St. Mary's parish are invited to attend.

SHADOWBROOK FUND

A committee has been formed in Winchester to aid the Society of Jesus in efforts to raise funds for the building of a novitiate that will replace Shadowbrook, completely destroyed in the disastrous fire of March 10th, with the loss of four lives. The first members are Mr. Walter M. Drohan, Edwin L. Forbes, John J. Griffin, Dr. James F. McDonough, Edward F. O'Rourke, Stanley J. Regan, Raymond L. Rigney, Francis D. Weaver.

A meeting is planned for Monday evening, May 7th, at eight o'clock in St. Mary's School. A large attendance heard plans to further the drive, aimed at raising pledges or "shares" from generous benefactors for the Shadowbrook Fund. The drive in New England to raise $3,000,000 has now reached the half-way mark. The concerted and enthusiastic effort of many volunteer workers is urgently needed to make it a complete success.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Winchester Art Association was held in the Library Gallery Tuesday evening, May first. The coffee hour preceding the meeting was arranged by Mrs. Stanley C. Cairncross assisted by Mrs. Richard C. Ashenden and Miss Corinne Mead.

The pictures on exhibit are the work of the High School pupils under the able direction of Miss Pauline Goodrich. These pictures are examples of every problem given to the classes since last September. They show real talent, imagination and great variety in treatment and are a distinct credit to the High School. Miss Goodrich discussed the work in an interesting manner and explained the assigned problems.

Mrs. Paul Howard spoke about the Fortnightly Annual Competition in which the first prize was awarded to Carol Ashenden and the second prize to Mary Lou Cox. In the competition of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, Sally Snow was awarded the first prize and honorable mention was given to Judy Wadleigh and Mary Lou Cox. The work of the Winchester High School pupils was outstanding in this state-wide competition.

Mrs. Howard also announced the Side-walk Show sponsored by the Art Association to be held Saturday, June 2nd, from 10 to 5 where local artists are urged to hang their pictures on the fence around Manchester Field on the Parkway. The registration fee is 50 cents for each artist, who may enter as many pictures as he desires, hanging them between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Emily Marks read an excellent report of the Program Committee and also of the most successful Craftsman's Show which netted more than $750 for the Art Association Scholarship Fund. The Association voted to repeat this show next year.

Dr. John L. Lobingier read the report from the Nominating Committee consisting of Mrs. Waldo V. Lyon, Chairman; Miss Dorothy Nash and Dr. J. L. Lobingier.

MOTHER'S DAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

A special feature of the Mother's Day service at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will be the distribution of white and pink ribbon bows at the close of the service. This comes as a request by several people who were pleased with the remembrance service.

White and pink ribbon bows are placed on a pillow on the altar making the form of a cross as a symbol of devotion and sacrifice. Those who attend the service take a bow from the altar. The white bow is in remembrance of those whose mother has passed to her reward and the pink bow signifies that mother is still living. The bows are worn during the day.

The pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will bring a Mother's Day message. It seems that there is no better token of appreciation to mother than one's presence in church on the special occasion.

Members and friends of the church and community are most welcome.

SERVED BY FINE, CAPABLE MEN

Editor of the Star:

Let no disparaging remarks about the Fire and Police Departments be made within our community for our deep loyalty was firmly sealed last Friday night when the emergency truck responded to an inhalator call for their daughter, Donna Lee.

The quick response and the efficiency displayed along with the kindness and understanding of the men during the critical moments which followed touched the hearts of every member of the family.

Our deepest thanks and appreciation to all those who helped us in our need. It should give Winchester a feeling of warmth and security to know that they are served by such fine, capable men.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB

OPENING PARTY

Bart Sullivan, perennial entrepreneur of entertainment at the Winchester Boat Club, has a fifty season opening party scheduled for Friday evening, May 18 at the remodeled, "new look" Club House. And Daw Blamire, remodeler extraordinary, who has handled the herculean task of directing the putting of the Club House back together again, promises to have everything ship shape at that time.

There'll be entertainment — (Bart and his committee haven't told us just what) followed by refreshments. The tariff is only 50c and young and old are welcome. Only 200 can come, though, so pick up your tickets early.

Ladies Koffee Klatch

Monday morning, May 21st, at 9:30 a.m. — is a big day for the Ladies at the Boat Club. It's an all day gathering where members renew old friendships and new club members meet the new members.

And the old gang, coffee and Kuchen are consumed in huge quantities while housework and gardening get the go-by. These gulping and gab fests are really good fun, so let's go gals, the dishes can wait.

Opening Bridge Party Scheduled

Ladies Bridge Parties start Wednesday afternoon, May 23. The first party will be a dessert bridge and Mrs. Carl Freyer is heading a group who promise to make it a party to remember. More about it next week.

Fleeing Facts

The weather continues to plague Snipe Skippers so that launchings are lagging but give the Skippers a week of working weather and they'll start racing in short order.

The club now has a fleet of Turnabout Sailboats—a neat, inexpensive racing sailboat that's very safe for youngsters. Three of these neat nautical midgets are already in the water, and we sincerely urge folks with youngsters still too young for Snipe sailing to seriously consider getting their youngsters their graduation to the zenith of sailing—skipping a Snipe. Boats are very expensive and have a very active resale market.

Sid Burr, capable director in charge of the Club grounds, begs boat owners with boats behind the Club House to remove them for a few days. The bathing beach needs a few tons of sand and truck's can't clear the boats. Please get 'em out.

NEW MEMBERS

Mr. Henry E. Moffette of 4 Rangeley road and Mr. Frank O. Adams of 2 Elmwood avenue were recently elected to membership in the National Association of Cost Accountants, the largest accounting association in the world.

Mr. Moffette is affiliated with Hardware Products, Inc. and Mr. Adams is with Edwin L. Pride Co.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

It is with pride in our Art Committee and its chairman that we report the following items of interest from the Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs at the New Ocean House, Swampscott. At the morning session on Wednesday, May 9, when outstanding art chairmen were honored, Mrs. Paul H. Howard was awarded Honorable Mention for the work of her committee during the past year. A second honor for Mrs. Howard was that her oil painting "Rocks near Monterey" was selected by Mrs. Herbert Stuke, Art Chairman of the New Century Club of Mansfield, and presented to her as winner of a second prize. The pictures are brought by the Art Committee of the Federation from the Panny Art Fund. The judges made their awards from nearly three hundred reports and scrapbooks.

Announcement of the awards had been made on Sunday, April 29, at an Artists' Tea and Exhibit in Boston, by Mrs. George A. Race, Federation Art Chairman. She also introduced to the guests two girls who had won Art Scholarships, Jane Pero of Westborough and Patricia Ross of Mattapoisett.

In the Federation's Art contest for High School Seniors of the state, four watercolors by Winchester girls were exhibited. Miss Sally Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Snow of Fletcher street, won first prize, $25, and her picture will be sent to Washington, D. C., to represent Massachusetts in the national contest. The Fortnightly extends best wishes for her success.

Honorable mention was also given a picture by Judith Wadleigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Wadleigh of Yale street. Also on view was the picture by Carol Ashenden which won first prize in the Fortnightly contest and that of Mary Lou Cox which won the Fortnightly second prize.

OLYMPIC YEAR

A melodious bow to sports, and to the fact that this is an Olympic year, will be the theme of the 9th annual Maytime Musicals which will be presented May 24th, at 8:30 p. m. at Metcalf Hall in the Winchester Unitarian Church. But the imagination of the Musicals committee which is whipping things into shape for this performance by the augmented Winchester Unitarian Choir under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham has soared far beyond the mere belting out of football songs and "Sailing, Sailing, Over The Bounding Main."

There are bows to the East and West along lines which you will be astonished to learn are connected with sports in any way. There is due acknowledgement of Bolivia's gallantry in sending its one-man team to the winter Olympics in Italy. There is—but why telegraph all the punches, to use a good sports phrase? Let's just say the program is as varied and engaging as we have come to expect from these annual springtime extravaganzas by the Unitarian Choir and its cohorts.

Production chairman this year is Ted von Rosenzweig III, Richard Barnard is treasurer, and Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth is at the head of the ticket committee. Decorations are in the hands of Gail Collins and Deborah Symmes. Others bearing a hand in the work of production are: Mrs. F. L. Foster, Mrs. Theodore von Rosenzweig, Adele Jonah, Siran Hovnanian, Barbara Powers, Linda Witham, Darwin Carroll, James Godwin, Ernest Dieterich and the Rev. Robert A. Storer.

Tickets are available at The Lemmens, 34 Church street, or from Mrs. Holdsworth, Winchester 6-2434.

A TELLING BLOW!

"The people of this community have struck a telling blow against cancer," Howard W. Bates, local chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1956 educational and fund-raising crusade, declared today, in announcing success of that drive.

The month-long campaign here raised a total to date in excess of $11,500.00, the chairman disclosed.

"Thanks to the generosity and understanding of the people of Winchester our ACS Unit has been able to meet its share of the Society's nation-wide goal of $26,000,000. Contributions and pledges are still coming in, and these will make it possible for us to top our quota," Mr. Bates reported.

He added that a final tabulation would not be ready for several days.

"The money so thoughtfully given by the public here during Cancer Control Month will be put to work quickly," the chairman explained. "Sixty per cent of it will remain with our State Division in Boston for community cancer-control programs.

"The other 40 per cent of these funds will be used to support the ACS national program, including medical and scientific research by some 1,000 top-notch scientists in 152 institutions throughout the country, which seeks new cures for cancer; training of 160 doctors for diagnosis and treatment of that disease; nation-wide public programs, pamphlets, posters, and news and magazine stories in local and national publications."

Mr. Bates said that he and the chairmen of the several committees who have directed the drive here were deeply gratified by the work of over 300 ACS volunteers.

"They have been working without let-up ever since the crusade got under way a month ago, yet their enthusiasm has never waned," he added.

He pointed out that contributions to the crusade would continue to be accepted, and urged all those who missed the opportunity to give in April to make their donations at the Cancer Society's local Unit headquarters, 5 Winthrop street, Winchester.

GOVERNOR SIGNS SCHOLARSHIP LAW

Governor Herter on April 30, signed into law the bill providing for the establishment of the Massachusetts Higher Education Assistance Corporation, which with the Governor's signature will now become operative in 90 days.

The executive committee of the Massachusetts Bankers Association meets on May 9, to establish a system of financing. The new act authorizes the corporation to issue 1,000 shares of $100 par value stock to members of the corporation and authorization is granted the corporation to borrow money to help finance the program. The bill providing for the corporation was introduced in the Legislature by Senator Philip A. Graham, Republican, of Hamilton.

Borrowing from the corporation for higher education purposes is expected to average $1,000 per student per year.

Any boy or girl in Massachusetts who qualifies is eligible for a loan under this program. Students to be eligible, however, must have completed their freshman year at an approved higher education institution.

GAS EMPLOYEES HONORED

At a recent luncheon meeting twenty-eight (28) employees of the Mystic Valley Gas Company were presented with pearl studded, gold embossed service pins in recognition of their many years of continuous service to the people in the communities which are served by the local gas company.

Vice President Everett C. Bryant welcomed the guests, and with appropriate remarks, presented the individual awards to the employees with headquarters at the Maiden Office and Plant.

Thirty-five year awards were given to John R. McKinnon, Antonio Cappellucci, Leonardo Delvechio, John Kozlowski, Walter E. Pingree and Albert N. Parker; 30 years—Ralph G. Belcher, Francis J. This group consisted of Catherine B. Matheson, 30 years; Michael F. Burke, 25 years; William T. Anderson, Francis X. Gavin, John B. McGreevy and B. Hadley Horne, 20 years.

Mr. Edward G. Twohey, principal officer of the Gas Division of the New England Electric System and President of the Mystic Valley Gas Company was speaker. The guests included the following who recently have retired from the Gas Company: Amy Hartley, Estelle P. Kidder and Frank Curry.

IN TUFTS CAST

There is a decided Winchester tinge to the Tufts Community Players' production of Christopher Fry's "The Lady Not for Burning" which will be presented at the Tufts University Arena Theater May 11, 12, 17, 18, 19, June 3 and 8, at 8:30 p. m.

Dr. John E. Woodruff, 8 Sheffield road, of the Tufts drama department, is directing the production.

Dr. Leonard C. Mead, 10 Mt. Pleasant street, of the Tufts faculty, is playing the hilarious role of "Matthew Skippis," the rag and bones merchant of the play whose one appearance provides the comic highlight of the production. Dr. Mead will be remembered for his roles here with the Winchester Unitarian Players. He has also appeared in several of the Tufts Faculty Plays.

George E. Connor, 403 Main street, will appear as the bumbling, worried mayor in Fry's comedy. Mr. Connor has been seen here in a number of the Parish layers productions, and he has had roles in several of the recent shows of the Community Players.

GUESS WHAT GAS HEAT COSTS? THE FAMILY DOWNSTAIRS?

Name and address of owner on request the best doesn't cost anymore, anymore!

The family on the first floor of this 3 family home could hardly believe the results of the Gas Company's free house heating survey. And clean, trouble-free Gas saved hidden costs of heating, like cleaning bills and furnace repairs. After changing to Gas, their full season's gas heating bill came to only $127.00! Yes, all things considered, Gas really costs no more than ordinary heating fuels!

TEA FOR EVERY ONE

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL AIDS IN SIGHT RESTORATION

The Winchester Hospital is one of the 70 affiliated hospitals playing such an essential part in the sight restoration program of the Boston Eye Bank.

The primary purpose of the Eye Bank is to supply eye tissue for the corneal transplant operation. This is the replacing of a cornea clouded by disease or injury with a clear cornea. The eye tissue for the transplant is obtained from donors who have previously expressed a desire to give their eyes, after death, to the Boston Eye Bank, so that others may see.

The hospital bears the major responsibility in obtaining healthy eye tissue. Affiliated hospitals cooperate with the Eye Bank by providing donors and by notifying the Eye Bank when tissue is available for transportation. The Boston Eye Bank is fortunate to have 70 New England hospitals affiliated with its program for sight restoration. Since the eyes must be removed within an hour after death, second timing as well as excellent coordination is required from the hospital. At the time of death, the hospital must notify the Eye Bank, get a witnessed permission for the enucleation of the eye from the next of kin and the doctor must perform the enucleation... all within an hour. Then the Eye Bank is advised of the quickest transportation into Boston.

The Red Cross, railroads and the airlines all cooperate with us in transporting the precious eye tissue. Sometimes it takes a combination of these services to get the tissue to Boston and then relayed to the area where they will be used for transplant. This requires complete cooperation from all of the agencies involved as a corneal transplant must be performed within 24 hours after death.

Included in the Direct Colour Portrait Exhibit of prominent Bostonians which Fabian Bachrach held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, Boston, on May 8th, were portraits of Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., and Malcolm D. Shaffner. Included also were portraits of such nationally known figures as the Honorable Christian A. Herter; the Honorable John B. Hynes; Sinclair Weeks, U. S. Secretary of Commerce; Sherman Adams, assistant to the President; Maxwell Rabb, secretary to the Cabinet; Dr. Billy Graham; and the Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston.

The exhibit was open to the public on Wednesday, May 9th, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Bachrach entertained at cocktails on Wednesday for those whose portraits are included in the showing.

Notes From Town Hall Reporter Often Fail To Make Big Heads

By Charles Ball

Every now and then, a reporter feels like going through his notebook to clean up scribbled notes which never quite made stories. The following paragraphs represent an attempt to get those notes into print.

Under the law, the Town Treasurer, E. Abbot Bradley, is empowered to invest up to 80 per cent of the Town's free funds. By exercising this power, Mr. Bradley has earned the Town thousands of dollars during his term in office. His prudent judgement and knowledge of investment markets has combined to fill the Town's portfolio with sound, earning investments, and to place Winchester's bonds and notes in a favorable market.

After the fire in the Town Disposal Area two weeks ago, Larry Smith, chairman of the Town Incinerator and Waste Committee, again expressed the view that Winchester must find another method of waste disposal. He said that the outbreak of 15 dump fires last year and six this year is "intolerable." Although he was not speaking for the entire committee, he indicated that pressures for an incinerator are mounting. If an incinerator is the only acceptable alternative, it might be well to operate it on a metropolitan-wide basis, under MDC jurisdiction.

Nearly every member of the General Court has a meta badge attached to his automobile license plate—except Harrison Chadwick of Winchester. To this reporter, it is refreshing to find an elected official who does not wear his office on his sleeve, who does not act according to principle. If 50 per cent of the people were dead wrong 50 per cent of the time, government would function smoothly. But it's not always either black or white; sometimes it's gray—or grey.

The difficulty about conflicts between town boards and officers, is that 99 per cent of the time, all parties to the shootin' match are acting in good faith. They step on other people's toes because they believe they are acting according to principle. If 50 per cent of the people were dead wrong 50 per cent of the time, government would function smoothly. But it's not always either black or white; sometimes it's gray—or grey.

No one knows the untold hours of hard work which Miss Helen E. Stinson, Town Clerk, gave the Town during the recent Town Meetings and Town elections. She was not paid in salary for these hours, nor in public recognition—her only reward was in the satisfactions of a job well-done.

The defeat of the Boston Area Planning Council bill in the General Court a few weeks ago was a blow to the future of the entire metropolitan Boston area—Winchester included. Pressure from Newton, Wellesley, Quincy, and Revere, and Medford, has been blamed for the blow. This refusal of suburban officials to forget their differences for the good of the whole area brings to mind a cartoon published by Low in the Manchester Guardian in the days after Munich. Low pictured a weak England trying to bail water from one end of a sinking boat while three healthy men sat quivering in the bow yelling "Do something!" While a few leaders are trying to keep Boston afloat, the healthy people in the metropolitan area are sitting in the bow. When the boat sinks, everybody will go down.

A former member of the Board of Selectmen marked last summer that any man fool enough to serve on that board, suffers a loss, both material and personal. Another member of the board said that this isn't exactly accurate, but selectmen do put up with a lot of unnecessary guff. From where we sit, Winchester is going to have a difficult time recruiting candidates for the board as long as every town malcontent and sidewalk politician considers men in public office fair game for abuse, criticism, and slander.

SCOUT-O-RAMA

Stoneham Town Hall
Sat. May 19th

"A WORD TO THE WISE"

Your Board of Selectmen and Police Department are recipients of numerous complaints with regard to automobile violations and we believe our motoring public is entitled to these few facts.

Since January 1st, 1956, 33 violations have received Registry attention and such attention means revocations, suspensions and warnings from the Registry and court action.

Of this number the great majority by far are transients, but we still have those few daring souls who just have to learn the hard way.

The police officers of our department have been alerted and instructed to turn in all violators, who not only take the risk of facing the Court, but can be assured of Registry Action.

Our good citizens are also requested to turn in the registration numbers, date, time and direction of travel by violators on our Winchester Streets. Rest assured they will receive our full attention.

If we cannot prevent people from committing suicide through their improper operating of motor vehicles, at least we can make our streets a lot safer by the elimination of these violators.

A car belonging to Robert Winn, Jr., of 11 Kirk street, was reported stolen from in front of Winchester High School sometime during Wednesday forenoon.

He told Officer Reardon he had taken the car to go to Woburn and was returning the machine to the parking place when he was picked up. He was placed under arrest and locked up at headquarters, later being admitted to bail.

CAR CRASHED DWELLING ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

George J. Vorshnis of Morrison road, Burlington, a sailor attached to the Boston Navy Yard, apparently escaped serious injury Wednesday afternoon, when the Mercury he was driving north on Cambridge street got out of control and left the road, finally crashing into the front of the house at 32 Cambridge street owned by Michael and Rita DeBetto.

Before running into the house the machine sideswiped an Edison pole and struck a pile of dirt in front of the DeBetto house. Police believe striking the dirt slowed the car down sufficiently to prevent more serious results.

The car was so badly wrecked it had to be towed to Haggens's Garage. The front steps of the DeBetto house were damaged and the foundation of the house cracked.

Vorshnis was taken from the wrecked machine to a dazed condition and removed to the Winchester Hospital in the Police Ambulance by Sgt. John Dolan and Officers John Reardon and Thomas Parsons.

He complained of injuries to his leg and after preliminary treatment, was removed to the Chelsea Naval Hospital. He told the police another car had cut him off and forced his car out of control.

MAYTIME MUSICALS

Those who have heard the rehearsals of the augmented Winchester Unitarian Choir for the Maytime Musicals next Thursday evening have been telling each other that dangerous as it may be to say so, they can't help thinking that this one sounds like the best yet. It may be because a more challenging program, in certain respects, has been essayed than before. Whatever the reason, the whole thing moves at a swift, captivating pace through a range of mood from downright zany farce to truly enchanting music; and everyone concerned feels pretty happy about it.

Besides the choir's regular soloists—Dolores Baldyga, soprano; Helen McCloskey, contralto; John Morabito, tenor, and Sidney Blanche, Jr., baritone—there are a host of guest artists who will put a wide variety of talent on display: vocal, instrumental, and theatrical. The original arrangements are the work of Director Mary Ranton Wigham and Darwin Carroll, and the refreshment committee headed by Mrs. Charles P. Reeves will brighten up the intermission.

Metcalfe Hall at the Unitarian Church is the place; 8:30 is the time; and May 24th is the date. Tickets are available at the Lemmens, 34 Church street, or call Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, Winchester 6-2434.

LITTLE LEAGUE AUXILIARY

Notice to mothers of Little League and Farm Club players: Don't forget to make plans for the Mother-Son Baseball game on Friday, June 8. Your son will not be eligible to play in this game unless you, too, sign up. If you have not done so already, contact your Team Mother—who is one of the following:—Mrs. Scherban, Winchester 6-3475-M; Yankes—Mrs. Flaherty, Winchester 6-3859; Dodgers—Mrs. Lane, Winchester 6-2439; Braves—Mrs. Parrot, Winchester 6-3534.

Tigers—Mrs. Ford, Winchester 6-3497; Rams—Mrs. Thorpe, Winchester 6-3108-M; Lions—Mrs. Stavardis, Winchester 6-2459; Bears—Mrs. Rowe, Winchester 6-1249.

The first practice session for this big game will be Tuesday, May 29, at 10:00 a. m. at Ginn Field. Please bring baseball glove!

Many coffee parties and card games got under way this week; organized by mothers of players, in support of our project to raise money for team cook-outs in June.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER NIGHT

The mothers of the George Washington School Mothers' Association entertained their daughters Tuesday evening, May 15. The social committee served hoodies and cup cakes before the program.

Mr. Paul Planchet was in charge of an audience-participation show which appealed to mothers and daughters alike. Paul and Madeleine Planchet picked five mothers and three girls from the audience and proceeded to transform them by make-up and simple props into characters from other lands, other times, and from the land of fantasy. Deftly they created for the delighted audience a Chinese lady, Raggedy Ann, a clown, Cleopatra, Figaro (the cat from Pinocchio), Bugs Bunny, a little old grandmother complete with parasol, and Gram Oakum.

This is the second annual mother-daughter night to be sponsored by the George Washington Mothers' Association, and from the capacity attendance it is to be hoped that this tradition will be continued. On Tuesday morning, May 29, the Washington School Mothers' Association will hold its annual meeting. Committee reports will be presented and election of officers for next year will be held. Coffee will be served at 9:45 a. m. in the auditorium.

DOZING DRIVER CRASHED

Richard L. Ryan of 6 Parkview road, Woburn, was painfully injured and the Chrysler sedan he was driving north on Washington street was badly wrecked shortly after 4 o'clock last Sunday morning when the car got out of control and swerved across the street, striking a tree near the Winchester Arms. Police headquarters was notified and Ryan was removed to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance by Sgt. Irving Reardon and Officers Joseph Quigley and William Nash. He was treated at the hospital for a possible fracture of the hip and other injuries. His car was towed to a Woburn garage. Ryan told the police he fell asleep at the wheel of his car.

SCHWEITZER STORIES FASCINATE

James Edward Doty, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Lynn, told his audience at the Winchester College Club annual meeting at the Music Hall, Wednesday afternoon, May 9, that "Reverence for Life" are the key words by which Albert Schweitzer guides his living. Mr. Doty asked three questions: "Is your life motivated by love? Is your life centered on unselfishness? Does your life have a worthwhile mission?" and then he illustrated with intimate anecdotes how Schweitzer fulfills all these ideals.

A vivid picture was drawn by Mr. Doty of the jungle hospital in French Equatorial Africa where Schweitzer now spends all of his time. At eighty-one years Dr. Schweitzer averages only four hours of sleep each night because of his involvement with details in the administration of the hospital and the time he takes for his music and writing. All of the $40,000 dollars he received as winner of the Nobel Peace Prize was immediately directed into the founding of a new leper village at the hospital.

Reports from the study group chairmen and officers of the College Club were heard as part of the meeting conducted by Mrs. Albert D. Swazey, the president. Mrs. Francis L. Judge, organizer of the Daytime Study Groups, told of the tremendous success of her four groups this season. They were the newly initiated Law Group under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Lewis L. Wadsworth, Jr., and Mrs. Gilman Wallace. Mrs. R. Alan Page directed the French Conversation Group, and the History Group was led by Mrs. Waldo V. Lyon and Mrs. Richard W. Wyman. The largest group, Art, was organized by Mrs. George E. Connor.

Mrs. Woodford L. Wilcox told of the activities of the five 1956 Evening Study Groups—Books under Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Davidson; Drama with Mr. and Mrs. John W. Harrison; Travel (with fifty-three participants) directed by Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Atwood; Operatic Music under Mrs. Theodore Larson and Mrs. Murray S. Moore; and Current Events, led by Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Efronsom.

Progress reports were also heard from Mrs. Herbert D. Lamson, program chairman; Mrs. Walter P. Keyes, social chairman; and Mrs. Donald J. Fritch for the publicity chairman, Mrs. Robert A. Nichols. Mrs. Frederick Walsh and Mrs. Roland R. Carter, treasurer and assistant treasurer, told of the Club's financial status and Mrs. George M. Neville read her secretary's report. Mrs. George H. Gowdy reported that the Club has taken in sixteen new members this year.

Mrs. Swazey then called upon Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, nominating committee chairman, to reveal next year's slate of officers, and they are as follows: Mrs. John W. Harrison, president; Mrs. Theodore C. Browne, vice-president; Mrs. Dana J. Kelly, secretary; and Mrs. Frederick Walsh, treasurer. The program committee will again be Mrs. Herbert D. Lamson and the membership and publicity committees headed again by Mrs. George H. Gowdy and Mrs. Robert A. Nichols, respectively. Mrs. Clinton E. Farnham will take charge of hospitality and Mrs. Waldo V. Lyon will head the nominating committee. The Evening Study Groups will be organized by Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, and Mrs. George E. Connor will direct the Daytime Study Groups.

The tea committee which served delicious refreshments at a table decorated with forsythia, a sure sign of spring, was made up of Wellesley College members of the Club.

CARS DAMAGED AT BONNELL'S

Considerable damage was done to automobiles at the Bonnell Motors Lot last Friday evening, by three Winchester boys who ran cars around the yard and into other cars and a truck.

The boys were spotted and the police notified. Officers Archie O'Connell and Richard Beaton picked up the boys at their homes.

The boys and their parents reported at headquarters and were given their choice of making restitution for the damage done the cars or appearing in court. The parents agreed to make good the damage done.

LITTLE LEAGUE NEWS

At the end of the first week of the Little League season, all teams have played at least one game. It would appear that any of the four could win the championship. The league is evenly matched as usual and on a given day any team could beat another.

The Yankees opened the season May 7th with a win over the Braves, but have since lost to the Dodgers May 10th and Red Sox May 13th. The scores of the Yankee games have been 7 to 3 over the Braves, and losses of 8 to 1 and 19 to 6 against first the Dodgers and then the Red Sox.

The Red Sox lost an exciting game to the Dodgers 6 to 1 May 8th, the game being much closer than the score would indicate. The Braves lost a close one to the Yankees, 7 to 3 and then another close one to the Dodgers, 7 to 2 on May 13th. The game against the Red Sox scheduled for May 9th, got started but was then called because of heavy winds and cold. It will be played Friday, May 18th. The Dodge-Braves postponement of May 14th is on for May 25th. The League standing is as follows:

Red Sox	1	1
Yankees	1	2

EDITORIALS

The chap who said "Out of Sight, Out of Mind" hit the nail squarely on the head insofar as Winchester High School's outstanding basketball team of the past season is concerned. To date, the campaign to raise $500 for an electric score-board and clock to be installed in the new high school gym as a memorial to the team, has realized about half that figure, and those handling the drive are frankly both surprised and discouraged at the outlook.

Try to think of any of the frenzied followers of the team who would have refused to give a dollar to honor our great basketball team on those nights in the Garden when it outclassed Brockton and finally lost the Class A title to Duxbury in a basket in the last 10 seconds of play. Everyone was so proud of the team then and so eager to pay tribute to their sportsmanship and ability.

Well, it is the same team now, and no basketball team in all Winchester's history is more worthy of a lasting public memorial! The kids may well wonder whether all that praise heaped upon them after their gallant fight in the Class A final was sincere.

It only costs a buck to prove it was! Ralph Hatch at the Savings Bank will take your dollar, or you can leave it at the Star Office or the Sport Shop. Time is running out. The memorial project will have to be abandoned if more contributions don't start coming in right quick!

One of our professional men who is a keen observer of town affairs, in a recent chat with the Editor, expressed concern over what he believes to be an ever growing acceptance of the belief that town committees cannot function without sizeable appropriations to be expended during their investigations.

Some $16,300 was appropriated for committees at this year's meeting and the total expended by committees over the past ten years would amount to quite a sum.

Much of the money was spent of course for architects' plans or for the advice of consulting experts, and over both expenditures our visitor cast a baleful eye.

Regarding the consulting expert, he expressed the opinion that many times his advice is much too idealistic to be applied advantageously to a problem which must be solved by a town with a tax rate to keep in mind.

Furthermore, it is our caller's belief that Winchester, within its own borders, has experts on whom it can call for solutions of community problems that will be satisfactory without being so idealistic they cost all outdoors. He advocated getting some of these experts to serve on town committees, rather than to entrust technical investigation involving the preparation of plans or the making of tests to a group of laymen, none of whom knows about such things.

Answering the Editor's comment that such resident experts will not serve on town committees, our professional friend said he did not believe it, and left us with the thought that one more committee should be appointed, to prepare a list of men and women, residents of Winchester, who are experts in various fields where the town is constantly having to pay for professional advice. In possession of such a list, the Moderator would see to it that committees likely to need expert advice of a technical nature would have such advice readily available right within its membership.

We will admit that such a plan sounds good to us, and we should imagine the Moderator would welcome the formation of a list for his use such as we mention above. All he would need to do then would be to get the proper expert to serve on the proper committee. It might be done!

COMMUNITY THEATRE

The following paper by Marion Thomas Blake was read during a panel discussion held during the Boston Northfield Club's "Evening at the Window Shop" held Wednesday, May 16, at 56 Brattle street, Cambridge. Mrs. Blake's many appearances in leading roles with the Parish Players makes her paper of especial local interest. (Ed.)

"My first theatrical venture was the graduation play of the sixth grade, which I wrote, produced, directed, and in which I played the leading role. There is an advantage in being the author, producer, director, and the leading actress. It is one sure way of getting your name in the program."

"At Northfield I was never in a theater production. . . . Later, at the University of Rochester, I appeared in one or two productions, one of which I shall always remember as being unusual. Since, in those days the men were separated from the women, I played the male lead in a musical comedy—a football hero—because of my contralto voice and I presume because of my height, not my width. Oddly enough, the real-life football hero whom I represented has since turned up in Boston as one of the doctors our family helps to support."

"Since then I have devoted most of my spare time to community theatre—first in Rochester, where I supplied costumes and props for, and acted with, the then leading man of the group, John Lund, of stage and movie fame; and later with various groups in Greater Boston. For part of many summers I have been privileged to act with the Weston, Vermont Summer Theater, have given countless singing performances and even served as commentator for fashion shows."

"From my experience I say most emphatically that community theater work is a most rewarding activity. A common misconception is that if you can't act there is no point in working with theater. I have seen people accept a small part with trepidation only to blossom into promising actors."

"And may I say here that a community theater should not become a stock company, with a few experienced actors constantly playing the lead. It is a proving ground for new talent. The audience loves the old-timers but it wants them liberally sprinkled with newcomers."

"Theater work is creative work. . . . And there is a job for almost everyone whatever his talents may be. The pride of a stage-crew member in a property rock made of wood, chicken wire, old newspapers and paint, can sometimes become a very possessive pride."

"The unsung stage crew is greatly appreciated by the company and just as essential as the actors. I personally bless the prop girls every time the cigarettes and matches are in their proper place when I need them, or when the de-cater is filled with diluted coca-cola because it tastes better than cold tea."

"Then there are the energetic people who beg or borrow furniture and hand props, and the ingenious ones who manufacture a stuffed parrot, or cover a china bluejay with white feathers to represent a cockatoo. The people whose job is to collect suitable costumes; the designers, builders and painters of the set; and the hero of them all, the intuitive prompter who knows when you are up in your lines—all are vital to the production, and the actors know it."

"The creative thrill of changing yourself into someone else with different speech, mannerisms, reactions to people and outlook on life should be experienced to be believed. It is amazing how taking on the problems of another person in your own creation can vary and freshen your own problems."

"Community theater can serve a real purpose in another sense too. For example, the Parish Players of Winchester, a group in which I have been active for the past 11 years, is a community theater in the truest sense. Although we have the advantage of being housed in a Congregational Church auditorium, we welcome talent from all sects and faiths, and are far removed from the amateur church group which."

"For thirty consecutive years the Parish Players have been offering Winchester the best available plays, skillfully produced. They have contributed to the church and to other community causes an amount over $10,000. These causes include the Red Cross, Community Fund, the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, and the purchase of a rolling kitchen for British War Relief. All through the war years, we packed up our regular shows and took them to military hospitals, and some of us played over one hundred smaller shows in hospital wards to veterans who could not be moved to an auditorium. And we were flattered when they turned off their radios and television sets and welcomed us enthusiastically."

"Many things contribute to the success of a community theater, but two essentials stand out above all else. First is what I shall call the "spark plug"; that is, a person vitally interested in the group and dedicated to Theater. He or she must be intensely theater-wise and above all know what the audience wants and expects—a driving force for a high standard in choice of play and production thereof. No combination of money and facilities can be effective for long without this continuing energizing force—the life-blood of a good community theater."

"The second essential is a skilled director, without whom no play can attain its most effective presentation. He or she need not necessarily be a professional, but must be highly skilled and competent to draw out the best efforts of the cast. Able and experienced actors will stand out in any group, but all can contribute effectively if well directed.

Now I come to the matter of choosing a play. The New England Theater Conference, known as NETC, has prepared a report of real value regarding the selection of plays for community groups, a copy of which anyone interested may obtain. Regardless of form—whether it be comedy, tragedy, farce or musical, any play worth presenting should give the audience the "satisfaction of knowing and believing in the life it sees there." Experience has shown that the most satisfying plays are the ones in which there is a positive rather than a negative approach to life, and play selecting committees would do well to choose with this concept in mind."

GLADIOLUS

By Max G. Fultz

Gladiolus have a general place in the flower garden of the home grounds. Ordinarily they may be planted in straight-line beds or in rows in the home vegetable or flower garden. The above is for the purpose of cut flowers or private show. Also they have a place in border plantings to develop background and lend a flash of color to the picture. Succession planting is possible since they may be planted from the first or middle of May until July 1st. Spacing the plantings at two-week intervals gives a good succession of bloom.

This flower is one that needs full sun for the best results. There should be good water drainage although a consistent moisture supply is needed. Organic matter content should be good and it may be supplied by spading some form of well-decomposed manure, peat-moss or compost into the soil. The pH should be about 6.5 and ground limestone will likely be needed. Fertilizing with a complete garden fertilizer along with peat-moss will start the process of decomposition more quickly. The amount used should be reduced greatly if manure is sure. Fertilizer should not be used in excess as it is easy to over-feed gladiolus.

Corms are planted 4 to 6 inches deep, depending on size of corm. They should be planted in rows 18 to 24 inches apart and 3 to 6 inches apart in the row. Closer planting will allow better support of plants from each other.

The most important pest of gladiolus is the thrip. 5 percent DDT dust applied at 7 to 10 days intervals beginning when the plants are six inches high is the most convenient control. A spray of 50 percent wettable powder used at 2 tablespoons per gallon of water may be used. A detergent should be used with the spray.

FIRST LADIES BRIDGE PARTY WEDNESDAY, MAY 23

The first afternoon Ladies Card party will be held at the Winchester Boat Club next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Carl Freyer as chairman. It's to be a dessert bridge with the high-calorie let-yourself-go goodies served before the fancy finessing starts.

This year, as always, Boat Club members may attend without charge but there will be guest fees. Members are reminded to remember the house rule which permits guests to attend but one Club function per month.

Playing rules are the same as ever. No more than 10 minutes of gossip between tricks; no peeking at opponents hands; and trumping a partner's ace is punishable by standing in the corner (where you can't hear what they're saying about you) for three minutes.

On Mrs. Freyer's committee are Mrs. Harold Pyne, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, Mrs. Ralph Swanson, Mrs. Winston Clark, Mrs. Robert Gren-seback, Mrs. James Dunlop and Mrs. Herbert Anderson. The party is limited to 20 tables so make your reservations now. To do so, simply call Mr. and Mrs. Otto at the Club.

Opening Party Friday Night Entertainment chairman Bart Sullivan has let the bars down about Friday evenings opening party at the Club House. Festivities begin at 8:00 p. m. and what a show Bart has lined up. Teresa McMann, one of Ted Mack's talented discoveries will be on hand to play her trumpet accompanied by Steve Scotti; Lucille Megliozza, the rising young soprano who is but 17 years old will also perform and, as frosting on the cake, Manny Williams—master magician—will amaze young and old with his marvelous manipulations.

Following the party there'll be refreshments for one and all. See ya' Friday!

NEW BOOK AT MARY SPAULDING'S

Mr. William A. Robinson's new book of adventure "To The Great Southern Sea" will be most inter- estingly introduced here in a win- dow display at the Mary Spaulding Book Shop. A character portrait in color by Miguel Covarrubias, which portrays much of the au- thor's personality will be among the interesting exhibits shown.

The book of sailing and adven- ture is handsomely printed in large print and shows pictures of the author of his life aboard "The Var- na" and of the authors' wife, "Ah You," and his interesting Tahitian family.

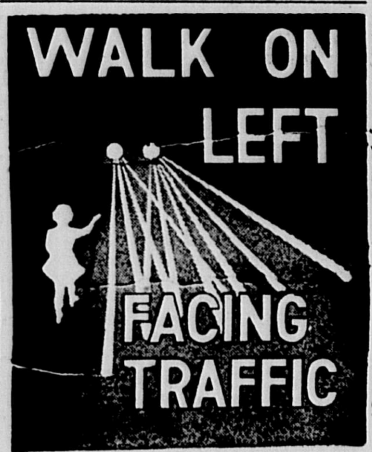

Winchester interest in the book stems from the fact that Mr. Robi- nson is a former Winchester boy, and is the son of Mrs. E. H. Robinson of 24 Mason street.

DARTMOUTH MEN HEARD UPGREN

The Dartmouth Alumni Club of Winchester, with their ladies, met last week Wednesday evening, for a buffet supper at the Music Hall and to hear Dean Arthur Upgren of the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth.

He based his prediction upon the facts that the great corporations of America are spending billions of dollars for new plants, equipment and research.

High Property Taxes Impose Social And Personal Burdens

By Charles Ball

The burden of Winchester's property tax was forcefully demonstrated last week when the Board of Assessors announced a six dollar jump for 1956—to $49.63.

To the owner of a house assessed at $10,000, the new tax rate will mean a bill of $496. This is a bill from which there is no escape, regardless of business losses, dependents, mortgage payments, or maintenance costs. It is a tax bill which is higher than the personal income tax most middle income families have just paid the federal government.

The burden of this tax will be most heavily felt by middle class, fixed income families. Retired people who live on a small income will pay much of it. Young families with many mouths to feed and children to clothe for school will also be hit.

A total of $2,169,277.56 will have to be raised this year from Winchester's property valuations. This total represents a per capita burden of $114.21—higher than last year by $11.82.

A property tax of these proportions represents two kinds of burdens, the first a burden upon individual property holders, the second upon society as a whole.

In the 17th Century, assessors in England based their valuations upon the number of windows contained in a house. As a consequence, householders began building smaller and fewer windows, and the property tax thereby became a tax upon sunlight and ventilation.

In Winchester the property tax, because it is so high, may make it impossible for many householders to add a bedroom, paint, or build a garage. The tax thus becomes a burden upon comfortable living.

The householders also absorb part of the property tax levied upon commercial buildings because taxes on stores and offices are in part shifted to the consumer in the form of high prices.

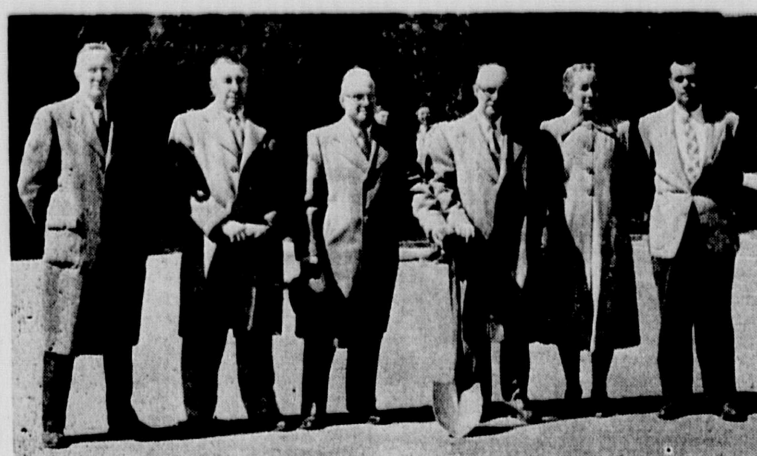

A high tax upon industrial property is also felt by the wage and dividend receiver, because part of that tax is shifted backward in the form of lowered salaries, wages and dividends.

Another effect of high property taxes is that the natural development of the community is distorted. It works this way:

When property tax rates and burdens vary widely from community to community, as they do in eastern Massachusetts, industries will tend to locate in communities which do not have high property taxes. Tax rates may even be so high that some industries are forced to move to new sites in other communities.

The result is a poor use of land. Property best suited for industrial or commercial development may be passed up for property in a town with a lower tax burden.

Utilities in the area of the by-passed property will not be used to fullest capacity, but the community which has attracted industry because of low taxes may have to support the unexpected expense of developing new public utilities. As long as property tax burdens are high in one community and low in an adjacent community, this kind of unintelligent land use can be expected to continue.

J. H. Winn Inc., Announces Broad Gauge Expansion Plan

Ground-breaking ceremonies held last week at J. H. Winn Inc., Winchester, watch hand manufacturing firm, signaled the beginning of a plant expansion program which will more than double the firm's productive capacity.

Envisaged in the expansion plans are an enlargement of the plant from 19,000 to 41,000 square feet and a renovation of the buildings now in use.

Total cost of the program was not disclosed.

The planned addition is expected to be opened in September. Work on the old buildings should take six or seven months beyond September, according to Ernest B. Dade, president of the company.

J. H. Winn Inc. is engaged in three principal activities of manufacturing:

1. The making of dial pointers for watches, clocks, and scientific instruments;
2. Specialty stamping;
3. Production of screw machine articles.

Increased demand for these products and crowding in facilities now in use impelled the company's directors to favor expansion.

The decision to expand the present productive area came after nearly a year of study and conferences, Mr. Dade said in announcing the expansion program. A six-month study of existing facilities was performed by the Trundle Engineering firm. Expansion plans were discussed with employees in weekly meetings held throughout the winter months.

"Many useful suggestions came from our employees," Mr. Dade told the Winchester Star. "Many of these ideas have been incorporated into our plans."

The new building was designed by J. Quincy Adams. The general contractor is Jenny Bros., Inc., of Concord.

Throughout discussion of expansion which occupied directors of the company, the possibility of moving out of Winchester loomed large, Mr. Dade said.

Heavy tax burdens in Massachusetts, distances from markets, and the condition of the present buildings all prompted suggestions to move. But the company decided to remain in Winchester because of the trained and efficient work force now employed at the plant. "We would find it hard to duplicate the people we have here," Mr. Dade remarked.

Management of the company has always been sensitive to employee relations. Most of the middle and top management people have risen from the work force. The search for employees' suggestions about the layout of the new facilities represents one example of that feeling. The plans now in blueprint contain an employees' rest and recreation area in the third floor of the main building. The company was established in 1868, to answer the domestic demand for watch hands. The present site was first opened for production in 1872.

ASSEMBLY AT PARKHURST SCHOOL

Robin Hood and Paul Revere were the themes for an assembly presented by Grades 4 and 5 of Mrs. Donovan's class at the Parkhurst School on Friday, April 13th. An attractive mural depicting scenes of Cambridge, Concord, and Boston was done by the pupils of Grade 4. Scenes represented high spots in the life of Paul Revere as a patriot and silversmith. The poem Paul Revere's Ride by Longfellow was recited by Jonathan Buckley. The announcer was Danny Brink who also appeared as a boy of colonial times.

The cast included:

Paul Revere: Jeffrey Fessenden, Deborah Rachel, Janet Forsberg, Mr. Newman, Charles Delong, Boys and Girls of Colonial Days: Mary Louise Albani, Mary Clair, Pauline Cacciola, Jock Buckley and Glenn Crocker.

The historical play concluded with a song entitled "Paul Revere." The fifth Grade presented an excerpt from Robin Hood. The background was a brilliant mural showing Robin Hood and his Merry Men. As part of the setting, a castle was constructed by the boys of the fifth grade. The stage was adorned with trees as a Sherwood Forest background. Vicki Cass acted as announcer and spoke on the historical background of the legend of Robin Hood. The cast was played by the following:

Robin Hood: Diane Burnham, Dame Kate: Carol Ann Cerra, Leader of the King's Men: Larry Archibald, Allen-A-Dale: Little John: Jon Abbott, Will Scarlett: Jayne Armstrong, King's Men: Stephen Gray, Carol Butters, Bobby Doane, Evan Croft.

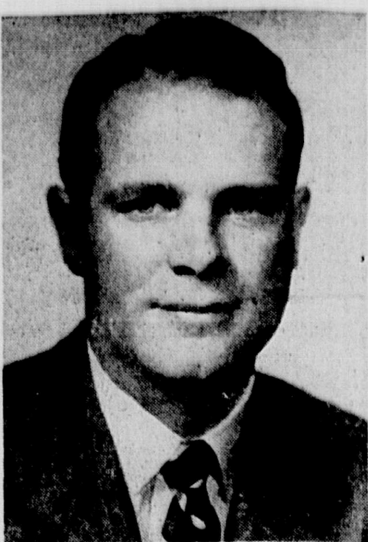

The costumes were executed by the members of the class. The entire class joined in singing the familiar "Robin Hood."

ON EVERY DOLLAR BILL

Editor of the Star:

At some future time, you might find some space to print the following items. These were taken from the Christopher News Notes and Pertain to the Great Seal of the United States. They might prove interesting to your readers.

On Every Dollar Bill

There's a Powerful lesson on every dollar bill! Take a look at the back of one—i.e., the "green-back." The two circles represent both sides of the Great Seal of the United States.

Do you know what the circular symbol on the left means? Ask a few friends if they understand the significance of the pyramid shown there, and the Eye above it! Even though they are on every one of the billion and a half one dollar bills now in circulation, very few people can explain the meaning behind these symbols.

Origin of Symbols

The Founders of our country thought it so important to express the basic truths of our nation in the Great Seal that the matter was brought before Congress on the very afternoon of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776.

Three great leaders, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin and John Adams were appointed as a committee of three to prepare the seal. Six years later, on June 20, 1782, after exhaustive study and largely through the efforts of William Barton and Charles Thompson, Congress passed a resolution approving the final design of the Great Seal.

Details with a Meaning

Here are some of the significant details that were found through research:

1. Pyramid—First of all, note the pyramid in the left hand circle. It represents the material strength of our country. In the words of William Barton, who played such an important part in designing it, it stands for "strength and duration."

2. Eye—Directly above the pyramid is the "Eye of God" which, though separate, completes the pyramid. It emphasizes the importance of putting the spiritual welfare of our country above its material prosperity. Our Founding Fathers firmly believed that our strength was rooted in God and that our progress must always be under the watchful eye of Providence.

3. Under God—The words "An-nuit Ceptis" circling the top of the Seal are once again a significant proof of the faith of the Founding Fathers and this nation's dependence on God. There words mean: "He (God) has favored our undertakings."

4. New Order—Now look at the 3 Latin words directly under the pyramid—"Novus Ordo Seclorum" which mean "A new order of ages." They signify that this new republic, which has just been founded, introduced a new age in the life and freedom of the people of the world.

You Can't Buy a FINER OIL BURNER

WALTHAM VERTIFLAME

Search the heating world over—you can't buy a finer oil burner than Waltham. Waltham's "1960 Design" puts it years ahead—years ahead in combustion efficiency (Waltham burns the new "cat cracked" fuel without wasteful soot or smoke,) years ahead in comfort and convenience (no nerve-racking roar—quiet, steady heat,) years ahead in economy (annual savings of around 25% in years of field testing!) Most oil burners made today produce an irregular smoky flame. The smoke and soot (really only unburned oil) prove the inefficiency of those burners. The flame produced by the Waltham Jet Head burner is even, clean and 600° hotter than average. This super-hot flame is proof positive of wonderful Waltham efficiency. For the cleanest, quietest, most economical oil heat, make sure your burner's a Waltham!

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART—II

"Living With Your Heart" is written and distributed weekly as a public service by the Massachusetts Heart Association.

Your heart is a muscle which works a miracle every minute of your life.

It is about the size of your balled fist, and it rests in the middle of your chest, near your spine and on your diaphragm.

Even in a big man, it weighs less than a pound. But once for ounce, it does a job unduplicated by any device ever created by all the genius of atomic-age science.

From the moment you are born until you die, it stops only between beats for rest. In a 70-year lifetime, your heart will beat more than 2½ billion times. Each hour it circulates and recirculates your 11 pints of blood at the rate of 166 gallons. In a Biblical lifespan, it pumps more than 100 million gallons.

While it does these things, just what is it doing for you?

In its simplest sense, your heart can be called for a four-room pump-house.

It pumps your blood, a fast-flowing river of life, bearing food and oxygen throughout your system.

It sends the blood along many miles of "roads"—starting with your great artery at the top of the heart, and working down through smaller and smaller arteries, and finally to capillaries, where nourishment (food-oxygen) seeps through the walls as the blood courses along, feeding the cells that keep you alive.

These red roads have several major stopoffs—among them a restaurant, a reconstituting plant and a filtering station.

The blood starts its journey at the right side of your heart. From there it goes to the lungs—the "restaurant," where oxygen is taken on and carbon dioxide eliminated.

Back it goes, then, to the left side of your heart, fully fueled and ready to start feeding your system. Then the trip through the arteries begins. Along the way, like any traveler on a long trip, there are stops to be made. In the liver and spleen, for instance, the blood is monitored, and waste is weeded out. In the kidney, the blood is separated and put together again, with waste fluid drawn off.

On the return trip, made at a slower pace through the veins, the blood comes back to your heart to start the whole cycle again.

The heart is where life begins and ends. It is just what the word implies—the "heart" of your entire system.

PATENT TO KAUFMAN

David Kaufman of 118 Arlington street and George W. Lower, Lexington, Mass., were the recipients on April 24, 1956, of U. S. patent No. 2,743,154, entitled "Method of Recovery of Uranium by a Resin-In-Pulp Process."

Uranium is an elementary metal which occurs in ores from which it is extracted. In this extraction it is common practice to leach or treat the ores with sulfuric acid which dissolves the uranium. The resulting leach liquor or solution is passed through towers containing a suitable resin which takes out a uranium product. When the resin has taken out as much as it can, a washing liquid is passed through it, removing the uranium product and regenerating the resin which is then used to treat further amounts of the leach liquor.

However, according to Messrs. Kaufman and Lower, this process, although used commercially, has certain drawbacks. For example, the uranium ores are usually of quite low quality and the leach liquor has to be separated from very large amounts of them. As a consequence, there is a considerable filtration problem which adds markedly to the cost of operation.

In addition, the resin-packed towers are expensive structures. The aforementioned filtration step may be eliminated by the so-called "resin-in-pulp" process in which the leach ore pulp is exposed to resins in the form of moderately coarse particles or beads which take out the uranium product and are then separated from the ores. Although this method eliminates the filtration step, it suffers from the disadvantage that it involves screening operations and there is a tendency for the material to become packed and clog the screen. In fact according to Messrs. Kaufman and Lower, this problem constitutes the principal practical operating disadvantage of the process; and, as the object of their invention, they solve it in a very simple manner by the use of a series of cells which are separated by vertical screens across which a fairly rapid flow of air bubbles is directed.

This patent has been assigned, by mesne assignments, to the United States of America as represented by the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

MYSTIC SCHOOL NEWS

The two sixth grades at the Mystic School, with their teachers, Mrs. Margaret D. McLean and Miss Gladys Wood, were recent guests of Representative Harrison Chadwick of Winchester and Representative Thomas Doherty of Medford during their visit to the State House.

The trip provided an excellent conclusion to the classes' study of the Constitution of the United States. Since the Massachusetts Constitution and its Bill of Rights were among the most important sources for the Federal Constitution, it was appropriate that the youngsters should become better acquainted with the history, past and present, of their own state.

Representatives Chadwick and Doherty graciously arranged for a conducted tour of the State House, during which the children were taken to the floor of the House and the Senate by the guide who explained the functions of each. Various parts of the old State House possessing historical significance were pointed out. The Hall of Plagues proved to be an interesting stop, as did the Archives. Here the pupils were presented copies of the original charter of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Arrangements had been made for the group to meet the Speaker of the House, Michael Skerry, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth, Edward J. Cronin.

When the House of Representatives met in the afternoon, the Winchester group was asked to rise and be recognized. Later, in the Senate Chamber, the group was greeted by Senator Frederick McDermott, the Senator from the 6th District of which Winchester is a part.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS WON ART AWARDS

Winchester High School's Art Department won coveted recognition recently through the efforts of some of its art students. The first state prize in a high school art contest sponsored by the Massachusetts State Federated Women's Clubs was won by Sally Snow, and first honorable mention went to Judith Wadleigh. In addition, the paintings of Mary Lou Cox and Carol Ashenden were included in the group to be exhibited at the Club's annual convention.

Sally Snow was a guest of the Club at its convention at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, on Wednesday, and she received her award at that time. Her picture will go to Washington to compete with the prize-winning exhibits from the other 47 states.

Of much local interest is the exhibit of work by members of the High School Art Department now on display in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Public Library. These pictures, ranging from quiet landscape scenes to imaginative pieces of abstraction represent most of the problems assigned to the pupils during the year by their instructor, Miss Pauline Goodrich. The exhibit will continue through the month of May.

TO GRADUATE IN JUNE

Among the 260 candidates for graduation from Mount Holyoke College this June, are two girls from Winchester, Miss Carolyn Buracker and Miss Marion Davis.

Miss Carolyn Buracker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Buracker of 12 Stratford road. She went to the Winchester high school before attending Mount Holyoke. Miss Buracker has majored in English literature and has also been active in several campus activities. In her junior year she was the feature editor of the Mount Holyoke News, a student publication and also the chairman of Parents Day. In her senior year, Miss Buracker was president of her dormitory.

Miss Marion Davis, who previously was a resident of Jamaica Plain, attended the Girls' Latin School in Boston. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis of 8 Orient street. At Mount Holyoke, Miss Davis has majored in zoology. She received the Jesse Goodwin Spaulding Latin prize in her freshman year. She was also active in athletics and was the head of archery and the head of volleyball activities. Miss Davis was also the co-editor of the Freshman Directory.

SOME FACTS ABOUT JAPANESE BEETLE

By Max G. Fultz
(Middlesex County Agricultural Agent)

We have had several questions about use of Japanese beetle milky spore disease powder that indicate lack of complete understanding of the way it works. It is not an immediate control for the insect.

The spore powder is distributed over areas of rough turf that are known to be infested with the grubs. It is placed a teaspoonful at a time on spots spaced from four to ten feet apart according to the size of the area to be covered. The disease infects the grubs and they in turn infect other grubs and the soil. The soil gradually becomes infested with the disease that the grubs cannot exist. This process of complete infection takes, however, from five to ten years.

It is a separate control for Japanese beetle from chemical grub proofing. To be effective it is not practical to approach by the individual but on a community wide basis. As a matter of fact, the powder has been limited to use by garden clubs or other community organizations.

On lawns or other valuable turf, the pest is controlled in the grub stage by use of chemicals. Chlor-dane is still the most widely-used chemical and it is applied to the soil as a dust or it may be mixed with water. Dust followed by rain or washing in with water is the easiest and most practical to use. Five percent dust at 5 pounds per 1000 square feet is the required amount. Wettable powder of 40 or 50% strength may be used in proportion, i.e. the 40% at 10 oz., or the 50% at 8 oz. A treatment lasts for two or more years.

Actual control of the adult beetles is by keeping foliage, flowers or fruits covered with an insecticide once the beetles become active. Frequent light applications are to be recommended. It is of definite importance to keep the protection covering on growth of any kind as it expands.

DDT may be used except on food plants when the interval is too close to harvest. On such plants the interval as specified on the label should be carefully followed. Methoxychlor may be a bit safer than DDT but label directions should be followed carefully on it also. Rotenone is the material that must be used on ripening fruits.

Oily rags and paint cloths: the proper place for them is outdoors, not in some hot closet under the stairs. Too much danger of spontaneous fire.

TALENT SHOW

The Reading Kiwanis is holding a talent show June 9, at the Reading High School Auditorium to raise funds for its underprivileged Child and Boys and Girls Work.

Talent for the show is wanted and any having ability in singing, dancing, pantomime, impersonating or musical instrumentalists or groups are urged to contact Mrs. George Pottle, Reading 2-1458-W for a chance to audition May 27.

First prize will be an appearance on a TV Talent Show in Boston. Gene Jones, currently MC on the Community Opticians TV Talent Show, will MC the Reading show.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVERS RECEIVE SAFETY AWARD

Seven truck drivers for the Salvation Army Men's Rehabilitation Center were honored recently with safety awards representing 25 years of accident-free driving. Each driver received a letter of commendation from the Territorial Headquarters in New York, a Safe-Driver identification card, a lapel pin, and a cash prize.

BANDSMEN NEEDED FOR FIRST ARMY BAND

A concerted campaign to fill 22 vacancies in the First Army Band is underway this month, according to Master Sergeant Sterlin W. Wark, local Army Recruiter.

Vacancies, which must be filled immediately, are as follows: six French horn players, four flute or piccolo players, one oboe player, B flat clarinetists, three E flat clarinetists, one bass clarinetist, and three baritone saxophone players.

In addition, vacancies are expected in the next few months for cornetists, trombonists, tuba players, bassoonists and also saxophonists.

Musicians desiring to enlist in the Army for duty with the First Army Band, located at Governor's Island, New York, may obtain full information by contacting the local Army Recruiting Station at 49 High street, Medford square.

Many deaths—too many—are caused by people falling asleep while smoking, or reentering homes to rescue pets or personal possessions.

SOCIAL SECURITY

People over age 65 who have worked under social security may now receive some payments even though they continue to work, if their annual earnings are not over $2080. Those earning $1200 or less can get payments for all twelve months of the year. Those earning between $1200 and $2080 can get from one to eleven months' benefits. And regardless of total annual earnings, payments may be received for any month that wages of $80 or less are earned or in which no services are rendered in self employment, or when the claimant is age 72 or over.

This provision of the law appears of particular interest to part-time workers, domestics, and the self employed who have low net earnings.

A copy of the booklet explaining these provisions can be obtained from the Social Security District Office at 2 Trowbridge street, Cambridge, Mass., or telephone University 4-8900.

PILE OF LETTERS FOR ERRANT PITCHERS

A flood of mail deluged Barbo's in Stoneham after Garry Moore told of the pitcher mix-up with Prince Macaroni Company advertising copy on his daily TV show, and that the errant pitchers were being sold for the benefit of Easter Seal Society, Charles Barbo, left, and Sal Cantella, of Winchester, treasurer of Prince Macaroni Co., view the pile of letters. The mix-up came about when Barbo ordered pitchers that Prince Macaroni was using with advertising message for new gift shop, but instructed the Italian ceramic-makers to leave off the advertising copy. When the 16 crates arrived from Italy they contained the advertising message and the instructions to leave it off printed on them.

WON THE HEARTS OF ALL

Editor of the Star:

Four years ago, when we were house-hunting in Winchester, we were told by the real estate agent who assisted us, that Winchester, as a community, did a very great deal for its young people.

Fortunately for us, we were able to observe the truth of this remark at first hand, for we became residents of Winchester for three happy years. Our three children were direct beneficiaries of all that the town had to offer in the way of schooling, playground facilities, outside activities, cultural opportunities, and community spirit. We yearned to admire everything about Winchester from its scenic beauties, to its police force and snow removal crews! Although we came as strangers, we were made to feel so welcome and so much a part of the town that we were very reluctant to leave when duty called last June. As proof of our love for Winchester and our faith in its future, we refused to sell the house that we had bought there, hoping against hope that we might return some day.

Be that as it may, the purpose of this letter is to try to show that Winchester's consideration for its young people is paying off.

You have every right to be proud of your boys and girls. Recently a group of forty-one high school students, representing the youth group of one of Winchester's churches, came to Washington on a three-day sightseeing tour. It was our pleasure to work with the very able group leaders in making arrangements for housing for these young people during their stay. We were able to place them in thirteen different homes, where they were seen every evening and morning during their stay.

After the group had departed for home en masse, I took the trouble to call each of the hostesses to thank them for their kindness to these out-of-town strangers. Without exception each hostess was enthusiastic in her praise of the conduct of her guests... their quiet behavior, their courtesy and good breeding, their personal charm, etc., etc.

It would have done your hearts good to know that your forty-one ambassadors won the hearts of all who came in contact with them in this tourist-ridden city. They even won praise from the parish church where the met for an evening party with the local group (which they outnumbered two to one).

The Winchester group provided most of the physical effort in setting up chairs and tables and in cleaning up afterwards. I was told the next day by church officials that it was almost impossible to detect that the parish hall had been used the night before by anybody at all, let alone sixty teenagers. (Of course the five hard-working Winchester chaperones deserve a large share of the credit because of their wonderful organizational ability and the way in which they commanded the cooperation and respect of their charges.)

I was told by the adult leaders of the group that at least three times during the groups' tour of the city, including several visits to restaurants, they had been approached by "outsiders" who commented on the outstanding good behavior of the young people.

I am sure that all of you, as residents of Winchester will be proud to hear of the splendid impression that your children left behind them in their capital city... where they will always be welcome.

No wonder Winchester is wonderful to its children, for Winchester's children are wonderful!

CORRECTION

Editor of the Star:

In looking over the article titled "Lawn Care" in the April 13 edition of the "Star," I find that a printer's error was made in the third paragraph.

Correction: Amount of fertilizer to be used on an established lawn should be 15 to 20 pounds per 1000 square feet (not 100 square feet as printed in "Lawn Care" article on April 13).

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS COMMENDED FOR BEHAVIOR

Recently the high school office received a letter praising the conduct of a number of its pupils. The manager of the Red Coach Grill, in a letter to acting Principal John D. Stevens, reported that the conduct of the Winchester students who visited his restaurant following the prom was of the best.

This is the kind of news parents and teachers like to hear; it helps to demonstrate again that the great majority of our young people are worthy of confidence and respect.

Mr. Tankard's letter follows: Principal Winchester High School Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sir: Due to the adverse criticism teenagers of today are receiving from various sources, I would like to inform you of the conduct of your school.

On Friday, April 27th, approximately 120 students, after the Prom visited the Red Coach Grill. Their decorum was of the very best.

TEACHERS' BOWLING LEAGUE HAD SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Winchester Teachers' Club Bowling League held its annual banquet recently at the Reservoir Club in Cambridge. This event concluded a successful season for the eight team league. Competition was keen throughout the five month period, and Team No. 10 won the championship by the smallest margin possible—one string, as it battled Team No. 3 down to the wire.

Continuing to lead the men bowlers, Joe Aversa took the high average and high single, losing the high triple by a single pin to George Snyder in the final night of bowling. Mary Cullen showed a steady hand as she paced the women with a high average of 84.

May Valentine took high triple and single for the year.

The directors of the league this year were Tom Morse, Ted Janner, and Mary Cullen. Prizes were awarded by Tom Morse and Ted Janner to the champions of 1955-56. Superintendent of Schools Harry V. Gilson was at the head table as the club's guest of honor.

Following is a list of the prize winners:

Winning Team: Tom Morse, captain; Laura Sysscoff, Carol Thatcher, Mary McAuley.

High Average: Men—Joe Aversa 99.0. Women—Mary Cullen 84.0.

High Triple: Men—George Snyder 338. Women—Mary Valentine 310.

High Single: Men—Joe Aversa 137; Frank Provinzano 130*. Women—Mary Valentine 113; Jane Hering 110*.

*League rule permits only one award to a bowler and gives prizes to second high single.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION MAY FESTIVAL

On Thursday afternoon, May 10, the Noonan School Auditorium was filled to capacity with a happy thrill as the May Festival, sponsored by the Mothers' Association got under way. Gay red and white banners proclaimed "Noonan School" bobbed around the room spotted by everyone from toddlers to grandmothers. The various tables did a brisk business in dainty aprons, miniatures of the paint world, pot holders for mother,
"white elephants," lace-trimmed and home baked cakes and cookies.
Everything good to eat and drink, from candy and frankfurts to coffee and doughnuts, disappeared quickly.

The festival committee was headed by Norma Crawford and Mary Del Rossi.

In charge of the tables were Ann Brown, Margie Giuliani, Mary Porter, Elizabeth Herbert, Anna Lee
Wier, Mary Arvikan, Margaret
Crowley, Lois Scherban, Leona
Poole and Eileen Vollmar.

A vote of thanks is due to all the many other mothers, who by their work and contributions helped to make a successful and enjoyable afternoon.

PIHL GETS THEATRE POST

Marshall R. Pihl, Jr., son of the Marshall R. Pihl of the "Parking" has been honored with an appointment as Publicity Director for the Melody Circus Theatre, located on the grounds of the historic Botsford Inn in suburban Detroit, Michigan. In fact, the Department of Drama of the College of Fine Arts,
Carnegie Institute of Technology,
Pittsburgh, Penn., where he is a student, thinks so highly of it and Marshall's ability and academic record, that he has been excused from his last week of classes and final exams in order to assume his duties immediately.

As Publicity Director, he will be in charge of all relations that the Melody Circus Theatre has with the outside world, overseeing the work that the advertising agency does in the way of art work and advertising spreads for all papers.

In fact, he has already arranged for a weekly "spot" on "Monitor" the NBC radio and television Network Show. He will be dealing with the "big leaguers" doing as much work and of the same calibre as would be necessary to launch a Broadway show, and play host to visiting personalities from the press, radio and television world.

His training for this, aside from his college work, includes six summers with Richard Aldrich at the Dennis Playhouse and Hyannis Melody Tent, as well as last year's work as Production Manager and this year's work as Publicity Director for the Mary Morris Community Theatre in Pittsburgh.

Also as backgrounds are his early years while in Wyman School where he published his "Mystic Valley Sun" and his assistant stage management when he became a Magician entertaining at children's parties; later, his active work with the Parish Players; his editorship of the Browne & Nichols School magazine and finally his assistant stage management of the Hasty Pudding Show while at Harvard.

WINCHESTER DOCTORS
STAFFED BLOODMOBILE

Four Winchester doctors staffed the Red Cross Bloodmobile last Monday, May 14, when it came to Winchester for its Spring collection of blood. When the local Red Cross chapter introduced a new idea by asking local doctors if they'd be willing to volunteer their professional services on Blood Day, the response was so prompt and so generous that the Center was staffed with four doctors instead of the usual single physician. Dividing duty at the Bloodmobile during the afternoon and early evening were Dr. Roger M. Burgoyne, Dr. Dominic Runci, Dr. Harry L. Benson, and Dr. John O'Grady.

Something of a speed record was established in setting up the equipment of the Blood Center because the Bloodmobile truck ran into mechanical difficulties between Boston and Winchester and was delayed in arriving. In response to a call for aid in unloading and setting up beds and tables, two firemen came from the station. Just as they arrived, in walked seven soldiers from Battery C in the Fells, appearing to give their blood. Seeing the cause of the delay all seven pitched in with military dispatch so that between the firemen and the soldiers things were so quickly in order that the next arrivals were unaware there'd been a hitch in the proceedings.

One hundred and four pints of blood were collected and taken to the large Red Cross Bloodbank in Boston, from whence it will be dispatched as needed to the Winchester Hospital, or elsewhere.

Those who gave blood were:

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

The final meeting of the 1955-1956 year was held Sunday morning, May 13th. A large group of men and boys received Holy Communion in a body at the 7:45 Mass which was celebrated by Spiritual Director, Rev. Martin J. Day, of the Father Dolphin parish. The spiritual as well as the earthly mothers in his sermon.

After Mass, coffee and doughnuts were served in St. Mary's Hall, supervised by the refreshment committee headed by Bob Scholl. President Joe Foley called on Father Dolphin who led the group in the recitation of the Holy Name Pledge. President Foley spoke on the all night vigil before the Blessed Sacrament to be held on Friday night, June 1st, at St. Mary's Church. This is to be similar to the one held annually on Holy Thursday and requested by Archbishop Cushing for the entire diocese.

President Foley also announced the date for the evening out Mass for the Holy Name Society. The Mass will be held Wednesday evening, June 27. William Croughwell, President of the Holy Name Societies of the Woburn District, presented Father Dolphin with a spiritual banner from the members of St. Mary's.

The nomination of officers for next year was announced by the Nominating Committee Chairman Herb Cleary, and the following were elected:

President—Albert E. Thorne, Jr.
Vice President—John Fitzgerald
Secretary—Jerome Freedman
Treasurer—William Lippman
Delegate—Joseph Foley
Deputy—Anthony Doyle

Father Dolphin installed the new officers. One of the newly elected officers, Delegate Tony Doyle, recently discharged from the Army, was cited for his work in Germany in organizing a Holy Name Chapter among the soldiers.

Program Chairman Bill Burns introduced the guest speaker for this Father and Sons meeting, Jim Phillips, Winchester High School basketball coach and fellow member of St. Mary's.

Jim spoke on the purpose of athletics in the school program and stressed the importance of having a goal in athletics as well as in life. "Sports are never an end in themselves, but a means to an end," said Jim.

Movies of the Winchester-Brainerd game were shown and many tips and interesting features were pointed out by Coach Phillips in his commentary on the game.

St. Mary's Holy Name Society has indeed been fortunate in having such an able and energetic President as Joe Foley. Vice President Joe Moran also has played an instrumental part in making this past year so outstanding.

We wish to give thanks to the many who have helped the Society in its various projects. We are indebted to us and to all the kindnesses shown to us throughout the year.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT SPONSORS
SUMMER TYPING COURSE

The Winchester School Department has announced its plans to offer a special course in typing again this summer. The course is designed to aid pupils who wish to learn how to type, but who are unable to include it in their regular school program. There is ample evidence to show that a knowledge of typing is particularly valuable to college students, especially in the preparation of essays and reports.

Although it is expected that many of those enrolling in the course will be high school or post-graduate pupils, other interested persons will be accepted in the class.

The course will be conducted at the Senior High School, beginning on Monday, June 25th, and continuing Monday through Friday, to August 3rd. Hours will be from 9 to 11 each morning. Full information as to fees and registration may be secured by calling the Superintendent's office, Winchester 6-1780. Early enrollment is suggested in order that one may be assured of a place in the class.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN SUCCESSFUL

Once more Winchester has been proud of its record in the annual Red Cross Fund Campaign, according to a statement made this week by Fund Chairman Royce H. Randlett.

"After a slow start, due to some of the worst weather the area has experienced, the campaign picked up volume, thanks to the untiring work of 642 volunteer solicitors and precinct captains, and as this issue of the Star goes to press we are practically over the top in our drive for $21,057.00," said Mr. Randlett. "Already contributed is the heartening sum of $20,818, and with contributions still being received at the local office there is not a doubt that Winchester will once more meet its quota."

"Every dollar received is urgently needed to alleviate the suffering of victims of one of the most disaster-ridden years in the history of the Red Cross, and to carry on the many urgent local services."

"More than seven hundred of our townspeople gave their time and effort to make this drive a success. To them, to the Winchester Star for its unstinting gift of space to the Merchants who contributed their windows for display advertising, to the Winchester Trust Company for the use of its facilities as a starting place for donations, and to all the understanding neighbors who dug just a little deeper into the wallet this year, a most sincere 'Thank You.'"

Traffic Tip: Allow extra space for stopping when snow or ice is on the pavement, says the AAA. Allow extra distance for the other fellow to stop, too. Winter driving calls for slower speeds, smooth starting and stopping, and More Space in case of slipping. Keep your distance.

MUSICIANS ENTERTAIN
WINCHESTER SCHOOL GROUPS

Pupils in the Winchester schools are enjoying an unusual musical treat this week, as two groups of professional musicians appear in the various schools to present programs of fine music. Mr. Theodore Jagler is the leader of the string quartet, while Mr. Herbert Philpott is playing with the brass quartet.

These two groups of skilled professional musicians are sponsored jointly by the Friends of the Band and Orchestra in Winchester and by the Musicians' Union of Boston. Not a demonstration program, the concerts are for educational and entertainment purposes. It is the experience of hearing good music well played by fine artists will stimulate the youngsters' interest and appreciation of this art.

FINE CONCERT BY SCHOOL VOCAL GROUPS

The high school auditorium was the scene of another fine musical program last Friday evening when vocal groups from the elementary, junior high, and senior high schools entertained a large and enthusiastic audience of parents and friends. The proficiency displayed by all groups reflects much credit on the pupils and their instructors. It was evident, throughout, that the groups were excellently trained.

Opening the program was a group of selections by the Sixth Grade Chorus, composed of pupils from each of the elementary schools, under the direction of Miss Jeanne Loudon. The spirit and character which these young singers gave to each number, their precise attack and release, and their excellent diction were especially pleasing.

Next in turn came the numbers by the three glee clubs of the Junior High School, all of them directed by Mrs. Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite. The training of a boys' glee club of this age offers some difficult problems, which accounts for the fact that few junior high schools will attempt to train such a group, but Mrs. Thistlethwaite seems to have overcome most of them. "Delightful" is the word to describe their singing of the Kentucky Mountain ballad, "On Top of Old Smoky."

The Girls' Glee Club of the Junior High School won the favor of the audience with a group of sea chanteys, spirituals, and American folk songs. In the familiar spiritual, "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," the girls achieved good effects by sharp dramatic contrast, their attention to details of the score was excellent. Also representing the Junior High School was the Mixed Glee Club which offered three lively numbers.

Solo numbers for the first portion of the concert were presented by two junior high school boys. Thomas Temple, soprano, showed fine feeling and neat phrasing as he sang the old Irish air, "Danny Boy." Violinist William Haggerty displayed surprising maturity, and good intonation, as he played "Praeludium and Allegro" by Pugnani-Kreisler. Adding authority to this performance were his warmth of tone and fluent technique.

Following the intermission, the vocal groups from the Senior High School, under the direction of Wendell S. Withington, presented their concert. As in the case of the high school instrumentalists a week earlier, it is good to be able to report that these groups showed the musical development that should be expected of their age and experience.

The greater maturity of the High School Boys' Glee Club was evident in their noticeably better song. Never forced, their singing was excellent in its rhythmic precision. Almost professional was their singing of the spiritual "Now Let Me Fly."

Opening their varied program with the popular Rodgers hit, "It's A Grand Night For Singing," the Girls' Glee Club achieved a genuine musical experience in two of their numbers, "The Omnipotence" by Schubert, and "Florian's Song" by Godard.

More songs by Rodgers were included in the selections by the Mixed Glee Club. For their stirring "Battle Hymn of the Republic," as arranged by Wilhousky. As a final comment, the high school choral work was of a very superior quality—tonally, interpretively, and for its precision in response to the director.

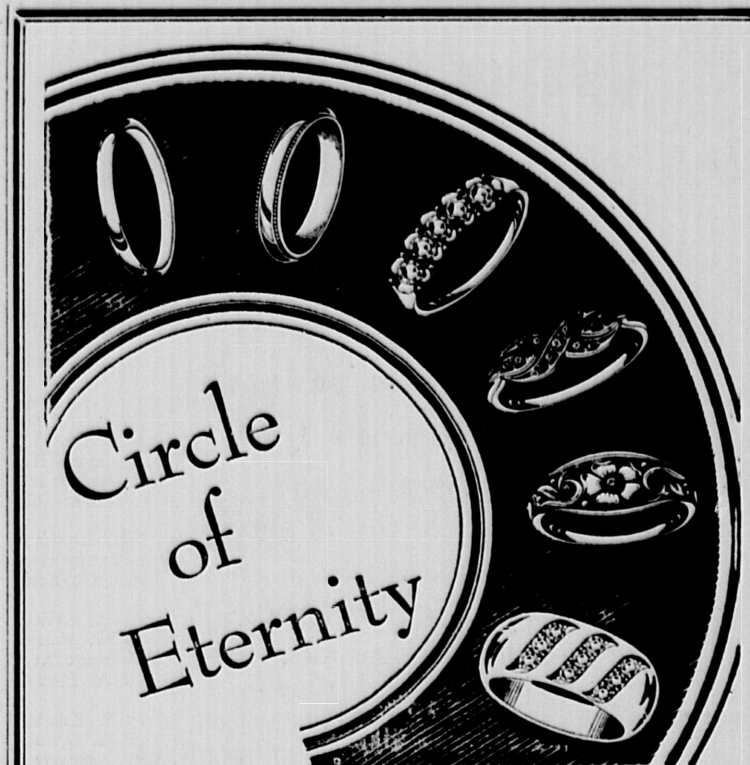

Another highlight of the evening was the violin solo by Rebecca Fish. Becky's performance of Mendelssohn's "First Movement of Concerto in E Minor" was notable for its excellent tone and intonation. Mr. Michael Power was her accompanist.

Both Rebecca Fish and William Haggerty are pupils of Mr. Ralph de Sordo, a resident of Winchester and a former member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. His contribution and that of other private music instructors, has contributed much to the success of the music program in the Winchester schools.

The music department of the Winchester schools is grateful to the Robert Swisher, the chairman of the two spring concerts, and to her loyal committee of mothers who publicized the concerts. It also wishes to thank the members of the high school Varsity Club who served as ushers and to express its appreciation to the Winchester Star for its generous coverage of these events.

LINCOLN SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Greater appreciation of the culture of other lands was the aim of a delightful assembly program presented by the first graders in Mrs. Mary Buckley's class recently. The inspiration for this attempt to extend the mental horizons of the youngsters at the Lincoln School came from two sources—from Juliet Schueck, who had attended school in Germany and who taught her classmates some of the kindergarten songs that she had learned there; and from Mrs. Buckley, who, after her year in Japan, had many things to tell the pupils about her travels in that country.

Regina Harwood was the efficient program announcer. For the first number, Juliet Schueck led the group in a German song, the tune of which is a familiar walking song. Mrs. Schueck, who is a native of Germany, has contributed many interesting songs that she has learned from home that helped to illustrate the theme of Japanese living—beautiful kimonos, fans, hats, parasols, dolls, and lanterns.

In preparing the Japanese portion of the assembly, the youngsters brought in many items from home that helped to illustrate the theme of Japanese living—beautiful kimonos, fans, hats, parasols, dolls, and lanterns.

John Queen was the lucky boy who announced the gay dance by the geisha girls—Ellen Buchanan, Juliet Schueck, Regina Harwood, Betsey Moore, Kathleen Barrow, Eileen DiMaggio, Marilyn Zimmerman, Janice Leighton, Diane Wood, and Anne Cullinan. Dancing with them were James Woodward, Philip Pizzo, Mark Donahue, Kenneth Garvey, Scott Jeffery, John Queen, Gary Whitlock, Albert Oliveira, and Ronald Marcy.

Next on the program came the spring rain song, "Ammi, Ammi," announced by Betsey Moore, clad in an attractive kimono. James Woodward announced the story of "Motozato, the Peach Boy," a typical Japanese fairy tale with an exciting conclusion.

The program closed with the song, "Po, Po, Po," which told of how a child feeds the pigeons. Scott Jeffery was the announcer. After this Mrs. Buckley showed some of her slides of typical children and groups of Japan.

So successful was this experience in learning about the ways in which other people live, that some members of the class are looking forward to the day when they too can visit these countries. For everyone came a greater appreciation of that fact that people everywhere enjoy music, dancing, story-telling, and family happiness in much the same ways.

METHODIST MINISTER TO SPEAK ON PROBLEM OF ALCOHOLISM

This coming Sunday morning, Rev. John Snook, Jr., Pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, will deal with what many medical men and psychiatrists are suggesting is one of the greatest problems of our country today, namely, the problem of alcoholism.

Since a number of leading men in these fields believe that the church has a part to play in helping to solve the problem, Rev. Snook has spent several weeks in research and will present the subject stressing four points. First he will give a brief account of the effect of the drinking problem out of history. Then he will deal with the situation individually. Thirdly, out of statistics from a number of sources, the pastor will give present day approaches to the problem. Finally, he will deal with the responsibility of the church.

The service Sunday morning begins at 10:45. Claron Swonger of Tufts was among the place winners in the quadrangular track meet recently at Tufts in which the participants were Tufts, Rhode Island State, Northeastern and Boston College. Swonger placed in the two mile. Rhode Island nipped Tufts for first place.

RALPH H. BONNELL
BONNELL HEADS
STATE G. O. P.

Ralph H. Bonnell of 21 Arlington street, former Chairman of the Board of Selectmen and present Planning Board Chairman, was on Monday, elected chairman of the Massachusetts Republican State Committee by the decisive vote of 56-23 over the previous chairman, Elmer C. Nelson of Mendon.

Mr. Bonnell, who heads Bonnell Motors, Winchester distributor of Ford automobiles and trucks, will serve the G.O.P. in a dual capacity, continuing in the position of national committeeman of the party as well as assuming the job of steering the Massachusetts State Committee.

The election of Mr. Bonnell was considered a victory for Lt. Governor Sumner W. White, who is to be the G.O.P. gubernatorial standard-bearer in the fall. The Lt. Governor had asked Mr. Bonnell to take the chairmanship of the State Committee so that he could work with a man favorable to his candidacy.

Mr. Bonnell stated his preference had been to remain as a national committeeman and to by-pass the state chairmanship.

Mr. Bonnell asked for the full cooperation of the 80 members of the State Committee, stressing the need for hard work by the individuals in their own districts during the next few months. Before his election he had outlined plans for a vigorous get-out-the-vote drive at the precinct level.

Mr. Bonnell succeeded Sinclair Weeks, Secretary of Commerce, as national committeeman in 1953. He was a loyal supporter of the late Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, before and during the 1952 convention, and until his election as national committeeman in 1953 had served as chairman of the Republican State Committee's executive committee.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW FOR RAY HAYWARD

On the evening of June 16th, at 8:00 p. m. a unique vaudeville show will be held at Winchester High School. Instead of this show being directed by Mr. Ray Hayward, it will be performed for him. The sole purpose of everyone involved, performers as well as spectators, will be to give honor and tribute to this teacher who is retiring from Winchester High School this June and who has endeared himself to all as a very fine teacher and friend. Since Mr. Hayward is not in any way directing this performance, it must be proclaimed right here and now that the usual professional-like smoothness associated with his shows at Winchester High will be undeniably lacking, but we hope that the enthusiasm, warmth, and good-hearted spirit of all involved will more than compensate for any errors which are made. The key-note of the entire evening is one of enjoyment and entertainment with a few chuckles added to make the night a joy to all, and to Mr. Hayward especially, one he will long remember and cherish.

Many of the acts will bring back happy memories. Although a number of acts of former years as well as recent ones are already lined up, we hope that others, upon reading this article, will immediately contact Bob Horne at Winchester 5-0689-W or better still, attend the meeting to be held at 8:00 Sunday night, May 27, 6 Reservoir street. The gaiety of the show itself will flow over into the final portion of the evening which will be a very informal reception to be held at the Winchester Gymnasium. There home-made refreshments will be served while an opportunity will be given to all to express their good wishes to Ray Hayward, and at least in some small way show him their affection and esteem.

EN KA STREET FAIR

Tonight the Annual En Ka Street Fair opens—the time is from 6-10 p. m. A gay and "out-of-this-world" mood will prevail. At the Fair Grounds, Mrs. Paul Forester and her committee will be busy cooking sizzling hot dogs. The Snack Bar under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Breton will be ready with coffee and doughnuts. Other booths open Friday night are: Popcorn, Candy, Ice Cream, Tonic, and Books.

Church bells will announce the opening of the big day—Saturday, the 26th. Children and grown ups should be on hand at 9:30 a. m. for the spectacular "Out of this World" parade. It will include: High School Cheerleaders, High School Band, Eagle Scouts who will raise the flag at Opening Exercises, the P.A.L.S. District Nurses, one group representing the Hospital, one group of Sports Cars and a Fire Engine driven by Mr. Theodore Chilcott.

On Saturday, plan to have your picture taken by an expert and developed for you on the spot. Mrs. William Hickey will be in charge of this feature. If its your fortune or turtles you want, go to Mrs. Thomas Downes' booth. There will be grabs for the children and of course, balloons. Delectable home-made fudge will be on sale at the Candy Booth headed by Mrs. George Marks. Noon time snacks include toasted lobster salad rolls, chicken salad sandwiches and various sandwiches which the children love. If you can spend the evening at the Fair, have a delicious home cooked dinner at the Baptist Church and then plan to attend the Dance at the Town Hall. Herbie Gardner's Orchestra will play from 8-11:30 p. m. The price of admission also includes a floor show complete with Dixieland Music!

ROCHE — REESE

Mrs. John H. Reese of 46 Rawson road, Arlington, announce the marriage of her daughter, Lillian, to Mr. Paul H. Roche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Roche of 32 Wesley street, on Saturday, April 21, at a 9 o'clock Nuptial Mass at St. Agnes Church, Arlington.

The bride wore a formal gown of Dupioni Silk. The portrait necklace was outlined with an insert of Chantilly lace and the very full skirt, which swept into a cathedral train, was banded with two wide inscriptions of the same lace. Her finger-tip length veil was caught to a small pearl embroidered Dupioni silk cap and she carried a prayer-book.

Her honor attendant, Irene Reese, a cousin from Fall River, wore a mint green crystal gown. The close fitting bodice was fashioned with a wide neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The very full flared skirt was ballerina length. Her small veiled headpiece was dyed to match her gown, and she carried a matching closed parasol from which fell tiny yellow rosettes.

The groom's best man was his brother, Charles D. Roche, Jr., of Winchester. Ushers were Kenneth Donaghey of Winchester, and Vernon Slack of Arlington.

Mr. Roche and his bride honeymooned at Nantucket Island for two weeks, and are now living in Arlington.

OVERHEAD TIME TABLE

The Board of Selectmen has received a new schedule of tentative dates that the C. J. Maney Company is making every effort to meet in connection with the overhead railroad construction through town.

July 3, complete peat excavation at Black Ball for construction of the diversionary highway and the Woburn Loop of the B & M Railroad.

September 1-15, close the By-pass at Swanton street.

October 7, open Bacon street underpass to traffic.

December 1, operate Woburn Loop trains on the upper level.

December 8, complete Rotary in the center. Open Common street Bridge underpass.

December 9, open Diversionary Highway across Black Ball Pond to traffic.

December 19, open Swanton st. underpass to traffic.

December 26, open Bacon street underpass to traffic.

The Maney Company stressed in its letter to the Selectmen, that the dates mentioned are tentative and dependent upon the weather to a great extent. The company is especially happy to advance the opening of the Bacon street underpass, originally scheduled for April 1, 1957, to about December 26 of this year.

The contractor is making every effort to minimize the traffic problems created because of the overhead construction through town, indeed have the State and Railroad engineers. They have been successful to a marked degree and the Star has heard nothing but praise of their handling of a particularly difficult job.

Shipment Of Anti-Polio Vaccine
Arrives For Public Distribution

Although the Winchester Board of Health applied to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health for its allotment of vaccine over two months ago, the first shipment was received this week. Because of the continued shortage of the material, only a portion of the allotment requested was received with the notation that another partial shipment would be sent at the earliest possible moment. However, it may be two weeks before this can be done.

Dr. Samuel B. Kirkwood, Commissioner of Public Health, has requested that all physicians and clinics use this vaccine for school children only. Children of preschool age and pregnant women are not eligible at this time to receive the polio vaccine even though they may have applied for shots.

In order to be fair to all concerned, the Winchester Board of Health has apportioned the material it has received this week in an equal distribution to all Winchester doctors and to the public clinics.

Children in kindergarten and grades up to the age of 15 years who have turned in signed parental slips are the only ones eligible to receive the vaccine.

The shots will be started in the public clinics on Saturday, June 2, 1956 in co-operation with the school department in the following manner:

9 a.m. to 12 noon: Children from George Washington School, Mt. Mary's School and Lincoln School will meet at the Lincoln School.

2 p.m. to 4 p.m.: Children from Parkhurst School, Mayfield Academy and Wyman School will meet at the Wyman School.

If an additional supply of vaccine has been received before June 9, the remaining clinics will be held as follows:

9 a.m. to 12 noon: Children from Mystic School, Junior High School and the High School will meet at the High School.

2 p.m. to 4 p.m.: Children from the Noonan School and Immaculate Conception School will meet at the Noonan School.

If a further supply is received, the pre-school children will be inoculated at the Board of Health Clinic later in the month. Watch the Star for further developments.

CHADWICK BILLS
MAKE PROGRESS
ON BEACON HILL

Two bills filed in the General Court by Representative Harrison Chadwick, are making progress toward enactment, the Winchester Star learned this past week.

A bill to regulate power boats on inland waters (House 1650) has been incorporated into an omnibus motor boat bill which was reported favorably by the Committee of Public Safety. The principles embodied in the original Chadwick Bill have been retained, and the bill is now before the House Committee on Ways and Means. Under the bill, power craft would have to be registered and the Department of Natural Resources would have the power to make and enforce regulations.

A Chadwick bill (House 1701) which would allow Massachusetts income taxpayers to carry capital losses over a number of years, has passed the House and now awaits Senate action.

Her veil was held in place by a small crown of net and lilies-of-the-valley, and she carried a cascade bouquet of the same flowers centered with a few sprays of stephanotis. White gladioli were used to decorate the church, and pink carnations and white stock decorated the home of the bride's parents for the reception which followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Theodore Wicks of Wilmington was the bride's only attendant. She wore a ballerina-length gown shaded taffeta gown and carried an arm bouquet of deep pink carnations, with a crown of the same in her hair. John M. Tozier of North Reading was best man for Mr. Scruton.

Mrs. Scruton is a graduate of Winchester High School and is employed at the branch office of the Winchester Trust Company. Mr. Scruton is a graduate of Medford High School and Northwestern University, and served with the U. S. Army in Korea. BELLINO TALLIES FOUR TIMES TO PACE INDIANS

Winchester High made it two straight over Woburn last Saturday afternoon, beating the Tanners 8-4 in their return game at Woburn. It was Winchester's 11th win in 12 games, and the third loss for the Orange in nine.

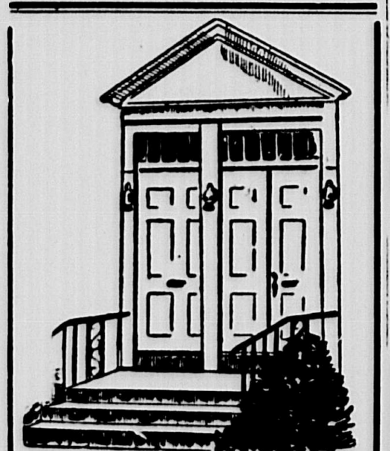

In addition to the satisfaction that always accompanies a win over its ancient rival, Winchester got the thrill of giving Woburn's left-handed side-arming ace, Paul Foley, his first defeat of the season.

Joe Bellino, closing out his three year career against Woburn, tallied four of Winchester's runs, belted out a triple and a single, walked twice and reached on a fielder's choice in five trips to the plate.

STATEMENT

April 18, 1956

Ron Roberts was the big RBI man for the Indians, twice driving in Bellino and Roger Symmes. Renny Johnston started for Winchester and after giving up two runs in the first, held Woburn in check until the 7th when the Tanners again tallied twice, on Murphy's single, a walk to Castiglione, a one-shot by Paul Foley, and McElhinney's infield out.

Winchester had pulled up to a 6-2 lead in their half of the 7th on singles by Bellino and Symmes, followed by Ron Roberts second safety, good for two runs.

Trailing 6-4, the Tanners opened the 8th in impressive fashion. McGilvray singled and only a great play by Roger Symmes on Haggerty's grounder behind second got the runner at first with McGilvray moving up.

McDonough walked, and with the tying run on first Coach Provinzano called on big John Chapin to put out the fire. The ace right hander did just that, forcing DiTucci to hit into a double play, and holding Woburn hitless in the 9th.

Winchester really iced it in the top of the 9th. Bellino walked, and both he and Symmes were safe when Haggerty threw wildly on Roger's sacrifice bunt. Bellino went to third on the play and scored on Roberts fly to left. Jim McElhinney tripled in Symmes with the final run.

Bellino blasted his terrific triple to deep right field in the 5th with the score 3-2. The well-field prevented any roll or the blow would have been an easy home run. Ron Roberts doubled Bellino home. A walk, an error, a single and a tally on a run-down gave Winchester three in the first. The summary:

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Town Softball League sponsored by the Park Department and directed by Frank Provinzano opened last week. The defending champions, V.F.W., defeated the Holy Name Society, 16-2. Homeruns for the victors were slammed by Angie Amico, Joe Farrell and Tom Condon. Saunders pitched effectively for the Vets, fanning six batters. Goodnow was the big stickler for the losers with a double and homer as a part of his three safeties.

The Jokers finally edged the Sachems in the last inning 11-10. Bert Keenland connected for a homer for the Sachems. Bill Sipp was the big man at the plate for the Jokers with two triples. His first one came with bases loaded and his second with DiSilva on base, won the game in the last stand.

Caldyne won its first victory by defeating the Mid-Town Caterers, 10-5, scoring two in the sixth and four more in the last frame. Saunders with a double and Shedy with a homer were the big hitters for Caldine. Garcia homered for the Caterers.

The aggressive Dineen's Grocery defeated last year's runner-up, the S.O.I., by a 7-2 score. This was the first defeat in the opening game for the S.O.I., since they have entered the Town Softball League back before World War II. The S.O.I. did not field its strongest unit but did not take credit away from the Dineen's. This is the team to watch this year. They were formerly the Royal Spas, are young experienced and handling. Dave Dalton homered with Kenton on in the third to put the Grocers in the lead 5-0.

This week Holy Name defeated the S.O.I. in a closely fought game by a 1-0 score, and on the same evening the up and coming Caldine organization defeated the Grocers, 4-3, to put them in a double tie for first place. Another closely played contest was played between the V.F.W. and Conlon's Jokers with the V.F.W. finishing on the better end of a 9-8 score.

WINCHESTER TRACK TEAM BEAT WOBURN

64-13 VICTORY LEFT LOCALS UNDEFEATED IN DUAL MEETS

Winchester High concluded its dual meet season undefeated by winning from the Woburn High track and field forces Monday afternoon on Manchester Field 64-13. Woburn had no entries in the high and low hurdles, javelin and discus so these events were omitted. The win gave the Aberjona Indians nearly a clean sweep of this year's athletic competition with Woburn, the Tanners, taking only the hockey game while bowing in football, basketball, baseball and track.

In Monday's meet Woburn got only two first places. Joe Upton just did nip Winchester's Stratton on the tape in 56.2s in the quarter and incidentally was the only Tanner to live up to his advance billing.

Warren Noyes, as expected, won the shotput, but with a heave far below his usual distance, getting the ball out 45 ft. 5 1/2 in., only a so-so performance for him. Winchester swept the sprints, half mile and mile, as well as both jumps, and took the relay in 1 m 37s. The summary:

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Camp Joy is just around the corner!

Plans are well underway for the day camp under the supervision of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts. Camp folders have been mailed to each registered Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Scout. These should be returned to the office next week. The health card and camp fee should be brought to camp on opening day.

Our local equipment agency, Filene's, has a camp window this week, featuring some of the hand-craft done at camp, together with camp equipment and uniforms. Mrs. James Stewart, chairman of the camp committee, needs a Brownie unit leader for the four weeks of camp. Anyone interested please call Mrs. Stewart, or the office.

A very happy occasion was celebrated at the Cabin last Monday when 45 Brownies became Intermediate Scouts.

The Brownies marched into the cabin led by a color guard of Girl Scouts; Nola Carucci, Marilyn Mezziate, Connie Littleton and Barbara Stewart. After the Pledge of Allegiance and America the Beautiful, the guard retired and the Brownies sang a "final" Brownie Smile Song.

Brownie Scout Wings were presented by their Troop Leaders: Mrs. George Winterson, Troop 19 of St. Mary's School, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Troop 50 of Mystic School and Mrs. Donald Dalrymple of Troop 51, Mystic School. Assistant leaders, Mrs. George Callahan of Troop 19 and Mrs. A. Raymond Boudreau of Troop 51, introduced the Brownies to Mrs. James Stewart and Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Board members of the Winchester Council, who welcomed them to scouting as they presented each with the long awaited and cherished Girl Scout pin.

Refreshments were served to parents and friends who were present to wish these new Girl Scouts many happy years in Scouting.

For the past four weeks, a group of 39 girls from five troops have been attending a course in Conservation, at the Cabin, under the leadership of Mr. James R. Stewart, Jr., assisted by Mrs. James R. Stewart, Mr. Lawrence, and Mr. Richard C. Chase.

This course is one of the main requirements for earning the Curved Bar Award, the highest achievement in Intermediate Scouting. Two hours each Saturday were earnestly spent in observation trips through the Fells, lectures, actual planting of a cover crop of wild honeysuckle on the rain-washed banks of the Cabin approach, ending in an examination.

The graduates included: Troop 8, Susan Aherm, Shirley Bingham, Sue Ellen Chase, Paula Collins, Alice Dunn, Lynda Howes, Sidne Lewis, Bonnie MacLellan, Cindy Stewart, Christie Trump, and d Lynne Watson. Troop 9, Dorah Eddy and Dorothy March. Troop 10, Marilyn Beckley, Nola Carucci, Linda Chase, Ann Dyson, Martha Maloney, Betsy Root, Barbara Stewart and Libby Symmes. Troop 38, Mary Kay Fortiere, Mary Jo Hanley, Judith Hessian, Ann Hurley, Vivian Keliher and Ann Marie Ryan. Troop 60, Jeanne Chase, Jean Denton, Carlene Hatchell and Jackie Kline.

Several members of Girl Scout Troop 26, of Parkhurst School, held a Dog Show at 5 Penn road last Saturday morning. Jayne Armstrong was the chairman and organizer of the program. Though none of the interesting variety of dogs had been to Dog School, each performed one or more tricks, behaving admirably. The following were shown:

Missy, Pug, shown by Joan Wilson

Chippy, Belgian Shepherd, by Pamela Towle

Buttons, Dachshund, by Barbara Walsh

Sandy, Cocker, by Alta Merritt

Duchess, English Setter, by Sandra Simpson

Yankee, Scotch Collie, by Jayne Armstrong

Other entries were Coco, English Spring Spaniel shown by Martha Dodge; Swanie, a Farm Collie, shown by Janet DeSilva; Freckles, a Beagle, and Suzie, a French Poodle, were shown by Larry Archibald.

The judges, Scotty Wilde, Rod Gay and Skeets Whittaker, gave close attention to each entry's performance and decided that Coco was best in Obedience. In the puppy class, Yankee and Swanie tied for "Cutest Pup."

Graduation exercises for Intermediate Girl Scouts will take place at the Cabin next Monday evening, May 28, at 8 p.m. Friends and parents are urged to attend this important occasion.

ST. MARY'S CYO DANCE

St. Mary's CYO will hold a Moon-O-Glow dance on Tuesday evening, May 29, in St. Mary's Hall.

Well known radio disc jockey Truman Taylor will spin the platter to please his patrons.

Miss Ann Porcaro is chairlady for the music committee. Dick Gibbons is chairman of the ticket committee. Cathy Doherty is advertising artist and director of publicity. Terry Stowe is president of the organization and assures a good time for all who attend.

EDITORIALS

It is to be hoped that the high school youngsters racing their parents automobiles along route 128 after a recent school function at a rate of speed reported as high as 90 miles an hour, just happened to read Chief Harrold's warning to speeders printed in last week's Star. Not because of any fear they might have of punitive action by parents, police or registry. Such punishment seldom seems to catch up with our young people nowadays! Rather we hoped they might see the Chief's letter and perhaps wonder if their thoughtless racing at such terrific speed wasn't a mistake. If only the driver paid the penalty in the event of an accident resulting from excessive speed, that would be bad enough, but so often passengers, who have little or nothing to say about the rate of speed of the car in which they are riding, are killed or injured along with the speed-happy operator. There is no second chance when a car going 90 miles an hour leaves the road or is involved in a collision, and the time to realize this cold fact is before you undertake to reach that speed at the wheel. High School graduation is coming up. There will be driving after most of the functions that are a part of the commencement exercises. Why not drive sanely on those trips out of town for a late snack. Have a care for your own, and your friends lives!

Do you ever watch the $64,000 Question on TV? If you do, haven't you thrilled to the accomplishments of Stephen Froelich, a Czech immigrant, in the field of American History, Michael Della Rocca, in the field of Grand Opera and Bill Pearson in the field of Art.

How many of us, with high school and college degrees, could name the chief justices of the Supreme Court as did Mr. Froelich; how many could give the composers, the dates and places of opening of some of the little known operas as did the Italian cobbler, Mr. Della Rocca? How many, at any cultural level, could equal or eclipse the knowledge of Fine Art exhibited by the little jockey, Billy Pearson, who on Sunday identified correctly the creators of three pieces of cubist art, two of which were practically identical, yet done by different artists.

The knowledge displayed by these three men, no one of which is an educated man in the generally accepted sense of the word, shows what can be accomplished through great interest and intense application. True knowledge does not necessarily depend upon formal education. Many a self-educated man could put to shame others with academic degrees. Desire has been his driving force.

Stephen, Michael and Billy are pointing up to our young high school graduates what can be accomplished by interest and the will to learn. Seeing these men on TV, who would deny that their reward, both spiritual and monetary, has been great!

IN APPRECIATION

Editor of the Star:

On behalf of the victims of cerebral palsy, we wish to extend sincere thanks for the very generous response to our recent request for funds to the following:

The people of Winchester for their whole hearted generosity and courtesy.

The editor and staff of the Star for their courtesy and help in publicizing the campaign.

The many businessmen, both large and small, for permitting us to place contribution receivers in their respective offices and stores.

The Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs for their help.

Mr. Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank, who served as Treasurer throughout the drive, and gave so generously of his time and the facilities of his bank.

And last, but above all, to the one hundred and eleven (111) teenagers who so willingly and earnestly volunteered to go from house to house, street by street to bring in the necessary funds. Without their spontaneous and generous help we could not have attained our goal.

P.S.: Following are the teenagers who collected through the town.

MYSTIC SCHOOL TEACHERS' LUNCHEON

The fourth and final teachers' luncheon of the year was held Wednesday, May 16th, at the lovely home of Mrs. Richard Maguire of 20 Ridgefield road.

The principal of Mystic School, Mr. Joseph Forte, the secretary, Mrs. Maud Dover, and the fourteen teachers were present. As is customary at the closing luncheon, the superintendent of schools, Dr. Harry Gilson, and all the supervisors were invited. Mrs. Nicholas Grant, the retiring president of the Mystic Chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association, the incoming president, Mrs. Wayne Davis, were present, as well as Mrs. Dana Kelly, chairman of teachers' luncheons.

Gay spring flowers and chatter of summer vacation plans dispelled the gloom of the gray day. A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Maguire and her excellent committee consisting of Mrs. William Hickey, Jr., Mrs. John Farnum, Mrs. Harry Arlanson, Mrs. Joseph Lynch and Mrs. Lowell Crocker.

LINCOLN SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Santos of Stone avenue were hosts on Thursday evening, May 10, to committee members of the Lincoln School Dads' Club and the Washington School Dads' Club. The purpose behind this cooperative get-together is the Lincoln-Washington Jamboree. The jamboree is now scheduled for June 2nd, Saturday.

The field day will follow the general events of last year's program. There will be ice cream and soft drinks for all the school children. So why don't you plan to bring the whole family and a lunch and have a real lot of fun. There will be something doing from about 10:00 a. m. until approximately 3:30 p. m. Races for all grades and several Tugs of War are planned. There will be more meetings of the two school program committees before the big day and details will be passed on to you.

It is hoped that the weather man will be with us and if he is, the Jamboree should be an even bigger success for the children than it was last year.

MEMORIAL DAY

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King, Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, today urged motorists and pedestrians using the Commonwealth's highways over Memorial Day to be particularly attentive to traffic conditions and safety regulations.

Traditionally, Memorial Day is dedicated to the memory of our dead and in many of our communities public services and appropriate ceremonies will be conducted. The solemnity of this holiday should not be disrupted by willful or careless disregard for highway safety.

Parades and processions attract countless pedestrians and bicyclists who are urged to be extremely cautious of traffic hazards. Motor vehicle operators are asked to extend every courtesy and consideration to these highway users.

THE SENIOR FORUM

The 19th Annual Closing Banquet of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church, held on last Sunday night, brought to close another active year of this group. 270 Forumites and their parents enjoyed a delicious supper, planned by Mrs. George Niles and her committee. During the supper the group enjoyed singing led by Renny Johnston, with Mr. Allen O. Eaton, accompanying; Allan Osborne, as Forum President, greeted the guests; Mr. McHenry Browne, Forum Superintendent, congratulated Forum on the fine quality of its program this year and asked Mr. Gilman Wallace to tell a little about the history of Forum; and Dr. Cart had a special message and gift for each member of the Senior Class.

After the tables were cleared away a program of entertainment was presented by the young people which gave a review of the year's activities in the form of a "This Is Your Life" for Mr. Mallory. Mr. Mallory was asked to sit on the stage and witness the highlights of the past year dramatized by the Forumites, in which they revealed their appreciation of his guidance, understanding and friendship.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Gowdy were introduced as the new Superintendent of Forum for the coming year, and the following slate of officers was elected for 1956-57: President, Bill Mason; Vice President, Norma Crockett; Recording Secretary, Joan Thompson; Corresponding Secretary, Mary Lou Schumacher; Treasurer, Bob Kugler; Assistant Treasurer, Bill Emerson. The Student Council members will be Gretchen Mueller and Henry Schumacher. Junior Class: Sue Mallory and John Curtis; Sophomore Class; and Betsy Schaefer and Philip Nichols, Freshman Class.

A sincere farewell message was given by the retiring president Allan Osborne, and the evening followed with a friendship circle and benediction by Dr. Cart.

The great deal of credit is due the over-all chairman, Penny Branning and Bob Kugler, and the entertainment chairman, Sally Kimball, for the success of the evening. Credit is also due to Bunny Browne for the attractive mimeographed program. Mr. McHenry Browne surprised all with an amusing tableau of "Forum Flashbacks" which included some very unexpected pictures of Forumites in various poses with most appropriate comments.

GOOD EARLY COLOR

IN THE HOME GROUNDS

By Max G. Fultz
(Middlesex County Agricultural Agent)

The delayed season has been responsible for some very definite advantages in the home grounds. Along with all of the disadvantages, delayed growth, delayed lawn seedings, delay in planting flowers have been very disappointing, to say the least. An occasional day of warm sunshine, however, has done wonders in bringing out the green in the last week or so.

The color of early flowering shrubs showing up gratifyingly in fashion against this green as it develops. The golden color of forsythia has been very persistent and the blossom has been with us for a long time. Due perhaps to the general below-normal temperature, the blossoms have not deteriorated and have kept their freshness in very good fashion. To the forsythia has gradually been added flowering quince and aucuba. Some spruce is showing. Apple blossom is with us and flowering crab trees are coming into blossom. Lilac buds are becoming prominent and it seems the realm of possibility that they may open while some forsythia is still in the picture. It must be realized, however, that a little heat with some heavy winds would cause the older blossoms to fall and lose their effect very rapidly.

In regard to those new lawns that were seeded after the usual Patriot's Day deadline, you should be sure to keep the moisture constant throughout the summer. Lawn grasses are slow to germinate and to get underway, and the grass is very tender. Severe periods of heat and drought will ruin the stand of grass. It would be suggested that any who have prepared for a lawn and not seeded should sow a temporary grass and seed the permanent lawn in September. Fall is the most successful time for establishing new lawns.

ST. MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB

On Thursday evening, May 17, at 8:00 p.m., the Mothers' Club held their First Fashion Show.

Fashions were presented by Chandler & Co., of Boston and Belmont. The clothes shown were simply beautiful with lovely furs and accessories added to each costume. The entire audience received the models and clothes with warm enthusiasm and continued applause.

We have received many calls complimenting Miss Loretta W. Tierney, Fashion Commentator for Chandeliers, for the excellent manner in which she conducted the show.

Music was supplied by Thomas W. Deechan, with a delightful choice of selections that were very pleasing to hear.

Patricia Brennan entertained us during intermission with solos and her beautiful voice was enjoyed by all.

We are also very appreciative and thankful to Converse Florist who kindly donated 12 exquisite orchid corsages for our models. The various colors blended and added much to our formals. Converse Market also have our thanks for the tasty hot coffee that was served.

Widmer New York State Wines was another generous donor of appetizing wines and we are very grateful.

Artie Hardware "the Hardware Store that has everything" of Four Corners and North Woburn, donated our second prize of a steam iron. Thanks to Floyd Lever.

Macefield's lovely handmade earrings were received with pleasure. First National Stores were kind in donating cigarettes for the ladies.

Koko Boodakian is responsible for the luxurious oriental runners on our runway that so many women wanted to take home.

Winchester Conservatory again donated their tropical palm trees that we are always glad to have for our stage setting.

Dan Fortier and Dan Cotter arranged our stage with their attractive furniture. Thanks to both of them.

Elizabeth Arden's representative made up our lovely models with their cosmetics.

William Filene's were kind in sending us a door prize of cologne.

We are very appreciative. Foley the Florist was another donor of a very nice plant. Our appreciation to them.

Sally Cause offered a birthday cake certificate from Christie McDonald's. Thanks Sally.

Sister Superior Mary Vincent has been very cooperative and helpful during the past few weeks. We have all the Sisters at the convent to thank for their valued cooperation during this past year.

Reverend John M. Manion, our Pastor and Spiritual Advisor, who is responsible for our "St. Mary's Mothers' Club," has been extremely helpful in all our activities as well as our Fashion Show. Our heartfelt thanks to Father Manion.

Last, but not least, our sincere gratitude to Kay Fortier and Bernadine Bees our Co-Chairmen, who were very capable in planning our show.

To all the mothers who made our runway look so glamorous; to mothers who generously baked our "out of this world" desserts that everyone is still talking about; to the mothers who printed and planned our attractive programs; to our "glamour girls," the models, who were so professional one could not tell the difference; our hard working ticket committee who worked night and day selling tickets, for the good publicity we received, the pretty ushers, and for everything the St. Mary's Mothers' Club have another round of applause because we are so pleased and thankful that "Our First Fashion Show" was a success!

The Dows lived for many years in Pennsylvania, and while there learned the art of making Pennsylvania Dutch pottery. A display of their handwork is exhibited as part of the program. An actual piece of pottery is made as you watch. Pieces may be purchased after the program.

Children's Theatre in Winchester became an actuality on Saturday last. Eleven hundred strong, the children surged into the new High School Auditorium to see "Peter Pan," the first production of the Children's Theatre School presented by The Winchester Community Theatre, Inc.

What many people thought was impossible to accomplish in so short a time has been achieved due to the enthusiasm and talent of the children themselves, the creative ability and conviction of Mrs. Samoiloff, and the able assistance of Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Bower and Mrs. Daschbach and the cooperation and help of the entire staff and crew.

Of course, there are always humps and faults that a first performance presents, and the intermissions were too long, but the joy of the audience, the aftermath of youngsters playing "Peter Pan," "Tinker-bell" and "Pirates," at home, trying to fly like the "Darling Children," and the inquiries of many mothers as to the future of the group—leave no doubt as to the success of the venture and the need for such a project in Winchester.

Countess and Coffee Parties TO HIGHLIGHT YOUNG
REPUBLICAN CLUB MEETING

Next Monday, May 28th, at 7:30, the Young Republican Club of Winchester will hold an unusual evening of social-political interest. Mrs. Christine Panek, a Polish Countess who was a member of the Underground during the last war and who is now an active American Republican, will be the main speaker. Prior to this formal meeting, many of the members of the Club will be hosts for coffee and dessert.

Invitations for these open-house socials will be sent to all the members who are also asked to invite any friends. These parties have been planned by the entertainment chairman, Mrs. William Wilde, Jr. Anyone who wishes to offer his or her services or who wishes to learn the address of the nearest party may call her at Winchester 6-3622-M.

ROTONDI PETITION DISMISSED

Judge Nagle in Superior Court last Friday, dismissed the petition of Eugene B. Rotondi of 224 Forest street for a writ of mandamus to collect damages from Building Commissioner William B. Macdonald and to compel Mr. Macdonald to issue a permit for the construction of a house on Churchill road. The reason given by the court was that the petitioner had not exhausted his legal remedies in that he had not gone before the Board of Appeals.

You Can't Buy a FINER OIL BURNER

Search the heating world over—you can't buy a finer oil burner than Waltham. Waltham's "1960 Design" puts it years ahead—years ahead in combustion efficiency (Waltham burns the new "cat cracked" fuel without wasteful soot or smoke,) years ahead in comfort and convenience (no nerve-racking roar—quiet, steady heat,) years ahead in economy (annual savings of around 25% in years of field testing!) Most oil burners made today produce an irregular smoky flame. The smoke and soot (really only unburned oil) prove the inefficiency of those burners. The flame produced by the Waltham Jet Head burner is even, clean and 600° hotter than average. This super-hot flame is proof positive of wonderful Waltham efficiency. For the cleanest, quietest, most economical oil heat, make sure your burner's a Waltham!

The room will be dedicated as the Barker-Weld room, and will have in it the portraits of Dr. Stanley B. Weld of West Hartford and Dr. Creighton Barker of New Haven. The distinguished Dr. Barker has been secretary of the Connecticut Medical Examining Board, and has long held other medical administrative posts. Dr. Weld, naturally, is better known in Greater Hartford as a hard-working, conscientious and gifted obstetrician and gynecologist.

"The obstetrician normally plays a happier role in most of our lives than other medical specialists, because he is the bringer of life. Thus in the Hartford community there are hundreds, probably thousands of parents and children alike who feel a mild proprietary interest in Dr. Weld and his welfare. And it would be unfair to single him out merely for this, for there are other devoted and skilled obstetricians in the community. But to his role as obstetrician a whole lot more has been added. Dr. Weld has for many years been managing editor of the Connecticut State Medical Journal. He has been active in many professional societies, is the author of many professional papers, and for several years served as president of Hartford Hospital's medical and surgical staff. All this and babies, too.

"Congratulations to these two fine physicians. Too seldom does the medical profession turn from its task of healing to hold out, for all to see, members of the profession who are respected and loved by their professional brethren."

(Hartford "Courant," May 15)
Ed. Note: Dr. Weld is an old Winchester boy, native of the town, a graduate of Winchester High School, 1908, and Dartmouth College, class of 1912. His medical training was received at Harvard and Johns Hopkins. His brother, Ollis, lives in town on Winthrop street, and his wife is a former Winchester girl, Sarah (Sadie) Feller, whose parents, the G. A. Fellers, for many years resided on Bacon street.

HOSPITAL "FRIENDS" ANNUAL MEETING

Spring flowers indoors and out gave a gay welcome to members of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital who met again at the home of Mrs. Fulton Brown, Arlington street, for their annual meeting, Thursday, May 17.

Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig, the president, conducted the sixth annual meeting of this volunteer organization. Interesting and informal reports of the year's accomplishments were given by committee chairmen.

On this occasion, special tribute was also paid to the late Mrs. James B. Harlow who was, at the time of her death in February, vice-president of the Friends. Permanent recognition of her service and devotion to the hospital was read into the formal minutes of the meeting. A progress report of the Natalie Harlow Memorial Fund was also given.

As has been his yearly custom, Mr. Harlan Paine, Administrator of the Hospital, was present to acknowledge the gifts made to the Hospital by the Friends. Three wheel chairs, one anasthesia machine for the Obstetrical Department and two electric Hi-low beds have been purchased from the proceeds of the Friends 1955-56 benefit programs.

Chairman of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. Harlow Russell, presented the slate of officers for 1956-57. Officers elected are president, Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig; vice-president, Mrs. Frank B. Kelley, Jr.; recording secretary, Mrs. S. Bruce Clark; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William P. Coady; treasurer, Mrs. Warren D. Haley; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr.; and director for three years, Mrs. William F. Hickey. Continuing as directors are Mrs. Justin L. Anderson and Mrs. Donald L. Birchall.

Following the business meeting, tea was served by Mrs. Claude W. Callahan and her committee, including Mrs. Robert W. Armstrong, Jr., Mrs. Frederick A. Cardin, Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox, Mrs. Chester Manimon, Mrs. John A. Maynard, Mrs. Miller E. Miller, Mrs. David H. Walton and Mrs. Rogers G. Welles.

LAST CALL FOR THE SIDEWALK SHOW

On June 2nd, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. artists from Winchester and surrounding towns are having their first sidewalk show. This is sponsored by the Winchester Art Association and will be held at the high-wire fence at Manchester Field at the high school.

A very active committee has been working on the project the past six weeks and it is hoped that there will be a large number of persons interested not only to exhibit but to view the show and buy.

The pictures can be in any medium and any size. They can be framed or unframed. It is hoped that they will be nominally priced but this is left entirely to the artist.

There will be a small registration fee and a small commission asked to take care of the show's expenses. Ceramics will also be shown and for sale. Artist will bring their pictures at 9:00 a. m. on June 2nd, and pick up any not sold at 5:00 p. m.

For further information call Mrs. John Carr, Winchester 6-1013 or any member of the committee.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY NAMED NEW MEMBERS

Twenty-one members of the Class of 1956 and eight pupils from the Class of 1957 were honored at a high school assembly last Friday morning, when they were inducted into the Aberjona Chapter of the National Honor Society. At an impressive ceremony conducted by President Christina Page and other Senior members, Acting Principal John D. Stevens announced the names of the newly elected pupils.

Later, the student body was privileged to hear an address by Mr. Dana Cotton, Director of Placement at the Harvard Graduate School of Education and a member of the Board of Admission of Harvard College.

Membership in the National Honor Society, long recognized as one of the highest honors a school may bestow upon its students, is limited to no more than 5 per cent of the junior class and 20 per cent of the senior class. In order to be eligible for election a pupil must stand in the upper third of his class scholastically; but, in addition, he must rank high in the qualities of Character, Leadership, and Service.

In determining the final selection from the list of eligible candidates, the results of student and teacher polls are carefully weighed by a faculty committee. The task of the committee was unusually difficult this year because of the large number of candidates who met all of the requirements.

As the principal speaker of the assembly, Mr. Cotton emphasized the responsibility that each of us has for his own future and for that of society. "The kind of world we shall live in," he said, "depends primarily on the kind of a job that we do today. It will not be achieved by timidity, indecision, and inaction. It will take the very best that we've got in initiative, enterprise, and sound judgment."

Again, stressing the importance of the individual, Mr. Cotton quoted President Eisenhower. The President has said that what we need is people, lots of them, who realize that what they think, and what they say, and what they do is of importance. Making a strong plea that students should make the most of their educational opportunities now, Mr. Cotton added, "How you spend your days at this high school and how you put what you have learned into action is of utmost importance."

Following the assembly program, the mothers of the National Honor Society members who were chosen last year entertained the entire group at an informal reception in the Keene Memorial Library.

ONE OF FINEST!

The skies cleared and the sun shone brightly for the Winchester Home and Garden Club's "Merry Musical Flower Show and Plant Exchange" held in open homes on May 16.

Well over 300 ladies enjoyed both an amusing and beautiful day viewing the many flower arrangements depicting song titles and taking advantage of the Plant Exchange, the club's desire to encourage horticultural interest in exchanging (at a very nominal price) perennial divisions from the many private gardens belonging to club members in Winchester.

As a beautiful ending to the day's event, Mrs. James Jenks opened her home on Myopia Hill rd. where tea was enjoyed in the dining room and punch on the terrace, where her spacious grounds and extraordinary view of the distant Mystic Lakes afforded everyone complete relaxation and pleasure.

Flower arrangements illustrating song titles were as follows: "Love is a Many Splendid Thing" by Mrs. Frank Robinson; "Easter Parade" by Mrs. Percy Bugbee; "Memories are Made of This" by Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl; "Spring" by Mrs. Alexander P. Aitken; "Three O'clock in the Morning" and "Younger Than Springtime" by Mrs. Dudley Kimball.

"After the Ball is Over" by Mrs. Edward Mansfield; "Let's Look At" and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" by Mrs. Herman Shane; "From the Sea," "Hawaii Calls," and "Side by Side" by Mrs. Herbert T. West.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB CONCERT

On Saturday evening, May 12, at the Winchester Junior High School Auditorium, the Mystic Glee Club presented its sixteenth annual spring concert. A program of well balanced variety was enthusiastically received by a responsive audience.

The program was divided into two parts.

Part I: Holy Lord of All, by Francis Williams; My Shepherd Will Supply My Need, by Virgil Thompson; O Filii et Filiae, by A. T. Davison; Morning Hymn, by I. G. Henchel.

The first four selections were of a religious nature opening with the impressive "Holy Lord of All." Musically and technically they were beautifully performed of professional status.

Perhaps the most outstanding number in this group was "O Filii et Filiae" for double chorus.

The guest soloist, Mr. Theodore Janner, violinist of considerable renown, played the next three selections, accompanied by Mr. Wendell S. Withington, music director of the Winchester schools.

Mr. Janner displayed his mastery of the viola (seldom used as a solo instrument) bringing out its rich mellow tone as a true artist. This was evident in the solid musicianship of the concerto, the sensitivity of "Beausoleil" and the agility of the "Hopak." The only criticism one could make would be that he did not play an encore.

Winchester is indeed fortunate in having Mr. Janner as a member of its music faculty.

The Glee Club returned to conclude Part I with the following: Wade in the Water, by Arthur Hall; El Arroyo, by F. Eduardo Fainini; Streets of Laredo, by Western Folk Song; Frederick Rolzelle, Baritone; If I Loved You, by Rodgers & Hammerstein.

This group offered a wide variety of songs—Negro, Spanish, Western and modern musical comedy—all well-sung in the appropriate styles. Although the audience enjoyed them all, "If I Loved You" seemed to have the most appeal.

Part II consisted entirely of music in a lighter vein which was enjoyed equally by glee club members and audience. From the immediate response which the popular

Two by Fours received, it was obvious that the audience as usual had been anticipating their skilled and witty performance. Their variations consisted of the following:

1. Sawing a Woman in Half
2. Ugly Woman
3. Mood Indigo
Encore: When I See All the Lovin'
Special mention should be made of Fred Rozelle's humorous rendition of the popular calypso "Ugly Woman."

The program closed with four selections by the Club:

Drinking Song (Student Prince), by Myron Rapoport; Sigmond Romberg; Bonny Eloise, by John Rogers Thomas; Arr. by Ralph Hunter and Robert Shaw; The Foggy, Foggy Dew, Arr. by Tom Scott; I've Got a Lovely Bunch of Cooanuts, Fred Heatherston; Arr. by Harry Simcoe.

The "Drinking Song" was sung with verity, verve and spirit. The Club is indeed fortunate in having two fine tenors as William Hopkins and Kendall Wright, soloists in Bonny Eloise. Particular mention should also be made of the baritone solo of Thomas Worthen in the well-loved American folk song, "The Foggy, Foggy, Dew." The humorous "I've Got a Lovely Bunch of Cooanuts" climaxed a most enjoyable evening not mentioning the rousing encore "Casey Jones" in which the audience joined in the Chorus.

All in all, audience comments revealed that this was one of the most appealing concerts, the group has presented in recent years. Mr. Lannom and the Glee Club are to be complimented on the professional quality of their work. Few amateur groups can equal them in technical excellence, fine diction and interpretation, and tone blending and shading.

Those who were not present at this performance missed a really worth while experience.

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART—III

("Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

This is the story of a heart beat. It's not a simple story.

Your heart is a four chambered pump, with two small chambers, the auricles, on top; and two larger ones—ventricles, beneath them.

The top and bottom chambers are connected by tiny valves, but the left and right sides are separate from each other. A maze of veins and arteries leads out from the top of the heart, to carry the blood—which the heart exists solely to pump to the system—in and out.

The left side of your heart takes oxygen-laden blood from the lungs; the right side takes "used" blood from all parts of the body. Both sides of your heart contract and expand—pump—at the same time within their common casting tissue.

When this happens, the left side of your heart is pumping oxygen-carrying "new" blood to the body and your right side is pumping "used" blood to your lungs to rid it of carbon dioxide and take on oxygen.

Here's what happens in one heartbeat:

Taking the right side first, the upper chamber (auricle) gets the charge of blood from your emptying veins and then contracts. Meanwhile, the lower chamber (ventricle) simultaneously expands so the blood is pushed and sucked through a connecting valve.

Just a fraction of a second later the filled-up right ventricle contracts. But instead of forcing the blood into the upper chamber, the connecting valve is now tightly closed and the blood is pushed through a second valve leading to the lungs. The blood comes in one door and goes out another. When it has left, that door in turn shuts so that the blood cannot return.

Over on the left side of your heart, the same kind of thing is happening: Blood empties from the lung-vein into the left upper chamber and passes through a mitral valve—to the lower chamber. The powerful left lower chamber jams shut this valve and propels the blood with great force out still another door—through the opening of the great artery which is the trunk-line of our arterial system.

PATENT TO NEWTON

Roger H. Newton of 26 Wedgmore Avenue, was the recipient on May 8, 1956, of U.S. patent No. 2,744,394, entitled "Separation Of Gaseous Mixtures By Fractionation."

In the transmission of natural gas through pipe lines there is a considerable economic loss by reason of the fact that there may be ten to fifteen per cent by volume of nitrogen in the gas. This nitrogen is an inert constituent that takes up pipe volume and requires pumping power. Thus it is very desirable that it be removed.

The conventional removal of the nitrogen from natural gas by the process known as "fractionation" involves the reduction of the pressure of the gas from its normal figure of about 1,000 pounds per square inch to about 550 pounds per square inch. In order to obtain efficient transmission of the gas through the pipe lines after separation of the nitrogen therefrom, it must be brought back to its pressure of about 1,000 pounds per square inch, a step that requires considerable energy. It should be noted that considerable energy is also required to hold down the over-head pressure.

To cope with this problem and provide an improvement over the prior practice, Mr. Newton has discovered a method of operation wherein the high pressure raw gas is fed at its source to the fractionation equipment and an extractant liquid, which may be a pentane product, is added continuously to the apparatus. The chemical reactions that follow result not only in the desired separation of the nitrogen from the natural gas but also in the recovery of other valuable components which are present in small quantities in the gas. These components are generally ethane, propane and butane.

It is claimed that the process of this invention reduces the cost of separating nitrogen from natural gas and thus affords economies in the pipe line transmission of natural gas which originally had a relatively high concentration of nitrogen.

Mr. Newton has assigned this patent to Badger Manufacturing Company, Cambridge, Mass.

ANNUAL K. OF C.
STATE CONVENTION HELD

Attending the recent three-day Knights of Columbus 61st annual State Convention held this year at the Wendell-Sherwood Hotel in Pittsfield were Grand Knight and Mrs. Vincent F. Erhard; Past Grand Knight and Mrs. James F. Mawn, Knight and Mrs. James F. Mawn, who were voting delegates; Alternate Delegate Philip Savage; Past State Warden George F. Young; President of the Winchester Fourth Degree Assembly and Chancellor of the local Council, Sam Vangelis; and James Coughlin, all of Winchester Council.

A reception was held in the main ballroom of the hotel on Friday evening, and the next morning all attended mass with Bishop Donaghy as Speaker. The Bishop, recently released from Communist prisons in China spoke glowingly of the sacrifices made there by native Chinese priests and asked the Knights to dedicate themselves once again to their Faith and to live it, whether in the office or the plant or at home. The noted Bishop declared that the Knights can defeat the communists by our prayers, our spiritual arms.

It was reported at the convention that membership in the K. of C. has increased by 2,312 over last year in the State totalling now 55,231 men. A total of $61,900.00 was turned over to Archbishop Cushing on May 1st, this year for the Kennedy Memorial Hospital, K. of C. children, Bishop Wright of Worcester, Bishop Weldon of Springfield and Bishop Connelly of Fall River were also recipients of monies for their dioceses. Members were urged to get behind the Red Cross Blood Donor program.

The Fourth Degree was praised for their work at the various functions of the Church and the Order and it was announced that seven new Councils have been instituted in the State, bringing this total up to 173. The Columbus Day Ball last fall at the Sheraton Plaza netted $17,000.00 for The Kennedy Memorial Hospital and it was reported the evening mass at the Cathedral in Boston with Bishop Sheen as celebrant attracted more than 4,500 people.

Ladies at the convention were guests of the Convention Committee at the Hotel for luncheon after which they were driven by several buses to points of interest in an around the Berkshires. Prayers were offered for deceased members of the Order and support pledged to Archbishop Cushing and Bishops of the State in the causes the latter endorse. Other Resolutions adopted were continued aid to deserving members of the Order who become hospitalized; to continue the Columbus Day Ball, the Track Meet at the Boston Garden and the Patriots Day Dinner.

The K. of C. recorded its opposition to the abuse of holidays by certain businesses, also the Sunday abuse by many establishments.

A highlight was the donation of the sum of $1,000.00 towards the rebuilding of Shadowbrook, the Jesuit Novariate in Lenox destroyed by fire a few months ago.

On Saturday evening, a banquet and ball was held at the Main Ball Room with Rt. Rev. George S. Conner, vicar General of the Springfield Diocese as key-note speaker. Sunday, the convention closed with the election of State Officers, Judge Spring being succeeded by James H. Norton, last year's State Secretary.

MUSIC "HOME STYLE"

On May 13, at the home of Mrs. Carl E. Thomas on Oxford Street, there was presented music of a different nature—music "home style." For centuries there was a wealth of home-made music. Then orchestras grew bigger and better, musical conducting became a profession, and people went to concert halls to listen to highly-trained performers. Home-made music declined and with the phonograph, radio and television taking its place it was unusual to hear live music in a home. Naturally school orchestras dwindled for lack of players and now the big symphony orchestras are feeling the same lack at the top level.

Fortunately there are always a few sturdy souls who like to make their own bread and do things themselves. There has come about a revival of interest in chamber music, musical ensembles without a conductor to be played in a chamber or room. More important is the growing desire to play that kind of music.

Each fall violin players of the town are invited by Mrs. Thomas to play together in her home, music composed for such occasions—for informal family groups. These ensemble sessions are a tiny part of the revival of live home music and it is to be hoped that by introducing children to music which can be played and enjoyed at home, they will eventually do it themselves.

The weekly sessions of thirty odd children could not be possible without the cooperation of parents furnishing transportation. Therefore a spring violin party at the end of each season is given in appreciation of their steadfast backing throughout the year. This performance for parents is not to be considered as finished. Rather, the interest lies in the music itself and the progress of a group from year to year.

Since rounds are a natural introduction to contrapuntal music (that is what chamber music is) and children can sing them, each group played at least one round.

The beginners, Betty Bowes, Alice Dyson, Patty Hammel, Mary Jackson, Mary Ann Johnson and Eleanor Kirby, showed how a round can be used to play in different keys, and played at sight a piece in three flats. They also played a Divertimento in canon form by Edith Lang and two songs arranged as a duet. Carol Coakley, Peggy Matson, Cathy Thomas, and Judy Towle were in this group all season but unfortunately could not attend that Sunday.

The juniors, Beverly Bailey, Doreen Cullen, Janet Cussen, Edith Gallitis, Mary Kathleen Hart, Paul Johnson, Susan MacFeeley, Linda Parsons, Jimmy Reid, Joan Segerstrom and Lloyd Stillman, played a lively duo by Mazas and showed their ability to play in various keys and rhythms music arranged for three and four voices, with cello and piano accompaniment. These were folk dances, a Sarabande by Handel, a Mozart minuet, and a Scotch dance by Beethoven. There was considerable milling around like the family coach game while the players took turns playing the tune and secondary parts. This added informality if not utter chaos. The children, at least, knew what they were doing.

The seniors, Mary Baker, Beverly Bonnell, Peter Bryant, Achsa Clark, Debby Eddy, Jane O'Malley, Gayle Porter, and Carl Segerstrom, played a more developed round by Weber and a more advanced duo by Mazas.

Our most serious composers had their lighter moments when they amused themselves by writing musical oddities. The seniors played two such novelties, a Mozart Mirror Canon or Crab Walk where the music is played upside down and right side up simultaneously, and a Minuet by Haydn in four parts played straight to the double bar and then, note by note, back again to the beginning. Puzzle fans please take note!

Because this is family music the seniors were happy in having three parents play violin with them, Mrs. W. J. O'Malley, Mr. Herbert Clark and Mr. Carl Segerstrom. Mrs. Hammel playing the piano with all three groups and Mrs. Carl Segerstrom the cello were also greatly appreciated.

To their own surprise and the delight of their children nine more parents were pressed into service for the last number on the program. This was the "Haydn Toy Symphony." It has recently been discovered that Leopold Mozart composed this delightful music scored for violins, cello, piano, and toy instruments.

Mr. Robert Eddy and Mr. Harry Baker tooted triumphantly on their little toy trumpets, Mr. S. J. Reid shook his rattles with gusto, and Mrs. Francis MacFeeley and Mrs. George Dyson performed on their triangles with scintillating effect. Mr. R. J. Kirby on the drum and Mrs. Francis Bowes and Mrs. Herbert Clark playing the quail and nightingale were a joy to behold, while Mr. Lynwood Bryant played the cuckoo part expertly and terminably. May we hope that the fun these parents had playing their toy instruments will result in more music "home style?"

NEWS FROM HINDESY!

The Star received this week a postcard from the "Grand Old Man of the Square," Dr. J. Churchill Hinde, of Stetson Hall, now visiting his son, Captain J. G. Hinde at Rhein-Main AFB in Germany.

"Doc" is thoroughly enjoying his stay in Europe and has been kept busy taking trips to points of interest inside and outside Western Germany.

His most recent trip was a two-day visit to Amsterdam, Holland, which he describes as a delightful city of a million population, having 84,000 bicycles, fine food and lots of water and flowers.

"Church" says the tulip fields of Holland beggar description and really have to be seen to be believed. He and his son returned to Frankfurt by train, along the Rhine, finding the trip both historically interesting and very beautiful.

Rush for Ray's Show . . .

Testimonial Vaudeville June 15

There are two magic words in Winchester, and they are Ray Hayward!

Upon hearing about the coming vaudeville show and reception in Mr. Hayward's honor Friday night, June 15, people of all ages have gladly volunteered their time and abilities for this important event. Some have offered their talents for the performance itself, while others have offered their time and skills for the many duties connected with the evening's entertainment.

Many former actors of previous shows, going back as far as 1932 and '33, have readily stepped forward to do their acts again on this night, and distance is no barrier as they come from points north and south and as far west as New York. This in itself, is an inspiring tribute to this popular teacher.

Anyone reading the program on June 15, will smile in eager anticipation when he sees listed the number of well known headliners of former vaudeville acts. In regard to programs, we are hoping that some of the Star readers who have saved the covers of their programs of Winchester Vaudeville shows of former years, especially before 1947, will be willing to leave them at the Star office as soon as possible, so that they may be used in making a memorial program for this occasion.

Seats are unreserved for the June 15 performance, and all tickets are marked at $1.50 each, but we hope that those who go will consider this just a starting price, as donations will be gladly accepted. All proceeds of this vaudeville show will be presented to Mr. Hayward.

Tickets will be on sale Monday, June 4, at Bill Wilde's Insurance Office at 3 Thompson street, and, from what we have heard, anyone desiring tickets will have to hustle down there because everyone is keenly interested in making a great success of this night. In regard to back up our appreciation to a very sincere teacher who has helped so many people.

REPUBLICANS

The success of your Presidential, Congressional and state campaigns this Fall depends on your early financial support. A dollar now is worth two later.

We must have a Republican Congress to back our Republican President, and a Republican State Legislature to back our Republican Governor. It is not going to be easy and to be successful it will cost money.

The solicitation in Winchester is already underway. We must meet our quota by June 15th.

Give generously when called upon, or send directly to Mrs. Robert W. Reynolds, 58 Swan road, Winchester, Chairman of the Massachusetts Republican Finance Committee.

Edmund Chauncey Baugher, a long time resident of the Rangle section, died Thursday, May 24, at his home, 22 Rangle road, after a long period of failing health.

Mr. Baugher was the son of John F. and Eva (Winchester) Baugher. He was born in Cambridge, Maryland, May 25, 1871, and was educated at the University of Pennsylvania and at Johns Hopkins University, where he was a member of the class of 1895, majoring in electrical engineering. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

In 1896 he entered the employ of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and became superintendent of electrical construction while the Mount Royal Tunnel under Baltimore was being electrified. He joined the staff of the Westinghouse Electric Co. in 1898 and was sent to the Fair East as the company's commercial engineering representative in charge of sales and engineering in Japan, China and Korea, with headquarters in Tokyo.

Mr. Baugher remained in the far east nearly ten years, making five trips across the Pacific from Japan to the Westinghouse plant at Pittsburgh, returning on his last trip by way of the Suez Canal and Europe. Upon returning to the States he was assigned to the Boston and New York district offices of the Westinghouse Company, specializing in public utility syndicate problems affecting the company's business.

Mr. Baugher retired in 1950. He first came to Winchester in 1909 from Brookline, and, after an interval in East Orange, N. J., from 1917 to 1920, had lived here at his Rangleway address.

On November 5, 1907, Mr. Baugher married Laura Dixon, daughter of a Supreme Court Justice in New Jersey. She survives, with a daughter, Barbara Maudling, and a son, William P. Baugher, both of Winchester; also a grandson, Jon D. Maudling of this town.

LINCOLN-WASHINGTON JAMBOREE

Saturday, June 2, is the day the whole family has been waiting for—the 2nd Annual Lincoln and Washington School Jamboree will be held at Leonard Field, weather permitting. In the event of rain it will be postponed to Saturday, June 3.

The first ball will be thrown out at 10 a.m. to start the Mother Soft-ball game. This will be a complete day of fun and competition for all members of the family except pre-school children and grandparents. Following is the program:

Mothers—Softball Game
Children—Kindergarten through 6th Grade Races, Tag-of-War, 3 Legged Races, Sack Races and Wheelbarrow Races.
Please Note: Kindergarten girls must bring their doll carriages and 5th and 6th grade girls their jump ropes.

Come one, come all, come young and old and enter into the fun.

The big question—Who will hold the plaque during 1956-1957? As most of you will recall, Washington School won the first leg last year.

Don't let your school down. Be there as early as possible to lend your support. May the best team win.

Rain Mars Program . . .

Memorial Day Observed

Rain that fell intermittently from shortly before the nine o'clock starting time for the first of the two Memorial Day parades, and approached a downpour during the exercises at Calvary Cemetery and return march to the town hall, prevented Winchester's honoring its service dead of all wars according to the program arranged by Aberjona Post, 3718, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Some of the units, notably the Winchester High School Band and cheer-leaders, fell out of line on the return from Calvary Cemetery, soaking wet, and when the line of march finally broke up at the town hall grounds it was decided to ride to Wildwood Cemetery for the exercises there. The marchers were all pretty soggy at that point.

As a consequence, what is always the larger of the two parades, wasn't held at all, the marchers being transported to the cemetery in trucks, busses and private cars. Persons gathered at the War Memorial on the junior high school grounds waited for the parade to Wildwood to leave the town hall, but had to settle for a peek at Company G of Woburn riding by in their big service truck and the decorating of the War Memorial Statue by the Commanders of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Legion, "Al" Thorne and "Herb" Froberg. An escort of sailors from the Destroyer Forest Sherman acted as escort to the veterans, and echo taps were sounded by trumpeters of the Air Force Band.

Winchester's observance of Memorial Day commenced on Sunday, May 27, with the annual Memorial Service held this year at the Immaculate Conception Church. Detachments from the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars with their colors and color guards, marched to the church and occupied specially reserved pews. The church pastor, Rev. F. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, celebrated the mass and was also the preacher.

Promptly at nine on Memorial Day, the parade to Calvary started in the ever increasing rain. Past Commander Warren Bolivar of Aberjona Post, VFW, was parade marshal, with Past Commander John Horn, as aide.

The roster comprised a Police escort, Sgt. Irvin K. Kocot, commanding; a detachment of the Fire Department, Capt. Frank Amico, commanding; Commander Albert Thorne of Aberjona Post, VFW; and Herbert H. Kocot, Jr., of the Post, A.L.U., and their aids; VFW colors and color guards; Board of Selectmen, driven by former Selectman Ralph Bonnell; 56th US Air Band from Logan Airport, Chief of the Officer, Capt. Brennan commanding; Navy Detachment from the Destroyer Forest Sherman, Lt. (jg) James Clay commanding; Royal Lancers VFW Drum and Bugle Corps, George Meany, drum-major; Veterans of Foreign Wars detachment, Past Commander Clement Landry commanding; VFW Auxiliary, President Elizabeth E. Kocot commanding; Winchester High School cheerleaders, Betty Rawlingson commanding (Eunice Maletta, Judy Cussen, Mary Laird, Carol Eaton, Linn Hottel, Ann Egan, and Winchester High School Band, Wendell Withington commanding, Bob Becker, drum-major; automobile convoy and Red Cross Wagon.

The Leonard Field marker was decorated together with the Service roll record at the town hall. Services in Calvary were held at the Veterans' Memorial Stone with Rev. Fr. Charles E. Anadore of St. Mary's Church offering prayer and speaking briefly.

At Wildwood Cemetery, the speaker was the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. At both cemeteries three voices were fired by a firing squad from Company G of Woburn and echo taps were sounded by trumpeters from the Air Force Band.

After the parades, both the Legion and VFW held open house at their Headquarters respectively, on Vine and White streets. Members of the Auxiliaries prepared food and drink for the marchers who quickly proved that they were fired by a firing squad from Company G of Woburn and echo taps were sounded by trumpeters from the Air Force Band.

WINCHESTER SECOND IN STATE MEET

RECORDS FALL AS CONCORD WINS "D"

Led by jet-propelled Allen Daugherty, who ran the fastest hundred of the day in any class, Concord High School won the class D Championship of the annual Massachusetts State Meet last Saturday at the White Stadium in Boston.

Daugherty, a halfback on the Concord football team and baseball outfielder, scampered home a winner in the 100 in the record-shattering time of 9.9s, leading the second place man by a good eight yards. He would have won the century in any division of the meet by close to the same margin.

Concord's total was 30½ points to Winchester's 25, Somersets 18½ and Lexington's 18. Following in order were Rockland, Attleboro, Oliver Ames, Scituate, Winthrop, Case, Drury, Uxbridge, Jamaica Plain, Hingham, Marlboro, Abington, East Bridgewater, Hanover, Whitman, Hollbrook, Stoughton and Worcester South.

Concord won only two first places, Daugherty's hundred and the 880 yard relay, in which Daugherty ran the third leg.

Winchester did not win a first place, but showed good all around strength through the meet, placing in the 100, high hurdles, mile and half mile, relay, high jump, discus and javelin. D Records fell in the discus, javelin, high hurdles, hundred, mile, half mile and relay events.

Both Daugherty and mile winner, Don Luisi of Rockland, turned in the fastest times ever recorded by schoolboys in State meets, Luisi turning in a 4m 21.5s performance in the mile while winning by 50 yards.

Paul Franson of Winchester was third in this race, running in 4m 42.3s. Both Bob Kneeland in the javelin and John Lynch in the discus broke State meet records in these events yet finished no better than third and second respectively, being victimized by efforts that eclipsed even their record-making performances.

Lynch got one of Winchester's three second places, the others going to Bill Mock in the high jump and Kenny Brown in the half mile. Big Mark Apsey's 4th in the high hurdles and the 4th and 5th places in the hundred picked up by George Bodman and Cosimo Paonessa, Hutchins, Gardner and Dattilo, placed fifth in the team race.

Winchester might have picked up a few extra points with better breaks. The sprint finalists were picked on places in the preliminary heats rather than by times. Frank Dattilo was victimized by drawing a very fast heat in the furlong, and Johnny Murphy lost out in the same way in the hundred.

Dattilo would very probably have gotten a piece of the spotlight had it not been that a long delay in running off the 220 sent him to the circle directly from this tiring race. He has been regularly getting the ball out further than the 4th and 5th place winners in this event.

Newton won the Class A competition, Watertown, Class B, and Belmont, Class C. Following is the complete D summary:

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

On Thursday, May 24, the Winchester Garden Club held its monthly meeting at the unusual and charming home of Mrs. Roger Hadley. Mrs. Herbert Maynard was a co-hostess with Mrs. Hadley and they served a very delicious dessert followed by coffee.

The President, Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini, presided over the business meeting, and at its conclusion turned the meeting over to Mrs. Herbert West, the Program Chairman.

The highlight of the afternoon was an auction ably conducted by Mrs. West and Mrs. William Goodhue on the lawn of Mrs. Hadley's spacious grounds. Each member contributed something to be auctioned, and there was much competitive bidding for the many choice items on the auction block.

This very well attended meeting was extremely enjoyable and one of the most popular of the season. Horton's home, 1080 Beacon street, Brookline, to address cards for Shut-in's, and the Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Charles H. Myers, contacted ministers and editors to publicize the day that deserves all honor.

The Shut-in's Day Association of the United States is increasing yearly the scope of its work and is sponsoring National and International Shut-in's Day as the first Sunday in June. Headquarters are in Philadelphia, Pa., and the President, Organizer and Executive Director is Mrs. William Franklyn Paris of Greenwich, New Jersey. Miss Marjorie Lawrence is Vice President.

MR. AND MRS. CLUB

Early reports indicate a widespread interest in the plans for the Annual Cook-out and Square Dance of St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club which will be held at the school grounds on Saturday, June 9.

The energetic committee in charge has been busy making arrangements for the Chicken Barbecue which will be served from 6:30 to 7:30, and a long evening of square dancing called by Billy Baxter of Wakefield. Modern dancing will also be a feature of the evening's fun.

This, the final meeting of the season, will provide a rare opportunity for members to invite their friends and neighbors to a social and business meeting where they may observe the zeal of this young Club in its third year. From a small beginning of 50 couples meeting in the limited space of Merritt Hall, the group has grown to well over 200 couples, who plan their activities to take advantage of their own talented members, and participate as a group in Parish affairs.

• TWO MAIN ENTRANCES AND EXITS

10 MT. VERNON STREET and 7 SHORE ROAD, WINCHESTER

• • • • FREE INDOOR PARKING • • • •
ENTRANCE ON WINCHESTER PLACE, OPPOSITE POLICE STATION

Our Plan, And Yours!

If you could design yourself a supermarket, it would probably look like the new Converse Supermarket in Winchester, for wouldn't you plan to have a free indoor parking lot? — and you'd certainly want an attractive market, one pleasant to shop in and well-arranged for easy shopping! Also, you'd have a complete array of favorite-brand foods, both staples at reasonable prices and delicacies to brighten a special dinner. You wouldn't forget to add a florist and greeting card shop for special convenience, nor a cash register tape plan — and since you'd want the best, you'd want the green cash register tape plan, whereby $100 worth of tapes may be redeemed for $2.00 in cash. Yes, all this would be part of your plans — and this is the great new Converse Supermarket in Winchester. For a final touch of convenience, the Converse Supermarket has two entrances, one on Shore Rd., and one on Mount Vernon Street, in Winchester.

WATER SAFETY

Americans should plan now to get off their patios and do a lot more swimming this year, Daniel Kitchen, Jr., General Secretary of the Wakefield YMCA said today.

"Swimming is about the best all-around body conditioner there is," Mr. Kitchen added.

"The easy, rhythmic swimming movements stimulate a healthy flow of blood. This improves your heart and lungs. Water buoys you up so you don't even have to fight the strain of your body's weight. And swimming in cool water tones up the body generally. That's why swimming relaxes you and invigorates you at the same time."

Since the advent of the new Swimming Pool in Wakefield the YMCA authorities have seen to it that classes in swimming are offered to all age groups. In addition to a course in Senior Life Saving for all who wish to attend.

Mr. Kitchen pointed out that the National YMCA has pioneered in water safety techniques since 1885 and teaches approximately 360,000 people how to swim each year.

He outlined the following 13 basic rules for water safety. Parents would do well to review these important basic rules as a family, he suggested. Youngsters especially should be taught to respect and obey them at all times:

(1) Pick a safe place to swim. Swim only at protected pools and beaches, and obey those warning signs. Never swim alone. There's security as well as fun in numbers. Make sure there's a qualified lifeguard present at all times.

(2) Don't misjudge your swimming ability. Especially if you're a one-year swimmer with short breath and unconditioned muscles. Know how far you can swim under various weather and water conditions. Then keep within these safe limits:

(3) Never dive into unknown water. You might literally end up a "stick in the mud." Before you dive, test the depth of the water and check the condition of the bottom. Look out for dangerous rocks, broken bottles, sharp tin cans.

Keep away from weeds, grass and lily pads too. They're dangerous entanglements. You can't tell current drag from the surface. So be sure to check this before swimming. And if you happen to get caught in a strong current swim across it, never against it.

(4) Rest, relax and cool off after hard exercise before you go swimming. Plunging into cold water when fatigued or overheated increases your blood pressure and might cause your muscles to cramp.

(5) Don't be a water show-off. Horseplay in the water is about as funny as a broken bone.

(6) Avoid swimming in heavy surf or under a waterfall. Assist from its strong pull this kind of water is aerated and thus lighter, less able to support your body.

(7) Always race toward the shore or parallel to it, never away from shore. Pick your distance. Make sure it's a shorter stretch than you usually swim.

(8) Beware of water wings, old inner tubes, rafts and inflated rubber or plastic animals. These objects frequently spring leaks. There's also the danger that children might ride them into deep water and fall off them.

(9) If you can't swim, stay out of small boats. And if you're in a boat that overturns, hang onto it as it will float. Don't dive off a small boat. It might tip and spill your companions. Or you might come up under the hull and injure yourself seriously. Instead, slide into the water.

If you're alone swim with a grip on the tow line. And never overload a boat. If the hull is more than a third under water your boat is carrying too much weight.

(10) Don't take a sailboat out unless you are a good swimmer and understand sailing. Landlubbers cause many accidents. A chance wind can take you miles away from help. And the inexperienced sailor always runs the risk of overturning his boat.

(11) Avoid swimming during electrical storms. Stay out of open boats; keep off beaches and fields. Don't take shelter under trees, either. If exposed it's best to lie flat on the ground. Safest places during electrical storms are houses, automobiles, under steel bridges.

(12) When attempting a rescue, stay out of the water if at all possible. Try to reach the person with a pole, with clothing or a rope. Or throw him something buoyant. Don't try to be a swim-rescue hero unless it is the only way and you're a strong swimmer skilled in the knowledge of lifesaving.

(13) Last, and most important of all: If you're in trouble in the water, force yourself to keep calm. Cramps don't cause drowning—panic is the danger. Cling to an overturned boat or some buoyant object. Comparatively small things will support you in the water if you just keep calm and take advantage of your body's natural buoyancy. It's actually harder to sink than to stay up.

MUSICAL SCORES AGAIN

The formula which has worked so well in the past for the Winchester Unitarian Choir's annual Maytime Musicale—strict insistence on the highest possible standards in the performance of the musical part of the program, a carefree and even haphazard approach to the various comedy skits, and a generally festive combination of dress, decor and lighting—once again met with warm approval from the large and cordial audience which attended at Metcalf Hall on May 24th.

The various full-chorus numbers, beginning with gusto in "Hallelujah" and ranging through a lickety-split series of college songs to a really beautiful blending and phrasing in "Bali Hai" and "Joey," were delivered with aplomb; and the latter, with "Standing on a Corner" and "Somebody Somewhere," made up an engaging trio from "The Most Happy Fella." This agent happens to be one who has heard quite enough of "You'll Never Walk Alone," which served as a finale, but it was nicely handled and Mary Ranton Witham's arrangement managed to inject an unexpected freshness by way of an a capella section.

As for the novelties, they were principally expressive of people having a good time and made small concession to rhyme or reason, which was perfectly all right with the audience. Lucy Carroll, Janet Burbank, Barbara Powers, Justine King, Elinor Starkweather and Elizabeth Churchill made a Rock 'n Roll travesty of Radcliffe's "The Cherry Ribs." Bob Blake and Stan Profit were a pair of ramshackle sportscasters and Ernie Dieterich impersonated an alarmingly suave commercial announcer in taking "Casey at the Bat" over the hurdles; Janet Burbank and Lindsay Caldwell hammed it up with "The Girl Friend of the Whirling Dervish"; Sue Westwater in a fright wig and dust cloak was altogether charming with "Money Isn't Everything," and Bob Blake donned a pair of German shorts to lead the chorus into a state of utter confusion in "Schnitzelbahnk."

Victor Jonas performed capably at the piano in a rendition of "The Fire Dance." Dick Lawrence delighted the gathering with his bagpipe solo. Chipper Mead contributed a staunch saxophone to "Caravan," and Siran Hovmanian, who assisted Mary Witham at the piano all evening, received practically an ovation for her playing of the Warsaw Concerto. An enormous amount of work had clearly gone into this number, as Darwin Carroll's arrangement had added a whole choral background to the piano solo; and it must have been gratifying indeed to the performers to have their efforts rewarded with such vehement and prolonged applause.

There were other notable contributions: Bob Evans' low bass on a pair of Scottish songs, with Fran Lawrence's fine soprano descant; Dorothy Perkins' pleasing soprano solo "In Old Vienna"; Adele Jonah's mood-inducing verses from Omar Khayyam; Seth Weston's inspired soft-shoe routine; and, of course, the very gifted Marian Blake, who we suspect can do just about anything on a stage, holding the audience pin-drop quiet with a reading from "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and, later, with a haunting little French folk song which she sang perched on a stool under a single amber light, accompanying herself on a ukelele.

But it was the choir's own soloists, Dolores Baldyga, John Morabito, Sidney Blanchard, Jr., and especially Helen McCloskey who stood up and matched the Warsaw Concerto in sheer volume of applause. Dolores sang Musette's Waltz from La Boheme and showed that the Choir is indeed fortunate in its soprano soloist, John Morabito, whose tenor gets better and better all the time, won thunderous approval with "Ah, Moon of My Delight," as did Sidney with "Stranger in Paradise." And Helen McCloskey's "Mood Indigo" just plain brought the house down. She has always been a capable contralto, but on this one—well, this must have been one she was waiting for.

Members of the choir taking part were:

Dolores Baldyga Martha Hall
Helen McCloskey Carolyn Hutchings

John Morabito Adele Jonah
Sidney Blanchard Jr. Victor Jonas
Janet Burbank Justine King
Lindsay Caldwell Barbara Powers
Lucy Carroll Sherman Russell
Gail Collins Elinor Starkweather
William Davies, IV Deborah Symmes

Robert Evans Linda Witham

Also taking part were:

We would like to thank all the husbands of En Ka without whose help En Ka could certainly not run a Street Fair; and last but not least, all the townspeople of Winchester who helped with all the plans and preparations and then on the day of the Fair turned out to support it and to help En Ka continue to help our local charities.
For the first time the First Aid
Room for the 1956 En Ka Street
Fair was in charge of the En Ka Society. Mrs. Harry Mueller was our most capable chairman, and had it set up so that there were two

YOUTH GROUP SPEAKER
The Reverend Charles E. Batten, director of Christian Education at the Parish of the Epiphany, will address the Winchester Interdenominational Young Adult Group on Tuesday evening, June 5th, at 8 p. m. in the Church Parlor of the First Congregational Church. He has chosen for his topic, "What Makes Young Adults Tick."

Mr. Batten is a graduate of Temple University and continued his study at the University of Pennsylvania. Upon graduation from Crozer Theological Seminary in Chester, Pennsylvania, he became a professor of Christian Education at the Seminary and held various administrative positions there.

His lecturing has taken him to many parts of the country. With his genuine love and understanding of young people through his wide experiences with them, he is certainly well qualified to speak to young adults of all faiths on what makes them "tick."

AN INVITATION

Editor of the Star:
The Educational Collections at "Arborledge" of the Living Plants, distinguished for their beauty are now quite well out. They are well labored for the convenience of visitors and you are invited to come and see them.

Of special interest this week is the Wisteria Simensis, planted in 1924 and the beautiful Ghost Azalea Garden, planted in 1937, also the Azalea Trail, where can be seen, huge clumps of the Azalea Kaempferi, planted in 1927 and allowed to grow naturally, as in their native land of Japan.

This plant was introduced into America in 1892 by Professor Sargent, of the Arnold Arboretum. Some of the plants you will see, came from his old garden at Brookline. Next week the Rhododendron collection should be out. This was started in 1926.

DEMOCRATS VISIT LEXINGTON

On Thursday evening, several members of the Winchester Democratic Town Committee attended a worth-while evening as guests of the Lexington Democratic Town Committee and the Lexington Democratic Club at the Swenson Farm on Spring street, just off Route 2 in Lexington.

At 6:45 p. m. a social hour was participated in, each person present identified by a pinned on tag bearing his or her name. Other guests present were the members of the Democratic groups from Newton, Belmont, and Waltham.

The old stable, its spacious fireplace throwing out a warm glow and its walls adorned with large clever posters made by members of the host group, formed a picturesque setting for the get-together festivities.

Added to its attractiveness was a strolling accordionist in gypsy costume whose clever playing was a real delight. He proved to be a grandson of a former Democratic president; his name, Woodrow Wilson Sayre of Lexington.

When the large double doors into the wide dining hall were opened and the call came to "Come and get it" there was disclosed a fine Smorgasbord, every dish baked by the women of the organization.

Between the main course and the setting up of the coffee and dessert, the large assemblage was addressed by several candidates on the Democratic slate and county tickets.

Dan Fenn, Chairman of the Lexington Democratic Town Committee, presided at this part of the meeting and introduced the speakers.

No house room for COBWEBS!

But what about the cobwebs in her budget? She honestly doesn't know where the family money goes, or for what. Neither does her husband. It just goes, period.

With a checking account, they could keep track of things, do a little planning, get their bills cleaned up and save more money.

Besides, checks are safer and more convenient than cash — when they're canceled, they are legal receipts.

Why not open a checking account with us — now?

Young women were taught to be "lady typewriters" at the Boston YWCA as early as 1880, though doctors feared that the machine be too much for the "delicate female constitution."

AN OPEN LETTER TO MY PATIENTS

Certain circumstances have arisen which have made it necessary for me to stop giving any further polio inoculations to Winchester children under the State controlled vaccine program as administered by the local Board of Health. I take this method of informing my patients in order to avoid days of secretarial work and further hundreds of telephone calls.

When the vaccine was taken out of private channels of distribution and controlled by the State, it was announced that each community would receive its total allotment at one time, so that all children in the community would be inoculated at approximately the same time, either privately or in clinics, according to their own intimate schedule. This procedure since the vaccine was now licensed by the Federal Government can, and may still contain certain small amounts of virus, thus making it possible for a vaccinated individual to become a carrier. Therefore all children in a community and particularly all children in a family (where contact is most intimate) should, whenever possible, be inoculated at approximately the same time. True there are specific exceptions where illness, operations and other reasons make it impossible to follow the plan to the letter, but for the greatest protection of the greatest number, this is the best medical procedure.

And so the program started and after repeated delays, communities began to receive their total supply for the first dose of vaccine. No public statement to my knowledge was ever made as to how it was determined, in what order, communities were selected to receive vaccine, but as a matter of experience it appeared that most requests in early, began receiving their allotments.

Months went by, months filled with confusing and contradictory reports from the State; months filled with changing requisition forms, lists, and dealings with 16 different Boards of Health all with different attitudes toward the problem; months of hundreds of telephone calls at any hour or on any day as each new press release, or lack of one made confused parents reach for the phone.

But even in the midst of what many of us believe is the most colossal exhibition of bureaucratic fumbling at its worst, certain questions arose that defy any logical answer.

Why, over a month ago, should the Board of Health of a neighboring town say they had plenty of vaccine, while we were told we had none; months of waiting for vaccine, and then when others have not received their first?

Why can patients go to other states, near and far, and find ready supplies of polio vaccine in the hands of private physicians for the asking?

Why did Winchester and a few other towns at the tail end of the list, receive only partial supplies, instead of the State either consolidating it for less needy towns, or waiting until the total was available?

Why did Winchester set up a program of distribution and clinics on partial supplies, instead of waiting for the entire allotment?

Why do public clinics frequently use the same syringe for giving multiple doses of the vaccine when even though the needles are changed, the possibility exists of transferring serious disease from one person to another by this method?

When the recent distribution of partial supplies in Winchester was made, the safest procedure was to give what vaccine was available to children under 15 years where contact was closest, namely on a family basis. Patients on my lists were called by families, alphabetically as the most practical and equitable method. On Friday, May 25th, the first group were inoculated. On May 26th, I received a curt letter from the Chairman of the Board of Health, threatening that unless I gave vaccine only to children of school age, I would receive no more vaccine.

Since any physician's patients have a right to expect no less than the best medical care he knows how to give them, I refuse to have the Board of Health dictate to me that I shall give less than what I know is the best. A Board of Health is empowered to set up minimum standards but I know of no power they have to establish maximum standards.

Consequently I have returned the remaining vaccine I had and will give no more under the restrictions as now imposed by the Board of Health. Patients on my list who have not received vaccine can now obtain it through the Board of Health on their terms.

This has been necessarily lengthy in order to explain the situation in detail so that those who might be impelled to do so, will not reach for the phone.

Very truly yours,
Harry L. Miller, M.D.

LIBRARY TO SHOW GRIFFIN PRINTS

The Winchester Art Association is sponsoring an exhibition of Dye Transfer Color Prints by the widely known color photographer, Arthur Griffin, who makes his home at 29 Euclid avenue, and whose work is featured in many of the leading magazines.

The exhibition opens June 1 and continues through June 15, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday.

Arthur Griffin began as an artist who thought hypo was something the doctor jabbed into you. After attending art schools in Boston, he turned to commercial art work for a living. Then he decided that a tour of Europe would round out his art education. It did, with emphasis on the "out."

He bought a camera to record scenes he wouldn't have time to paint on the spot. It wasn't long before the camera showed the brushes out of the picture entirely.

He was photographer for the Boston Globe Roto section, New England photographer for Life and Time magazines, plus covering assignments for the West, national magazines until he went completely free-lance in 1946, so he could take the kind of pictures he always wanted to.

Operating from his studio in Winchester, which he built in 1936, he has handled color assignments for nearly all the national magazines Saturday Evening Post, Life, Holiday, American, Collier's, Fortune, etc. In addition he turns out color work for advertising agencies and individuals.

To keep his color files up to date on scenic color shots, Art and his wife, Claire, travel extensively. Claire takes the black and white photos on trips. They are at present all packed for a three months trip to the West, national parks, Banff, Canada and other photographic sections.

His exhibition at the Art Gallery has some 30 Dye-Transfer Color Prints, hand printed from transparencies he has sold to clients, such as Eastman Kodak, Atlantic Refining, First National Stores, Seagrams, etc. Also on exhibition are a few of his magazine covers and other color reproductions from national magazines.

EN KA GIVES $9,413.01

MRS. GEORGE CONNOR NEW PRESIDENT

The 54th annual meeting of the En Ka Society was held at the Girl Scout cabin on Tuesday, June 5th. Over one hundred members enjoyed a delicious outdoor luncheon provided by Mrs. Paul White and her meetings committee.

Mrs. Donald F. Connors, president, conducted a brief regular meeting, after which the annual meeting was declared in session. Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin, secretary, read a comprehensive report of the year's activities. After the report of Mrs. James M. Beale, treasurer, Mrs. Connors called upon her various Board chairmen.

Of special interest was the expenditure announced by Mrs. George L. Connor, finance chairman. During the past year En Ka has given a total of $9,413.01 to the following Winchester organizations: Scholarship Foundation, Hospital, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Public Library, District Nursing Association, Home for the Aged, People, Red Cross, Police Athletic League, High School Band, Welfare Department, Public Health Office, Home Frontiers, and Babe Ruth League.

Mrs. Herbert F. Ross, chairman of this year's Street Fair, asked for a statement of the En Ka members who were delighted as the totals grew into the largest profit made by any previous fair—$8,186.61. Thanks to the hard work of Mrs. Leslie J. Scott, Fair Treasurer, each En Ka member received a carefully detailed financial statement of the "Out of This World" Street Fair.

Nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Dalling, presented the following slate for the 1956-1957 En Ka Board:

President, Mrs. George L. Connor; Vice-President, Mrs. Paul Forester, Jr.; Secretary, Mrs. R. Ronald Wyman; Treasurer, Mrs. London H. Barnham; Committee:

Ways and Means, Hollis A. Dyer; Civic, Mrs. John D. McLean; Social Service, Mrs. Maxwell McCree; Meetings, Mrs. Don S. Greer; Membership, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. William N. Beger, Mrs. Warren D. Haley; Finance, Mrs. Virginia H. Dickey, Mrs. Pauline F. Felt, Mrs. F. F. Felt; Nominating, Mrs. Evan A. Kibbe, Mrs. Henry A. Dellecker, Mrs. Dana D. Sawyer; Publicity, Mrs. Samuel D. Croft.

These members were duly elected. Mrs. Leslie J. Scott and Mrs. Walter B. Key were elected to the membership committee after nominations from the floor.

The President thanked all the Street Fair Workers and the members of the Board for their cooperation during the year. She then turned the meeting over to the new president, Mrs. George L. Connor, who, after a very sincere address, adjourned the meeting.

GRIFFIN PRINTS AT LIBRARY

There remain only today, this evening and Saturday until 6 o'clock to see the Dye Transfer Color Prints by Winchester's eminent photographer, Arthur Griffin, at the art gallery of the public library.

This is definitely a good show! You are conscious as you enter the gallery of gorgeous colors, of gray fall foliage, warm and full of life, landscapes, seascapes, snow white country churches nestled in leafy trees, still life and one fine study of a woman and child, all done with a skill of approach complementing the general appeal of the subject.

Here you see a lighthouse rearing its head, stark white above its rocky base, the photograph of such excellence that the actual texture of the pile is apparent to the eye. In one corner is an intriguing study of Turbot's Creek in Kennebunk Port, Me., showing the Hutchins' picturesque lobster shack and boats of varying sizes.

Full of animation is the shot of small sail boats on the Charles, and who will not feel a nostalgic pang at the sight of that colorful snap of a lady in a Sun-Boat on the Frog Pond in Boston?

In the place of honor at the center front of the gallery is a truly beautiful study of the Martha-Mary Chapel in Fox's Wake, N.Y., in white and blue, with a single snow-laden tree branch across the foreground. Nearby is a striking study across Wedge Pond that Winchester viewers will find intriguing. Most unusual is "Stark, Vermont," a night study of a building with porch-light glowing in the dark, beside a church with highest windows glowing in the dark. The background looms a covered bridge.

Contrasting with the striking colors of fall foliage and the bright blue of wintry skies are the mellowed shades of farm houses and long-shore buildings. Autumn leaves afloat on still black water and gorgeous snow scenes round out a show that will stand several visits.

PARKHURST SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

The sixth graders in Mrs. Laura Syssoeff's class at the Parkhurst School recently presented an amusing dramatization of Abbie Brown's story, "The King's Pie."

A colorful mural depicting the procession of the town cooks before the King and Queen of the realm, the brilliant costumes, of the characters, the ingenious pies borne by the cooks, and the gay music—all made the production one that children and guests alike enjoyed to the fullest.

The cast follows:

King: Cody Meisner
Queen: Trudi Freeman

Tournament Win For Indians

Winchester Beat Malden In Twelve

Winchester High won its opening round match in the State Inter-scholastic Baseball Tournament Tuesday afternoon, outlasting strong Malden High, 5-3, in 12 long innings, with big Johnny Chapin going all the way.

Chapin gave Malden only three hits over the extra-innings route, fanned five and issued eight bases on ball. He was a tired boy when he finally got the side out in the 12th with two Malden men on the cushions.

Winchester opened the scoring in the third when hustling, aggressive "Junior" Quill worked the Malden hurler for a free ticket and was sacrificed to second by Quentin Ronefs.

Joe Bellino split the left and center fielder with a wicked line drive that struck fifty feet beyond the nearest gardener and rolled all the way to the tall grass at the fence. Giuseppe was going into third when the fielder finally retrieved the apple and he completed his home run easily, scoring Quill ahead of him.

Elmstrom walked for Malden in the bottom of the third, went to third on Hunt's hit to right and scored on a long fly by Mayerow. Malden tied it in the fifth when Hunt belted a homer into the right field bleachers.

Malden went ahead in the eighth when Leary poked a four-master into the right field bleachers to make the score 3-2. Both Malden's round trippers were guaranteed by the bleachers and might have been caught on Manchester Field.

Chapin didn't let the belts bother him, each time striking the next three batters in order.

Behind, 3-2, in the ninth, Symmes singled and Ronnie Roberts moved him up with a sacrifice. McElholm's safety sent Symmes to third and Billy Morton, former Little League slugger, doubled him home.

Malden threatened in the 11th, but a Ron Roberts, Symmes to Morton twin killing put out the fire. Quill opened the Indians 12th with the single through the box.

After Quentin Roberts fled out, Billy Haggerty reached on an error, moving up Quill, who scored on a wild pitch.

Haggerty went to second on the wild pitch and rode home on Bellino's clutch double.

INDIANS LOST FINAL

A lack-luster Winchester High baseball team, assured of the Middlesex League title and a spot in the State Tourney, dropped its final game of the season to Reading High at Reading last Friday afternoon, 11-3. The game had been postponed from the previous day because of rain.

Chapin, Flynn and Rennie Johnson pitched for Winchester and none was effective, while Long of the Rockets was holding the heavy hitting Indians to six singles.

Reading had an 11-1 lead going into the ninth when Long weakened a bit, giving up hits to Kenny Johnston, Henry Quill and Bobby Haggerty while walking Ron Roberts. The summary:

ROYAL LANCERS MADE BOW

The Royal Lancers Drum and Bugle Corps, sponsored by Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars, made their first appearance on Memorial Day when they participated in the first of two parades originally scheduled for the commemorative services here.

Drenched during the first parade and services in Calvary Cemetery the marchers made the trip to Wildwood Cemetery in cars and buses so that many in town did not see the Lancers in line. Garbed in red satin shirts and dark trousers, with white helmets and shoes, the corps presented a natty appearance and their music sounded well.

The corps is looking forward to playing for the home town folks again under more auspicious circumstances. It will participate in the State Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Worcester, commencing June 21 and will march in the big encampment parade on Saturday, June 23.

GOD'S HEALING POWER PRACTICAL TODAY

"God's limitless power is as available today to heal and to bless mankind as it was in Christ Jesus' time," said Arnold H. Exo of Chicago, Illinois, in a Christian Science lecture at the Town Hall last Friday evening under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Winchester.

"Spiritual understanding of the divine fact that there is no power apart from God establishes harmonious and healthful living as natural and normal for mankind," Mr. Exo declared.

During the course of his lecture he described complete and permanent healings in Christ's heart, stomach, and skin diseases. A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he was introduced by Frances M. Gardner. Speaking on the subject, "How Christian Science Makes God's Power Available," Mr. Exo defined God's power as God's infinite ability and capacity to express His boundless goodness without limitation.

"Christian Science makes this limitless expression of good available to you and to me," he declared, "by revealing that the resistance of our self-manifested identity already is, always has been and forever will be constituted of God's infinite ability and capacity to act rightly at all times and under all conditions."

"Therefore," he added, "it is always natural and normal for us to be loved and loving, to be healthful and free, to manifest our God-given dominion in joy, usefulness, alertness, compassion, nobility, health, and intelligence."

He said that Christian Science is proving that divine power is "as available to heal you and me as it was some two thousand years ago to heal the lame man," Christian Science, Mr. Exo stated, reveals "that in order to utilize this power of God we need only to be receptive to the Christ Truth."

"Sickness is not power," Mr. Exo declared, "because health or wholeness is an irresistible manifestation of God's infinite capacity and ability to express right activity at all times and under all conditions." Therefore, he said, mankind need not accept fear, sickness, poverty, discouragement, or limitation.

Effective prayer is based, Mr. Exo said, on the understanding that God's right action is not some far-off thing to be experienced only in the future, but that it is ever present and actually expressed in what man really is.

In closing Mr. Exo stressed the value of accepting literally and putting into practice the statement in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science (p. 393):

"Take possession of your body, and govern its feeling and action. Rise in the strength of Spirit and resist all that is unlike good. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man."

GRADUATED FROM UNIQUE COURSE AT B. U.

Charles A. Mirak, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mirak of 131 Cambridge street, was one of nine members of Boston University's 1956 graduating class, who, when they received their degrees on Sunday, June 3, at Boston University Field, completed a task which was originally believed impossible.

Graduates in the University's unique Hospital and Tutorial program, they have proved that physical disabilities are no barrier to a college education.

Although disabled with such ailments as tuberculosis, poliomyelitis, paraplegia, quadriplegia, congenital deformities, and the crippling effects of automobile and diving accidents, these students have successfully completed the rigorous requirements for a college degree.

Boston University was the first college in the country and still the only one in New England, to offer completely organized four-year tape-recorded, four-year programs whereby these students can obtain a college education in the field of their choice.

The group, eight boys and one girl, have completed their college education despite crutches, wheelchairs and periods of rehospitalization. Mirak, for instance, victim of serious injuries sustained several years ago in an automobile accident, traveled once a week to the University by ambulance from his home. Another, discovering he had difficulty mastering French, went to Paris to complete his language requirements.

Others in the group are: Morris Wiseman, 267 Charles street, Reading; Stephen Lambert, 23 Oakland street, Cambridge; Paul Shea, 11 Fidelis Way, Brighton; John Hutcheon, 279 Shrin Hill, apt. 4, Dorchester; Lee Jewell, 27 Ruthven street, Roxbury; Gordon MacMillan, 10 DeWolfe street, Dorchester; Francis X. Kelley, 13 Lexington

WINCHESTER GYNECOLOGIST MEETS FELLOW PRACTITIONER IN NAPLES

When Dr. James F. McDonough of 2 Black Horse terrace, well-known local gynecologist, was attending the recent International Fertility Association Congress in Naples, Italy, he met for the first time a fellow gynecologist, with whom he had previously corresponded, Dr. J. McDonough of Youngstown, Ohio, the J. in the Youngstown physician's name standing, however, for John rather than James.

Aside from this difference the two doctors had much in common in addition to their professional ties. Each has four children, two boys and two girls; each has a wife named Marie and the granddaughters of each came from County Sligo in Ireland.

A member of the International Fertility Congress, Dr. McDonough participated in the various deliberations and listened to the address made to the Congress by the Pope. Mrs. McDonough accompanied her husband abroad, and after the congress they went to Rome where they were granted a private interview by the Pope and were photographed with him.

While in Rome the McDonoughs visited Rev. Casper Caulfield and his mother, Fr. Caulfield, a Passionist, was expelled from China in 1951 and is now assistant to the General of the Passionist Order, serving at the Church of SS. Paul and John, of which Cardinal Spellman is the spiritual head.

This church is famous because of the very important catacombs found beneath it, discoveries having been made there that have been used to refute arguments against the Church made by the rationalist school that originated in Germany. Dr. and Mrs. McDonough were taken on a most interesting and instructive tour of the church by Fr. Caulfield.

After touring France and visiting war time friends, M. and Mme Louis LeBemiz, Dr. and Mrs. McDonough will return to their family in Winchester.

EDITORIAL

Many around town are just commencing to grasp the fact that from approximately the middle of August until after next Christmas, you aren't going to be able to get across the railroad tracks from the east to the west side of Bacon street, and vice versa. Between the dates mentioned the street and present access road are going to be closed while the work on the under-pass at Wedgemere Station is completed. This is going to be quite a job, largely because of the excavating and filling entering into the transition from the tracks at grade to the overhead.

It is going to be inconvenient for motorists to have the street closed, no question about that! And it is also going to be bad to have all the high and junior high youngsters who have been crossing the tracks at Wedgemere added to the crowd of pedestrians and cars going through the center during the early morning rush hours. With Bacon street closed, unless other arrangements are made, the west side junior and high school pupils will have to walk along Church street and through the center to school.

MacHenry Browne of the Boston Post, a resident of Winchester and deeply interested in what is going on, passed along to the Star, a suggestion for solution of the problem made to him by one of the town's taxi men. His idea is that while Bacon street is closed the railroad gates there be moved and installed at the Common street under-pass so that pedestrians, at least, can get across the tracks and avoid going on through the busy center. The gates and tender are available, and without knowing a thing about it, we would think the moving of the gates from Wedgemere to Common street wouldn't involve too much effort or expense.

Perhaps the railroad is planning to do just this! Perhaps it has another and better plan. Perhaps it just isn't possible to make the switch, and the kiddos will have to use the center.

If they do, the old center is going to be a pretty busy place come fall, and it definitely isn't too soon to commence thinking about the general situation. Everything so far, in connection with the overhead, has been worked out so well, with so little inconvenience to motorists and pedestrians, that perhaps we ought not to worry about this getting to school in the fall. It will probably be well taken care of.

FLOW GENTLEY, SWEET (!)
ABERJONA!

Editor of the Star:

Recently, walking that lovely path by the river, adjacent to Fienes, Ford's, and the post-office, I was impressed with a startling sense of contrast. Here is indeed a beautiful winding section of river; the channel flows deep and wide, the banks are gently sloped to allow the grass to be neatly trimmed, and to top it all, a lovely winding lends graceful charm to a scene both restful and inspiring. The rippling is inconspicuous, and stays put. A perfect example of how a river should be landscaped.

Then comes the bridge, and from there on what have we? An equally perfect example of how a river should not be treated! The contrast is painful.

Here the banks are so steep that mowing in the usual way is an utter impossibility; only a man with hip-boots, armed with an old-fashioned scythe and approaching from the water side, could achieve it. As a result, the general impression is that of a chap with a bristly three days' growth of beard.

The channel here, save for one bend (I cannot call it a curve!), is geometrically straight, completely bereft of any natural charm. The rippling is inconspicuous, and stays put. A perfect example of how a river should be landscaped.

In short, here we have a ditch, nothing more and nothing less, upon which no self-respecting canoe would be seen, nor is! An eyesore of painful proportions.

All of which provokes the thought (fantastic if you will) that the section could be covered over, thus at one fell swoop eliminating an unsightly eyesore and providing a desperately needed room for parking. Roughly, I would estimate that some 225-250 cars could be accommodated between the two bridges. Expensive, yes, but no more so than the need for new parking space is drastic.

KEENEY PORTRAIT FUND

Editor of the Star:

The response to the article in the Star on April 20th, concerning the fund for an oil portrait of Robert M. Keeney to be hung in the library of the Winchester High School has been most successful. I am very grateful to the many friends who have so generously signified their approval of this memorial to him and have thus made it possible for me to engage the nationally prominent portrait artist, Mr. Bernard M. Keyes, of Boston and Peterborough.

Mr. Keyes is a member of the renowned National Academy and the Guild of Boston Artists. He is famous for his outstanding portraits of distinguished New Englanders which have won prizes at The Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C., and The National Academy of Design, New York City.

He has painted scores of leaders in the fields of business, law, religion and education. Among these

THEY'RE OFF!

Boys' racing at last Saturday's Washington-Lincoln Jamboree on Leonard Field.

WASHINGTON-LINCOLN SCHOOLS
JAMBOREE

The Jamboree on Saturday, June 2nd, proved to be a real day of fun for the boys and girls of the Washington and Lincoln Schools. The children fell quickly into the spirit of the competition and the Washingtonians won the event with a score of 125 points to 70 points accumulated by the Lincolnians.

This annual affair, directed by the combined efforts of the Dads' Club of both Schools, was held at Leonard Field on Saturday, June 2nd. The Mothers' softball game was a close one and much more exciting than last year, the score being 5 to 3 in favor of the Washington Wallpapers.

Lincoln boys won all three of the tugs of war and half of the speed dashes. The Washington lads won four of the six specialty races and the Washington girls won all but one of the speed dashes. There was free ice cream and coke for all the children.

The end of the Jamboree was the softball game between the fathers. It looked like the Washington Dads were going to triumph with a high score like last year until the 5th inning when the Lincoln Dads brought in some runs to end the game with Washington winning with a score of 10-4.

It was agreed that the Washington School would proudly display for the second year the plaque symbolizing its boys and girls as champions.

WINCHESTER GIRLS

The Girls Tennis Team defeated Lexington 5-0, June 5, at the Packer Courts. The scores: Ann Buros defeated Pat Crosby, 6-0, 6-0.

Brenda Cunningham and Dottie Smith defeated Lou Dunlap and Nancy Cloud, 6-1, 6-3.

The Girls Varsity Tennis Team and the J.V. Boys Tennis Team played a round robin mixed doubles tournament at the Packer Courts.

A new can of balls was given to the boy and girl winning the most games. High scorers were as follows:

Steve Fisher, 19 games; Nat Bellows, 19 games; Ann Buros, 16 games; Paul Lamarche, 14 games; Brenda Cunningham, 13 games; David Purrington, 12 games; Dana Starkweather, 12 games.

Winchester Girls Beat Woburn

The Girls Tennis Team defeated Woburn in three doubles matches at the Packer Courts on May 29.

The scores:

Charlie Clark and Sue Russell defeated Nancy Thorne and Shirley Turgiss, 6-1, 6-1.

Dottie Smith and Brenda Cunningham defeated Shirley Knowland and Tabby Wall, 6-0, 6-0.

Mickey Doherty and Noel Gove defeated Ann McGangi and Jean McDonald, 6-1, 6-0.

FULL-TIME PRINCIPALS FOR ALL SCHOOLS

For the first time there will be a full-time principal in each of Winchester's elementary schools, as the result of a decision by the Winchester School Committee at its regular meeting on Monday night.

The Parkhurst and Lincoln schools, which have shared the services of a principal, will each have its own full-time administrator. The principal of the Noonan School will be relieved of her part-time duties as reading consultant. This represents a significant step toward the improvements of the educational services provided in these schools.

In accomplishing this step the School Committee has made the following appointments:

Miss Martha Cunningham, to be principal of the Lincoln School; Miss Minnetta Jurgenson, to be principal of the Noonan School; Miss Clara Corcoran, at present a graduate of the Newark State Teachers College, he gained his Master's Degree at Teachers' College, Columbia, and he has done further graduate study at Columbia and Boston universities. His teaching experience includes service in the schools of Paterson and Teaneck, New Jersey, and more recently in Nashua, New Hampshire. He makes his home in Hollis, New Hampshire.

Mr. Stutula came to Winchester last fall as teacher of the Special Class which the School Department conducts at the Washington School.

A graduate of the Newark State Teachers College, he gained his Master's Degree at Teachers' College, Columbia, and he has done further graduate study at Columbia and Boston universities.

WINCHESTER COACH'S WIFE

INJURED IN CRASH

Mrs. Ann P. Finigan of 144 Mt. Vernon street, Arlington, wife of Winchester High School teacher, hockey coach, Frank Finigan, was painfully injured last Friday evening, and her father, Mr. Patrick J. O'Brien of 49 Leslie road, Belmont, was critically hurt when the automobile driven by Mrs. Finigan was in collision with another car on the Concord Turnpike at Belmont street, Arlington.

Mrs. Finigan was accompanied by her father, her son, Francis 2, and her brother, Rev. James O'Brien, of Maryknoll, N. Y., when the accident occurred.

The Finigan car was completely wrecked and Mrs. Finigan was pitched from the machine. She was at first thought to have been seriously injured with possible fractures of the jaw, shoulder and hip. X-rays, however, disclosed no broken bones and subsequent reports from the Symmes Arlington Hospital, to which she and her father were taken, have been increasingly reassuring.

Mr. O'Brien sustained severe head injuries and his name was placed on the hospital danger list. Neither father O'Brien nor two-year old Francis Finigan was seriously injured, but witnesses of the accident credited the priest with preventing the youngster from being much more badly hurt.

RECEIVES DIVINITY DEGREE

DON ARMSTRONG, FORMER HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL AND HOCKEY STAR

"Don" Armstrong, former Winchester High School football star, who was a regular end on what many believe was one of the best grid teams the high school has ever produced, the 1944 eleven captained by Charlie Walsh, received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree from the Yale Divinity School at commencement exercises on June 5. He has accepted a position as assistant at the Euclid Avenue Congregational Church in Cleveland, Ohio, and will assume his new duties immediately.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Armstrong of Mt. Pleasant st., "Don" graduated from Winchester High School in 1946, playing football, hockey and baseball. He went from high school to Wesleyan, where he played freshman and varsity football, winning his letter as a varsity player before graduating in 1950. A former president of the Senior Forum at the First Congregational Church, he was president of the Christian Association while at Wesleyan. Incidentally, he credits the Forum with first turning his thoughts toward the ministry, and it is hoped that he can make arrangements to be ordained at his boyhood parish church in the fall.

After Wesleyan, "Don" spent three years in the Army, seeing service in Korea as a radio operator with the Army Security Service. For the past three years he has been studying at the Yale Divinity School.

RED CROSS CALLS FOR SUMMER VOLUNTEERS

To carry on the active and constructive work done by the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross, this year, summer volunteers are needed for the two following services:

Gray Ladies—The Red Cross Gray Ladies assist the Winchester Hospital as receptionists each afternoon, from 2 to 4:30, and each evening from 7 to 8:30. This is a pleasant duty and an important service to the hospital and patients. Gray Ladies are also necessary for Blood Days in Winchester and in Boston. For information, please call Mrs. Frank Herrick, Chairman, Winchester 6-2306 or Mrs. O. Wolcott Merrow, Co-Chairman, Winchester 6-1156. If no answer call the Red Cross Office, Winchester 6-2300.

Motor Corps—Now is the time for all good drivers to come to the aid of the Winchester Chapter Red Cross Motor Corps! What is more rewarding than to take a child for needed treatment to the children's hospital, a no victim job. The need is at a Boston clinic to deliver the pints of blood necessary for a patient's recovery at the Winchester Hospital; or to be the kind person who delivers the articles used for the comfort and pleasure of the men at the Bedford Veterans' Hospital? Make your application for membership in the Motor Corps to Mrs. Daniel J. McLaughlin, Jr., Winchester 6-0815, or call the Red Cross Office, Winchester 6-2300.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY
HONORED WAR DEAD

The student body and the faculty at the high school honored the nation's war dead at Memorial Day exercises held in the Memorial Auditorium on Tuesday morning. Pupils in Mr. Thomas Morse's advanced speech class, were responsible for the preparation of the program. Major Walter Burns, Provost Marshal of the New England area, and Commander Froberg, of Winchester Post No. 97, American Legion, were honored guests.

Chairman Arlys Harrington welcomed the student body to the exercises and led the group in the Salute to the Flag. Paul Donlon delivered the prayer.

As their contribution to the program, the mixed glee club, under the direction of Mr. Wendell F. Withington, sang two selections, "American Our Heritage" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Following the glee club, Barbara Eaton recited the deeply moving tribute to the Unknown Soldier written by the late Bruce Barton. Equally impressive was the playing of echo taps.

As the principal speaker, Major Burns was no newcomer to Winchester High School audiences. A graduate of WHS in the Class of 1933, he has spoken at the high school on two previous occasions. One of the great forces in the world today, asserted Major Burns, is the desire of people everywhere for freedom. He expressed the belief that eventually this desire will extend to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

Speaking to the older boys, Major Burns advised them that when the time comes for them to enter the service they should go with a feeling that they are being given an opportunity to repay their country for what they have received.

DOGGERS WIN FIRST HALF OF LITTLE LEAGUE SEASON

The Dodgers have won the first half of the Little League season with a record of six wins and three losses. In the closest first half since the first year Little League started, when it will be remembered the Braves and Yankees tied and had to play a full game at the end of the season. The Dodgers won the first game on top with 4 wins and 3 losses, and the Braves and Dodgers 3 each. The Red Sox started the week having won 3 and lost 4.

On Tuesday the Dodgers tied the Yankees in first place by beating the Red Sox 2 to 1. On the holiday the Braves made it a triple tie for first place by defeating the Red Sox. Friday the Dodgers moved into first place alone with a 7-3 win over the Yankees. Saturday the Dodgers beat the Yankees 7 to 3 and thus tied the Braves for first place, the teams having each won 5 and lost 3. Thus was the status set for the final game of the first half between the Braves and Dodgers.

The starting pitchers were Robert Benincasa for the Braves and David Hession for the Dodgers. Neither was around at the finish as the batters found the range. Eddie Hughes relieved Hession in the first and was the winning pitcher. It was his first appearance on the mound although this is his third in Little League. Harris relieved Benincasa for the Braves in the 5th.

The Braves jumped away to a 5 run lead in the first on 4 hits, one a double by Lawson, and two hit batsmen. The Dodgers got back three in the last of the first on two hits and three walks. In the second the Braves were scoreless but the Dodgers collected four more runs on three walks and a triple by Bond who, incidentally, had doubled in the first inning.

In the third the Braves tied the game at 7 to 7 on two hits, an error and a walk. The Dodgers failed to score in their half. In the fourth the Braves were scoreless, but the Dodgers got two more on 2 walks, a hit and two fielders' choices. Hughes held the Braves again in the fifth and the Dodgers made two more on a walk, a throwing error which put men on 2nd and 3rd and a hard single by Peckham. This completed the scoring; the final score being Dodgers 11, Braves 7.

Prospects for a close second half appear excellent. The Red Sox lost four games by one run in the first half. This is not a last place team. The Braves put together a five game winning streak, the longest so far this season. The Yankees were handicapped in the loss of their certain All Star O'Callaghan through a ruptured appendix. His bat will be missed by his team and by the All Stars. Bobby Colclough has filled in as catcher very well since O'Callaghan's loss. The Dodgers will be trying to close out the season by taking both halves.

First Half Final Standing

Dodgers	6	3
Braves	5	4
Yankees	4	5
Red Sox	3	6

Notes

Jack Pace's Lions have clinched the first half of the Farm League season with four straight wins.

Former Little Leaguers umpiring are doing a great job and they are helping the Little League greatly by their efforts. Not only that, they are receiving excellent training in the running of the game. Fans, players, managers and coaches, please cooperate to make their job easier. Some of those helping are: Bob Gray, Michael Gray, Joel Peckham, Larry Baird, Danny Serieka, Doug Martell, Peter Branch, Steve Fisher, Jimmy McElholm, Ricky O'Brien, Billy Smith, Arthur Stavarides, and David Harkins. Also assisting are Peter Coon and Dick Gibbons.

Creditable pitching performances have been turned in by Flaherty and Bellino (Yankees); Neville, Callahan and Tansey (Red Sox); Treacy and Gay (Braves); Peckham, Bond and Brenner (Dodgers). Notice the new stand at the field? The Dads' Club found it somewhere, thanks to Mr. Barnes (Philip of the Dodgers), Jim Fitzgerald (Bruce of the Lions) moved it into position, and it was then fixed up with paint, counter, shingles, etc., by a battery of Dads including Neal Doherty, Frank Murawski, Warren Hieborn and others. The Mothers have been practicing in secret for their game vs. their sons. Take things easy, girls, we don't want anybody to get hurt.

NEW LITTLE LEAGUE STAND

If you have noted unusual activity at Ginn Field at early and late hours, the answer now stands in all its splendor over the edge of the Major League diamond.

The Little League Dads have obtained an old shed through the efforts of Charles.

Since that date the Improvement Committee has finished, rebuilt, repaired, and repainted until the finished product was revealed to be a first-class refreshment stand, complete in every detail from formica counter to linoleum rug.

The keys were formally presented by the President of the Little League Dads Club, Warren Hieborn, to Martha Hutchings, President of the Little League Women's Auxiliary, who enthusiastically accepted the gift of the stand as the solution to one of their most serious needs.

The stand will be in full operation by mothers under the able direction of the Concession Co. Chairman Grace Wingate and Lillian Garcia at every game. All contributions of the following civic-minded establishments:

Your patronage of the stand will provide not only excellent refreshments but some of the funds which the Auxiliary uses for the benefit of the team.

The Dads club wishes to gratefully acknowledge the time and efforts of the following ladies:

Charles Barnes, Joseph Garcia, Neal Doherty, Louis Errico, Frank Frongillo, Warren Hieborn, Frank Frongillo, Francis Murawski and Charles Tofuri. Also the generous contributions of the following civic-minded establishments:

Winchester Modernizing Company, Winchester Paint and Hardware, M & M Paint Store, Winchester, Mason Lumber Company, Malden, Friend Hardware Company, Medford, Wells Hardware Company, Winchester and Northern Floors, Inc., Winchester.

Come on down and see the Winchester Little League in action at Ginn Field and remember, whatever your youngster's activity, the Dads Club slogan is "Bring your youngster, don't send him."

LITTLE LEAGUE MOTHERS MEET SONS

One of Winchester's most spectacular sporting events will occur this Friday evening, June 8, at 6:30 p.m. at Ginn Field. We refer to the annual Little League Mothers vs. Sons Softball game.

Last year, the sons won by the slim margin of 3-2, so the mothers have been putting in some strenuous practice sessions, hoping to reverse the score this time. So far, these ladies have done limbering, up exercises and a considerable amount of batting and fielding practice; and now they are boning up on the strategy of the game. The Winchester Sport Shop has most kindly donated the softball for these sessions.

We are hoping for a large turnout of Little League friends and other interested spectators, because it promises to be quite a battle. In the event of rain, the game will be postponed to the following Friday, same time, same place.

JUNIOR TENNIS

Winchester's Junior Tennis League program will get under way Monday evening, June 11th at the Palmer Street Courts. Starting time is 6:15, with the first session to be devoted to registration of players.

Any boy born in 1940 or later is eligible to take part in the league activities, which are sponsored by the New England Lawn Tennis Association and the Winchester Tennis Association. The program includes weekly instruction sessions and ten team matches with other New England Junior Tennis League teams in the area.

Object of the program is to give the youthful racket swingers a sound foundation of tennis fundamentals and develop their interest in a marvelous sport which can be enjoyed at any age.

Supervisor of the Winchester Tennis League is Bob Joslin, experienced tournament competitor. When interviewed by the "Star" reporter concerning this year's prospects, Joslin said that team berths are widely open due to the loss of several experienced players from the strong 1955 team. Consequently, he expects there will be opportunities for more players to take part in match play this year and earn the prize New England Junior Tennis emblem.

To qualify for this award, a player must participate in four team matches. The following boys earned emblems last season: Dave Moore, Dan Scott, Dave Usher, Bob Dickey, Ricky Smith, Joel Peckham, Jeff Hills and Parker Gray.

WINCHESTER, 11; WAKEFIELD 8

Winchester High won its way into the State Tournament May 29th, by winning its Middlesex League game with Wakefield on Manchester Field, 11-8. The win gave the Indians both the league championship and the tournament berth.

The locals had to win it the hard way, coming from behind after Wakefield held a 7-3 lead in the 7th inning. Rotondi, Stowe and Johnston pitched for Winchester and none was effective. Bellino and Hagerty each hit triples and singles to lead the attack.

BOAT CLUB CARD PARTY SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 9

The first of the very popular evening card parties is scheduled for Saturday evening, June 9th at the club house, rain or shine. Coffee and dessert will be served before the card playing and any kind of card game from poker to pinchle may be played. There'll be plenty of prizes and loads of laughs. Mrs. Bart Sullivan is in charge of festivities. The price is low because (we hope) members are going to bake the desserts. Anyone who bakes moderately well (and who doesn't, thanks to the ready mixes) is cordially invited to contribute a cake, cookies, brownies or any other figure destroying delicacies. Please call Mrs. Sullivan and tell her you're doing it, so she'll know what to expect.

Past Party Notes

Nearly 200 Boat Club members enjoyed themselves enormously at the opening party. Entertainment was excellent, refreshments delightful and everyone seemed to be having a gay and friendly time. Mrs. Sullivan, takes a bow. Any of you gals who missed the Koffee Klatch at the Club a couple of Mondays ago, missed a really swell affair. Gallons of coffee, dozens of doughnuts and millions of words were used up as the gals got together. Mrs. Robert Armstrong was chairman of this delightful get together. The first ladies card party was an overwhelming success. A capacity crowd of 20 tables of gals, gobbled up every last crumb of goodies, played a few hands of cards between chatter, gathered up their prizes and went happily home. Mrs. John Fitzgerald and Mrs. William Wearmore are in charge of the next afternoon bridge. It is set for Wednesday afternoon, June 13. Reservations will be accepted to June 6.

Rumor has it that most of the Snipe sailors are converting their sail boats to ice boats. This we believe.

TANSEY IN NCAA TOURNEY

George Tansey, son of Former Selectman and Mrs. J. Joseph Tansey of Canal street, has been chosen to be a member of the University of New Hampshire baseball team Friday at Little League Field. Stavarides pitched for the Lions and Hession, for the losers. In a Little League Farm Team game Friday at Little League Field, the Tigers won from the Bears, 8-7 with Root pitching. Hutchins worked for the losers. Amico of the Tigers got the only extra base blow, a triple.

MEMORIAL DAY AT WYMAN SCHOOL

Memorial Day was appropriately observed at the Wyman School on May 29 when the pupils in Mrs. Keene's Grade V presented a program especially arranged for this day.

The class welcomed Commander Proberg, of Post No. 97, American Legion, as their honored guest.

The program opened with a march. John Donovan was the Flag Bearer, and the Guard of Honor was composed of Tom Johns and Tom Salter. Sandra Stockwell, the announcer for the assembly, led the audience in the Salute to the Flag and in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

For their next number, the entire class participated in a spirited drill and song entitled "The Patriotic Wish." Leslie Shean, Andy Page, and Joseph Lane shared honors in explaining the true meaning of Memorial Day.

One of the most impressive parts of the assembly was the recitation of three poems of patriotism. Candace Callahan recited "The Moving Poem," "In Flanders Fields," and "The Reply" by R. W. Lillard. The entire class joined in reciting "A Patriotic Poem" by Edgar A. Guest; solo parts were by Bill McConnell, Pepper Cunningham, Charles Vanner, Woody MacClean, Bill Gaffney, Bonnie Chaffe, and Cynthia Hopkins.

For their final song, the class sang the old favorite of Civil War days, "Tenting Tonight." Tammy Little, trumpeter, played taps, and then the program was over.

"GOOD NEIGHBOR" DRIVE NEARS END

With the "good neighbor" house-to-house solicitation for The Salvation Army's Friendly Annual Appeal in Winchester rapidly nearing completion, Mr. Charles W. Blanchard, 28 Seneca road, Chairman today issued a special "thank you" to both his volunteer workers and to the contributors.

"I am very grateful for the wonderful support given to The Salvation Army by the people of Winchester. I am also very proud of the work accomplished by the volunteer workers and I wish to extend to them my heartfelt thanks for their untiring efforts. To them, as always, must go the major portion of the praise for the success of the Friendly Appeal.

"It is gratifying to know that the day-in day-out efforts of the Winchester Service Fund Committee will be continued and that twenty per cent of the money contributed here will be expended to help needy children, veterans, servicemen, families and people of all ages, races, creeds and colors right here in Winchester. The remainder will go to support the famed regional services. The Salvation Army such as Wonderland Fresh Air Camp, Red Shield Club for the Armed Forces, Both Memorial Hospital, Prison Department, League of Mercy, Disaster Services and many others. Once again my warmest thanks to every volunteer worker and every contributor."

A final push is needed if Winchester is to maintain its proud record of going "over-the-top" in the Friendly Annual Appeal and anyone who has not contributed may mail or bring his donation to Charles W. Butler, Campaign Treasurer, Winchester Trust Company.

EIRE NIGHT SPONSORS

Arthur E. Hailey of 49 Salisbury street, Richard Maguire of 20 Ridgely road and J. Joseph Maloney of 6 Lincolnshire way, are among the sponsors of the Eire Society of Boston's annual Night at Pops on Friday, June 8, at Symphony Hall.

The proceeds will go toward a contribution of $1,000 made by the Eire Society this month to the Boston Symphony Orchestra to enable it to open its European tour this summer with concerts in Cork and Dublin.

Among the numbers to be played is the "Eire Suite," a special arrangement of Irish pieces for the Boston Pops Orchestra commissioned for by the Eire Society several years ago.

ADVICE TO EMPLOYERS

Information has been received by William D. Sullivan, cashier of the Winchester National Bank that the coming summer months will find said Mr. Sullivan "for those employers whose business naturally increases during the warmer weather, especially the seasonal employers, to get their houses in order insofar as their social security records are concerned."

Many of the owners and operators of roadside ice cream stands, summer camps, outdoor theaters, concessions, etc., will be employing young workers and it will be the responsibility of the owners to obtain the social security numbers for their payroll records. If any of the younger women have recently changed their names through marriage, the employer should see to it that this change of name is reported to the Social Security Administration. The employer will be complying with the law in requiring every worker to show his social security account number card to him at the time the employment relationship begins.

"The local social security district offices will lend every assistance to all employers and employees in all social security matters," continued Mr. Sullivan "so that no one should hesitate to contact them for applications for social security numbers, for change of name forms or for any other information dealing with the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the law."

The address of the district office servicing the Winchester area is 2 Trowbridge street, Cambridge 38.

Mass., while the telephone number is University 4-3900. Gerald J. Murphy, district manager of the Cambridge office, also wishes to inform the residents of Winchester and vicinity that, for their convenience, the same services which are obtainable at a district office can be had by contacting the Winchester Post Office, front lobby, any Tuesday morning between 10:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m.

Cadillac

Expected Much...and Got More!

He had heard it time and again from his friends who drive Cadillacs.

He had heard, for instance, of Cadillac's marvelous performance . . . and of Cadillac's great comfort and handling ease . . . and of the satisfaction that comes to the man at the wheel.

And so, when he took the keys to his first Cadillac just a short while ago, he thought he knew what to expect from the "car of cars".

Well, here he is—a few miles out on his maiden journey—and he's learning a great truth about Cadillac: that nothing can adequately prepare a man for Cadillac ownership, save the experience itself.

How, for instance, could anyone fully foresee the joys of owning a new Cadillac car? It gives a man a sense of pride and a feeling of achievement and fulfillment that literally defy description.

Or how could anyone anticipate the thrill of driving a new Cadillac? Smooth and quiet . . . eager and responsive . . . restful and relaxing—it simply has no counterpart on the world's highways.

And how could anyone foreknow the many other pleasures that await him at the wheel . . . the joy of finding that his Cadillac, with all its quality and character, is among the most practical of motor cars to own and operate . . . and the satisfaction we believe he will find in his relationship with us as his Cadillac dealer—and in our honest concern with his motoring well-being.

Why not stop in soon for a personal preview of this wonderful experience?

We think you will be delighted to learn how quickly you can get delivery and to find how much your current car is worth to us in trade.

KIWANIS CLUB FISHING DERBY

The Winchester Kiwanis Club held their annual Fishing Derby at Wedge Pond last Saturday, June 9th. This popular event for children of Winchester up to and including the ninth grade attracted a surprisingly large turnout of hardy fishermen and brave shivering parents.

The day turned out to be good fishing weather, but rainy and cold winds made it quite uncomfortable for all present. However, hot coffee and hot dogs helped to warm the "innards" and the original turnout of youngsters fished right to the final gun.

As is the custom, a parade formed at the rear of the Town Hall and marched to the pond led by Al DiPietro, this year's Fishing Derby Chairman.

The popular Immaculate Conception drill team and drum corps escorted the young fishing enthusiasts on their march. Many thanks from our club to the ever cooperative "Immacs."

From 9:30 a.m. to 1 o'clock p.m., the fishermen depleted the stock of fish in the pond and each catch was measured and credited to the individual. The committee will announce the winners in the near future and prizes will be awarded at one of the Little League games.

The Star and the Boston Globe covered the event, with a fine story appearing in last Sunday's Globe.

Also pictures of some of the children who participated.

The Kiwanis Club is especially grateful to the above papers, Babe Mullen and the Park Department, George Hendrick and his able auxiliary police force, Chief of Police Harold and last, but not least, the parents who made the Derby a success by accompanying the "fishermen" to the pond.

Our thanks go also to the many individuals and merchants who co-operated with the committee to make this annual project possible.

The 14 foot fisherman boat and motor was won by Leonard MacGillivray, 19 Mont St., Arlington, and will be launched on Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire.

Testimonial Vaudeville Show At High School Tonight

Tonight is the night—Winchester for the testimonial vaudeville show at the High School Auditorium, the place, and the best in honor of Mr. Ray Hayward, one of Winchester High School's best teachers, who is retiring this year.

This show abounds in familiar names and acts. Certainly everyone well remembers such names as Phil and Ted O'Rourke, Doty Hickley, Marguerite Derro McCabe, and Phyllis O'Neill Williams, who will all be on hand to perform. Besides these well known performers the talented Herb Gardner and his orchestra will again charm the audience, as well as a pony chorus of pretty girls, some of whom at this point realize they haven't used certain leg muscles for sometime, and an opportunity to express their busy composing and harmonizing their special songs for this occasion.

After the show a very informal reception will be held in the High School Gymnasium. Arrangements for this have been put in the capable hands of Helen Carroll Pratt who tells us that her committee will see to it that plenty of punch and home-made cake will be available for all. During the reception Buttons Burbank's expert piano music will be heard in the background while everyone has an opportunity to express his good wishes to Ray Hayward.

All proceeds of this show will be presented to Mr. Ray Hayward. The seats are unreserved, and tickets are available from the Insurance office of William Wilde & Son, 3 Thompson street, as well as at Hevey's Drugstore. Of course, tickets will be sold at the door tonight.

KENNELLY — McMANUS

I., at a nuptial mass in Blessed Sacrament Chapel, U.S. Naval Receiving Station, Washington, D. C., Saturday morning, June 10.

Wearing a white pure silk bouffant gown with yoke of re-embroidered Alencon lace, a miniature pearl tiara and choker, length veil and carrying a missal adorned with white orchids and stephanotis, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Finn of Winchester and bridesmaids, Miss Lyne McManus of Natick, cousin of the bride, and Gertrude Barry of Winchester, wore blue nylon lace dresses with matching pearl trimmed caps and carried old-fashioned bouquets of pink carnations and camellias.

William Kennelly of Barrington, R. I., was his brother's best man and ushers were Paul McManus, brother-in-law, and John Pleck of Glencoe, Illinois.

Pre-and post-nuptial parties were tendered the bridal couple in the Embassy and Pan American Rooms of the Hotel Statler in Washington on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. At the wedding reception Miss Carol McManus of Natick was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennelly flew to Bermuda for their wedding trip and upon their return will reside in Washington where Mr. Kennelly is in service with the U.S. Navy.

SMOKE EATERS

Winchester Firemen fight blaze at Quigley's Carriage House.

A carriage barn at 58 Lake street was burned to its foundation Friday night in a 2 alarm blaze. The building, owned by Thomas Quigley, Jr., of 56 Lake street, was in flames when it was seen by Walter Prue of 61 Lake street, who notified the fire department.

On the second alarm an engine from Woburn and a hook and ladder truck from Arlington covered the station in Winchester. Traffic was congested on Main street and Wildwood street as spectators gathered from Winchester and neighboring towns.

Full extent of the damage is still unknown. Frank G. Farris, whose nearby residence was threatened, undamaged, lost two boats which were in the barn. The structure was used at one time as a storage space and repair garage for the trucks of the Quigley Company.

SIDEWALK ART SHOW

The first annual Sidewalk Art Show sponsored by the Winchester Art Association was held last Saturday, June 9, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. During these hours nearly 1,000 people viewed the show. The day was cold and dreary with a drizzle much of the time but the large attendance and the enthusiasm of the people made up for the bad weather and a similar day which caused a postponement from the previous Saturday. The obvious pleasure of those viewing the show repaid in full measure, the hard working committee.

This Sidewalk Show gave opportunity to local artists and those from nearby towns to hang as many pictures as they wished. About 200 pictures were exhibited. Many of them were for sale but not for sale signs were numerous. Many pictures and ceramic pieces were sold to the satisfaction of the artists.

The exhibitors hung their picture along the fence at Manchester Field. Committee members and their assistants were on hand all through the day. The Sidewalk Show presented a gay appearance and was enjoyed not only by the people on the sidewalk who came to see it but also by people in automobiles passing on the Parkway.

Artists from the following towns were represented in the show: Belmont, Boston, Lexington, Lincoln, Medford and Melrose.

Winchester artists who hung pictures in the show were: Adolph A. Alla, Grace Aseltine, Margaret Bailey, Jane H. Atkinson, Vera Benson, Maurice Bird, Ardy E. Cairncross, Dorothy Carr, Frances Dinnick, Mildred Edenberg, Lee Griffin, Pauline P. Hall, Dorothy Howard, Gertrude Irving, James N. Jones, Margaret J. King, Jean Kirkpatrick, Elizabeth Lobingier, Emily H. Marks, Betty Lou Marten, Helen L. Walker, Isabel Monk, Martha M. Moore, Gloria Mueca, John Ottiano, Louise Pacer, Sheila Scanlon, Ethel Seidhof, Elizabeth Tucker, Geneva Davidson, Helen L. Walker, Isabel Monk, Martha M. Moore, Gloria Mueca, John Ottiano, Louise Pacer, Sheila Scanlon, Ethel Seidhof, Elizabeth Tucker, Geneva Davidson.

At one end of the fence, on tables, were displayed some very colorful, fine ceramic pieces done by Margaret Bailey, Edna Hatch, Esther Howe, Carol Nickerson, Angelina Noyes, and Blanche Wadleigh. Barbara Parsons exhibited several pieces of enamel ware. All of these people are local residents and are well known in their fields of art.

Mrs. Paul Howard, Mrs. Stanley Cairncross and Mrs. Kenneth Hall were the very able co-chairmen of the Sidewalk Show. Chairmen of the various sub-committees were: Mrs. George E. Connor, Mrs. Theodore Atkinson; Hostesses, Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Wendell Irving; Properties, Mrs. Royal H. Wadleigh, Mrs. Charles Underwood; Publicity, Miss Mary Dodge, Mrs. Waldo Lyon; Registration, Mrs. John L. Lobingier, Mrs. Clarence Luitwiler; Exhibits, Mrs. Henry E. Edenberg, Mrs. John P. Carr; Mailing and Telephoning, Mrs. Adin Bailey, Mrs. Hollis Nickerson; Ceramics and Mrs. Kenneth Hall, Treasurer.

Many other members of the Winchester Art Association assisted in various ways. Their assistance under such fine leadership, the splendid cooperation of the Town Department and the Winchester Star combined to give the Winchester art show another fine community event.

Dr. Samuel B. Kirkwood, President of the Winchester Art Association, while viewing the Sidewalk Show, was heard to say: "This is certainly a fine beginning and indicates that such an Art Show can be a worth while annual event."

NO EASEMENT YET

B. & M. DELAY HOLDS UP CHURCH STREET PARKING LOT

Attempts of the town to construct and put in operation the parking lot at the rear of Winchester Station, for which funds were appropriated at the 1955 town meeting, hit a snag recently when the Boston & Maine Railroad refused at this time to grant an easement over railroad property from Common street to the parking lot. Without such an easement the lot cannot be reached from the street.

Town Counsel Vincent P. Clarke has been negotiating with the Railroad for a grant of permanent easement, and some time ago was successful in obtaining the consent of the Railroad for such a grant.

Recently, however, Mr. Clarke received notice from the road that the grant must be held in abeyance. The letter follows:

"Referring to our previous correspondence and conversations relative to interest of the Town of Winchester in obtaining permanent grant of easement in strip of railroad land for driveway purposes, Common street, Winchester.

This matter has been carefully considered by all interested departments of the railroad and I am obliged to inform you that due to pending negotiations in regard to station facilities at Winchester, this proposed grant of easement must be held in abeyance until definite information is available on the new station.

We will write you again on this matter as soon as possible.

Very truly yours,
W. A. Kirk, Asst. Manager
Real Estate—Industrial Dept."

EDITORIALS

Mr. Rupert Jones, in his letter of last week about the Aberjona, is correct in describing the river between the two bridges on Main street and Waterfield road as a thing of beauty, at least insofar as the setting for the water goes. The water, unfortunately, is something else again! Not only is its appearance particularly offensive, but the stench is at times beyond anything a self-respecting community should abide.

This stench and appearance is characteristic of the river all along its course through town. At best it is unpleasant to the sight and nostrils; at its worst it is little better than an open sewer running through a community that prides itself as being a good place in which to live.

What causes the looks and odor of the river we do not pretend to say. Some blame industrial waste and the small capacity of trunk line sewers carrying the waste through town. Whatever it is, something should be done about it, and soon!

Some years ago the late Edmund C. Sanderson, then Water Commissioner, attacked the pollution of the Aberjona by industrial plants, taking the town's case to the State authorities and prosecuting it with characteristic vigor.

He got results, but year by year the improvement has been dwindling until it is again time for another protest. Winchester should not continue to tolerate the malodorous mess our historic Aberjona is becoming.

As for the segment of the stream beyond the Waterfield bridge, that is now lost to all shame. The straight construction and the so-called flood control dam at the foot of Mystic avenue, doomed the old meandering river we used to know and love. All it is good for now is to cover over and use for parking. The sooner the better!

Several weeks ago Winchester was alarmed by the finding of so-called practice bombs at several places around town. These bombs, replicas of the lethal explosives dropped from airplanes were harmless, but some of the home made bombs being produced by chemistry minded boys and young men are far from that! In fact considerable property has been damaged and some rather serious injuries have resulted from premature explosions of these amateur bombs, made from chemicals readily procurable at pharmacies or stores, or, unfortunately, too easily acquired from high school and junior high school chemistry laboratories. Nor are the so-called toy chemistry sets blameless in this respect.

Following a number of accidents caused by explosives manufactured by teen-agers, the Fire Chiefs of the Commonwealth requested the assistance of the Board of Fire Prevention Regulations in controlling the sale of chemicals used in the making of these explosives.

The explosives are made from various widely available chemicals and the control of the sale of these chemicals to prevent their misuse would also seriously interfere with their sale for normal use.

The Board of Fire Prevention Regulations consequently has requested the State Fire Marshall, to write all school superintendents, the Massachusetts State Pharmaceutical Association and the wholesale chemical supply houses, calling the problem of the misuse of chemicals to their attention, and asking their assistance in providing safety to teen-agers, who, in a few cases, are misusing these chemicals.

School superintendents have been asked to instruct science teachers to use care in teaching how chemicals can be used to make explosives and to caution students that experiments with potentially explosive chemicals should be confined to laboratories. School science teachers have been asked to exercise the greatest care to see that chemicals for school experiments are not diverted to use outside school.

Druggists and chemical supply houses are urged to exercise their best judgment in the sale of chemicals to individuals where there is any reason to suspect they might be used in the manufacture of explosives in violation of the laws of the Commonwealth as contained in Chapter 148, Section 35, of the General Laws, as amended.

All these precautions are being taken to guard against the danger of home made bombs, but in the last analysis it is the parents to whom the authorities must look to most effectively prevent the manufacture of explosives by teen-agers. Fire authorities know of cases where injury to youngsters has resulted from explosives made by the teen-agers from chemicals purchased for them by thoughtless parents.

The legitimate manufacture of explosives is sufficiently risky. The amateur and promiscuous making of bombs can not be tolerated. In a nearby town not long ago, a boy lost his hand in a premature explosion of a bomb he was making. His cellar contained so many explosive chemicals that only expert fireworks manufacturers would dare go in to remove them.

Keep an eye on that chemically inclined boy or girl of yours. See what they are doing with the chemicals they bought or asked you to buy for them! Their, and your own lives, to say nothing of the safety of your home, may depend upon your vigilance.

SCORE BOARD CLOCK ASSURED!

Editor of the Star:

To the many Winchester High School basketball followers and organizations who have so generously contributed to the Clock Fund I wish to make the following report.

First, thanks to you all. The amount necessary for the purchase of the electric clock and score board, its installation and the purchase of a suitable plaque has been subscribed.

The clock has been ordered and will be installed in the new gymnasium after school opens in September in order that Athletic Director Henry Knowlton can supervise its installation.

It will be presented to the 1955-56 basketball team at the first game in the 1956-57 season, which will be a night game.

The committee wishes to thank the Industrial Arts Dept. of the High School for making the Card board clock, to the Benigno Studio for the gift of the basketball picture and the Park Dept. for the use of their bulletin board on the Common.

Sincerely yours,
James H. Coon, Chairman Clock Fund Committee

FROM AN OLD FIREMAN

Editor of the Star:

May an old fireman express his complete admiration of the job done by the members of our Fire Department at the fire that destroyed my carriage house last Friday.

No one could have saved the carriage house but the prompt arrival of the Fire Department and their efficient handling of the situation saved two large adjacent buildings of much greater importance. My sincere thanks to Chief Callahan and his men. We are fortunate to have such firemen in Winchester.

ANNAPOLIS AND WEST POINT EXAMS JULY 9

Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers will hold a competitive Civil Service examination on Monday, July 9, at the Lowell Post Office in order to nominate three men for the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and one man for the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. The successful candidates will enter the academy in July next year. Vacancies at the academy will occur when the men graduate who entered in 1953.

The Annapolis midshipmen to graduate are Charles A. Mahoney, Jr., Roger H. Rotondi, and Richard J. Toner. The West Point cadet is Robert Comeau. Congresswoman Rogers asks that any man interested in taking the examination July 9, write to her at once at 15 Keary square, Lowell, to secure authorization to take the examination.

LITTLE LEAGUE SPONSORS

The Little League teams which provide physical and sportsmanship training, as well as a lot of fun, for so many Winchester youngsters would not be possible without the aid of several civic minded groups in Winchester. This year the Yankees are sponsored by the Rotary Club, the Dodgers by the Kiwanis Club, the Red Sox by Moody Motors and the Braves by Bonnell Motors.

The farm teams serve as testing and training grounds for the League teams. The Rams are sponsored by Hevy's Pharmacy, the Lions by McCormack's Apothecary, and the Tigers by the Elks. The Bears, who have no sponsor this season, are hoping someone will be in their corner soon.

FREDERIC S. SNYDER

Frederic Sylvester Snyder, formerly for nearly 40 years president of the Bachelier & Snyder Company of Boston and until recently a widely known resident of Winchester, died Tuesday, June 12, in Park Ridge, Ill. He had been making his home with his son, Leonard W. Snyder, in Mt. Prospect, Ill.

A native of Huntington, Vt., Mr. Snyder was born January 13, 1868. He came to Winchester prior to 1908, living first on Sheffield road and later building the home at 350 Highland avenue he occupied for many years. His last home before leaving town two years ago, was on Ferryway. He was a member of Winchester Country Club and served on the old town Warrant Committee, predecessor of the Finance Committee, from 1912 to 1916, acting as chairman in 1915. He was active in relief work in Winchester during World War I.

In addition to his association with Bachelier & Snyder Company, Mr. Snyder served during World War I in the U. S. Food Administration under former President Herbert Hoover as chief of the Division of Coordination of Purchase.

Later he served as a member of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium and the Commission for the relief of European refugees.

He acted as president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce from 1922 to 1923, and from 1931 to 1933. He was also for many years associated with the Institute of American Packers, serving as chairman of the board in 1928.

On April 19, 1909, he married Anne Thompson Wills of Winchester, who died April 4, 1945. Besides his son, he leaves two daughters, Charlotte Snyder Turgeon of Amherst and Margaret S. Dozier of Fullerton, California.

A memorial service will be conducted Monday, June 18, at 2 p. m. in the Unitarian Church by the Minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

WINS PAPER TRADE HONORS

Jim McGoldrick of Englewood road, associated with the Robertson Paper Company of Bellows Falls, Vt., came to Winchester to win the known local paper house to win the horseshoe championship of the Boston Paper Trade at the annual out-horseshoe held Monday at Charles River Country Club.

Mr. McGoldrick sprang into prominence in Paper Trade horseshoe circles when he won last year from the Trade's perennial champion, Royal P. Teele, long president of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association.

Evidently the McGoldrick 1955 win was not of the "morning glory" variety since he repeated this year. Mr. Teele, recently incapacitated with a badly infected foot, was present at Monday's outing but not voting, as Arthur Butters would say. The injured member naturally precluded any advance secret practice by Mr. Teele with his coach, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of All Nabasset. Those who know Mr. Teele best agree he would never enter the Boston Paper Trade horseshoe lists without his pre-tournament workouts with McLaughlin.

Commander Everett Goss of Reading, Commander 50, Knight Templar conferred the Order of the Temple on a class of candidates at the recent convalesce Monday evening at Masonic Apartments, Reading. Commander Goss made his home at 41 Allen road. Mrs. Goss and Mrs. Francis C. W. Lazen, by were in charge of the collation that followed the convalesce.

SURPRISE PARTY AT NOONAN SCHOOL

More than 400 friends of Custodian Henry Drown of the Noonan School and his wife, Blanche, who are leaving town in October, to take up residence in St. Petersburg, Fla., gathered at the school hall Monday evening, to wish them well and to enjoy a surprise party for Mrs. Drown.

Noonan School sixth graders opened the program by singing "America the Beautiful," in which the audience joined. Miss Jean Loudin, assistant supervisor of music led the children in an appealing rendition of "A Norwegian Child's Prayer."

Alfred "Mickey" Meurling then directed the Sixth Graders in a lively square dance, which was followed by Michael Longiro, "The Little Accordion Man of the Noonan School," who gave a very finished performance on his instrument. He was joined after his solo number by Mr. Drown on his "button type squeeze-box," the two playing a duet, followed by a Drown rendition of the old timer, "Red Wing" played country style.

Book in hand, Mr. Drown next impersonated Ralph Edwards of "This Is Your Life" fame, moving down the aisle of the hall in search of the assisting subject. This proved to be the surprised Mrs. Drown, who was escorted to the front of the hall and formally introduced to the gathering. While Frank Flahive sang "When Your Hair is Turned to Silver," Mr. Drown waltz his wife around to laughter and applause.

From there on it was Mrs. Drown's party. Mr. Drown, with the aid of colored slides and information surreptitiously secured while his wife was in Florida, looking over property, relieved Mrs. Drown's name from her birth to the present, naming her friends in and out of Winchester who had figured prominently in the careers of the Drowns.

Concluding the entertainment program Mr. Flahive sang "The Best to You," which he dedicated to Mrs. Drown. Miss Lorraine Whittemore of Woburn, a charming and talented young accordionist, played several selections which were enthusiastically received.

Mr. and Mrs. Drown were presented with a substantial purse by their friends, the presentation being made by a long time friend, Mrs. Leslie Nadeau. Mr. Bruce LaRose and Cub Scout Kenneth Rokenetz presented Mrs. Drown with a beautiful orchid corsage, the gift of Pack 8, Cub Scouts of which Mr. Drown is an honorary Bobcat.

Mr. and Mrs. Drown were remembered with checks by William Parkman and Mystic Valley Masonic Lodge, the presentations being made by the Masters, respectively, Austin Nanry and Harvey Haag.

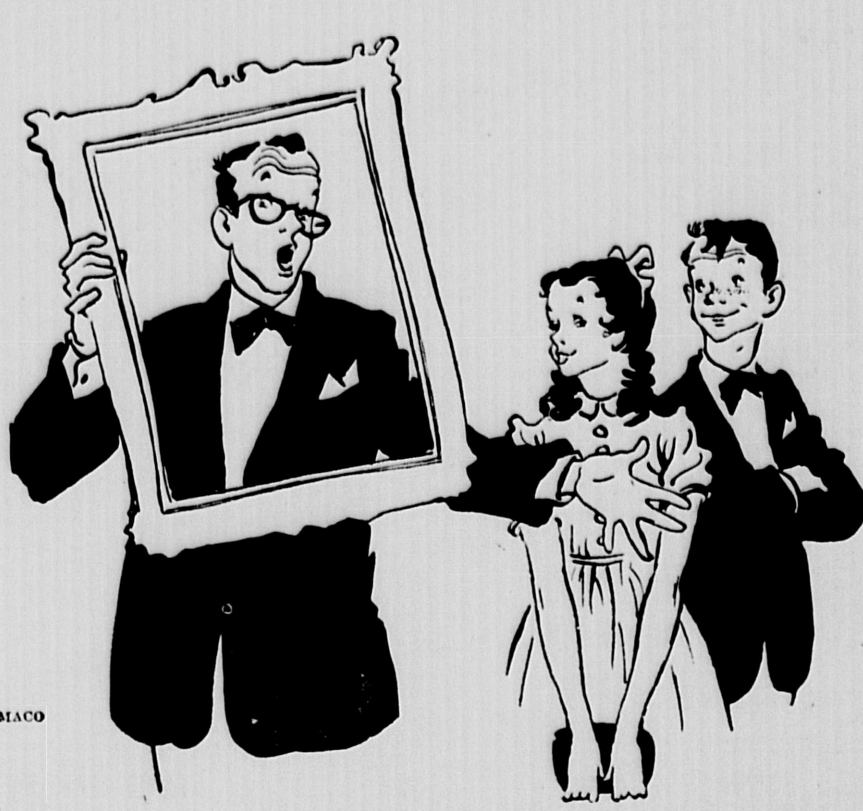

Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Parish, also presented the Drowns with a gift and a beautiful bouquet of flowers was received from Judge and Mrs. Richard Comerford of Leominster. Judge Comerford, a childhood friend of Mrs. Drown is judge of Leominster Court. The receipt of an honorary degree from Suffolk Law School prevented the Judge and his wife from attending the Drowns' party.

Helen, Diane and "Pat" gave their parents both a carving set and steak knives, and perhaps the highlight of the entire party was the telephone call the Drowns received from their son, A/2c Dick Drown, stationed with the Air Force in Hawaii. Another son, Rich, also in the Air Force, stationed in Texas, sent congratulatory greetings. Dancing and a post-hour concluded an evening enjoyed by all present.

Special thanks go to the Noonan School Mothers Association for cakes and cookies, and to Mr. Flahive, Miss Loudin, Mr. Meurling, Miss Whittemore and the pupils of the Sixth Grade of the Noonan School for the important parts they played in the success of the party.

HOSPITAL ADMINISTRATOR
TELLS OF RUSSIAN TOUR

The Winchester District Nursing Association held its semi-annual meeting on Friday, June 8 at 10:00 a.m. at the Winchester Girl Scout's Cabin. Mrs. Clarence S. Luitweiler, Jr., President, presided.

Present as principal speaker for this meeting was Mr. Harlan L. Paine, Jr., Administrator of the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. Rowland Patrick, Co-Chairman of the Education Committee, introduced Mr. Paine, a graduate of Brown and Northwestern Universities; and at the present time, a Trustee of the Massachusetts Hospital Association and Director of the Hospital Council of Metropolitan Boston.

Mr. Paine vividly described his trip to Russia last January after he was granted permission by the Russian embassy in Washington to study hospital and health facilities there. Even more vivid than his talk were the colored slides Mr. Paine showed of Moscow which he described as the symbol of fear throughout the world. His first view of Moscow through his hotel window assured Mr. Paine of the wisdom of his trip which at times he doubted. Being in Moscow was his opportunity to try and understand the Russian people.

Mr. Paine described the Russian people as an intelligent group, the average of whom seeks to learn. There is a tremendous drive for education. Everyone is taking courses in higher technical learning. The library does the biggest business from the recreational standpoint. He felt no undercurrents and antagonism among the people as rumored; no thought of revolt or overthrowing the government exists.

Moscow is not only the capital of Russia but the capital of the Communist world. A billion people dedicated to Karl Marx. Every day delegates from all over the world visit Moscow—"We have been too complacent—too ignorant of the real situation of communism," stated Mr. Paine. In Moscow you feel that "Communism must Dominate" and to counteract this, we must understand more.

The Russian people get good medical care. They have more nurses and doctors per patient than we have. Their hospital equipment is poor but the hospitals are clean, with few luxury items. The government pays for hospital care, not the patient.

The Russians are working hard to rebuild slum areas and improve standards of living and all health facilities, for in this, they feel is strength.

Following an outdoor lunch with coffee and desert served by Mrs. Paul Forester, Chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Frank C. d'El-seaux, Mrs. George Marks, Mrs. Herbert F. Ross and Mrs. Alvan S.

The Winchester Branch Auxiliary held a very successful annual meeting on May 4th, at the home of Miss Mary A. Fitch, 14 Sheffield West. A good attendance was gratifying.

The report of the secretary Mrs. Alice Hildreth was interesting, with its sketch of former activities of this Auxiliary, new members have been added to our list.

The treasurer's report was encouraging, showing that we have given liberal donations to the Mass. Stock Conservation Society, for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; and a scholarship for two weeks for a Mass. teacher to attend the course at the Camp at Bear Island in Lake Winnepesaukee in August, at the Alvard Wild-Life Sanctuary under the direction of Lester A. Giles, Jr.

This Conservation Education Workshop is—in cooperation with Plymouth Teachers' College, Plymouth, New Hampshire, teaching techniques and skills appropriate to the classroom, school yard, and local parks and natural areas. It is so important to teach children an insight into the natural world and its relation to human society.

Mr. Lester A. Giles, Jr., was our speaker for the afternoon and told us much about the site on Bear Island, what has been done there, and the wild animals who have come to sanctuary. There are plans for future development of facilities there. His talk was further made interesting by colored slides. The island is reached by private boat from Meredith. Visitors may contact Mr. Giles' office at 180 Longwood avenue, Boston. Donations are needed to carry on this new branch of the American Humane Education Society which is affiliated with the S.P.C.A. and the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital in Boston.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Howland Noyes
Vice President, Mrs. W. C. Kimball
Rec. Secretary, Mrs. Frederick Cardin
Treasurer, Mrs. John H. Clarke
Cor. Secretary, Miss Gladys Folts
Directors: Mrs. George L. Reed, Mrs. Alfred Hildreth, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Everett P. Stone, Mrs. John H. Lyman, Mrs. F. Lee Foster

Miss Fitch served a most delicious Tea, and a social period was enjoyed in her lovely home.

Be-Kind-To Animals Week was recognized in the Winchester grade schools with stories and drawings relative to the Poster given to all the grade schools from the Society in Boston.

Mr. Forte of the Mystic School suggested that the pupils could bring cloth to be used in the Memorial Animal Hospital as they did last year. A generous amount was collected and called for by the ambulance.

There are more sick and injured animals to be cared for in the summer than at other times. The "needy Animals Patients Fund" would be helped by gifts to the Hospital at this time, there is a special appeal. It is good news that we hear from Mr. Macfarlane about the hearings in Washington, May 9 and 10 in committee in Congress that he attended relative to the Humane Slaughter Bill, for a law to be passed requiring all meat packers to render the animals unconscious before they are killed. The public knows nothing of their horrible suffering, much effort is being made to remedy it.

MR. AND MRS. CLUB

The Mr. and Mrs. Club brought to a fitting close its busy club season on Saturday, June 9th, at St. Mary's Hall, with a chicken barbecue supper followed by square dancing in which members and their friends danced with gay abandon to the expert calling of Mr. Billy Baxter of Wakefield.

A brief business meeting preceding the square dancing, the outgoing presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kelly expressed thanks to the members for their excellent co-operation in making the club year a happy one, and Mr. and Mrs. James Bradley, chairmen of the evening, in particular, for their work in bringing it to a successful close.

Father Marion, Spiritual Director, was presented with a check, a gift from the Mr. and Mrs. Club, following which, Mr. and Mrs. George Kean were installed as Presidents for the coming year.

A delightful lot of ceremony ensued as Mr. Kean called the new officers, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stowe, Vice Presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitney, Secretaries; and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brennan, Treasurers to the stage and directed each to present their predecessors with gifts from the club. Mrs. Kean, who did the honors for the new Presidents, presented Fr. Marion with a gift also.

All business being completed, the remainder of the evening was given over to do-si-do your partner and grand right and left your square. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Bradley was a remarkably efficient committee composed of:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dreano, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fay, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald O'Hanley, Mr. and Mrs. John Coakley, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. George deMars, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Covino, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hanley, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McCormack, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McNamee

PRINCIPAL GETS $50 A DAY AS PAINTING CONSULTANT
FORMER WINCHESTER SUPT. CONTENTS COLOR IS A CUSTOM JOB

Montgomery County School officials last night disclosed they had been paying one of their elementary school principals $50 a day as a color consultant in the painting of classrooms.
The disclosure came out under questioning by County Manager M. L. Reese and his budget officer, Newton Butts, as the school board set its fiscal year beginning July 1. The principal was identified as Dr. Mildred Landis of the Wood Acres Elementary School.
School Supt. Forbes H. Norris estimated that the principal would receive $1,200 to $1,500 this year on her per diem consulting fee basis. She got $8,250 a year for her principal's job.
Councilman Grover Walker said he understood she had spent four days as a consultant on a school in California.
Dr. Norris denied contentions by Mr. Reese and Mr. Butts that it would be possible to standardize color schemes in schools.
Dr. Landis said she felt that any such fee for color consultants on the building if it is new construction just as he pays his consultant in engineering and structural design.

The superintendent contended, however, that the board has had trouble getting the school system to make satisfactory results when they depended on the architect. He said at times the school board had to retain a heating consultant to check the architect's work.
Dr. Landis said she was a former director of fine arts for the State of New Hampshire. She was associated with Dr. Norris in the Winchester school system, where she served as superintendent before taking the Montgomery County post.

She told the Board of Education recently her work involved "selecting paint, putting up buildings." She said she had a preference for pink and lavender to supplant the traditional buff and brown, but she said it is "careful of character." People are "strong for or against" chartreuse, she told the board.
Among school personnel, reactions to the bright new colors are mixed. One official declared pupils and teachers alike are "very happy" with the color designs, while another stated the colors are "frustrating" and why he expensively to duplicate when repainting is necessary.

ROBERT W. DOVER
Robert W. Dover, formerly of 45 Vine street, a retired automobile painter and long time resident of Winchester, died quite suddenly early Monday morning, June 11, at the King Nursing Home in Medford. He was seriously ill with pneumonia in January and had been in poor health since that time. Recently, however, his health had improved and he had been able to get out and had even visited Winchester, his sudden passing, though not unexpected, coming as a shock to his family and friends.
Mr. Dover was born in York, P.E.I., August 4, 1864, coming to this country as a young man of 20 years. He had learned the carriage blacksmith's trade and for a time he worked for carriage manufacturers in Boston.
In 1889, he came to Winchester and first worked at the Marion Carriage Shop located in the third building which still stands at the corner of Lake and Main street. In 1898 he established his own business, doing blacksmithing, carriage painting and body work at a location on upper Main street.
Mr. Dover sold out in 1923, and left town to take up residence in Skowhegan, Me., where he purchased a wood-working business. He conducted this business for three years when he sold out and returned to Winchester. He re-established himself as an automobile painter, continuing in this business until his retirement in 1935.
Mr. Dover was one of the older members of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church and was long active in Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows, which he had served as noble grand. A tall man of strong physique, he kept active after his retirement by doing a lot of walking, his sturdy figure and quiet friendliness being known to many about town.

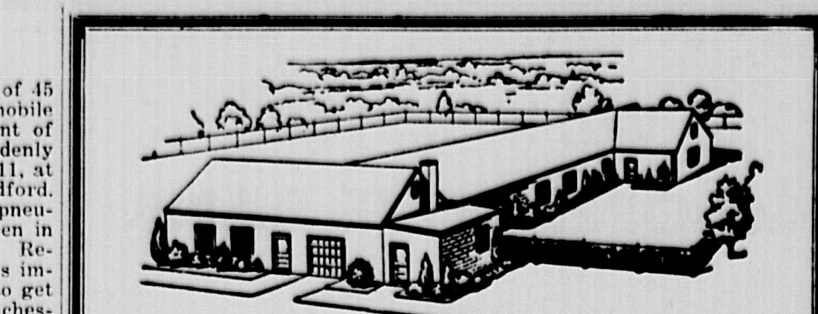

On April 4, 1889, Mr. Dover married Sadie Sample of Montague, P.E.I., who died in 1942. He leaves two sons, J. Alfred, of Brookline, and Harold Dover of Winchester; also, a granddaughter, Mrs. Robert W. Klein of Frederick, Md., four great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Duncan Campbell of Milton.
Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. MARY G. MACKEY
Mrs. Mary G. (McCarthy) Mackey, wife of James E. Mackey of 18 Rangeley Ridge and a teacher in the South School in Stoneham, died Sunday evening June 10, at the Winchester Hospital following a six weeks illness. She had lived in Winchester for the past 20 years. Born in Somerville, Mrs. Mackey graduated from Somerville High School and from Salem Teachers' College, subsequently receiving her Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in Education from Boston University. She had also done graduate work at Columbia University, and from 1920 to 1944 taught in the elementary schools of Somerville. She was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America in Woburn. Her husband is her only survivor.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Lynch-Capitoll Funeral Home in Woburn with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Edmund Parker was celebrant, Rev. Edward O'Connell of St. Joseph's, Medford, was deacon, and Rev. Joseph E. McInnis of the Immaculate Conception Church, subdeacon. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

MISS ELIZABETH LINSKOTT
Miss Elizabeth Linscott, daughter of Mrs. Harriet (Cook) and the late Daniel C. Linscott of 20 Central street, died Friday morning, June 8, at the Winchester Hospital, following an operation which she underwent the previous day.
Born in Winchester, May 11, 1905, Miss Linscott was graduated with honors from Winchester High School in the class of 1926, and from the University of Wisconsin in 1930. She did graduate work in the Library Science at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N. Y., and for several years until her health began to fail she did library substituting in several local libraries, among them being the Medford Library.
Latterly she did baby sitting and cared for elderly persons at times when she was free from the care of her mother whose own activity has been considerably curtailed recently by ill health.
Miss Linscott had a great love for music and was an accomplished pianist. She was also devoted to gardening and had great success with flowers and shrubs. She was a member of the First Baptist Church and formerly active in the Thrift Shop conducted by the Women's Guild of that Society.
Miss Linscott leaves her mother, with whom she made her home, and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Waters of Louisville, Ky.
Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, at the First Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, officiating. Organist Mary Ranton Witham played the favorite "Largo" by Handel. Burial was in the family lot in Forest Hills Cemetery.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Happy days are here again for all the day campers signed up for this season of Camp Joy beginning next Monday, June 18th, through July 12, 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Monday through Tuesday, except the 4th of July.

Please read and remember the following:
Camp will be held Rain or Shine. Campers bring health card and camp fee with them on opening day.

Transportation will be the responsibility of the parents. Campers will bring a lunch from home, with a cup for individual use. Milk will be furnished each day.

Campers will be placed in units according to age and interests. The general camping program includes campcraft, handicrafts, sports and games, dramatics and singing. Intermediate Scouts will be able to work on their badges.

Camp Joy is administered by Executive Director Mrs. Edward Shimmick, assisted by the following adult staff:
Mrs. Frank Haley, Mrs. Arthur T. Lewis, Jr., Mrs. Arvid Monsen, Miss Myra Luce, Mrs. Robert Paine, Mrs. James Stewart, Jr.

"A wonderful time" was unanimously reported by all the 35 Girl Scouts of Troop 22 who spent the weekend of June 1, 2 and 3 camping at Cedar Hill. Two camp-sites were used, Cedarwood for those using cabins and Sherwood for those using tents.

The girls did "open fire" and "stick cooking" as well as using a reflector oven and watching a dinner cooked in a "bean hole." In addition, they enjoyed nature hikes, a Square Dance, Campfire and living-in-tents. But, "Best of All," said one scout, "We liked getting to know each other better."

The only complaint heard was, "We had to come home." The leaders responsible for this successful weekend were:

Mrs. Lawrence Beckley, Mrs. James Kirk, Mrs. George Niles, Mrs. Salvatore Scasale, Mrs. James Stewart, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson.

The final board meeting of the season was held on Thursday, June 7th at Camp Joy. The members enjoyed a cook-out, and those who arrived with only a sandwich and ambitious enough to tackle Lamb Shish-Kebab and ginger bread baked on the reflector oven.

This relaxed social hour was terminated by a short but significant ceremony when Mrs. Ralph Thompson, representing the Program Committee, presented a large, new American Flag for Camp Joy, to Mrs. Roosevelt Harding, acting for the president, Mrs. Walden B. Hersey conducted the color guard who raised the flag and the entire group joined in a Salute to the Flag and appropriate songs.

COMMANDER LARSON DESCRIBED OPERATION DEEP FREEZE

Commander Conrad Larson of Marshall road, home from the Antarctica and Operation Deep Freeze, gave the boys and girls of the Mystic School a real treat on Thursday, May 31st. The children gathered in the assembly hall to see films of Commander Larson's experiences on that little-known, ice-bound continent at the South Pole.

Some of the high points of the colored movies showed the Emperor penguins, the rescue of the crew-men from the airplane which crashed near Little America, spouting whales frolicking in Ross Bay, the Ross ice shelf which was hundreds of feet thick, great icebergs breaking away from the ice-shelf and crashing into the sea. Many of the pictures showed the men at work setting up the base camps, and the hardships of weather and terrain which made their job so difficult.

One picture in particular which the children enjoyed was that which showed Commander Larson with a beard, wearing an orange crash helmet, and sitting in his helicopter ready for take-off.

After the showing of the films there were many eager hands raised to ask questions, and Commander Larson was kept quite busy answering the numerous queries.

Pupils and teachers are indebted to Commander Larson for giving of his time and interest. It was a program enjoyed by all, children and teachers alike.

First Class To Wear Caps And Gowns . . .

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES 186 STUDENTS

In graduating 186 members of the class of 1956 Sunday afternoon, June 10, Winchester High School made commencement history in two ways. First of all this was the first class to graduate in the new high school auditorium, completed only this past year, and second, the class of 1956 was the first to wear caps and gowns at graduation.

The auditorium was packed for the exercises which commenced at 4 o'clock with the graduates entering from both sides of the rear of the auditorium to the strains of the march, "Pomp and Chivalry," by Roberts, played by the High School Orchestra, directed by Wendell Withington, supervisor of music in the Winchester Schools.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

John Kluzer, exchange student from Milan, Italy, receives diploma from School Committee Chairman Dana J. Kelly as Acting Principal John Stevens consults the diploma list.

The graduates were seated in chairs placed between the stage and the first row of stationary seats, thereby increasing the room available for parents and friends of the class. On the stage with the officers of the class, Frank Dattilo, president; Joseph Bellino, vice president; Judith Fowler, secretary, and Robert Lindsey, treasurer, were the graduation speakers and Acting Principal John D. Stevens of the high school; Mrs. Neil Borden, chairman of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation Committee; Dana J. Kelly, chairman of the School Committee; and the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

FRANK DATILLO
of 1956

After the invocation by Rev. Mr. Snook, the class president, Frank Dattilo, welcomed the guests to the graduation. He was followed by the commencement addresses made by four members of the graduating class, Harlow Russell, Robert Page, Ellen Glowacki and Christina Page.

JOSEPH BELLINO
Vice President

Russell spoke on "Education," Page on "Science," Miss Glowacki on "The Twenty-Fifth Hour" and Miss Page on "International Relations." The addresses, none of which was of untoward length, showed thought, preparation and were well presented by the young speakers, each of whom was warmly applauded.

As a musical break, the orchestra then played the "Hungarian Dance No. 5 by Brahms" with Mr. Withington conducting; after which came the various awards and presentation of diplomas.

Acting Principal Stevens first called to the stage for recognition a group of graduates who had received scholarships from the colleges they are to enter in the fall. These included Mark Apsey, University of Massachusetts; Nancy Bradley, Wells College; John Lynch, University of Massachusetts; Allan Osborne, Brown University; Elizabeth Rowlington, Allegheny College; Richard Schaefer, University of Rochester; Jacqueline Snook, MacMurray College; and Nancy Switzer, Connecticut College for Women.

Mr. Stevens then presented special awards to Gail Cullen, who received the Elizabeth L. Naven Award, given by the Noonan School Mothers' Association to the outstanding former Noonan School pupil in the graduating class; Nancy Bradley, the Beggs & Cobb Scholarship; Catherine delivera, the Winchester Smith College Club Scholarship; Elizabeth Hood, the Mary B. Davis Memorial Award presented by the Winchester College Club; and Carole Wallace, the Nursing Scholarship presented by the Women's Auxiliary of the Middlesex East District Medical Society.

Chairman Kelly of the School Committee presented the Jere A.

Downs Memorial Awards to Virginia Larson, who will attend Massachusetts Memorial Hospital School of Nursing; Arlys Harrington, Jackson College; Jacqueline Snook, MacMurray College; Robert Inniss, Bentley School of Accounting and Finance; and Marguerite Dianne Bates College.

JUDITH FOWLER
Secretary

Mr. Kelly then introduced Mrs. Borden, who as chairman of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation Committee, presented the scholarships awarded by this organization. Before the awards she announced that the Foundation had received this year $13,305 from 24 organizations and clubs and 151 local business men, totaling 1925 individual gifts ranging from 25 cents to $1,000.

Foundation Scholarships were awarded to Natalie Bellows, who will attend Jackson College; Nancy Bradley, Wells College; Mary Lou Cox, Rhode Island School of Design; Peter Frotten, Northeastern University; Mary Kearns, Katherine Gibbs School; Stephen Marshall, University of New Hampshire; Christina Page, Wellesley College; Ronald Parker, Tufts College; Elizabeth Rowlington, Allegheny College; John Sullivan, Villanova College; Ann Tansey, University of New Hampshire; and Linda Witham, University of Massachusetts.

ROBERT LINDSEY
Treasurer

In some instances the local organization, in the name of which the Foundation Scholarship is made, was announced by Mrs. Borden. The Rotary Club gave the scholarship going to Miss Bradley and John Sullivan; the Winchester Art Association that going to Miss Cox; the Robert Keeney Memorial that to Stephen Marshall; the En Ka that to Miss Rowlington, and Winchester Post, the American Legion, that to Miss Tansey in Memory of the late Richard MacAdams.

Concerning the awards, Mr. Stevens presented scholarships without stipend in the name of the Winchester Foundation, to Judith Cairncross, Wellesley; Ellen Glowacki, Swarthmore; Robert Page and Harlow Russell, both going to Harvard, Certificate of Merit from the National Scholarship Foundation were presented to Margaret Dietz and Ellen Glowacki.

Mr. Kelly presented the diplomas to the graduates, each of whom was warmly applauded as he or she went to the platform. Especially warm was the applause that greeted Joseph Bellino, Winchester's brilliant athlete and the first in the history of the school to win all scholastic honors in three sports, football, baseball and basketball. Enthusiastic as was the applause for Bellino, it was overshadowed by the ovation given Giampaolo (John) Kluzer, an Italian boy from Milan who has been studying at Winchester High School as an exchange student under the American Field Service program. The enthusiasm of the reception given this youngster from a foreign land was very heart-warming, and it was noticeable that both youngsters and adults joined in the applause.

At the conclusion of the presentation of diplomas, the orchestra played the "Star Spangled Banner" and with the benediction by Rev. Mr. Snook another high school graduation became history.

Thomas Morse was the faculty director of the graduation exercises and was assisted by Joseph Aversa, Frank Weaver, Edward Burns, Frank Finigan, Henry Fitts, Henry Knowlton, Wendell Withington, Ruth Bennett, Constance Trickett and the senior home room teachers. Student ushers were Francis Murphy, Ronald Gravelle and John Horn.

ADULT EDUCATION SURVEY

The report on the survey on Public Adult Education in Winchester was presented last week to the School Committee by Mrs. Howard Aiken and Mrs. Robert Griffith as representatives of the League of Women Voters. The survey, which was conducted by the League as a public service, began in April with an open meeting sponsored by the Women's Council. Fifty-three men and women attended this meeting. Written questionnaires were then sent to citizens chosen at random from the latest Town List. The percentage of returns from the questionnaires was considered excellent. Many other people expressed their opinions on Public Adult Education in Winchester to the League Committee by telephone calls or in writing.

To summarize briefly the results, the League reports that 385 persons have indicated their approval of establishing Public Adult Education classes in Winchester. Seven disapproved. One was indifferent. 257 men and women said that they would participate in such a program. The eight most popular choices for courses in order were, sewing, wood-working, typing, foreign languages, upholstery, food preparation, insurance and investments, and ceramics. In general, there was great enthusiasm for a program of Adult Education.

State and Federal funds are available to communities to start and support a program of Public Adult Education. At the end of the fiscal year anywhere from one half to almost all of the money appropriated at Town Meeting is returned to the Town Treasury.

W.H.S. CLASS OF '31 REUNION

"Do you remember what happened to you on the night of June 9, 1931? What has happened to you since then?" Thus read the letter sent to all graduates of the Class of '31.

On June 8th, at the Colonial Country Club, Lynnfield, 106 were present to recall high school days and bring each other up to date on these questions, making it the largest 25th reunion.

Bruce Colpas, Master of Ceremonies, introduced Francis Felt who read the invocation sent by former classmate Father Henry J. Cassidy.

It seemed like old times seeing our popular guests of honor once more—Mr. and Mrs. Wade L. Grindle, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hayward, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brandt (Miss Margaret Centerwall, our girls coach), who spoke a few words of greeting.

After a most delightful buffet, each class member introduced himself and prizes were presented to Mary Woodhull Lipscomb who traveled the farthest, coming from Fort Wayne, Indiana; Irene Moulton York, first married and has the oldest child; Gretchen Stone Cheney, traveled the most; Evelyn Anderson Riley and Dick, class members married; Olanie Johnson, most children and grandchildren; Janet Sanford Perkins, most recently married; Margery Poland Flaherty, who was not present, was acknowledged to hold the prize for the most children, having her eighth at this time. Bill Stalker sent the first reservation.

Pictures and letters from classmates unable to attend from as far as Germany were posted on a bulletin board. A gay touch of color was added by the 150 bright carnations sent by Janet Nichols Dalrymple's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nichols.

The Master of Ceremonies expressed the thanks of the class to the Co-Chairmen Janet Nichols Dalrymple and Ruby Brown White and Treasurer Evelyn Anderson Riley and to their committee including Loretta Carleton, Bruce S. Colpas, Helen Coss Cunningham, Carmine DeMotte, John Lane, Jr., Aram T. Mouradian, Fern Trembier Neilsen, Francis R. Nowell, Dorothy E. Osborne, and Frances Peirce.

The corsages for the occasion were presented by "Nick" of Converse Market in acknowledgement of his Class of '31 friends.

It was well into the morning of June 9th, before final farewells were said and the promise made that it wouldn't be twenty-five years before the next reunion.

NO ENGINE FOR WINCHESTER

Having been notified of the possibility that the Boston and Maine Railroad might make a gift to the Town of Winchester of one of its discarded steam locomotives, the Park Commissioners, to whom would fall the care and control of the engine, have been considering the possibility and discussing it with other town officials.

It was at first believed it might be possible to place the locomotive at or near the old site of Winchester Station, but consideration of this location pointed up the loss of parking places if the engine was placed in that area.

In addition to loss of parking spaces, deterring factors were probably vandalism and possible injury to youngsters playing around the locomotive. In spite of such logical reasons for refusing the engine, lovers of old time railroading will regret it is not possible to have the "iron horse" in Winchester.

CURRENT INSECT CONTROLBy Max G. Fultz
(County Agricultural Agent, Middlesex County Extension Service)

The fore part of June means the appearance of many insect and disease pests in the home grounds. It means that pest control is important from this time on throughout the summer. Cold weather has retarded the development of insects this year just as it has retarded the growth of plants. Insects, however, time themselves surprisingly well to the development of the plant, and usually at the vulnerable particular pest is in appearance.

The scales of various kinds reach the active point in late May or early June. At the time they start crawling about it is possible to control them by using a contact poison. Oyster shell scale is common on lilac, ash, dogwood, maples, etc. A spray of DDT or malathion is used. Pine needle scale affects pines and may also be controlled by use of the same materials. Pine bark and bud scales the yellowish deposits on the trunks and branches of pine trees. It may be controlled by applications of malathion or lindane. Such applications should be repeated if needed.

When warm weather finally comes along, it will bring with it infestations of aphids and mites. Species of both combine to cause general appearance and they attack most of our horticultural plants. Aphids are evidenced by curling and stunting of leaves. They feed by sucking the plant juices. They are commonly found on the under side of the leaves, and the tender terminal growths. Effective control hinges on thorough spraying of the under sides of the leaves.

Mites cause chlorosis of varying kinds on the leaves. Any type of bronzing or yellowing may well mean that mites are present. Red spider mite is found on a wide variety of broad-leaf plants. It is first evidenced by sickly, bronze discoloration of the leaves. They gradually become yellow and then turn brown and drop off. Infestation usually appears on the lower branches of trees and shrubs and on low-growing plants. Malathion or acaricide materials are the common ones for control. The underside of the leaves must be sprayed thoroughly and usually two or more applications at 7- to 10-day intervals are needed.

Spruce mite produces the same discoloration on needle-bearing evergreens that the red spider mite causes on broad-leaved plants. The control is essentially the same as to materials and timing.

Another member of the graduating class, Miss Marjorie Logan, has won the Scholarship to Matignon High School, granted by Our Lady's Sodality, St. Mary's Church.

PASTOR PRESIDES AT BANQUET

The Class of 1956, graduating from St. Mary's School, was given a Banquet in St. Mary's Hall by their Pastor, Rev. John M. Manion, on Tuesday, June 6th.

The hall and stage were appropriately decorated with cut flowers making a beautiful setting for the boys and girls in their very special Class Day attire (extra commendation to their devoted parents).

John Harrington, Class President and the Class Committee sat at the head table with the priests, Fr. Manion and Fr. Anadore.

While all were enjoying the company of their classmates at their tables, selected recorded music contributed a festive atmosphere.

A Graduates Contest was conducted by Fr. Manion and Fr. Anadore in the nearby parking lot. The winners were made "rich quick," thanks to Fr. Manion.

On returning to the Hall, the entire class visited the Wishing Well; heard "Meet the Superlatives" read by James Butler; were astounded by the future contributions of the Class of '56 would make, as they listened to "A Visit to the Hall of Fame" described by Barbara Bowler; and felt relieved when they learned how rich next year's class would be because of their "Last Will and Testament" attested to by John Harrington.

Thomas Daschbach played the accompaniment while the class sang the new school song, "All Hail, St. Mary's." Words and music were composed by his mother, Mrs. Martha Daschbach.

Along with souvenirs of the day, each member of the class received a class picture with the names of the students affixed.

Dancing and expressions of gratitude for this unusual Class Day afforded them by Fr. Manion, brought to a lonesome but happy ending, a most pleasant day.

TIME FOR PRUNING SHRUBSBy Max G. Fultz,
County Agricultural Agent

We note that there is considerable discussion about just when the best timing occurs for pruning shrubs. There are a number now in blossom or post-blossom and many can be pruned. For years here we have recommended that early-blooming deciduous shrubs be pruned after the flower. This is for two reasons, one being to preserve the maximum of flower buds for the blossoming season. The other is to allow development of new growth that will contain next year's flower buds.

Others feel that there is a definite disadvantage to pruning during the growing season, because newly-developed leaves essential to plant growth are removed. Also, it is felt by some that it is harder to shape the shrub when it is filled with leaves.

For practical application, we should still say that a combination of the separate times of pruning is perhaps the best. Removal of some of the older leggy canes can well be done during the dormant season, as can removal of diseased or dead wood. On the other hand, actual corrective shaping and thinning cannot always be done during the dormant season without affecting the bloom. Judicious thinning, however, may be just the thing needed to make the blossoms vigorous and at their best. One who is thoroughly familiar with the flowering habits of the shrubs can do this efficiently.

As far as detrimental effect on the shrub and its leaves is concerned, we are inclined to discount this. If the shrub is too thick, certainly it needs thinning out, and although plant food and strength have been used to develop those leaves that are removed pruning should make the remaining leaf surface develop better with better penetration of air and sunlight. The end result is attained just as well, if not better.

It may be easier to visualize the shape and density of the shrub during the dormant season. It is a fact that a shrub appears thin after a dormant pruning will seem much thicker if not too thick when it leaves out. One should adapt himself to this factor, regardless of when the pruning is done.

Ready made bows for gift package 19 cents each. Winchester Star, Star Building.

Show Honored Veteran Coach

GRADUATE ACTORS PAYED TRIBUTE TO RAY HAYWARD

"I will always remember my 29 years in Winchester and be proud to say that I come from this town!" So said Ray Hayward, veteran English teacher as he acknowledged the ovation accorded him at the conclusion of the Alumni Vaudeville Show given in his honor last Friday evening at the high school auditorium.

Winchester High School's first Vaudeville Show was instituted 24 years ago by the then Director of Athletics Wendell Mansfield, who, with Mrs. Mansfield, was in the audience last Friday. Mr. Hayward assisted with the first shows and following Mr. Mansfield's departure, with the exception of a single year, has coached and handled the multitudinous details connected with the show each season.

Master of Ceremonies Tom Morse presents gifts to Ray Hayward at the Hayward Testimonial Vaudeville Show June 15.

The cast of this year's show had wanted to give an extra benefit performance for Mr. Hayward as an expression of their appreciation of his long years of faithful service, but the School Committee forbade such a performance.

As a consequence a little group of alumni, Helen Pratt, former coach of girls at high school; Bob Home, Teddy O'Rourke, Nat Cox, Jim Moffette, Marguerite McCabe, Jim Quine, Nancy O'Rourke and Denny Doucette got together and decided to put on an Alumni benefit show, getting back some of the old acts that pleased Vaudeville audiences in the past.

They faced a difficult task! June is a busy time, with people going away, all sorts of graduations, weddings and other parties to interfere, but the dauntless group surmounted all obstacles, and with the assistance and support of Act-Home, Ted O'Rourke, Nat Cox, Tom Morse, and Norton Demsey of the school faculty, Custodian Dan O'Connell and Jim Coon, lined up and put on the show, as well as arranging for the reception which followed the performance.

It was fearfully hot for the show, which makes the five to six hundred intrepid souls who braved the elements to see it unusually good. And those who did turn out were well repaid with a corking show, most of which was alumni. Some of the headlines of past years, such as Brock Lynch, Betty Hooper and Sue Hight, had other commitments, and places they might have filled on the bill were taken by kids from this year's show, who gladly helped out for the Ray Hayward they all love.

If you weren't there you missed "Red" Hannon's humorous impersonation of Mr. Hayward's address on the first day of Vaudeville ex-its, a really nice bit of imitation.

You also missed, among others, hearing Dottie Brandt sing "If I Loved You," "Dot" Hickey's performance of "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier" with its great climax; "June" Moffette's pleasing voice in "When I Grow Too Old to Dream" and Phyllis O'Neill's husky contralto singing "I Can't Give You Anything but Love, Baby," as only she can.

It wasn't all vocal solos. Bill Ross, Jim Quine and Ted O'Rourke got the show in by a good start with a clever song of welcome, in very close harmony indeed, and "Dot" Hickey and Joe Derby did some top-flight clowning and eccentric dancing in their humorous skit, "Walking Up the Avenue." Gretchen Luitwieler, proved she had lost none of her touch as she played "Indian Love Call" on her harmonica, and the Quine brothers, Jim and Bob, in Bermuda shorts, clowning and sang through a humorous skit in which the burly Jim impersonated a punch drunk fighter being interviewed.

TROPHY TO BELLINO

Joe Bellino, recently graduated Winchester High School all around athlete, was awarded a trophy, emblematic of being the outstanding school boy athlete of Italian extraction in Eastern Massachusetts, by the Italian-American Charitable Society at the annual Sports Night of that organization Tuesday evening at New England Mutual Hall. North Shore Schooboy Sports-caster Frank Festa acted as Master of Ceremonies, and presented Bellino with a handsome gold and rosewood trophy, depicting a football player on its central pedestal, flanked by two pedestals, on which were a basketball player and a baseball player. Joe's parents and members of his family were present, as well as his three coaches, Henry Knowlton, football; Jim Phillips, basketball, and Frank Provinzano, baseball.

WON JOHN ABBOTT TROPHY

Patrolman Bob Elliott and former Selectman Harry Chelafro were the winners of the John Abbott Golf Trophy last week, defeating Bill Hatch and Jim Mason in the final round of this popular tournament at the Winchester Country Club. "Big Bob" is the Course Marshall of the Club.

MRS. EDITH G. SQUIRES

Mrs. Edith Gaffield Squires, wife of Beaton H. Squires of 29 Lakeview road, died Friday evening, June 15, at Arnold House in Stoneham. She had been ill for 18 months, during which time she broke both her hips as the result of falls and was hospitalized for a year.

Mrs. Squires was the daughter of Frank and Sarah Louise (Whitcomb) Gaffield. She was born in Brookline, but spent her early life in Newton, where she was educated in private schools.

She and Mr. Squires were married February 1, 1912, and after their marriage lived for ten years in Western Canada, while Mr. Squires practiced law there. They had lived in Winchester for the past 35 years. Mrs. Squires was the last of her family, her husband being her only survivor.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the New England Cemetery Chapel with the Rev. Joseph MacDonald of the Waban Congregational Church officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Newton Cemetery.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Vito Scaturro of 20 Prince avenue, long time and well known residents of Winchester, were pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening, June 13, when they were feted on their silver wedding anniversary by a group of forty members of their family at a dinner and party at Carl's Duck Farm in Saugus. They received many appropriate anniversary gifts.

Mr. Scaturro is a life-long resident of Winchester and his wife has made her home here since her marriage. Their anniversary is being widely observed in their family, and on Saturday, June 16, Mrs. Grace Censullo of Lawrence, Mrs. Scaturro's sister, gave another surprise party for them in Lawrence, at which 50 persons were in attendance.

ABERJONA, 1956 STYLE

Showing waste flowing from sewer in the background through ditches toward the river near the Woburn line. The picture fortunately does not include the stench!

EDITORIAL

Our editorial comment on the condition of the Aberjona River last week brought a quick response, and some especially pointed remarks from persons living near the upper reaches of the river between Cross street and the Woburn line. Elsewhere in this issue, we print two views of the river in the rear of Forest street and toward the Woburn line taken by our photographer, "Bill" Ryerson, who was far from ready for a hearty meal when he concluded his photographic labors.

This river of ours has to be seen, and smelled, to be believed. It would really be hard to convince many of our neighboring townsmen that such conditions exist in a town like Winchester, a town that in the past has often been offered as an example of what an attractive suburban community can be.

We wonder, for example, how long Wellesley or Newton would tolerate an open sewer coursing between its borders! and, we wonder how much longer Winchester is going to have to stand for such a nuisance!

The Selectmen and Park Department have been alerted to conditions, and if it has not already been drawn into the general protest it would seem that our Board of Health should get on the firing line, and unlimber its artillery.

Chairman Redding of the Selectmen assured the Star that one source of objectionable odor coming from industrial waste at the town dump has been corrected, but there remains plenty more to be done!

GOT SCHOLARSHIPS TOO

The names of Judith Fowler and Charlotte Nutter were omitted from the Star's list of high school graduates awarded scholarships at Commencement June 10.

Miss Fowler was awarded the Winchester Mt. Holyoke College Scholarship, and Miss Nutter, a Winchester Scholarship Foundation Scholarship. Congratulations, girls, upon your accomplishment, and our regrets that your names were omitted from last week's issue.

OF WINCHESTER INTEREST

There is local interest in the marriage of Miss Margaret Huggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Huggins, Jr., of Mount Kisco, N. Y., to John Townsend Law, son of Dr. and Mrs. Russell R. Law of Woburn, which took place on Saturday afternoon, June 16, at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Mount Kisco. The bride's father lived in Winchester as a boy, his parents having been well known residents of the West Side during the early nineteen hundreds.

HARVARD COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

ENGLISH DISSERTATION BY ROBERT MARCHANT O'NEIL

It is of Winchester interest that among the speakers at the Commencement Exercises of Harvard University held June 14, in Tercentenary Theatre, Cambridge, was Robert Marchant O'Neil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. O'Neil (Isabel Marchant) of Cambridge.

Mr. O'Neil, a 1956 graduate of Harvard, received the degree of A.B., Magna Cum Laude. He is the grandson of Mrs. Alfred H. Marchant of Rangely, and formerly lived in Winchester on Harrington road.

At Commencement he delivered one of the English Dissertations, his subject being "The Challenge and the Cautious Response."

In his dissertation Mr. O'Neil discussed the opinion of elders that young people are a "generation of fatalism, of confused morals, of insecure faith, and above all, a silent generation."

Dwelling at greatest length upon the latter imputation, he says that what is often mistaken for silence and confusion is actually the caution which characterizes the young people's response to the problems of their times, in view of the trying conditions, domestic and international, in which they have grown up.

Finding young people not inarticulate when the situation demands articulation, he believes is what perplexes elders and prompts them to label his generation silent and confused is the fact that youth today responds to challenges more according to the needs of the moment than according to the dictates of a broad philosophy.

SOLD WATER BONDS

Weeden & Company of Boston were the successful bidders for $125,000 worth of Town of Winchester Water Bonds, recently offered for sale by Town Treasurer E. Abbot Bradley. Authorization for the issuance of the bonds was voted at the last March meeting, the money to be used for water construction. A program under which it is estimated that the town will spend $125,000 a year for the next five years is to commence at once.

Other firms bidding on the bonds were:

The First Boston Corp., 2.20, 100,499.

Restoration of Competitive Position Looms

Labor-Management Accord Signals Progress At Beggs & Cobb

Agreement on work production standards at the Beggs & Cobb Tanning Company in Winchester this week demonstrated marked progress in restoration of the competitive position of the local tannery.

"The substantial measure of accord that now exists between our union leadership, employees and management, under the terms of our new collective bargaining agreement, has encouraged us to give the 'Green Light' to our sales organization," said G. Burton Davy, President of Beggs & Cobb, Inc.

LEGERE WINS SEASON'S FIRST SHIP RACE

Tommy Legere, with his swift ship, Lasus, served notice that he's seriously interested in taking over the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet Championship by capturing the fleet last Saturday afternoon. Under an ominous sky and with lightning flashing and thunder rumbling, Tommy, after a brief tussle with Windy Freyer and Dick Ivers, took the lead on the first windward leg and from there on in was never in danger. Freyer and Ivers had a nifty battle for second place, with Freyer's "Winsome" edging out Ivers by a couple of boat lengths. The race was shortened by one leg at the discretion of the judges, who figured the sailors should get in to port before the storm hit. And they just about made it.

Sunday morning, in one of the most exasperating drifting matches the fleet has ever endured, Fleet Captain Clarence Boygarnand beat out Carl Freyer the elder, by about 1/2 boat length. Dawson Blamire's yellow peril, "The Foo" was about the same distance behind Freyer and Tommy Legere. Saturday's winner, had an overlap on Dawson. It was a ding dong affair all the way, the lead changing hands several times, with Borgy finally sneaking through to a well deserved victory. The wind, if you can call it that, was so inconstant that the race was called after two laps and it took the winner almost 2 hours to complete the drift.

"Dis'A and Data." Heidy Snow won the first Turnabout Fleet Race with a very slick performance in Sunday's light air. The next ladies' Bridge Party is scheduled for Wednesday, June 27. Mrs. Ganson Taggart is in charge of this party. Like all the others it will be a dessert affair with the incidental card playing after the meal. Mark down July 14th, as a must at the Club. It's the date for the umpteenth annual Clam Bake, followed by Square dancing on the black top. From all reports, at $2.10 per person, it'll be the biggest bargain since the Louisiana Purchase.

Addison L. (Bouney) McGovern, former high school tennis star and Erwin (Lucky) W. Renz, were defeated by Arthur (Ringer) Rand and Robert (Skillful) L. Swanson, all of Winchester, in the horseshoe championship matches at Pine Wood Lodge, Lake Winnepesaukee, last week-end.

GRINNELL IS THE NAME

In the report of the Annual Meeting of the Winchester Mothers' Association published in last week's Star the name of the Ways and Means Chairman of the Central Board for 1956-57 was given to the Star incorrectly. It should have read, Mrs. Elmer M. Grinnell, who fills this important post for the coming year.

PARKHURST SCHOOL SAYS GOODBYE TO MISS CUNNINGHAM

The Parkhurst children's and Parents' Association's plans for a surprise tribute to their principal, Miss Martha Cunningham, came to a successful conclusion on Thursday, June 14.

The sixth graders in Mrs. Laura Syssoeff's class presented their final assembly which has attended by the first through sixth graders. A large number of parents attended despite the heat of the day.

The welcome by Patricia Hammel preceded a bible reading by Pamela Toyle. The salute to the Flag was led by Cody Meissner. Following the National Anthem, the sixth graders said the American Creed in unison and sang several summary songs.

An amusing patriotic play, "The Curious Quest," was then presented. The cast follows:

Scotty Wild
Lorraine Masi
Sona Kananian
Richard Savin
Ted Neil
Dick Birnie
David Doane
Pauline Borge
David Whitaker
Ronnie Albertelli
Curtain Puller
Stage hand

The Sixth Grade class gift to the school, an outside drinking fountain and a backdrop for the playground, was presented by Patricia Jones and accepted by fifth grader Peter Swanson.

Susan Blanchard's tribute to the school emphasized that this is the first class to have gone from kindergarten through sixth grade in the comparatively new Parkhurst School.

A large number of Athletic Awards were given by Mrs. Virginia Farrar. This indicates the high level of active participation in sports.

In the closing moments of a highly successful assembly, Mrs. A. R. Brink, President of the Parkhurst Parents' Association aided by retiring president Mrs. Scott Parrot, presented Miss Martha Cunningham, with a book containing messages and signatures of all her Parkhurst students, a Macfield designed engraved slide tie and a money bouquet. Mrs. Brink expressed for all Parkhurst parents their appreciation for Miss Cunningham's guidance while principal and noted that the Lincoln School is indeed fortunate in having Miss Martha Cunningham as a full time principal.

The Sixth Grade's spontaneous cheer for their principal and school was an equally fitting tribute. The assembly closed with the songs "The Little Red School on the Hill" and "Halls of Parkhurst." The moving words to the latter song were written by this year's sixth graders.

In a setting of carnations and gladioli at the Immaculate Conception Church on Sunday, June 18, Miss Katherine Delores Gangi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Gangi of 815 Main street, became the bride of David Russell Greel, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Greel of 24 Cabot street, after his return from the Winchester Hospital where he had undergone an operation. He had not been in good health recently, but with a spirit typical of the best of his kind, he had attended to his duties as football commissioner, lining up officials for the coming season's football games this fall.

Mr. Greel was the son of Frank O. and Etta M. (Ellis) Greel. He was born May 30, 1883, in Boston and prepared for Harvard at Boston Latin School and Stone School, commencing his active participation in athletics as a schoolboy. Entering Harvard with the class of 1906 he played four years of football, mostly at fullback, and also rowed on the crew and participated in track. He followed his football playing career by coaching the second team at Harvard under the immortal Percy Haughton, and during the war years was head coach of the school's football team, that defeated Boston College, among other teams.

Life-time Football Interest
Mr. Greel held a lifetime interest in football. As a senior at Harvard he officiated at his first football game at Battery A-Park Corp. in the Stadium, and through the years he continued close to the game as an active official.

He worked in many Ivy League games involving Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth and Brown, as well as the big Jesuit school games between Holy Cross and Boston College. At the school level active in Exeter-Andover games, including the game that opened the new Exeter stadium.

He was one of the officials in the famous "forty-play game" between Boston University and Brown at Providence November 15, 1925, the only contest between college teams in which the length of the game was determined by the number of plays.

Holder of Gold Award

Mr. Greel was the first and only Harvard man to hold the gold life-time award of the Eastern Association of College Football Officials, presented to him on September 4, 1954, at Cornell University in recognition of his longtime interest in, and service to football. He was long a member of the Eastern Association of College Football Officials, and had for several years been commissioner of Suburban Intercollegiate Football Officials, an organization he virtually founded and for which he worked indefatigably.

Mr. Greel's interest in sports was not confined to football. For twenty-five years he officiated at the National Tennis Doubles Matches at Longwood, and he was for many years a track official, both at the big B.A.A. meets indoors in Boston. Long a curling devotee, Mr. Greel curled at the Winchester Country Club, and with the Boston Curling Club, served as secretary and secretary-treasurer, taking part in many bonspiels, locally and on out-of-state rinks. He was a member of William Parkman Lodge, A.F. and A.M., and of the Winchester Country Club.

Business Career
In recent years Mr. Greel was a bank representative for the Middlesex County National Bank in Reading. He first went to work for the operating department of Stone & Webster in Boston. Later, he was associated with the bond and stock news department of the Boston News Bureau, worked as a bond salesman for Baker, Ayling & Co., and as an advertising representative for the Butterfield Publishing Co. He served for a time as advertising manager for Hearst newspapers and as a trust solicitor and secretary for the Old Colony Trust Company, Boston. Later, for several years, he was director of public relations for the Boston Stock Exchange.

Mr. Greel was a member of the 40 years ago from Boston. He was a member of, and chairman of the School Teachers' Association, a member of the governor's local safety committee and for many years a town meeting member from Precinct 4, acting at times as moderator of meetings held by the Amherst War Veterans' Association. On June 14, 1910, Mr. Greel married Elinor Jackson of Houston, Texas. She survives, as do their daughters, Mrs. William L. Whitehead of Lyme, Conn., Bartlett E. Godfrey of Marblehead, and Mrs. John F. Manning of Boston; also eight grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany with the Rev. Charles E. Batten officiating. Auburn burial was in the family lot in the Central Cemetery, East Bridge water.

EDITORIAL

Though the arguments for not accepting were too cogent to be denied, many lovers of the picturesque old-line railroading undoubtedly regretted the Park Commissioners' decision to refuse the gift of a retired steam engine if and when the Boston and Maine decided to offer it. Probable vandalism was one of the reasons for deciding against having the engine in town, and communities that have accepted these discarded locomotives have had to contend with youthful destructiveness constantly. "Smash it if you can!", seems to be the creed of young America right now, and this philosophy appears to be definitely on the increase. It is a sad commentary on the results of our youth campaigns in Winchester and elsewhere that we do not dare to have a locomotive stand in town as a reminder of the old days of railroading for fear of what our kiddos would do to it!

GRADUATE ACTORS PAYED
TRIBUTE TO RAY HAWARD

For variation there was a clever monologue by Norris Chevalier Taylor, a take off of a gal buying a pair of shoes, and there was some very finished dancing by that old favorite, Marguerite Derro McCabe, who has coached the dancing for many a past show; and by Elena Abruzzi, whose well done number, "Satire," was a very clever combination of eccentric, satirical and acrobatic tap. And don't forget that side-splitting Charleston danced by Seth Weston, Nancy Towle and Sandra Burr. Their deadpan expressions added greatly to the fun!

Then of course there was the "Alfalfa Quartet," a faculty group, comprising Gardner Handy, Henry Fitts, George Niles and Ragnar Brandt, singing a clever paraphrase of, "How Can I Leave Thee," slanted toward Mr. Hayward, "Tuck Me to Sleep" and ending with a rousing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," in which some one took the duce of a high note on the end!

"Ye Olde Pony Chorus," comprising Joan Moffette Merrow, Maxine Lybeck Kajander, Marilyn Chefalio Preston, Shirley Brackett Puffer, Ida Cuculo Gillotte and Marie Cuculo Pizzo, after a shaky start that only added to the fun, pulled themselves together and cavored and kicked like 16 year-olds, doubtless to the consternation of their families in the stalls.

"Tallahassee" brought back to the stage that quartet of yesterday, Ted O'Rourke, his wife and sister Nancy, and Debbie Symmes in their really clever miming and mouthing of a popular record played over the amplifying system.

Last, and best of all, there were the O'Rourke Brothers, Phil and Teddy, in one of their typical song, dance and chatter acts that deservedly brought down the house. These boys are good, as Winchester has long known, and last Friday they seemed to be giving it even more than the old college try, putting into their act just that little extra that their liking and respect for Ray Hayward provided.

When you know that these old smoothies went on without rehearsing and hadn't arrived at the hall until 7:30 for an 8 o'clock curtain their genius is strikingly pointed up. As a matter of fact, none of the alumni acts had more than a couple of the most sketchy rehearsals, making the performance something to wonder at.

Rounding out the bill were loudly applauded numbers by "Butch" Gardner and his Band, headliners on this year's Vaudeville Show; the talented acrobatic team of Marguerite and Carlene Johnson, the skit, "So-o-o Rare!" and the Dance Number, "Joie De Vie," '59, all from this year's high school show. Accompanists were "Dottie" Chiarini, Herb Gardner, Dorothy Brandt, Eleanor (Anfantis) Thistlethwaite and John Everett. Stage hands were John Trump, Bob Page, Gail Purrington, Talbot Page and Chris Nichols.

After the show Mr. Hayward was called to the stage amidst sustained applause to hear his former Principal Wade Grindle tell about "Hayward the Man," his fellow department member, Henry Fitts, speak of "Hayward the Teacher;" and his collaborator, Tom Morse, describe "Hayward the Co-Worker." At the conclusion of Mr. Morse's remarks he presented Mr. Hayward with an envelope and note telling of eventual arrival of a substantial check from the proceeds of the show, and a box of his favorite cigars, not incidentally Cremos, though the Hayward jaws have mangled many such a one in the past.

The Hayward response was beautifully done, sincere, apropos, and "straight." Stating that aside from his marriage and the birth of his daughter, the alumni show was the nicest thing that had ever happened to him, he went on to tell of his appreciation of the opportunity given him to relive old days that the alumni acts provided. With characteristic modesty he said that much of the credit for past successes belongs to his co-workers and members of the casts, and he closed by saying he would always remember with the deepest satisfaction his 29 years in Winchester.

Again to sustained applause Mr. Hayward, his wife, Dorothy, and his daughter, Janet (Mrs. Carl Beggs) were escorted by Messrs. Grindle, Fitts and Morse to their place in the receiving line in the gymnasium, where they accepted the congratulations and best wishes of their friends as the latter passed by them.

Out of the receiving line old friends congregated, drinking punch, eating cookies and talking over old times until at a late hour the final curtain went down on what had been a memorable evening, not only for the Haywards but for those who found that supreme satisfaction in paying deserved tribute to a man whose work-a-day gospel has always been service to others.

Following is the program, and it might be well to mention the show's souvenir program, on which Bob Horne worked so hard. The clever cover was the work of Joyce Moffette, who spent many hours on a drawing that will repay close study.

THANK YOU LETTER

To the Friends of Ray Hayward:
Many, many thanks to all who in any way helped to make the vaudeville show and reception for Mr. Ray Hayward the success it was.

Much preparation was needed before hand, and on the night itself, many duties had to be performed concerning both the show and reception. However, because of the wonderful enthusiasm and co-operation shown, the activities of the night ran very smoothly and successfully. Thank you again for your time, energy and thought.

TAKE A WALK UP THE RIVER

Editor of the Star:
Congratulations on your recent editorial, which was prompted by Mr. Jones' letter, in regard to the condition of the Aberjona River. Could we have some more of the same, please?

If anyone thinks this is not an open sewer, he may satisfy himself by taking a walk up the river and see for himself. To say that this river smells, is to be slightly in error. It doesn't just smell. It stinks!

In regard to those who may wax nostalgic, when they muse about the beautiful Aberjona, as it winds its winding way down to the open sea, I can only say, the sooner the better.

It's too bad we can't reverse things and have the open sea wind its way up to swallow up the river. Or could something like that be arranged?

Does anyone know if the town has received any bids from anyone, to operate a grist mill at the Main street dam?

Sincerely,
James P. Cullen

Editor of the Star:
In the account of the Artists' Sidewalk Show which appeared in the Friday, June 15 issue of the Star, the name of Mrs. C. F. A. Siedhof was inadvertently omitted from the list of committee chairmen.

Mrs. Siedhof as registrar, was on duty during the whole day, and a large measure of the show's success was due to her tireless efforts.

Yours truly,

Army Signal Corps with fifteen months service in Korea.

July 1st, he leaves for Wilmington, Delaware, where he has accepted a position in the Treasurer's Office of E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Company.

ALSO HELPED WITH CLASS NIGHT

Several people should be added to those listed in last week's article on Class Night Festivities. These people helped a great deal with decorations and flower arrangements, and include Terrel Newell, Vee d'Eliseaux (the over-all Class Night Chairman), Martha Lincoln, Carol Ashenden, and Judy Walker. Ann Olmstead should be added to the list of flower contributors, also, the high school custodians were very co-operative and should be warmly thanked.

BETTER TOMATOES THEIR GOSPEL

Dwight Newman of the Consolidated Greenhouses on Cambridge street is one of the pioneer members of the Massachusetts Greenhouse Tomato Growers Council, an organization formed to improve the tomatoes that go to the tables of New England.

Massachusetts growers with nearly 1,500,000 square feet of growing space produce greenhouse tomatoes bringing in $1,000,000 annually. Almost one hundred percent of New England's greenhouse tomatoes are grown in Massachusetts and members of the Massachusetts Greenhouse Tomato Growers Council are the largest producers of greenhouse tomatoes on the Eastern seaboard. The Council, through research, education and cooperative effort, is producing only quality tomatoes. "The Ones With Stems on Top," rich, full flavored, with vine-ripened color and firm body, the result of months of careful growing.

These tomatoes are available from early May through July, and again in the fall from October until January. This is because they are an early season product, locally grown. Such tomatoes, the Council points out, are economical because there is no waste, every tomato is a good one.

Tomatoes grown by members of the Massachusetts Greenhouse Tomato Growers Council are now available throughout New England. They are plentiful, and above all, the Council reports, they reach the consumer in perfect condition.

FUTURE PLANTING POSSIBILITIES IN THE HOME GARDEN

By Max G. Fultz
County Agricultural Agent

Home owners have had a disappointing spring along with all others involved in varying degrees with horticultural crops. Freezing damage on crops such as tomatoes, corn and other vegetables of the tender nature or on strawberries was very severe. The same was true of unprotected annuals. Shade trees such as ash, maple and oak were badly hit in the tender leaves and terminal growth.

Plants not directly hit by freeze have been affected by the cold and poor growing weather. Many seeds have rotted in the ground or have died in the tender stage of plant growth. In such circumstances home owners are discouraged about the prospect for growing either flowers or vegetables. Strawberries and small fruits, of course, will produce on buds that were left undamaged and there is very little that can be done about it. There are, however, a great many plants that can yet be grown, and if we have warming up of the weather, even though later, they may do as well as those already growing.

There are, of course, less than 100 days left until the date of possible frost which is about September 15, but in some seasons killing frosts are delayed later than that and even into October. Annual flowers such as ageratum, callendula, cosmos, marigold, petunia, zinnia and nasturtium all have time to produce blossoms even though they will be later than desired. Gladiolus corms can be planted until July 1st. Good, sunny locations and good soil preparation from the standpoint of lime, organic matter and chemical plant food are more important than ever.

Vegetables that may yet be planted are still numerous. Tomatoes may be set, and although the yield will not be so good there is still time to mature a good number. Snap beans are a popular crop that can be seeded well up into July. Sweet corn, particularly with some of the garden vegetables, is approaching the borderline but it is seeded sometimes as late as July 1. The root crops such as carrots and beets may be planted at least until July 15th. Celery and the cabbage family conform to about the same date. Spinach and radishes may be sown as late as August 15, lettuce until August 1.

We can see, then, that although it is not an ideal situation there is still time to do some gardening. Considerable success can yet be attained if the best growing conditions possible are provided.

Twenty New England pencil sketch artists, by Ernest Dudley Chase, $1.00 at the Winchester Star Office, Star Building.

SALVATION ARMY APPOINTMENT

Mr. Robert Barbrick has been appointed to the staff of The Salvation Army Men's Rehabilitation Center at 87 Vernon street in Roxbury. This inaugurates a new project within the Army's social scheme for the salvation and reclamation of the alcoholic.

Mr. Barbrick is a recovered alcoholic himself, and has been devoting much of his spare time to giving counsel, encouragement and fellowship to other alcoholics who have shown a desire to make a new start with God's help. He has given up good prospects and a congenial position with a Boston business firm in order to devote his life to a task which he feels is God's plan for him.

Mr. Barbrick stated that his initial work will be to contact alcoholics whose reclamation is being fostered with difficulty by those who do not have a complete understanding of the problem involved. These alcoholics will be put in touch with members of The Salvation Army and with Alcoholics Anonymous and others who have fought and won the same battle themselves.

The largest percentage of men admitted to the Men's Rehabilitation Center are alcoholics for whom the problem of addiction to liquor has become so acute that they have found it necessary to seek aid. A great deal of the regular program of the Center applies to the alcoholic and becomes to him part of his social treatment, especially so when his particular needs are kept in mind. Light work requiring no skill will be given to the man who comes in too shaky to work productively. However, he will be assigned to more productive work as soon as his condition permits, to avoid the appearance of coddling which is particularly bad for the alcoholic.

Brigadier Richard Baggs, Executive Officer of the Center and a member of the Advisory Committee of the Boston Committee on Alcoholism, states that the Salvation Army will supplement and extend its services as a Center for the rehabilitation of men, and will make use of modern methods of treatment, coupling this with its own time-tested "work-therapy" program.

AWARDED BOWDOIN PRIZE

John A. McLean, II, son of Dr. and Mrs. John D. McLean of Seneca road, was awarded one of the Bowdoin "Orient" prizes at the Bowdoin Commencement honors awards on June 16. McLean has just completed his freshman year at Bowdoin, and in addition to his work on the "Orient," the student newspaper, he won his numerals in swimming. He prepared for college at Winchester High and the Choate School.

MISS CAROLYN PADELFORD TO BE HONORED

Sunday morning at eleven o'clock at the First Congregational Church a Service of Recognition will be held for Miss Carolyn Padelford who has been appointed as a Missionary to Turkey under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of the Congregational Churches.

Carolyn Padelford was born in Hamilton, New York and grew up in Winchester, graduating from the High School in 1952. She has just received her A.B. degree from Oberlin College, where she majored in Religion. One-half of her junior year was spent as an Exchange Student at Fisk University in Nashville, Tennessee. Summer experience has included a family trip to Europe and being a counselor at Camp Andover, run by the Boston City Missionary Society.

WINCHESTER SWIM CLUB

Competitive swimming classes for Winchester girls and boys commenced for the 1956 season next Monday, June 25th, at 9:00 a. m. at Leonard Field Pool. These classes as usual will be under the direction of Joseph F. Burns of the Winchester Red Cross. This competitive course takes the form of training in all strokes which are recognized by the National A.A.A.U. (overhand backstroke, breaststroke, butterfly and crawl) in order to build up speed and endurance.

Proper swimming class is not to be identified with the ability to jump into the water and paddle a few yards. It is the skill of the swimmer to carry himself or herself a distance which may be required to save a life. In some cases this may be even three or four miles. By daily training under the critical eye of Mr. Burns, Winchester boys and girls have the opportunity to build up this perfection. In as much as this training is free of charge, Winchester parents should make a special effort to encourage their children to join the group.

In order to further advance the development of good swimmers, The Winchester Red Cross has sponsored and organized the Winchester Swim Club whose members are privileged to represent Winchester in a series of competitive swimming meets which are held weekly during the summer by the N.E.A.A.U., in various sections of Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire.

During its history of competitive swimming Winchester has produced some outstanding figures in this sport. Among them were Ted Norris of Harvard, Olympic 1500 meter star; Pete Dillingham also of Harvard, and Eastern Intercollegiate Diving champion; Bob McGrath of Bowdoin, holder of many N. E. college and N.E.A.A.U. titles. The names of "Babs" Donaghey, Roberta Coon, "Sonny" Smith, Noreen Johnson and Nancy Donaghey are recollective of some of our top notch girl swimmers. The current crop of standout girls are: Marguerite Johnson, Brenda Cunningham, Carleen Johnson, Brenda McGowan, Pat Murphy and Ann Neville, who last summer became New England Junior 200 meter individual medley champion. For the boys, Peter Graham and David Govostes have shown unusual ability.

ST. MARY'S OUTING

The freshmen and sophomore religion discussion clubs of Saint Mary's enjoyed their outing at Nantasket Tuesday. The day was too cool for much beach fun. Not even the polar bears were in the water, but a few of our Winchester high-schoolers liked it. Most of the boys and girls let Pargason Park at reduced rates be the center of their interests.

The St. Mary's CYO girls' softball team has been practicing for the coming season.

Progress Made On Boundary Change

Old Symmes Pasture Land To Be In Winchester

Work on the project of changing the Winchester-Medford boundary line along Border road has reached the stage where Town Council Vincent P. Clarke and counsel of the owners of the property involved have drawn up papers to be approved by the Board of Selectmen.

This change of boundary goes back to 1950 when the Town Meeting authorized the Selectmen to join with Medford City officials to take the steps necessary to change the Winchester-Medford boundary line so as to include in Winchester property owned by the Marshall Symmes Associates, the Nelson Realty Trust and the Anastasis family. The property, located along Border road, runs south to Clearwater road and from there to Lawson road extension.

Nothing could be done on the project at the time the authority was voted, because the Medford officials were unwilling to negotiate, but recently Medford asked the Board of Selectmen to proceed with the plan to change the boundary line.

As a consequence the Selectmen have conducted negotiations with the owners of the land to obtain restrictions of record which will prevent the property owners from subdividing the land into lots of less than 15,000 square feet and 100 ft. frontages.

The owners having agreed to the proposed restrictions, the necessary legal papers have been drawn up, and the next step is to file a petition with the Department of Public Works, to survey the property.

This done, a bill will be introduced in the State Legislature to so alter the boundary line as to include the land in question within Winchester's jurisdiction.

The Board of Selectmen in conducting the negotiations for the change of boundary, has consulted with the Planning Board, and the restrictions are satisfactory to the latter group. These restrictions are for a period of five years, but can be terminated any time within that limit when the land is zoned by the town.

Interests planning to develop the property, state that the development will be like those of Lawson road extension and Jefferson road extension, with homes selling from $20,000 to $30,000.

INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION

The Fourth of July Celebration will be conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars this year, with Ralph Fiore as Committee Chairman.

The program will take place on Loring Avenue Playground and already three professional acts from the George Hamid Co. of Boston have been secured.

The Fire Engine so many youngsters enjoy has already been hired, and as usual there will be plenty of ice cream. A bean-guessing contest at the field with the popular blueberry pie-eating contest, watermelon contest, and many field events, broken down into various age groups.

The committee has been working on the celebration for the past two weeks and with the events already lined up all that is necessary is to have every child in the Town of Winchester at Loring Avenue Playground on July 4th at 2 p.m.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Newton J. Herrick, Jr., of Four Winds, Canajoharie, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hilary Coleman Herrick to Sheldon Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Furber Caldwell of 82 Mt. Vernon street, Boston, formerly of Winchester.

BOYS NABBED WITH STOLEN CAMERA

Three Stoneham boys were picked up by the Wakefield Police in that town as they tried to sell a camera valued at $150 for $15.
Police say the boys admitted stealing the camera from the automobile of Christian Jensen of 19 Travers street, Woburn, an employee of the Caldyne Co., and parked at the plant. The car was locked but access was gained through a ventilator window. The theft was reported to the police on Tuesday.

FRUIT AND FLOWER MISSION

This year the Mission is off to the best start it has ever had. Each Tuesday the two hampers have been loaded, and last week the chairman, Mrs. C. Wickwire, needed an additional carton, which was supplied as always by Mr. Howe, at the stationery shop.

The flowers and greens have been beautiful, and several people have inquired about the collection, at the station, each week. One onlooker even suggested to a Chairman that unless she had a permit she would not be able to sell flowers there! Naturally, the workers are glad to explain the purpose of the work, and in many cases have added new contributors to the cause.

Remember! Each Tuesday morning, between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m., garden produce is packed at the B & M station by volunteers; carried free of charge to Boston, by the railroad; made into bouquets by volunteers; and distributed to shut-ins, needy families, and settlement houses in the city. It is entirely voluntary, and if you have flowers to send, please call the Chairman, listed each week in the Star, under Coming Events-Flower Mission.

The concluding phase of the training will be gunnery exercises at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, July 25-28. The ships are scheduled to return to Norfolk August 2.

Sludge headed for the Aberjona River, flowing near the men at the fence, and winding southerly (to the left), at one point only 30 feet from Leonard Field Pool, Winchester's popular beach in the Highlands. The long building behind the men is the Beach Bath House.

River Protests Made

State Dept. Hears Local Officials After Trip Along Aberjona

State Department of Health and Metropolitan District Commission officials had conditions in and along the Aberjona River in Winchester and Woburn graphically described by a group of Winchester officials and interested citizens at hearings in the State House Monday morning and afternoon. Photographic proof of the conditions prompting vigorous local protests was supplied with photographs taken by Officer Alfred E. Poole, Police Department Photographer, who accompanied a group of town officers on a trip along the river last Sunday forenoon.

This little group of intrepid voyagers, without benefit of gas masks, left the town hall at 9 o'clock and put in a most interesting and instructive forenoon exploring the reaches near and far from Swanton st. to beyond Mishawum Pond in Woburn. It was an experience few in the group would care to repeat, yet Chairman George Redding of the Board of Selectmen had to stage a repeat performance for Town Counsel Vincent Clarke, who missed the morning excursion and needed to see conditions first hand in the event his professional services are needed for any eventualities.

Making up the searching party were Chairman Redding and Joseph W. Butler of the Board of Selectmen, Police Chief Charles J. Harrold, Dr. Harry Benson of the Board of Health, Chairman Fred Ives of the Park Commissioners, and Superintendent Herbert S. Mullen, Austin Broadhurst of the Finance Committee, Town Engineer Jim Wakefield, and Water Superintendent Jim Halvart.

They visited many plants having industrial waste that might figure in the pollution of the river, such as the J. O. Whitten Company, Atlantic Electric Co., Elder Tannery, International Fertilizer, Woburn Dehydrating Process and Consolidated Chemical Company. At some of the plants conditions were found to be such as to give positive causes for the existing deplorable conditions. In places the observers found the Aberjona completely covered with a sort of sludge, with no water showing between banks. In places the lighter sludge seemed to rest on a dark oily substance that oozed up to the surface if a stone was thrown through the upper crust.

Places were found where sewers had evidently run over during heavy rains, and the sewerage left to dry along the banks, causing a stench when the hot sun cracked the surface that was well nigh intolerable. At other places what appeared to be industrial waste and sewage had been piled along, or near enough to the river so that it appeared to the observers that a good deal of the debris would eventually get into the stream.

The local viewers found the river badly clogged with sludge as it approached Leonard Field pool, where at one point it is within 30 feet of the pool used for public bathing. The local group found the river north of Swanton street to be very muddy and learned that the great increase in the use of water by industrial plants in the Aberjona valley has lowered its level appreciably.

Evidence was found of sewer overflow over the line in Woburn and efforts were being made there to clear out the pipes. At one place boys had completely clogged a sewer manhole by dumping debris of all kinds into it.

Probable reason for the discoloration of the river water was found in big piles of iron pyrites dumped near the river by a former chemical company. The ground all around the piles, the water of Mishawum pond and the Aberjona has through the years taken on the dark brown color of this chemical.

State House Meetings

Verbal and photographic evidence of what the viewing committee from Winchester set on Sunday was presented Monday morning at a meeting at the State House held in the office of Clarence Sterling, Chief Sanitary Engineer of the State Department of Public Health.

Present at the meeting from Winchester were Messrs Redding, Butler, Harrold, Wakefield, Ives, Coon, Mullen, Halvart, Dr. Benson, Walter Redding of the Board of Health, Robert Armstrong, Commodore of the Boat Club; and Donald R. Simonds of the Caldyne Company. Rep. Harrison Chadwick, who had arranged the meeting, was unable to be present because of his attendance at a session of the Crime Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pelletier of Dorchester, Mass., (Marian Miller) announce the birth of a son, June 21 at Lawrence Memorial Hospital, named Kenneth Wayne. Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Winchester and Mrs. Janette Theriault of Lynnfield, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Eugene Flaherty of Ridgefield road announce the birth of a son, Michael, born June 18, at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. Flaherty is the former "Mardie" Poland, and the grandmother is Mrs. Romi Rainville of this town.

SWIMMING LESSONS POSTPONED UNTIL NEXT MONDAY

Red Cross swimming lessons originally scheduled to begin last Monday were postponed one week because of questionable water conditions at Leonard Field pool. Unfortunately the water tests were reported Friday morning after the Winchester Star had reached the streets and therefore it was impossible to notify the public of this forced change. It is regrettable that this situation caused a considerable amount of inconvenience to those parents who brought their children to swimming lessons on Monday, only to find the beach closed. However, it is indeed heartening to know that we have an alert Park Department whose quick action deserves our admiration and gratitude.

Apparently the contamination at Leonard was tied in with the fact the well water pumps had not been in operation a sufficiently long time to clear out the accumulation of sludge. As long as the child is able to understand and respond to directions and discipline he or she may be accepted. For the benefit of those who may have missed the previous schedule, we are repeating it.

The Red Cross swimming lessons will definitely commence next Monday, July 2, and continue for a period of eight weeks. Children will be advanced as rapidly as their ability allows. There is no age limit in any swimming classification. As long as the child is able to understand and respond to directions and discipline he or she may be accepted. For the benefit of those who may have missed the previous schedule, we are repeating it.

Place—Leonard Field Pool
Instructor—Mr. Joseph Burns
Competitive—9:00 to 10:00 a. m.
Beginners—10:00 to 11:00 a. m.
Intermediates—11:00 to 11:30 a. m.
Swimmers—11:30 to 12:00 noon
Junior and Senior
Life Saving—12:00 to 1:00 p. m.

Any parent who is in doubt about in which group their child belongs should bring them to the 10:00 a. m. class.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The annual meeting of the Winchester Garden Club was held on Thursday, June 21, at "Ridgefield Farm" in Hollis Center, Maine, 20 miles from New Delhi, India, and Mr. Mitchell of Winchester and Hollis Center.

Amid a lovely old atmosphere of beautiful antiques and blazing fire the group enjoyed a box lunch, and a delectable dessert and coffee served by the hostess, Mrs. Mitchell.

Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini opened the annual meeting and called upon the secretary, Mrs. William Ross, to read the various reports of committee chairmen. The election of officers followed, and they are:

President—Mrs. Percy Bugbee
Vice President—Mrs. Charles Vanner
Recording Secretary—Mrs. Chandler Symmes
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Herbert West
Treasurer—Miss Mildred Store
It was indeed a pleasurable day, long to be remembered by the large group that attended.

The challenge is for a showdown game before their players, wives and the entire town on Sunday, July 1st, at 1:00 p.m. on Ginn Field. Both teams are made up of managers, coaches and dads. The officials to be announced at game time will be four Little League mothers, (two from each League), and one neutral official with a paid up life insurance policy.

ALFRED D. ELLIOTT

WINNING HOME ELECTS

Alfred D. Elliott of Winchester was re-elected president of Winning Home, Inc., at the annual meeting of the organization held recently at Winning Farm on Lexington street at the Lexington-Woburn line.

During the business session it was announced that this year marked the modernization of the kitchen in the farmhouse, which virtually completed the extensive building and renovating program which has been in progress for several years.

Charles A. Murphy of this town, a director of the Home, has served as chairman of this building program, in which the Winchester Rotary took an extensive part, as well as a group of men recruited by Mr. Murphy among his friends in the Pond street section of the town.

Following are the officers and directors of the home for the ensuing year:

President, Alfred D. Elliott
Vice Presidents, Nicholas H. Fitzgerald, Henry B. Shay, Lexington Treasurer, W. Allan Wilde
Clerk, Kendall L. Johnson, Woburn Directors, Franklin J. Lane, Emily H. Mark, John M. Kingman, Boston; Alice G. Moore, Woburn; Philip H. Gallagher, Ralph H. Bonnell, Thomas J. Turley, Boston; Leslie J. Scott, Timothy H. Harrigan, Arthur J. Moore, Woburn; John J. Black, Woburn; Mrs. Charles G. Davis, Lexington; Mrs. Thomas M. Righter, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Nichols, Lexington; Paul D. Haggerty, Woburn; Charles A. Murphy, Dr. John R. Wallace, Leonard Barbo, Albert Wall, Woburn; Judge William E. Henchey, Woburn

There are plenty of talented players to fill the rosters of both teams and the youngsters are anxious to see them show the fancy action they have been hearing so much about all season.

This is truly a rare occasion and to make it complete it will be Picnic Day. Everyone is encouraged to bring the entire family and friends and a picnic lunch between 12:00 and 1:00. This will enable everyone to "meet and mix" also to chew over the season to date and to get down any last minute bets.

The concession stand will be open to offer plenty of coke, chocolate covered, popsicles, potato chips, etc.

This is a "to the finish" game if it takes all night, as no one will settle for a tie!

If the weather prevents (Rideout forbid) the affair will be postponed to July 8th, same time and place, picnic included.

Young and old, don't miss this one. Come and bring the youngsters for a gala afternoon.

MRS. WALTER ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Erna Walter, 8 Sunset road, Winchester, entertained members of the Wakefield Business and Professional Women's Club at an outdoor buffet supper held in her garden, Monday evening.

After viewing and enjoying the rock gardens and rose arbor, members attended a special meeting which the president, Mrs. Gertrude Hennessey, called for the purpose of reporting on the Massachusetts State Federation convention held at the Ocean House in May.

There was a record attendance, including Mrs. Marjorie Dexter and Mrs. Marguerita Pratt, recently returned from Florida. Three new members were accepted. Guests included Mrs. M. Perks and Miss Helen Corbett of Wakefield; also Dr. On Gupta of New Delhi, India, and Dr. Florosa Bautea of Manila, P.I., who were guests of Mrs. Mary Burke, R.N. These doctors are interns at Lynn Hospital.

EXPENSIVE MISCHIEF

It cost the parents of four boys $70 each to pay for plate glass windows and glass blocks broken by their sons at the Parkhurst School sometime previous to last Saturday morning.

A resident of the neighborhood noticed the breakage at the school and notified the police. Officer Thomas Parsons and School Maintenance Supt. Tom Draper investigated and found 11 plate glass windows, 42 x 13 in. had been broken by stones with 19, 9 x 9 in. glass blocks.

Sgt. John Elliott and Officer William Haggerty investigated and picked up four boys living in the neighborhood of the school who the police say were responsible for the damage. The parents were notified and made good the $280 damage.

ARMY WANTS MEN FOR EUROPE

Three more overseas bound units of the United States Army have been opened for direct enlistment, according to Sergeant First Class Bonnell of the Army Recruiting Station at 49 High Street, Medford square. All three organizations are due to leave for European duty early next year, and are now in the process of filling their ranks before moving out of their state headquarters.

The 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment at Fort Knox, Kentucky, needs the most men from this area. It is seeking 33 enlistments from the greater Boston area. Men applying for assignment to this unit must enlist before August 15th.

The 63rd Engineer Construction Battalion at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, is attempting to recruit 5 men from this area prior to July 20th, and the 534th Field Artillery Battalion at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, wants 11 men prior to July 15th.

Men enlisting for any of these assignments must obtain an average or better score on their mental test and be in excellent physical condition. They will join the organization for which they enlist upon completion of basic training and move overseas with their units.

Thomas P. Dee of 11 Fairmount street, has entered training at the Industrial Technical School of Boston where he will specialize in Air Conditioning. He is a graduate of Chauncey Hall School.

NEW POST FOR DeTOSO

Tony DeToso, one of Winchester High's all time football greats, and a former Tufts grid captain and star center, has been named Faculty Manager of Athletics at Stoneham High School where he has taught and coached football and baseball for the past eight years.

Under the new setup Tony will continue to teach history and coach baseball, but will be relieved of his football coaching to enable him to give the necessary time to the broader duties of Faculty Manager of all sports.

Tony was a three-sport star at Winchester High, and continued his athletic success at Tufts where he won letters in football and baseball and captained the football team, playing center at 140 pounds. He received his A.B. in 1943 and his Master of Education Degree in 1947, sandwiching in Navy Service between these dates.

Before going to Stoneham, he taught and coached at Wilmington High, for two seasons, winning acclaim for the success of his football teams while he was at that school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore DeToso of Olive street, is married to the former Margaret Mary McDonald and has four children, Elizabeth, Alan, Susan and Neil.

BELLINO TOP ATHLETE

NONE IN SCHOOL HISTORY HAS EQUALLED HIS RECORD

When Joe Bellino mounted the stage of the new high school auditorium to receive his diploma at the recent commencement exercises, he was Winchester High's top athlete of all time. That is a tough question, and one impossible to answer, except from the record. And from the record you have to say, "Yes, Bellino is the best athlete ever to wear the Red and Black of Winchester High."

The only qualification is the conditions, under which other local athletes competed, and the chances Joe has had to show his unusual athletic ability. Winchester's fine sports record of recent years has focussed public attention on teams from the big wigwam above the Aberjona, and given members of those teams a chance for recognition that most athletes of bygone days did not enjoy.

This is especially true in both football and basketball, where Winchester has enjoyed a success little short of phenomenal for a school of its size, and this success and Bellino's contribution to it have undoubtedly aided his native ability in winning him the acclaim that has been his.

Joe Bellino has won all scholastic recognition

WINCHESTER FIRM STARTS FALMOUTH HOUSING PROJECT

Massachusetts Development Trust Company of Winchester announced June 13, initial work has begun on estimated $4,000,000 housing-land development project in the Great Pond vicinity of Falmouth.

Harry J. Stabile Jr., of 9 Herriek street, director and trustee of the firm, said the site, 144 acres in all, is being cleared, levelled and plotted for eventual construction of some 400 homes.

Mr. Stabile said workers presently are laying out roads for the property, developing a 4,000-foot-long beach area and other recreational facilities. A model of the type of home to be constructed is expected to be completed on the site by the end of July.

Recreation Area Set

Acceptance of the subdivision plans was made June 8, by the Falmouth Planning Board.

The board, headed by William W. Peters, called for development of roads and recreational areas when it approved the trust firm's outlines. The property will be known as Great Pond Village.

Plans presently call for four interior parks and several recreational areas, including three shore areas bordering on Great Pond. Mr. Stabile says the firm is in the process of laying out 386 lots, each 100 by 100 feet. The area lies on east shore of Great Pond between the present Lonsodo and Sherwood Beach Developments in the Acapasket section.

Mr. Stabile said the firm intends to build a boat anchorage, beach club and swimming pool. "These facilities will be for the exclusive use of persons purchasing lots in our development," Mr. Stabile said.

12-Month Building Plan

Construction, he said, is being planned on a 12-month basis. "This does not necessarily include construction of homes in the area, however," Mr. Stabile added. "The building on the lots is entirely dependent upon, of course, persons waiting to do so. The development of the various recreational projects and parks and roads, we hope to complete within the 12-month period."

Mr. Stabile said land along the Great Pond Beach area is being cleared back to 100 feet, exposing the sand beneath it. The entire beach area will be developed, he added.

He said the firm will require potential home builders to build the traditional Cape Cod style of homes, but will not have to pre-approve a specific model. "We do not want and will not permit any conflicting-type architecture," he said. Approximate cost of homes constructed by the firm, he said, will be $10,000.

The homes will be both year-round and Summer, depending on the builder's wishes, he added. Houses planned by the firm are designed by the John G. Danielson firm. Construction of the houses to be built by the firm will be handled by the Scapple Realty Corporation of Boston.

Mr. Stabile said the gross estimated cost of the entire project will be approximately $4,000,000, "though this expenditure will be adjusted to a long-range project. He said R. J. Bottomly of Marblehead, a firm representative, will take up residence in Falmouth to handle the firm's business transactions.

WOBURN PERAMBULATING DONE

The boundaries between Winchester and the City of Woburn were finally perambulated Monday morning, with Selectman George Saltmarsh and Howard Ambrose of the Engineering Department representing Winchester.

All monuments were found to be in order with the exception of one on Cambridge street which had been obliterated during the tarring of the road. Another marker nearby, however, served equally as well as the damaged monument.

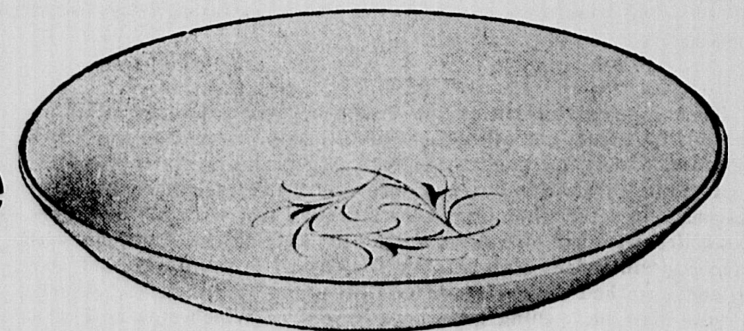

Selectman Saltmarsh is getting to be quite a perambulator, having previously officiated at the Lexington-Winchester perambulation. He is said to use the same easy springy stride he used in the old days running bases as a member of the high school baseball team.

EDITORIALS

Apparently Winchester isn't the worst place in the State so far as teachers' salaries go. "The Cape Codder" in its lead editorial under date of June 14, tells of a teacher leaving Wareham for Winchester because he will receive here $4,594 yearly instead of the $3,600 he had been getting in Wareham.

Continuing, the editorial quotes a Martha's Vineyard report that twenty-two teachers are resigning from the Vineyard school system, representing more than one-third of the entire teacher corps. Better pay and better conditions seem to be the cause of the marked turnover, and as of June 14 the Vineyard superintendent of schools had succeeded in replacing only 9 of the twenty-two teachers checking out.

The Cape Codder finds that working conditions enter into the Vineyard resignations as well as pay. Teachers, it finds, are as interested in the kind of job they can do as the money they will receive for it. This last thought is important for Winchester to bear in mind. It means, if it means anything, that you can't just buy teachers. Community support of their effort is also necessary.

In an annual appeal to animal lovers, Dr. Eric H. Hansen, President of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, recently urged vacationists not to abandon their animal pets when leaving the city for their summer homes.

"During the ensuing months," stated the Society President, "many families will take their well-earned vacations, and with them will go the family pet, a dog, or a cat, or sometimes both. Unfortunately, there will be some people who will shed their responsibilities and leave their pets to fend for themselves; others will acquire animals at the seashore or in the country. The former, we urge to make proper provision by boarding their pets either in kennels or with friends; the latter should take their newly-acquired animals back to the city with them or arrange with the nearest humane society or veterinarian for humane disposal."

Dr. Hansen said, however, that people should not pick up animals which they only believe to be lost or strayed. He particularly referred to fawns, stating that in most instances the mother of the animal is nearby, and that the person picking it up is merely condemning the creature to a life of captivity or death. "If we leave them where they are, they have a better chance, than if misguided kindness attempts to do that which nature never intended."

In conclusion, Dr. Hansen said that vacation periods bring to the Society scores of complaints about the abandonment of pets, and that stories of this thoughtless cruelty tell of animal suffering from hunger and exposure.

The campaign to clean up the Aberjona River and remove this unbelievable blot from our otherwise fair township, has gotten away to a good start. The initial impact has been strong and the interest of the proper State authorities has been aroused. Their assistance has been promised, and after what their representative saw with his own eyes, and smelled with his own nose, during his tour of the Aberjona with Water Superintendent Halwartz on Tuesday, it is not likely that they will renege in their obligation. After all they too have their self respect.

Now that the opening guns have been fired Winchester must continue the fight. There must be no time out for tea. The State must be encouraged in its efforts to provide relief, and insofar as the problem actually involves Winchester, we must clean up our own mess.

State authorities have stressed the importance of Winchester attendance at any public hearings held and support of any bills to provide funds for cleaning up the river. Bills involving substantial appropriations that lack strong support are likely to be skipped over by Legislators in favor of other bills where interest is strong and the support vociferous. We certainly have a condition here over which no amount of clamor can be too great. The Star has said before, and will repeat, the conditions along our river just have to be seen to be believed!

Let's not make the mistake of losing what we have gained by the fine start we have made. We can not, nor should we, expect relief overnight, but we have the right, and the duty, to see to it that those in a position to correct this deplorable situation do not allow it to get pigeon-holed for lack of public pressure.

Considerable time and effort were expended last summer, especially by our Representative in the Great and General Court, Harrison Chadwick, in attempting to bring some measure of relief to residents of the town from the motor boat nuisance on Mystic Lake. Persons living adjacent to the lakes, in some of the very nicest sections of the town, have had plenty of ground for complaint about the noise of the boats and the actions of the operators beside their homes.

Nor is it only those who live beside the water who are disturbed by the drone of the boats' motors, which at times continue well into the night. Persons living on Highland avenue and Myopia Hill as well as in the greater Wedgemere section hear the racket to a greater or less degree according to the wind.

The boats pose a real problem to the MDC, the commissioners of which apparently feel that State facilities should be used to the fullest by any one who so wishes, and that motor-boating is a recreational activity that very properly should take place on lakes like Mystic.

When, however, a recreational activity becomes a nuisance it needs to be examined closely, and when its continuance disturbs a substantial group of persons and can well deteriorate some of the finest property in a town, that, after all, pays its fair share toward the support of the MDC, the examination needs to be especially searching.

Many believe Mystic should be kept a sailing lake. How much longer even the sail boats can continue to survive is a question, and canoeing, once a picturesque and popular pastime on the lake, is practically dead.

Now the canoes and sail boats were on the lakes first! The residents who live along the shores of big and little Mystic were occupying their houses long before the hordes of motor boats commenced to churn up the waters there.

The MDC is quoted as of the opinion that a number of the objectionable boats come from the boat club and the authorities do not feel these should be permitted on the lake and others banned. They are certainly right in this stand. It ought to be all or none.

As we understand it, certain regulations were made for the operation of motor boats on Mystic Lake. These regulations should be enforced, of course. Perhaps they are. If so, it would appear that they are not nearly strong enough!

HURRICANE PRECAUTIONS

By Schuyler W. Van Ness

PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICER
MASS. CIVIL DEFENSE
AGENCY

The normal hurricane season starts about June 15th and ends in November, and in view of the damage caused by the hurricanes and floods of 1954 and 1955 it is not too early to list some of the precautions which should be taken if one comes that a 1956 "big show" is headed for New England.

Many sources were used by the Massachusetts State Civil Defense Agency in compiling the following list. It would be a good idea to cut it out and paste it on the inside of a closet door. The same precaution should be taken when warning of a tornado or flood is received. Many of the suggestions apply to any type of disaster.

Precautions for the Householder:

Check supplies of flashlights and batteries, matches, candles, lamps, wicks and kerosene oil. Check batteries in portable radios to be sure that they are charged.

Be sure that articles in your cellar which could be damaged by water are moved to a safe place. Check cellar windows.

Check porches, lawn furniture and movable objects out of doors.

Close and lock house windows but leave a couple of windows open on the side away from the storm to prevent wind from building up pressure inside the house, pressure that could blow out your windows and doors. If you have wooden shutters, close them. Pull up awnings. Close the damper in your fireplace. Fill your bathtub with water.

Put your car in the garage and be sure to leave one garage window open to keep wind pressure from building up inside garage.

Check car batteries, radio, water and oil. Have your gas tank full of an emergency reserve.

If you don't have a garage, park your car away from trees or poles. When car is outside, close the windows tightly, set the hand brake, put the car in gear but don't lock it if you are parked on the street. Emergency workers might have to move it.

Keep away from windows at the height of the storm.

Find out where you can procure dry ice or natural ice to use in case of loss of electric power. Have as little perishable food in your refrigerator as is possible so that your loss will be less in case of extended power failure. Check the location of the nearest food freezer unit in the event you have to move your perishables.

If you have a freezer, set it at maximum freezing level as early as possible before the arrival of the hurricane. If you avoid opening it and if you only defrost, keep frozen meats and vegetables without spoiling for at least 3 days. Save newspapers to wrap garbage in, in case garbage collections are interrupted.

If your water supply is interrupted, boil water from faucet or well for at least five minutes before using.

Store a three-day supply of canned food in a safe spot along with a can opener. Have a supply of paper plates, cups and spoons ready.

Put in a small supply of canned heat. Have several jars of water tightly capped or buy a supply of spring water.

If you stock up with candles, be especially careful about starting fires when candles are in use. Danger from fire during hurricanes is especially great. High winds spread fire rapidly. Furthermore, firemen will be hard to contact; they may have difficulty getting to you; and their equipment and manpower may not be able to operate at full efficiency.

Check on handy tools; axe, saw, pick axe or crowbar, and work gloves.

If you have a boat and can get it out of the water, turn it upside down and store it in a barn or other safe place. If it is in the water, anchor it not too close to other boats. Moor boat at either bow or stern, but not both. Secure it to shore safely cabin barometer or other movable objects. Allow between five and seven feet of anchor chain for each foot of depth to cushion wave action.

Evacuate and avoid low-lying beaches and islands. Remember that the majority of deaths from hurricanes are due to drowning.

Don't telephone unnecessarily. Leave the line open for emergency calls.

Keep children and pets indoors and stay indoors yourself if you can.

Check gutters on house to be sure they are not clogged with leaves.

After the storm is definitely over, move about with great caution. Beware of broken electric wires. Trees, buildings, bridges and even streets may be in weakened condition. If you need help get in touch with the Civil Defense director in your town or city.

Precautions for stores and factories:

Check your cellar stocks and move if possible to avoid water damage.

Check on supply of sand bags.

Brief your employees and arrange for reporting for emergency work in the event communications break down.

Check on matches, candles, lamps, portable radios, flashlights and batteries.

Protect large windows.

Check windows and gutters.

Check on a source for pumps and portable generators.

Check on handy tool supplies; axes, crowbars, pick axes, etc.

Assurance has been given that the weather bureau is now prepared to issue quicker warnings of approaching hurricanes or tornadoes.

Once again despite feminine opposition, girls names are to be used to identify hurricanes. "Anna" is already on the record books for 1956. The other names from B to Z follow: Betsy, Carla, Dora, Ethel, Flossy, Greta, Hattie, Inez, Judith, Kitty, Laura, Molly, Nona, Odette, Paula, Quenby, Rhoda, Sadie, Teresa, Ursula, Vesta, Winny, Xina, Yola, and Zenda.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

The first artificial satellite will be launched into its orbit at a height of about 300 miles at a speed of 17,000 to 18,000 miles an hour. At this distance, says the National Geographic Society, terrestrial gravity is many times greater than the distance of the moon. Hence the orbital speed of the satellite will also have to be greater than that of the natural moon. The artificial satellite must travel around the earth at a speed of about five miles a second—faster than the fastest rifle bullet.

Trucks parked for any length of time in the National Park must be fenced in with wire. Forcunp love the taste of synthetic rubber tires.

A century ago a pessimistic Mormon newspaper described southeastern Utah's canyons, mountains, and spectacular natural beauty as "one vast 'contiguity of waste' and measurably valueless, excepting for nomadic purposes, hunting grounds for Indians, and to hold the world together," the National Society recalls.

Submarines have been captured by cavalry and rammed by trucks. They have fought battles with infantry and railroad artillery. One sank a Zepplin; another was attacked by an enraged Turk in a rowboat.

Although goldfish prefer live food, such as worms, earthworms, and mosquito larvae, they also will eat scrambled egg, chopped lettuce, boiled spinach and even ground dog biscuit.

The Arabs of Kuwait believe that evil spirits proceed only straight ahead, and cannot turn corners.

In the high, mist-shrouded hills of Naga, along the India-Burma frontier, a score of tribes live as their remote ancestors did, says the National Geographic Society. Only yesterday tribe fought tribe for human heads. Raids go on even now in remote districts beyond control of the Indian government. To the Naga, a severed head means more than an enemy slain: a head gives prosperity and "soul force."

During their eight months of open navigation, the Great Lakes carry nearly two-thirds as much shipping tonnage as the total annual off-shore trade through all United States salt-water seaports, the National Geographic Society says.

The Ait Haddidu tribe in the mountains of French Morocco permits a woman to divorce her husband at any time; another, giving a reason, says the National Geographic Society. The only requirement is that she must return her marriage settlement and pay a small registration fee.

STATE DEPARTMENT
HEARS LOCAL OFFICIALS

The Winchester delegation, after describing local conditions, and showing pictures, asked any help possible from the State in bettering a situation that has the town by the ears.

Mr. Sterling stated an immediate investigation would be made, and urged the group from Winchester to continue their fight for better conditions, especially when bills are introduced for funds to maintain State sewers and build more adequate ones to care for the greatly increasing population. He reminded those present that often bills such as those which will have to be introduced to secure funds necessary to ameliorate conditions in Winchester have no support when hearings are held, or when they are introduced in the Legislature, with the result that they are ignored by the General Court in favor of bills having more vociferous backing.

At Mr. Sterling's suggestion a hearing was arranged for Monday afternoon with Commissioner Greenough of the M.D.C. Messrs. Redding and Butler, Selectman John Dolan, and Messrs. Ives and Redding were present with Rep. Chadwick and Ralph Bonnel, chairman of the Planning Board.

The Winchester protestants were told that permanent relief from conditions here is not likely to obtain until the sewer in process of construction from Chelsea to Deer Island is completed. They were also told that some of the local trouble is quite likely to stem from the great sewer load at the junction south of Winchester serving Arlington, Belmont, Lexington, Medford and Somerville.

The mass of sewerage encountered here prevents the entrance of much of the waste from the Aberjona Valley, causing a backup that eventually clogs the pipes and results in overflow during periods of heavy rain.

State Engineer Here

As a result of the meeting with Commissioner Greenough an engineer from the Sewer Division visited Winchester Tuesday, and covered the Aberjona Valley with Superintendent Halwartz of the Water and Sewer Department.

The pair visited the J. O. Whitten plant, Atlantic Gelatin, Tanners Degreasing, Riley's and Murray's Tanneries, Independent Tallow, Consolidated Chemical, International Fertilizer and Western Hydrating Process. Conferences with plant officials were held, work of M.D.C. sewer employees in the district was inspected and the condition of the Aberjona carefully checked.

The engineer was greatly interested in what he saw during his inspection trip and as a result of his visit to Winchester a meeting has been arranged for next Tuesday at the State House, at which representatives of industrial plants in the Aberjona Valley will meet with the M.D.C. to discuss plans for immediate improvement of local conditions.

A start was made Wednesday when boats were placed across the streets between Swann and Croton streets to prevent the flow of sludge down the river and to permit the cleaning of the water and banks above that point.

Swimming was resumed at Leonard Field pool Monday, after it had been ordered stopped by State health authorities the previous Friday. At the same time all swimming in Mystic Lake was stopped, and this ban was still in effect this week.

TURKS TO OBSERVE 750TH
ANNIVERSARY OF HOSPITAL

Turkey is commemorating a historic contribution to mercy and science—the establishment 750 years ago of a hospital and medical clinic at Kayseri.

Some original structures still stand in the central Turkish city. Early documents reveal that the hospital employed two general practitioners, two surgeons and two eye doctors. When founded in 1206, it was ranked among the world's best.

Even then, hospitals were not new in human experience, the National Geographic Society says. Some authorities think the earliest medical schools were the Temples of Saturn, which pre-date the Christian era. Ancient Romans built infirmaries for their soldiers—possibly the first military hospitals.

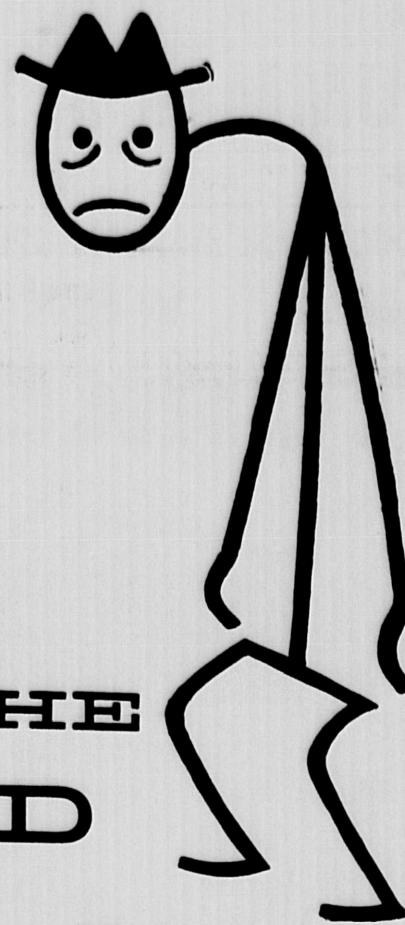

Many early religious orders devoted their time to the care of the sick. In the 4th century A.D., St. Basil, a founder of monastic institutions, established a religious hospital at Caesarea in Cappadocia. Paris was served by a similar hospital founded in the 600's.

Throughout the Dark Ages many physicians tried to preserve Greco-Arabian medical knowledge. Much medical learning filtered out to the world from the "School" of Salerno. It towered among medical institutions of the 12th century.

Newly studied and perfected obstetrics at Salerno, and a treatise of the time prescribed cures for many diseases.

As the world started emerging from the Dark Ages, outstanding medical schools sprang up in Oxford, England; Paris and Montpellier in France; Rome, Siena and Padua in Italy.

Many illnesses were treated with strict regulation of diet. Sea-weed, rich in iodine, was used to combat goiter as early as the 12th century. Animal organs formed the base of many medical com-wasted, and greater unit strength.Rotating House In Italy, a man who likes a change of view has built a revolving hilltop home that can face both sunrise and sunset. The building is in two parts, the lower circular and stationary. The upper, resembling a ship's superstructure, rests on wheels and rotates by push button.Even interiors may someday swivel. An American electrical company predicts a living room

"lazy Susan" that will turn sofas and chairs toward picture window, television set, or fireplace.To meet the modern problem of limited space, an odd house was built in Stockholm, Sweden. It looks like a gabled roof resting on the ground. One of its slanting sides actually is of slate roofing;
the other three surfaces are of concrete. The general sloping design was chosen to cut down on unnecessary space toward ceilings, yet provide as much floor area as possible.Japan and America are trading many home-building ideas. Contemporary American houses include traditional Japanese elements of sliding panels, pagoda overhang and outdoor view.One Californian has built a lounging platform in place of living-room furniture, while a Tokyo architect has accented the Western look of his new studio-home by equipping it with furniture old Japan never knew.Old Forms Linger
Some of America's latest home designs are like nothing seen before. Others bring to mind forms long familiar around the world.A group of white suburban ramblers, with flat tops and simple lines, recalls stark, eight-sided dwellings of a North African town.
The "balloon" house, made by spraying cement on inflated matting, has the silhouette of the Es-kimo's snow-built igloo or the felt-covered yurt of Mongolian nomads.While checking the rear of Ren-

LET'S NOT LET THIS HAPPEN INDEPENDENCE DAY

Editor of the Star:
As Commander of Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, I received the following letter shortly after Memorial Day and decided that it should be published in a local paper.

Dear Al:
Many of the stores in our Town of Winchester are open every evening, to accommodate those who can't shop during regular working hours. What has become of the most respected of all legal holidays, "Memorial Day." The entire nation shows its respect for its loved ones on that day.
May 30th 1956, was a disgusting and ridiculed day for my part. Some of our Winchester stores were open, and operating as though it were a normal shopping day.
We are losing respect for our forefathers. Let's slow down and pump more blue into our legal laws.

Yours truly,
(Name Withheld)
That is the letter I received. I hope that the guilty parties, whom we know, will have a little more respect for the men who gained them their Independence than they had for the young boys and men who died on Flanders Field in World War I, and the men and boys who gave up their lives in World War II and the Korean Conflict.

I hope that this article will open some of the peoples' eyes in this town before it is too late.

AN UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE

Editor of the Star:
During the week of June 15-22, I was privileged to represent Winchester High School at the twelfth annual Girls' State, held at State Teachers' College, Bridgewater. It was the Winchester American Legion, Post 97, Auxiliary, which made it possible for me to participate in this wonderful program, motto of which is, "Learn to do, by doing." What did we learn? Among other things, we learned respect for our civic responsibilities and for our government, by finding out "what makes it tick."

Girls' State offers numerous opportunities to practice the good government which is taught. The 200-odd girls, divided into counties, towns and cities, ran them just as they would be run in real life. In my town of Democracy, I was a member of the Board of Health, and represented the town on the Governor's Council.
Massachusetts Girls' State was an experience I shall never forget, and again I wish to thank the American Legion Auxiliary for sending me there. I know that I shall always practice the good citizenship I learned during that wonderful week.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The first week of the Park Department's summer playground program just ended with no less than four hundred and sixty-one (461) youngsters registering as participants in the activities provided on the four playgrounds: West Side, Ginn Field, Leonard Field and Loving Avenue Field. It has been a pleasant week and the youngsters certainly have been kept happy and busy taking part in baseball, softball, kickball, basketball, croquet, dodge ball, badminton and other activities.

Jim McElholm's Leonard Field Juniors got off to a fine start by defeating Craig Davenport's Ginn Juniors by a close 4-3 score. For the winners Mike Bellino was the big stickler with a single and homer. George Neville connected for four bases for Leonard and Paul Mulloy, besides being the winning pitcher, made the hit column with two singles. Richie Tierney and Bruce Fitzgerald got doubles for the losers.

The West Side Intermediates under Dave Berquist were victors over Joe Cussen's Loring unit, 5-1. Bill Morton hit a triple for the winners with two boys aboard and Joe Peckham hit a single and double.

The above-mentioned games are the first to be played as scheduled contests on Monday and Tuesday of this week with others to be played as this goes to press. The younger girls' and boys' softball teams will be in action next week and every week for the remainder of the season.

Gloria Mucera has begun her Arts and Crafts program and is to rotate from field to field. The youngsters will soon learn when she is to be at the various playgrounds. The youngsters have certainly been enjoying the making of glimp bracelets and it is urged that these articles be reserved by the respective owners for a display of them in the very near future.

This is only the beginning and Gloria is planning for the making of costume jewelry, leather belts and wallets and key holders as soon as the first phase of bracelet making has been concluded.

Once again, if you want your youngsters to enjoy a good summer and be under proper supervision, send them to the playgrounds and let them enjoy their summer and their homes. It is an excellent opportunity and is wide open for you and you.

CONLON-FLYNN

MEMBER-GUEST WINNERS

HOLE-IN-ONE BY BLAISDELL TOURNEY FEATURE

Arthur W. Conlon, Jr., son of "Jocko" Conlon of Woburn High and Harvard baseball fame, who played big league for a time with the old Boston Braves, paired with Bill Flynn, former Boston University golf captain, to win the Winchester Country Club's annual member-guest golf tourney last Sunday afternoon.

On their way to a 4 and 3 margin over Frank Adler of Bellevue and Charley Siders of Winchester, Conlon and his visiting partner maintained a two-under-par pace for 15 holes, with Conlon especially effective in getting out of traps for par three at the 6th and 14th holes, and having gross birdies at the ninth and 15th.

Conlon's birdie on the 15th matched a three by Adler and was responsible for the 4 and 3 verdict. The winners jumped to an early two strokes lead and were four-up at the end of nine. Things remained like that until Conlon's par three made his team dormie four. The match ended on the next hole.

Flynn played the final under quite a handicap, having undergone two hour treatment by a Winchester Country Club member, Dr. Edward A. McCarthy, for an infected ingrown right toenail the night before at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital. He showed no noticeable signs of the trouble in the championship round.

Following are the championship final cards and the results of the various flights:

CONTROVERSY STILL IN PROGRESS

CLASS ROOM COLORS STILL ARGUED IN MONTGOMERY COUNTY

Board of Education officials admitted this week that Dr. Mildred M. Landis flew from her Syracuse University job last summer to select wall and floor tile, lockers, and ventilator fixtures for the new Walter Johnson High School in Bethesda, Md. Landis, now principal of Wood Acres School, was paid $55 for her plane ticket, $60 for hotel room and food, and $300 for the three days here and three days in Syracuse she spent selecting the equipment.

School superintendent Forbes H. Norris has previously revealed that Dr. Landis is paid $50 per day, in addition to her yearly $6,250 principal's salary, to design color schemes for county schools. Her $50-a-day fees have amounted to $1200 or $1500 this year, Dr. Norris says.

Meanwhile a county principal and a prominent architect—both want their names withheld—have blasted Dr. Landis' color consulting activities. One architect, William N.

Denton, Jr., has praised her work. Called "stumbling block" by the unnamed architect, Dr. Landis "causes more work than she saves." Because the color consultant may be out of the county when Walter Johnson High School is painted during the summer, the architect fears he will be in "trouble" if she returns and doesn't like the paint job. Dr. Landis likes to be on hand when the painting of each school starts, the architect states.

Costs of lockers are 20 to 30 percent higher because Dr. Landis selects color other than the four or five standard shades, the architect charges. He says "special" tile she selected for one school cost $12,000. The extra cost, says the architect, was absorbed by the contractor.

Dr. Landis has turned down bargain-priced tile in favor of a more expensive product because she doesn't like the design in the cheap tile, the architect says.

When Dr. Landis started selecting colors for county schools "she was really interested in what color did for the children," states the architect. "Now she's just playing with colors. She's making a game of it," he charges.

Called Above Criticism "We can't criticize her," says the architect, "because she'll call Dr. Norris."

The architect says he and other designers are trained to select colors. The paint companies provide consultants free, he states.

The principal of a school of which Dr. Landis selected the colors states: "Frankly, I don't like it." The principal says some teachers have already requested rooms in which vivid colors do not appear, for next fall.

The disgruntled educator says, "The principal's position is a full time job." She says Dr. Landis should not be on "equal par" with other principals one minute, then "run over you" the next. The unhappy principal says she was not consulted when the colors for her school were picked.

Children "Stirred Up" The bright colors have "stirred up" the children, states the principal. Asked how they like the colors, the children usually reply, "Whoopie," she says.

The principal states, "There are many things more important to a child's development than the colors on a wall." She would like to see "custom" teachers and "custom" principals as well as "custom" color consultants.

Meanwhile, Dr. Landis gave out additional information on her dual job. She was invited to Montgomery County by Dr. Norris with the understanding that she would be both principal and color consultant, she says. "I wouldn't have come for just one of the jobs," she states.

Dr. Landis says she first met Dr. Norris when he was superintendent and she was art consultant in the Winchester Mass. school system.

Works Weekends, Vacations Dr. Landis says she's worked on color designs for schools every Saturday, many Sundays, and every vacation day this year. She's billed the Board of Education for only about half the time she's spent designing, she says.

Dr. Landis is paid from capital funds when she designs colors for a school and from the maintenance department budget when she picks colors for a repainting job, school officials revealed this week.

Dr. Landis says she likes to use 15 or 16 colors in a school.

Denton Likes Her In a letter to the School Board, architect Denton stated, "I feel it is to the advantage of the Board of Education to retain the services of a consultant in color and interior decoration even though many architects are qualified to select colors or assist the owners in their selection of colors."

The architect praises Dr. Landis as "apparently well qualified by training and experience to fulfill the requirements of the job as color consultant."

Mr. Denton has designed the Northwood Junior-Senior High School, Harmony Hills Elementary School, and the addition to Takoma Park Junior High School. A Board of Education official says he's been "recommended" to design schools requested in the pending 1956-57 budget.

AMBASSADOR'S DAUGHTER AT U. W. F.

At the annual meeting of the Winchester chapter of United World Federalists, held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard J. Childley of Fernway, on the evening of June 19th, the guest speaker was Miss Aparna Mehta, daughter of the ambassador from India to the United States.

Miss Mehta is a brilliant and charming young woman, now doing research work at the Center for International Studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Some remarked that she speaks English more fluently than most of us do! A slight British accent reflects years of study in England as well as in India.

In a conversational way she told of the first Five Year Plan in India which had to do with agriculture and which was concluded three months ago; as a result the food situation is tremendously improved. They are now launched on the second Five Year Plan, having to do with heavy industries. She made clear that the people of India have a real enthusiasm for the United Nations, especially for the achievements of some of its agencies such as the World Health Organization.

She wished that all American aid could be given through the United Nations but recognized how difficult it would be to bring our Congress to the point of channeling it in this way. She made clear the high regard in which Prime Minister Nehru holds President Eisenhower as a military man so devoted to the cause of peace, and indicated also the appreciation of the people of India for some who have represented the United States in that country, naming first of all Chester Bowles. No doubt she reflected the attitude of her government when she expressed the feeling that the United States was not being as realistic as England in its refusal to recognize Red China.

Miss Mehta is a Hindu in religion, but clearly a liberal Hindu, loyal to her traditional religion but unwilling to adhere to some of its forms, beliefs and practices. Members of the chapter felt it a privilege to become acquainted with so well-informed and cultured a visitor. She is returning to Bombay this summer, but since her father occupies the important position that he does in Washington, she will not be back before too long a time.

Dr. Edward S. Rendall, who has been chairman of the chapter for two years, presided and Mrs. Mildred Lawton, the secretary, gave a comprehensive survey of the past year's work. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Chairman: Mrs. Robert G. Williams. Secretary: Mrs. Robert D. Lowry. Treasurer: Mrs. Edward S. Rendall. Program Chairman: Mrs. George H. Snelling.

RED FEATHER CAMPAIGN FOR 1957 IS ORGANIZED

The first organizational meeting for the 1957 Winchester Red Feather Campaign was held on Wednesday evening, June 20, at the home of Bertram H. Dube, the local chairman. The meeting was attended both by the chairman of the various divisions of the Winchester organization as well as representatives of the Greater Boston and North Metropolitan divisions.

Mr. Dube introduced Joseph W. Lund who heads the entire Greater Boston 1957 Red Feather Drive. Mr. Lund reviewed the background for the plans being incorporated into the 1957 campaign. He also praised the past efforts of previous Winchester drives and expressed confidence that the goal for the present year will be met.

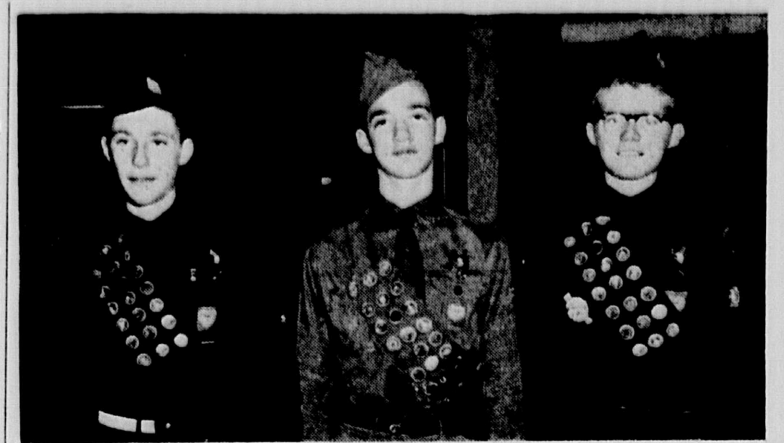

The following staff appointments to the Winchester organization were announced: Chairman: Bertram H. Dube; Vice Chairman: Harris S. Richardson, Jr.; Worker Information, Robert F. Williams; Administrative Chairman, Frederick C. Rozelle, Jr.; Public Relations Division Chairman, Prof. and Mrs. Leonard C. Mead; Advance Solicitation Chairman, A. Benjamin Gowing; Advance Solicitation Secretary, Miss Helen Monroe; Residential Division, Thomas Rapiel; Industry and Finance, Ralph H. Bonnell, Jr.; Retail Division, Roy W. Horn; Public Employees, James Costello; Residential District Directors: Precinct No. 2, Hiram L. Smith, Jr.; Precinct No. 3, Roland Moody; Precinct No. 4, George D. Whitten; Precinct No. 5, Graton E. Williams; Campaign Committee, Austin Broadhurst; Robert D. Lowry, H. Kimball Archibald, Dr. Robert G. Millican.

Safety Tip: Courtesy plays a big part in everyday life—and that goes for the time you're behind the wheel of a car as well as when you're afoot, says the AAA. Barging through a group of pedestrians and making them jump out of your way is not courteous. You wouldn't be guilty of such an act, would you?

Former Principal Grindle's brief remarks were warmly applauded by the audience, especially in his reference to the fine work of John Stevens as acting principal. English teacher Richard O. Ulin gave further evidence of the staff's good work by praising John and Charlotte an elegant salad bowl.

Soon it was remembrance for several other faculty members—to Ray Hayward, Dr. Otis E. Alley, Margaret Cunha, Jacqueline Lawton, E. Helen J. Moore, Laura E. Winn, and Dominic Beninati. Mr. Beninati is being married this summer, but he remains a staff member; the others leave Winchester High School with the heartiest good wishes of their associates.

To Mrs. John Monro, chairman of the luncheon committee, and to all the mothers whose contributions or help made the luncheon possible, go the warmest thanks of the high school staff. Mrs. Monro's assistants included Mesdames Lars Ahlors, Herbert Gardner, Erskine Kelley, George Johnson, Paul Nason, Warren Osborne, Harlow Russell, and Otto Schaefer. Mrs. Schaefer was also responsible for the attractive floral decorations.

RECEIVE HIGHEST SCOUT AWARD

MOTHERS ENTERTAINED HIGH SCHOOL STAFF

Defying the searing heat of last June 15, a group of mothers of this year's graduating class entertained the high school staff at their final luncheon. A delicious lobster salad served at beautifully decorated tables added much to the pleasure of this annual get-together.

Following the luncheon, Acting Principal John D. Stevens expressed the appreciation of the faculty for the thoughtfulness of the mothers in making possible such a delightful occasion. Then he introduced Mrs. Harlow Russell, president-elect of the Parent-Faculty Association.

On behalf of the group, Mrs. Russell presented to Mr. Ray Hayward a handsome poker table. This gift, she said, was suggested by some of the male members of the Association, who felt that, since Ray would have the time to enjoy a favorite past-time, he should be able to do it in style.

Ray's response left no doubt that he would put his gift to good use. In referring to his retirement, Ray said, "I feel like a man who has suddenly finds himself half way down a ski jump. He wonders if he really wants to go through with it." Regarding his future plans, he noted that people keep asking him what he was going to do now that he was retiring—just as if one has to do something.

To those who wonder if he will take up fishing, Ray had an amusing tale of his piscatorial misadventures that made it clear that he was not going to follow in the footsteps of Izaak Walton.

In a more serious vein, and speaking directly to his colleagues, Ray advised them not to be in a hurry to leave Winchester High School. One would have to go a long way, he said, to find a finer group of young people, a more understanding set of parents, or a more loyal and cooperative professional staff.

Next on the agenda was a review of the highlights of the school year at Winchester High School. Acting Principal John Stevens reminded the group that the year just ended had seen more than its quota of notable events. He paid special tribute to the loyalty of the pupils and staff in helping him carry on the year's work. The retirement of Principal Wade L. Grindle.

In his turn, Superintendent of Schools Harry V. Gilson recalled one or two humorous events of the past year. This has been a year of solid achievement, he declared, one in which the school has maintained a very creditable level of scholastic achievement.

Former Principal Grindle's brief remarks were warmly applauded by the audience, especially in his reference to the fine work of John Stevens as acting principal. English teacher Richard O. Ulin gave further evidence of the staff's good work by praising John and Charlotte an elegant salad bowl.

EXPLORER POST 3 CLIMBS MT. MADISON

In spite of the threatening weather on Friday, June 8, Mr. Lawrence E. Beckley, 5 Marshall road, led six members of Explorer Post 3 on their planned week-end jaunt to climb Mt. Madison in the Presidential Range of New Hampshire.

The auto trip to the base of the mountain was made without incident, and a trim camp was set up for an early morning start. On Saturday, loaded with food and sleeping equipment, the Post Explorers, accompanied by Mr. Beckley, Mr. Thomas Parsons from MIT and Mr. James R. Stewart, Jr., 7 Winslow road, entered the Daniel Webster trail and started their ever upwards climb.

The going was rougher than anticipated, due to the non-use of the trail for several months. By early evening, however, after negotiating the wood trail and the rock-marked last 600 feet of boulders, the group found refuge in a cabin of the Appalachian Mountain Club, near Star Lake on the saddle of Mount Madison, 5300 feet above sea level.

Sunday morning, George Denton, Russ Taylor and Steve Root scaled to the peak of the Mountain, after which the entire group commenced the vertical trip down a boulder strewn former stream bed. Rain fell during the entire trip back to the starting place, but by late afternoon, the cycle had been completed. It was a tired and wet bunch that arrived back in Winchester late Sunday night, but all agreed it was an experience they are not likely to soon forget.

The Explorers taking the trip included Dick Dawson, George Denton, Tom Morehead, Dick Niles, Steve Root and Russ Taylor.

The two-week annual training period will be climaxed June 16, with an amphibious assault landing at Camp Pendleton, Va., where the future Naval officers will "hit the beach" with 1600 seasoned Marines from Camp Lejeune, N. C.

BOYLE — CULLEN

Baskets of gladiolus, combined with carnations and babies breath, in colors of pink and white, decorated St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, June 23, for the marriage of Miss Mary Ann Cullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Cullen of 233 Mystic Valley Parkway, to Paul Edward Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boyle of 250 Main street, Rev. Edward Boyle of St. Joseph's Church, Belmont, officiated at the 10 o'clock ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.

Miss Dorothy Hickey was soloist. Given in marriage by her father, Miss Cullen wore a gown of white Chantilly lace, fashioned with a cathedral train and embroidered with clusters of sequins. Her matching lace cap, to which was caught a short pink tulle veil, was adorned with sequins and she carried a missal with butterfly or chids and stephanotis.

Miss Mary Giggsey of Woburn was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Lou Cullen of Winchester and Miss Lorraine Rooney of Woburn, cousins of the bride. Miss Jane Piana of Chelsea and Miss Rita Reidy of Roxbury.

The honor maid wore a dress of white eyelet over blue taffeta with a blue tulle waist and a blue lace crown. She carried a spray of pink daisies, and the bridesmaids, all gowned like the maid of honor, carried the same flowers.

Edward C. Cullen, Jr., of Winchester, brother of the bride, was Mr. Boyle's best man; and ushering were Robert McLaughlin, Peter Cullen, another brother of the bride, Eliot Walters and Donald Bates, all of Winchester.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Robin Hood's Ten Acres, with the parents of the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Cullen, mother of the bride, wore a mauve tissue taffeta gown with a sequined bodice and a white picture hat trimmed with pink flowers. Her gloves and shoes were pink to match the flowers on her hat.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Boyle, was gowned in blue lace and wore a matching picture hat and white gloves and shoes.

After wedding journey through Maine and New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Boyle will live in Winchester.

Both are graduates of Winchester High School and the bride is also a graduate of Archbishop Cushing Junior College. Mr. Boyle, who is an accountant, graduated from Tufts University and Bryant & Stratton Business College.

Mr. G. A. Josephson, well known local real estate man, and Mrs. Josephson, are enjoying a tour of Norway and Sweden. They flew over June 6, and are returning by plane July 6.
